

SAT SPECIAL/A3-2

The mom behind the man:
Paolo Bediones and Boots Marcos Barba

NEWS/A2

BIR chief in hot water: P10-B short of collection target

NEWS/A4

Vandalized oil pipeline in Nigeria explodes; up to 200 killed

METRO/A19

17 inmates escape Manila police station; 6 recaptured

OFWs' role in Saudi progress behind mass pardon by king

By Jerome Aning

THE FREEING OF NEARLY 200 OVERSEAS FILIPINO workers jailed in Saudi Arabia was the Saudi government's way of acknowledging the contributions of OFWs to the oil-rich kingdom's economic development in the past few decades, according to Labor Secretary Patricia Sto. Tomas.

"We've been told by Saudi officials that this

OFWS' ROLE/A10

email: feedback@inquirer.com.ph

PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER

BALANCED NEWS, FEARLESS VIEWS

Saturday, May 13, 2006

★★ 8 sections / Vol. 21 / No. 154 P18

website: www.inq7.net

GMA orders 'thorough' probe of leftists' killing

By Norman Bordadora
and Luige A. del Puerto

PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-ARROYO WANTS A "thorough" investigation of the Wednesday night murder of two Bayan Muna members in Echague, Isabela. Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye said yesterday.

"[W]e assure the public that this government will not tolerate any form of vigilantism that runs

GMA ORDERS/A4

Batasan 5 charged again

DOJ keeps rejected rebellion case alive

By Tarra V. Quismundo

ONE WEEK AFTER BEING REBUFFED BY A Makati judge, the Department of Justice yesterday filed new rebellion charges against the "Batasan 5" lawmakers, former Sen. Gregorio Honasan and 40 others.

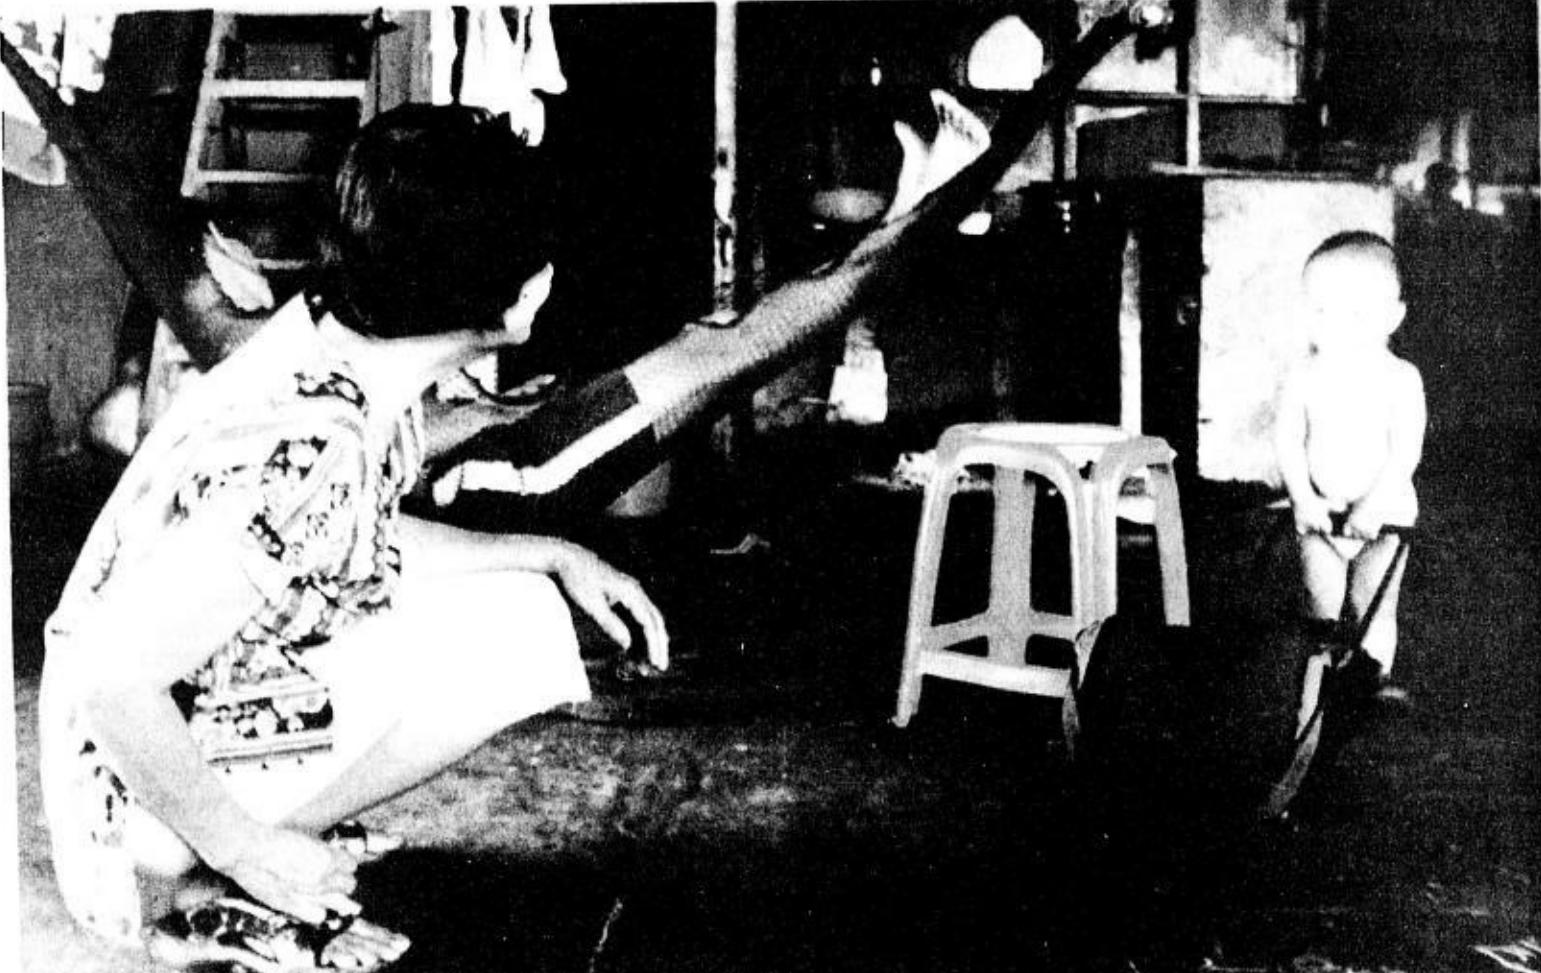

They were accused of conspiring in a failed plot to overthrow President Macapagal-Arroyo using an assault force of rebel soldiers and communist guerrillas.

The recast information filed before the Makati Regional Trial Court named party-list Representatives Satur Ocampo, Teodoro Casiano and Joel Virador of Bayan Muna, Rafael Mariano of Anakpawis, and Liza Maza of Gabriela as among the supposed masterminds of the plot which was to have culminated on May 1—"their D-Day."

The DOJ prosecutors branded as "legal fronts" of the Communist Party of the Philippines several legal organizations which have taken part in street protests de-

BATASAN/A4

FROM A TO Z: Story of Sally Ruiz and her adopted son Sandin Lee that appeared in the INQUIRER moved readers from America to New Zealand.

Villar still confident Drilon's a gentleman

By Juliet Labog-Javellana
and TJ Burgonio

AMID RENEWED SPECULATIONS on a Senate leadership shake-up, Sen. Manuel Villar, the virtual Senate President-in-waiting, has stubbornly stuck to his oft-repeated line that he trusts Senate President Franklin Drilon will honor "our gentleman's agreement."

Under the terms of a term-sharing arrangement that the two struck when they battled each other to a stalemate for the post in 2004, Villar expects to take over as Senate President when the 13th Congress opens its third regular session on July 24.

At least that is how Villar confidently had it when the INQUIRER caught up with him on the phone yesterday.

But a senator close to Villar has suggested Villar might challenge Drilon's leadership before July, possibly as early as when

VILLAR/A8

By Christian V. Esguerra

THE STORY OF THE BABY BOY unwanted by his mother, published by the INQUIRER on Thursday, has touched the hearts of Filipinos here and abroad.

Sandin Lee Ruiz would not have been born had Salvacion "Sally" Ruiz, a former housemaid, not offered to adopt him two months before he was due on October 2004.

His biological mother, then 18, had wanted to abort the pregnancy.

By the afternoon of Thursday, the INQUIRER had received e-mails and phone calls from readers here and as far away as California, Alaska and Hawaii in the United States, Ontario and Toronto in Canada, and Auckland in New Zealand, offering help for Sandin Lee's future.

Lilia Sevillano of New Zealand said she was "deeply moved" by the child's plight and was reminded of the time when her own family adopted a baby boy, also during a financially difficult period.

"Like the Ruiz family, God helped us raise him, and he has brought much joy and laughter to our lives," Sevillano wrote in an e-mail.

Many other readers were touched by the act of kindness of Sally, a widow, who is raising

WORLD/A10

OFW KIDS' SEPARATION ANXIETY
Principal of 'little' school sees big picture

By Volt Contreras

IN THE "LITTLE" SCHOOL IN THE Cordilleras, its principal, Georgina Alipio, saw the big, alarming picture of pupils whose parents have joined the swelling ranks of overseas Filipino workers and did something.

Cited for a prestigious award yesterday, Alipio can be considered among the first educators to not only recognize, but also address a major downside to the so-called OFW phenomenon: Children growing up with "absentee parents."

At her Little Flower Children's Home Foundation, a privately run primary school in La Trinidad, Benguet, she has instituted a project dubbed Global Family Ties in a bid to ease the "separation anxiety" manifested by students from OFW-dependent households.

The project basically urges OFW parents to communicate with their kids "as often as possible" through letters, photographs, postcards, text messages, or, for families with home computers, through e-mails. The children, in turn, are encouraged to "open up" or share the joys of such correspondences with their classmates or teachers.

Result? It fosters a sense of security and understanding among children of OFWs.

Some of the postcards and photos, being handy and easier to display, end up being mounted on a special "Global" bulletin board which features a world map. The map would bear markers—changing from time to time—identifying the country where the latest post-

PRINCIPAL/A8

ALIPIO: Postcards from the edge.

Senate will be no more by July, says Miriam

By Juliet Labog-Javellana

BY SEN. MIRIAM DEFENSOR-SANTIAGO'S reckoning, there will be no more Senate by July.

In a statement expected to provoke protests from her Senate colleagues, Santiago said Congress, when it opens for its third session in July, can already convene as a constituent assembly to amend the Charter and effect the shift to a parliamentary system with a unicameral legislature.

Provided of course the Supreme Court shall have ruled by then on an issue brought before it: whether the constitutional provision that constitutional amendments can be proposed by a three-fourths vote of WAITING OUT THE STORM, stranded passengers sleep on the floor of the Tabaco, Albay port. Altogether 6,000 people were stranded in the nine main ports in Central Visayas and Eastern Bicol.

8 killed as 'Caloy' hits Bicol, Visayas

By Leila B. Salaverria, PDI Southern Luzon Bureau and PDI Visayas Bureau

THE BOATS WERE WARNED NOT to leave because of the storm but one of them allegedly still tried to sail away. It never reached its destination.

Carrying at least two dozen people, the motorized outrigger boat sank off Masbate as tropical storm "Caloy" raged through the Visayas and Bicol regions yesterday, drowning six people on board.

They were among the eight people killed in the path of the storm, which slammed across the central parts of the country yesterday, sinking at least three boats, causing landslides and flash floods, triggering power blackouts and destroying dozens of houses.

"Tumakas daw, yun ang sabi sa amin. Basta umalis, hindi nagpaalam (It just pulled away, that was what we were told. It just left without asking for our permission)," Philippine Coast Guard spokesperson Lt. Commander Joseph Coyne, quoting initial reports, told the INQUIRER.

The boat, identified by the Coast Guard as the M/B May Ann 5 and by civilian sources as the M/V Mae-Ann, sank around 4:00 a.m. yesterday.

Five of its occupants were missing while 13 survived, the Coast Guard said.

Coyne said the vessel, described by some residents as having huge outriggers, set sail apparently for Pilar, Sorsogon, despite a PCG ban against light vessels traveling because of the rough seas.

8 KILLED/A10

FORECAST: Southern Luzon and Western Visayas will experience stormy weather. The rest of Luzon and Visayas will have rains and gusty winds while Mindanao will be cloudy with scattered rainshowers and thunderstorms.

SOURCE: PAGASA

COMPILED BY KATE PEDROSO, PDI RESEARCH/05/12/06

Second FRONT PAGE

Text us your feedback: Inquirer news name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart)

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

Metro Manila	Stormy	Hilo/Bacolod	Stormy
Bugalo	Stormy	Roxas	Stormy
Tuguegarao	Stormy	Cebu	Stormy
Lenag	Stormy	Tacloban	Stormy
Clark Zone	Stormy	Gen. Santos	Cloudy with Rains
Togaytay	Stormy	Zamboanga	Cloudy with Rains
Legazpi	Stormy	Cagayan de Oro	Cloudy with Rains
Calapan	Cloudy with Rains	Davao	Cloudy with Rains

BIR chief in hot water over poor collections

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

MALACAÑANG WILL SUMMON BUREAU OF INTERNAL Revenue Commissioner Jose Marie Buñag and his team to explain BIR's dismal revenue performance in April, traditionally the peak month for tax collection, amid mounting calls for a revamp of the agency which contributes up to 60 percent of the government's total revenues.

"We haven't asked them yet, but I will ask them soon. We will let them account for this data why they have under collection," said Executive Secretary Eduardo Ermita in a briefing.

From January to April this year, the BIR reported total collections of P69 billion which was P10 billion short of the target even though it was almost 10 percent higher than the P62.935 billion registered in the same period last year.

Last week, Buñag had told the Department of Finance that the revenue target of P675 billion this year was too high.

But Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye said Malacañang had faith in Buñag's capability to attain the full year collection target. "We know that collections have highs and lows, what is important is the total collections at the end of the year," Bunye said.

"Two weeks ago, we brought the team before you (media), together with Bureau of Customs Commissioner Napoleon Morales and they showed us data on how their collections were. But I suppose something must have happened in-between," said Ermita.

But Albay Rep. Joey Salceda, an economic adviser of President Macapagal-Arroyo, said the public, weary of higher taxes and rising costs of oil, would settle for nothing less than a revamp at the BIR.

"The magnitude of shortage in a period of plenty eliminates any viable pretext. Change of bureaucratic leadership is the only proportional first move because we need to immediately reestablish control of our core fiscal program. Any policy hesitation would be very costly and we cannot afford it. The numbers are glaring. A review is a waste of time better spent in finding a replacement," said Salceda in an interview.

Salceda said the Large Taxpayers Services—composed of the country's top 1,000 corporations and contributes half of the BIR's collection—suffered an P18.35 billion shortfall in income tax which was offset only by higher value added tax.

"Clearly, it could rise only from

BUNAG: P10 billion short of target.

ERMITA: We will summon BIR team.

a grand connivance between an unpatriotic big business and unscrupulous BIR officials. The meltdown in BIR collection effort is most dismaying and any remedy can only begin with a change in leadership to restore the public's faith in the agency. A report like this can only be submitted with a resignation later as a cover memo," Salceda said.

Salceda said it would be difficult for the President to continue asking the public to bite the bullet when the pain was not equally shared between the rich and the poor.

"While the VAT passed on to consumers was up 75 percent, the income tax was up a measly three percent as every tax loophole was gouged and every accounting trick employed to escape share of burden. The rich get away with murder by hiring tax lawyers," Salceda said. Salceda noted that a chunk of the P18.35 billion drop in collections from large taxpayers came from adjustments made in the fourth quarter collection tally last year. "The dismal under performance of income tax in the fourth quarter last year which was to be paid in April 2006 is unacceptable. The fourth quarter is seasonally the most robust, the economy was at its robust during the period when gross domestic product surged 6.1 percent in the fourth quarter versus the 4.8 percent average through the first three quarters," said Salceda.

He said the shortfall becomes even more conspicuous considering that the fourth quarter economic surge was led by the industrial sector which had more revenue potential than agriculture and services.

Make-or-break ascent up world's highest peak to start in 2 weeks

By Alcuin Papa

IT'S A PIT STOP BEFORE THE final stretch.

Two mountaineering teams vying to be the first to plant the Philippine flag at the top of Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain, are taking a break at Everest Base Camp (5400 meters or 17,700 feet) before their final assault on the summit around two weeks from now.

Veteran mountaineer Romi "Garduch" Garduce, an IT professional in his 30s, has been resting at Base Camp for the past week after climbing to Camp 3 (6,828 meters or 22,376 feet) over the weekend.

According to Garduce's local contacts, Garduce "feels relatively strong" at present despite the difficulties he encountered on the Lhotse Face near Camp 3, where a Czech climbing alpine-style (without oxygen and fixed ropes) died recently. "It's really difficult. My strength was sapped," Garduce told his contacts.

At Camp 3, Garduce spent the night to acclimatize despite difficulty in sleeping. "Camp 3 is such a difficult place. At some parts you need to wear harness when you go outside the tent since the camp grounds are quite small and there is a big chance you can slip and fall," Garduce said.

Adventure racers Leo Oracion and Pastor Emata, members of the First Philippine Mt. Everest Expedition (FPMEE), also reached Camp 3 last week and spent some nights at Camp 2. They were back at Base Camp the other night.

Regie Pablo, FPMEE team, told the Inquirer that the climbers are waiting for good weather and the fixing of ropes on the upper sections of the Southeast route, specifically from Camp 4 (8000 meters or 26,000 feet) to a place called the Balcony near the summit.

Leader, told the Inquirer that the two are in great shape, adding that they had already established a camp with supplies and equipment on Camp 4.

Pablo said an assault on the summit of Mt. Everest from Base Camp will take around two to four days "but this is still dependent on the weather. And we know how fickle the weather is on Everest."

Aside from resting, the three climbers are waiting for good weather and the fixing of ropes on the upper sections of the Southeast route, specifically from Camp 4 (8000 meters or 26,000 feet) to a place called the Balcony near the summit.

Mounteverest.net reported that expedition leaders at the Southeast route have decided to send Sherpas to the South Col on May 14 to fix the ropes. This process will take around two days and assaults on the Southeast side will likely begin on May 16.

The moment the lines are fixed, Garduce, Oracion and Emata are expected to take on the summit of Mt. Everest.

Once the teams reach Camp 4, they will rest a few hours and start their final push for the summit around midnight to try to reach the summit the next morning. This schedule is important to enable climbers to start their descent in the afternoon of the next day since descending at night is dangerous. Second chance attempts from Camp 4 are rare and difficult because of the amount of exhaustion the body will be subjected to.

The FPMEE is being supported by ABS-CBN while Garduce is being backed by rival network GMA-7.

The thrill of the drive.

All authorized
BMW Dealerships.
Until May 31, 2006.

The BMW XTour featuring the BMW X3 with the M Aerodynamic Kit.

What's behind a great drive? On the fairways, the right equipment, and on the highways, the right vehicle spells the difference.

The BMW XTour offers the thrill of the drive with:

- A 0% interest plan on the BMW X3 for a 50% downpayment, extended 24-month term.
- Or the option of a BMW X3 fitted with high performance aerodynamic kits, loaded with a set of precision-based Mizuno golf clubs and an all-weather golf bag, at no added cost.
- Chance to win a Mizuno golf set and a golf weekend for every BMW X5 or BMW X3 test drive.

Both options also available on the BMW X5. Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 2153, Series of 2006.

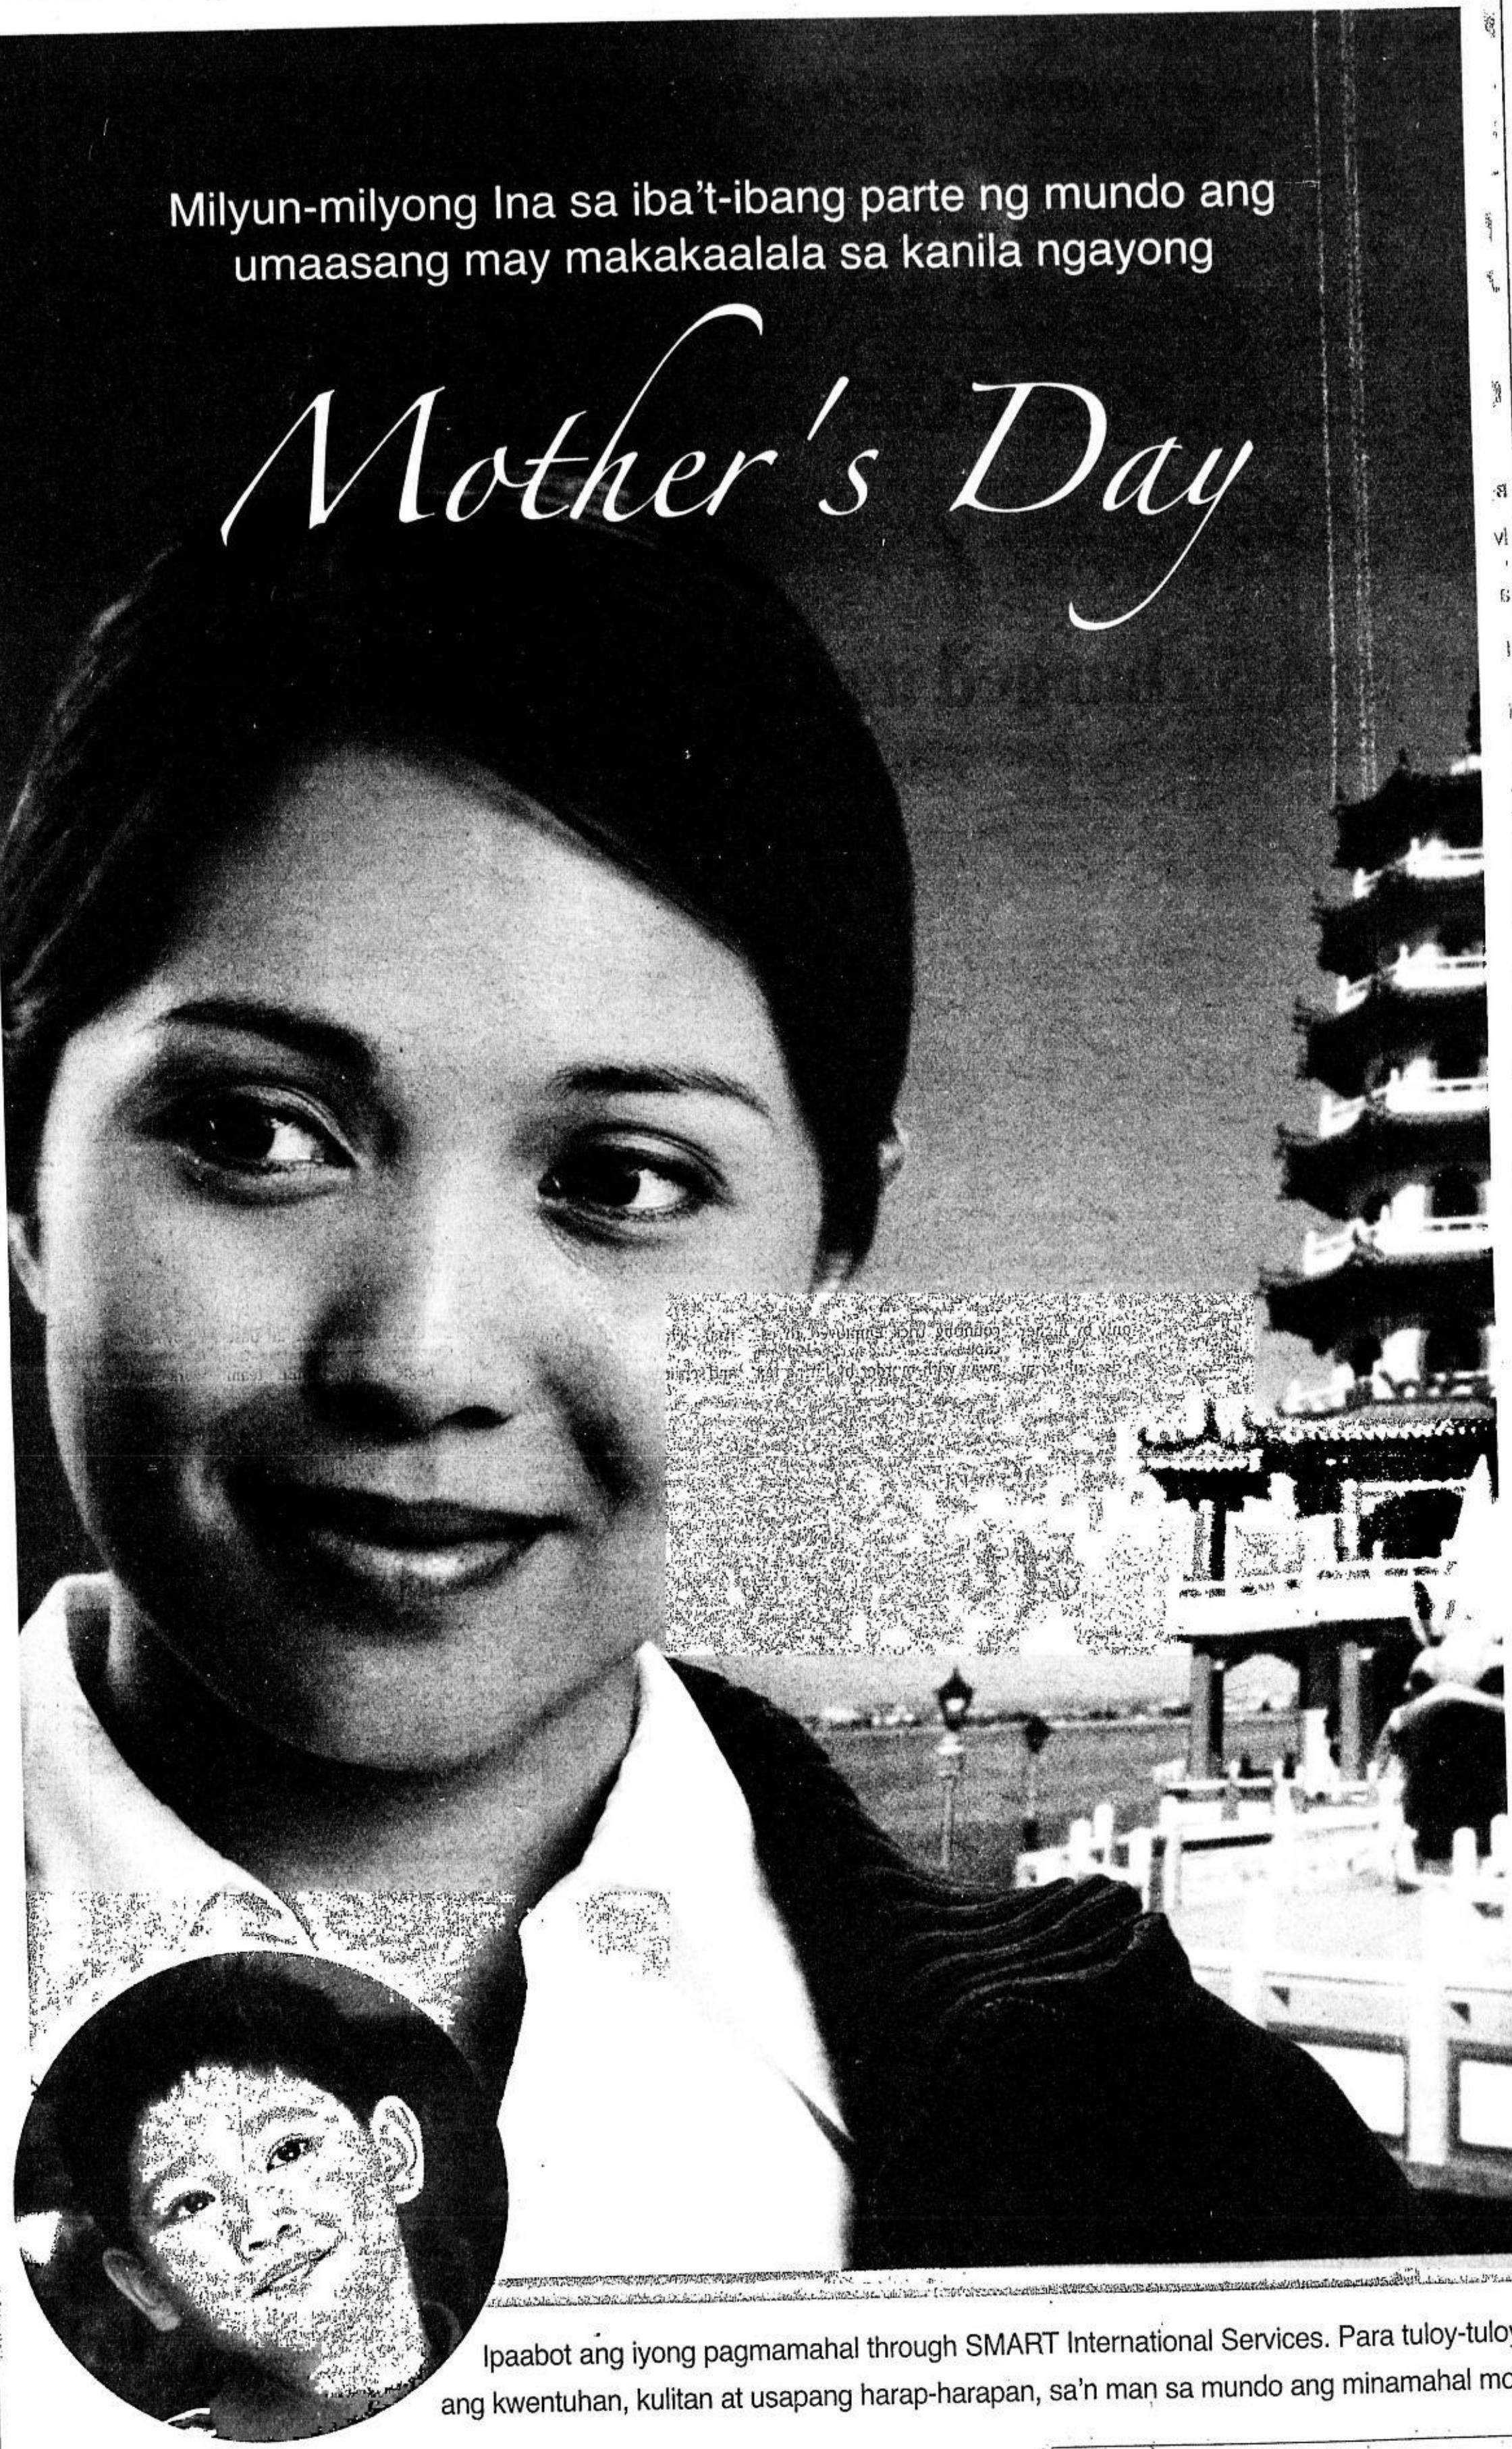

The thrill of the drive awaits at all authorized BMW dealerships.

In cooperation with

Milyun-milyong Ina sa iba't-ibang parte ng mundo ang umaasang may makakaalala sa kanila ngayong

Mother's Day

Ipaabot ang iyong pagmamahal through SMART International Services. Para tuloy-tuloy ang kwentuhan, kulitan at usapang harap-harapan, sa'n man sa mundo ang minamahal mo.

*SMART International Video Call partners: Australia - H3G, Optus, Telstra • Austria - Mobilkom, Connect • Finland - Radiolinja • France - Orange • Germany - Vodafone, O2 • Greece - Vodafone, TIM • Hong Kong - CSL, Hutchison, Smartone, Sunday • Israel - Cellcom • Italy - TIM, Vodafone • Japan - NTT DoCoMo • Malaysia - Maxis • Norway - Telenor, Netcom • Poland - Polkomtel, PTC Era • Singapore - Starhub • South Korea - KT Freetel, SK Telecoms • Spain - Amena • Switzerland - Swisscom • Taiwan - Chunghwa

TO MAKE AN IDD CALL:
Dial [+] Country Code  Area / Mobile Code  Party's Number
TO SEND AN INTERNATIONAL TEXT / MMS:
[+] Country Code  Mobile Code  Party's Number
TO MAKE AN INTERNATIONAL VIDEO CALL, CHOOSE VIDEO CALL ON YOUR CALLING OPTION: Dial [+] Country Code  Mobile Code  Party's Number

SMART INTERNATIONAL SERVICES
International International International
IDD • TEXT • MMS • VIDEO CALL

For inquiries, please call the SMART Hotline at *888 or visit any SMART Wireless Center nationwide.

200 killed in Nigerian oil pipeline blast

ILADO BEACH, NIGERIA—UP TO 200 PEOPLE died on Friday when an oil pipeline blew up at a beach village near the Nigerian economic capital Lagos, a policeman at the scene told AFP.

The officer, who asked not to be named, put the death toll at between 150 and 200 “or even more.”

The Nigerian Red Cross had earlier reported more than 100 deaths as a result of the explosion at Ilado beach village, near the port of Apapa, where numerous oil installations are located.

“Over 100 people were burnt to death and beyond recognition following the explosion,” Nigerian Red Cross Secretary General Abiodun Orebiyi told AFP by telephone.

“We have been unable to recover any injured person. All of them were burnt beyond recognition. We found at the scene of the explosion about 500 jerrycans which we suspect were used to steal fuel from the pipeline,” he said.

An AFP correspondent at the scene reported seeing scores of carbonized, disfigured corpses floating on the water and lying under a boat that had been destroyed by the flames.

Only the bones remained of some of the victims.

There were indications several had attempted to flee before the fireball completely engulfed them, the correspondent said.

Orebiyi said the “raging fire” had been put out and normality was returning to Ilado.

He said Red Cross workers at the scene had found evidence that people had been trying to siphon off oil from the pipeline.

“We found that vandals have drilled holes on (into) the pipeline, from where they have been stealing fuel. We advise strongly Nigerians to desist from this dangerous act.”

Private television network Channels said fire fighters and officials from the Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation (NNPC) had been sent to Ilado village.

The TV did not show any images of the blast but during the morning a huge column of very black smoke was visible from the center of Lagos.

The impoverished people of Africa’s oil giant often tap into pipelines, seeking fuel for cooking or resale on the black market. The highly volatile petroleum can ignite, incinerating those collecting it.

Hundreds of people have been killed in pipeline explosions in the past few years across Nigeria, many of whose citizens live in abject poverty despite the nation’s huge oil riches.

In September 2004, an oil pipeline exploded near Lagos as thieves tried to siphon oil from it, with up to 50 people perishing in the flames. A 1998 pipeline blast killed over 1,000 in southern Nigeria.

Nigeria, which normally pumps 2.5 million barrels of crude per day, is Africa’s largest producer and the fifth-largest source of imports to the United States. AFP/AP

Batasan 5 charged again

From page A1

manding Ms Arroyo’s resignation.

The charge sheet named these alleged fronts as party-list Bayan Muna and Anakpawis, and other organizations like the Kilusang Mayo Uno, Bagong Alyansang Makabayan, Gabriela, Pamalakaya, Kilusang Magbubukid ng Pilipinas, Kadamay, League of Filipino Students, Kaguma, Courage, Armas, and Cairus, “among others.”

Also included in the group was the “CNL,” presumably a reference to the Christians for National Liberation group.

The charge sheet also included “several other John/Jane Does.”

“This is the same information, only rewritten and compressed,” said Senior State Prosecutor Emmanuel Velasco, chair of a DOJ task force prosecuting the case. “It has the same allegations and elements as the amended information.”

The five militant lawmakers have denied involvement in any plot against Ms Arroyo and denounced the charges against them as pure fabrication.

Sison, Ka Roger, et al.

The DOJ filed the new information eight days after Judge Jenny Lind Aldecoa-Delorino refused to accept a so-called amended complaint which would have included the “Batasan 5” and the others in a pending rebellion case against Anakpawis Rep. Crispin Beltran and 1st Lt. Lawrence San Juan of the Magdalo group.

Delorino later inhibited herself from the Beltran-San Juan case, which is now to be re-refused to another judge. The Beltran-San Juan case is also anchored on a supposed left-rightist conspiracy to overthrow Ms Arroyo.

The 46 named respondents in the new case included CPP founder Jose Ma. Sison and spokesperson Gregorio “Ka Roger” Rosal, National Democratic Front (NDF) leader Luis Jaramoni, several other rebel soldiers and peasants identified with leftist groups.

Velasco said his team would ask for the consolidation of the original and the new cases into just one case.

DOJ allegations

The DOJ’s previous attempt to indict the “Batasan 5” prompted the five lawmakers to seek refuge in the House of Representatives. The stalemate ended earlier this week after 70 days when they left the Batasan Complex following Delorino’s ruling.

The new information said that “on or about Feb. 24, 2006, and for some time before ... and continuously thereafter,” the 46 conspired with Beltran and San Juan “to effect and ensure the complete and permanent success of the armed rebellion, for the purpose of removing from the allegiance to said government or its laws, the territory of the Republic of the Philippines or ... depriving the Chief Executive or the legislature wholly or partially of any of their powers or prerogatives and overthrowing the President of the Republic of the Philippines, and the present duly constituted government...”

Chaos and terror

The accused “have risen publicly and taken up arms against the government, and continue to do so up to the present date,” the charge sheet said.

It linked the group to such acts as creating “chaos, disorder, terror and fear” to achieve their goal.

It accused the “Batasan 5” and the other leftist personalities of forging ties with the Makabayan Kawal ng Pilipinas (MKP), a group of rebel soldiers, to carry out the rebellion and overthrow “the Estados Unidos (United States)-Arroyo regime.”

Main event

The uprising was to be carried out on Feb. 24—during the anniversary of the Edsa People Power revolution that overthrew Ferdinand Marcos in 1986—and would involve an attack on Malacafang Palace “on May 1, 2006.”

The establishment of the CPP in 1968 was cited in the new case to show the alleged string of violent acts of the communist group, said Velasco.

“The main event in this case is the alleged coup on Feb. 24,” Velasco said.

Delorino ruled last week that the proposed amendments constituted an entirely new case, and could not supplant the one filed against Beltran and San Juan as it contained new theories and allegations.

In rejecting the amended information, Delorino said she was not ruling on the merits of the case and that the DOJ could still pursue its case against the 46 but it had to file a new information—which was what Velasco did.

The DOJ originally intended to appeal Delorino’s ruling but Velasco said the prosecution decided to file a new case instead, to prevent delays. He said their move should not be taken as a submission to the judge’s ruling.

“We maintain that filing the amended information is procedurally correct. But if we filed an appeal, it would take time ... We don’t want to have further arguments ... Just so it would be done and over with,” said the prosecutor.

Ready to face accusers

Ocampo, president of Bayan Muna and House deputy minority leader, said he and the four other party-list legislators were ready to face government lawyers in a court of law.

“We are ready to respond to whatever new fabrication the Department of Justice filed in the Makati Regional Trial Court,” said Ocampo in a phone interview.

Maintaining his group’s innocence, Ocampo said they would respond in full after they had obtained a copy of the charges against them.

“We need to get a copy of the new charge to be able to comment substantially ... Offhand, I can only say we stand ready to respond to the charge,” he said.

Ocampo added: “It looks like the DOJ now anchors the charge on the fact that CPP-NPA is engaged in rebellion, and tries to implicate the Batasan 5 by alleging we’re CPP-NPA leaders. There’s no credible evidence for such an allegation.” With a report from Michael Lim Ubac against human rights,” Bunye said in a statement.

GMA orders . . .

From page A1

He said the President had ordered the Philippine National Police to “leave no stone unturned” in investigating the killing of Elena Mendiola, Bayan Muna-Cagayan Valley secretary general, and her partner Ricardo Balauag, and in arresting their assailants.

Two men shot the couple dead as they were about to leave Barangay Garit Sur after an errand.

In a news conference at the PNP headquarters in Camp Crame, Interior Secretary Ronald Puno said he had formed Task Force Unsolved Killings, a top-level police probe that would look into the assassination of members of militant party-list groups Bayan Muna, Anakpawis and Gabriela.

Puno said the task force would look into all possible angles, including the suspected involvement of military agents and reports of ongoing purges in the communist movement.

“The military is being blamed, but there is also a report that purges are going on,” he said.

Puno said he formed the task force on the instructions of Ms Arroyo, who had “expressed grave concern over all the unsolved killings, including those of members of Bayan Muna.”

He said he had assigned PNP Deputy Director General Avelino Razon to head the task force that would also include the Criminal Investigation and Detection Group under Chief Supt. Jesus Versoza and the PNP Intelligence Group under Senior Supt. Romeo Ricardo, the acting officer in charge.

Reconcile statistics

Puno said he intended to coordinate with the militant party-list groups to reconcile statistics on the killings.

According to Puno’s figures, only 56 Bayan Muna members have been killed since 2001. But the human rights group Karapatan pegged the number at 91 following the killing of Mendiola and Balauag on Wednesday night.

Karapatan has the number of militants killed during the Arroyo administration at more than 560. But Puno’s list has only 83.

Puno said he would welcome members of Bayan Muna, Anakpawis and Gabriela who wanted to be part of the task force.

“These were my colleagues when I was in Congress and I would not have any problems sitting with them in this investigation,” he said.

He added that the task force had 72 hours to produce results from its investigation of the killing of Mendiola and Balauag.

Versoza, on the other hand, said the task force would produce in the next 72 hours an “analysis” of the killings recorded since 2001, at least as far as motives were concerned.

Even ranking officers

“We want to remove the impression that this administration countenances these killings. The President has been moving to abolish the death penalty, and it is not acceptable to [her] that deaths in the prisons [would be stopped] only to be done in the field,” Puno said.

He said the reason he had assigned Razon to head the task force was to enable it to investigate even high-ranking officers being linked to the murder of militants.

Razon is the PNP deputy chief for operations and the third highest police official.

“We ask those who know anything to come out and help us in this investigation,” Puno said, adding that the probe would be transparent and professional.

Maj. Gen. Jovito Palparan of the Army has been accused by Bayan Muna and Karapatan of being behind the killing of anti-Arroyo activists wherever he was assigned in the countryside.

Asked if the task force would investigate the military establishment, Puno said: “We are not exculpating anybody this early. The reason I formed this task force is to show that this is not just any other investigation but a national police matter.”

Theories

As the task force prepared to begin its work, Versoza offered a couple of theories to explain the wave of murders—that these were part of an “ongoing purge” within the communist movement, or were a result of personal vendetta.

“In the previous incidents that we have investigated, there was an indication of purging within the leftist organizations,” he said. “Also, let us not discount the possibility that these killings might have been personally motivated.”

Even Justice Secretary Raul Gonzalez attributed the killings to a communist purge.

Asked to comment on reports that the military was behind the killing of leftist leaders, he said: “Why will the military do that? Communist leaders themselves admit that they have done purges to clean up their ranks.”

Gonzalez also assailed this newspaper for supposedly making a big thing of the killings, saying: “What’s happening here is when a communist is killed, whatever is the reason, it still comes out as banner headline in the INQUIRER.”

Rumors

Asked if the task force would begin its probe with the accusation that the Armed Forces was responsible for the murders, Versoza said: “We will first look into the available data, or available initial investigation reports, or initial interview of witnesses on whatever the motives might have been. Pertaining to the rumors that the military is involved here, we will look at all angles.”

The way Puno put it, investigators will not be knocking on the doors of the AFP and asking soldiers what they had to say about the “rumors” of military involvement in the killings.

“That is not the way you do things,” he said.

But at least one militant organization rejected the idea of a PNP-led probe into the murders.

The Pambansang Lakas ng Kilusang Mamalakaya ng Pilipinas (Pamalakaya) strongly reacted to the earlier remark of PNP spokesperson Senior Supt. Samuel Pagdilao that there was “no factual basis” to pin the killings on government security units.

“What will happen to the investigation? The PNP is operating under the directives and orders of the principal suspect and her accomplices in the wave of political killings,” Pamalakaya said.

It said it would formally ask the United Nations’ Human Rights Council to look into the matter.

‘Dirty war’

At the Senate, administration Sen. Ralph Recto called on Malacañang to unmask and “neutralize” the groups behind the apparent “dirty war” against Bayan Muna activists.

“And if there are rogue elements under the state’s employ who are behind the killings, then all the more should the government go after them,” Recto said in a statement.

Sen. Rodolfo Biazon, a former AFP chief, also pressed the military to “take action” on the killings.

“Any armed group can commit these crimes because if nothing is being done to identify these perpetrators, the natural and logical suspects can only be agents of the law,” Biazon said.

He called on the Commission on Human Rights to investigate the killings and warned that the military would lose its credibility if these were not solved. With reports from Christine O. Avendaño, Armand N. Nocum and TJ Burgonio

Correction

IN THE MAY 11 issue, the front page story—“2 more leftists shot dead”—misstated the date of the first attack on slain Bayan Muna leader Elena Mendiola. The attack was the second assassination attempt on Mendiola in two months, not “in less than 24 hours” as stated in the story. Mendiola survived the first attack on March 10 this year.

Readers may send their requests for correction of factual errors in writing to the Day Desk, Philippine Daily Inquirer, PDI Building, Chino Roces Avenue corner Mascardo Street, Makati City, fax Nos. 897-47-93/94; e-mail address: daydesk@inquirer.com.ph.

Complaints about lack of fairness or objectivity may be sent to Lorna Kalaw Tirol, readers’ advocate, e-mail address: readersadvocate@inquirer.com.ph or fax Nos. 897-47-93/94, Attn: Readers Advocate. Her phone number is 897-8808 Local 342.

Gov't turns down Lafayette bid for test-run of mine

By Blanche S. Rivera
and Christine Gayligan

THE GOVERNMENT YESTERDAY rejected Australian firm Lafayette Philippines Inc.'s request to do a test-run of its processing operations.

Environment Secretary Angelo T. Reyes yesterday said he would not decide on Lafayette's request to allow a test run of the Rapu-Rapu Polymetallic Project before the fact-finding commission formed by Malacañang has submitted its report.

Lafayette has asked the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to allow a test-run of its processing facilities as the company had complied with all government requirements since mid-April.

"We are disappointed but we respect the decision of the Secretary. We understand the pressures that he has to go through," Lafayette president Carlos Dominguez said in response to Reyes' decision. He did not elaborate.

Lafayette said the company has been maintaining its polymetallic project in Albay at a cost of P150 million a month since November when the DENR suspended its processing operation due to the mine spills.

"We will withhold any decision until we have received the final and comprehensive report of the Bastes commission," Reyes said.

in a press conference yesterday.

The Rapu-Rapu Fact-Finding Commission led by Sorsogon Bishop Arturo Bastes has been tasked by President Macapagal-Arroyo to look into the environmental impact of the two mine spills in Lafayette's mine site last year.

The commission, formed on March 10, was supposed to submit its final report with recommendations on the viability and legality of the Lafayette project on April 10, but Bastes sought an extension of the deadline for submission to May 5.

Saying it was still finalizing the results of the stakeholder consultations and hearings, the commission again moved the deadline from May 5 to May 19 or next Friday.

"We will look at the result of that study before we look into Lafayette's request... (then) As DENR Secretary, I will also submit my own recommendations to the President," Reyes said.

The DENR has fined Lafayette P10.7 million for illegally discharging waste water from its tailings ponds in violation of the Clean water Act.

The discharges on Oct. 11 and 31 allegedly caused fish kills in Rapu-Rapu and fish scare in the rest of Albay due to the cyanide that was dumped into the bodies of water near the mine site.

Lafayette said the non-operation of its processing plant has hurt the company in terms of maintenance cost and lost opportunities.

By Blanche S. Rivera

THE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENT and Natural Resources yesterday stepped into the row between Bantay Kalikasan and employees of the Metropolitan Manila Waterworks and Sewerage System, taking the stance of environmentalists who oppose the MWSS housing project.

Saying the La Mesa dam was a "very, very important facility" Environment Secretary Angelo T. Reyes yesterday proposed that the reservoir be declared a protected area.

"La Mesa dam is a source of drinking water for Metro Manila. The configuration of the terrain is such that if it (domestic pollutants) drains into the dam, it is dangerous. It must be declared a protected area," Reyes said in a press conference yesterday.

The DENR would form a team composed of its own experts and scientists from the academe to do a protected area suitability assessment (PASA) of the La Mesa watershed.

Reyes said the team would check if the La Mesa watershed, where there is already an existing housing for MWSS executives, could be declared a protected area.

The study should also detail the limits of the area for a possible protected watershed.

"If it is a protected area, then you are effectively declaring that it is in the public interest that you don't have establishments, structures there," he said.

Environmentalists led by Gina

Lopez, ABS-CBCN Foundation Inc. managing director, have banded together into the Save La Mesa Dam Coalition and asked the government not to convert 58 hectares of the 2,700-hectare watershed into a housing area.

Lopez, who also heads Bantay Kalikasan, said the houses within the watershed could send pollutants downstream to the La Mesa reservoir, which supplies water to Metro Manila's 12 million residents.

The environmentalists will have a meeting with Reyes on Monday to discuss the issue.

"My only concern is the impact on the environment. Is it a potential damage to La Mesa dam?" Reyes said.

The DENR chief said he would suspend the granting of an environmental compliance certificate to the MWSS unions until the PASA is finished.

The MWSS unions, backed by a new pro-poor coalition called the Kalikasan at Katarungan para sa Magandang Kinabukasan (KKK), have not yet applied for an ECC for the housing project on a 58-hectare portion of the La Mesa watershed.

The KKK has lambasted the Save La Mesa Dam Coalition for being anti-poor, saying it did not raise a howl when nearby malls, subdivisions and the MWSS executive housing were being built.

Reyes said the government could take even the private lands if necessary. The 1,411 MWSS employee-beneficiaries of the housing project had titles to the lots reserved for housing.

Baygon LIQUID MOSQUITO REPELLER

THE Heater Swap

Swap your old mosquito repellents at the nearest MINISTOP branch, and get the new Baygon Liquid Mosquito Repeller - for FREE!

Switch now and enjoy the following benefits:

- Superior Efficacy - each refill gives you continuous protection for a month¹
- Maximum Convenience - it's easy to use!
- Wide Coverage - covers a 20sq meter area!
- Big Savings - refills are 34% cheaper!
- Economical Usage - consumes only 5 watts, just like charging your cellphone!

Up grade Now!

MINISTOP THE POWER IS YOURS

Johnson & Johnson A FAMILY COMPANY

Enjoy fries everyday!

DIAL 8-7000 Jollibee Delivery

Available in Metro Manila only.

Who says soldiers are womanizers?

SOLDIERS MAY BE REPUTED to be womanizers, but the Philippine Army disagrees.

The 75,000-strong Army said its records showed that only 14 soldiers have been subjects of formal complaints by their wives and lovers.

The complaints filed before the Army Provost Marshal range from bigamy, abandonment, non-child support to non-sharing of benefits, according to Army spokesperson Lt. Col. Bartolome Bacarro.

He said the figures show that contrary to common perception, cases of unfaithfulness among Army soldiers are "limited."

"Considering the total number of soldiers, the incidence of bigamy etcetera, is very limited," Bacarro said.

He said the Army does not tolerate such behavior from its troops.

The Army refused to identify the soldiers being investigated, citing the "confidentiality" of the cases, nor would it say if any one is facing trial in a military court for marital infidelity.

The Army could not immediately cite a case where a soldier or an officer was dishonorably dismissed from the service for bigamy or abandonment.

Last Thursday, the wife of an Army soldier took her 4-year-old son to the Army headquarters to force her husband to give child support.

18 killed in 2 Mindanao road accidents

By Dennis Jay C. Santos
PDI Mindanao Bureau

DAVAO CITY—AT LEAST 18 PEOPLE were killed while 40 others were injured in two separate vehicular accidents in Davao del Norte and Compostela Valley provinces.

In Panabo City, Davao Del Norte, a van owned by the Holy Cross of Davao College turned turtle after colliding with a JRC passenger bus along the JP Laurel national highway at around 4:15 p.m. Thursday. Senior Supt. Jaime Morente, Davao del Norte police chief, said 11 persons were killed while some 26 other passengers were wounded in the collision.

Morente said the driver of the van lost control of the vehicle, causing it to collide with the passenger bus before it swerved to the side lanes.

On Wednesday night, a pick-up truck fell into a ravine in Barangay Tagamanok in Mawab, Compostela Valley killing seven persons on board and injuring 21 others.

Senior Supt. Nestor Quinsay, Compostela Valley police chief, said the vehicle came from Davao and was bound for Monkayo town when the incident occurred at around 7:45 p.m.

"The truck lost its brakes," Quinsay said.

In Zamboanga City, five persons were injured in a dynamite explosion inside the public market in Margos sa Tubig town in Zamboanga del Sur yesterday afternoon.

Supt. Ramon Ochotorena, police chief for Zamboanga del Sur, said five persons, including an 8-year-old boy, were hurt in the explosion.

Ochotorena said two groups of fishermen were engaged in an argument inside a videoke bar which only ended when one group exploded an improvised dynamite explosive commonly used for fishing.

Four persons were also wounded in another explosion in Barangay Arena Blanco in Zamboanga City at noon yesterday.

Supt. Jose Bayani, chief for operations of the Zamboanga City Police, said a family of four was preparing an improvised dynamite explosive for fishing when it suddenly exploded.

Four unidentified victims were brought to Zamboanga City Medical Center for treatment. With a report from Julie S. Alipala, PDI Mindanao Bureau

Binay daughter, Saguisag son find 'dead' signature in Cha-cha

By Tarra V. Quismundo

EVEN THE DEAD WANT CHARACTER Change.

Or so it seemed until the fraud was discovered by two lawyers who are also scions of two prominent opposition figures.

A group of lawyers led by Abigail Binay, daughter of Makati Mayor Jejomar Binay, and Rene Saguisag Jr., namesake of his father, the former Senator, yesterday filed a forgery case before the Makati City Prosecutor's Office against Akbay Pinoy Inc., one of the groups behind the signature campaign for Cha-cha.

The case stemmed from the complaint of a daughter who found the alleged signature of his late father, Severino Victorino, a barangay captain in Makati City who died almost five months ago, on a petition seeking to amend the Charter.

"My father is already dead, and we found his signature. How did that happen? I don't know who's responsible for this but it's just impossible," said Victorino's daughter, Virginia Salenga.

The signature was among the many alleged forgeries the lawyers discovered out of more than 46,000 signatures forwarded to the local Commission on Elections (Comelec) by Akbay Pinoy fanning calls for her resignation and snap elections by tapping the National Printing Office to run primers on Charter change.

Pimentel charged that the Public Information Agency's move to use the NPO to print Cha-cha materials, without Congress appropriating funds for it, only added to the list of the President's impeachable offenses.

NPO chief Felipe Evardone confirmed that PIA director Conrado "Dodie" Limcaoco Jr. made the request on April 7, but stressed that the agency printed only 100,000 copies in English and Filipino at a minimal cost. Gil C. Cabacungan Jr. and TJ Burgonio for verification last April 17.

The initial 20 counts of falsification of public documents were filed against its officers Carmencita Tabamo and Adelaida Lazaro, along with yet to be identified members for allegedly faking several signatures of Makati residents to pad its signature collection.

As evidence, Salenga brought along her father's death certificate and a picture of his tombstone, which indicated that Victorino died on Dec. 24, 2005.

Victor del Prado, who assumed Victorino's post after the latter's death, was also among the complainants.

Edwin Vittali, a council member of Barangay Kasilawan, meanwhile, discovered that his signature was forged 18 times. Barangay Palanan resident Hugo Villaroman, the younger Saguisag's uncle, also signed the complaint upon learning that his signature had been forged.

"It's funny that they even included a dead man. Soon, we might be able to show you the tombstones of others who also signed. We really can't understand how that could have happened," said Saguisag.

Akbay Pinoy is a member of Sigaw ng Bayan, a multi-sectoral confederation that has been collecting signatures around the country to push for a people's initiative.

Malacañang says use of gov't funds legal

MALACAÑANG YESTERDAY SAID there were no legal impediments to the channelling of government funds to groups and individuals behind the campaign to amend the Constitution.

"I don't see any objection for as long as they have the budget," said Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye referring to Malacañang's release of funds to the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP), Sigaw ng Bayan Movement, and other groups and individuals pushing for Charter change.

Ulap and Sigaw ng Bayan are spearheading the signature drive for a people's initiative to change the Constitution, an alternative route heartily endorsed by President Macapagal-Arroyo herself.

Malacañang, however, has denied having any hand in the signature drive as alleged by the opposition.

"Charter change is part of her Medium Term Philippine Development Plan and this was the topic of her State of the Nation Address. This is the policy of administration to educate our people on the whys and wherefores of Charter change," said Bunye.

As this developed, Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Pimentel Jr. yesterday said Ms Arroyo was fanning calls for her resignation and snap elections by tapping the National Printing Office to run primers on Charter change.

Pimentel charged that the Public Information Agency's move to use the NPO to print Cha-cha materials, without Congress appropriating funds for it, only added to the list of the President's impeachable offenses.

NPO chief Felipe Evardone confirmed that PIA director Conrado "Dodie" Limcaoco Jr. made the request on April 7, but stressed that the agency printed only 100,000 copies in English and Filipino at a minimal cost. Gil C. Cabacungan Jr. and TJ Burgonio for verification last April 17.

The initial 20 counts of falsification of public documents were filed against its officers Carmencita Tabamo and Adelaida Lazaro, along with yet to be identified members for allegedly faking several signatures of Makati residents to pad its signature collection.

As evidence, Salenga brought along her father's death certificate and a picture of his tombstone, which indicated that Victorino died on Dec. 24, 2005.

Victor del Prado, who assumed Victorino's post after the latter's death, was also among the complainants.

Edwin Vittali, a council member

of Barangay Kasilawan, meanwhile, discovered that his signature was forged 18 times. Barangay Palanan resident Hugo Villaroman, the younger Saguisag's uncle, also signed the complaint upon learning that his signature had been forged.

"It's funny that they even included a dead man. Soon, we might be able to show you the tombstones of others who also signed. We really can't understand how that could have happened," said Saguisag.

Akbay Pinoy is a member of Sigaw ng Bayan, a multi-sectoral confederation that has been collecting signatures around the country to push for a people's initiative.

Opposition.

At a press conference Wednesday, the lawmaker vouched for Aragoncillo's integrity, pointing out that the Filipino-American was only after the welfare of his former countrymen in sending messages here.

"What this (espionage case proves) is his sense of loyalty to the country," Albano told reporters at the House of Representatives.

He even called on politicians not to "make a mountain out of a hill," and help Aragoncillo, who had pleaded guilty to espionage charges, get a lighter sentence.

Albano, confirmed receiving e-mails from Aragoncillo, but that these were purely personal exchanges.

Isabela lawmaker denies calling Aragoncillo a hero

By Michael Lim Ubac

ISABELA REP RODITO ALBANO III has disputed an INQUIRER story published yesterday which quoted him as calling former United States intelligence analyst Leandro Aragoncillo, on trial for divulging White House classified information, a hero.

Albano denied in a statement sent to the INQUIRER yesterday that he had spoken "either for or against Aragoncillo with regard to his case, let alone, called him a hero."

In the statement, Albano acknowledged his friendship with Aragoncillo, but said he had nothing to do with the latter's relationships or dealings with the

RP wins seat in 47-member UN Human Rights Council

THE PHILIPPINES has achieved another remarkable success in the United Nations by winning a seat in the new 47-member Human Rights Council, according to Ambassador Lauro Baja Jr., the Philippines' Permanent Representative to the UN.

Baja said 136 of the 191 member-states of the UN voted for the Philippines, giving it 40 votes more than the absolute majority of 96 votes required for a seat in the UN's top human rights body.

"We are gratified to note that the goodwill and respect the Philippines gained through our participation in the Security Council live on," Baja said.

He noted that the election of the Philippines spoke well of the country's human rights record, as the General Assembly resolution establishing the Council required members to take into account the contribution of candidate countries to the promotion and protection of human rights and their voluntary pledges and commitments to the cause.

The Philippines announced its bid for a seat two weeks after the adoption of the resolution establishing the Geneva-based Council, as a result of which other missions had a head start in their campaigns. According to Baja, 65 countries made a bid for the 47 available seats in the Geneva-based body.

Romero; 55

ARISTOTLE M. Romero, brother-in-law of Journal Group of Publications editor-in-chief Guy B. Villanueva, died on Tuesday at the Heart Center in Quezon City. He was 55.

He is survived by his wife, Lourdes Daisy, sisters Arlyne, Annabelle, Adorable, Audrey and Andra; brother Antonio III; brothers-in-law Guy Villanueva, Jun Luz; sisters-in-law Grace Castillo and Jeanna and Ramon and Rainer Ples.

His body lies at the Loyola Memorial Chapels in Guadalupe, Makati City. Interment is set tomorrow at the Loyola Memorial Park in Marikina after the 8 a.m. Mass at Loyola (Guadalupe).

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or call Telephone No. 962-9884 or 962-9885. All entries shall be held at the Training Room, Dr. Jose N. Rodriguez Memorial Hospital, Tala, Caloocan City, unless announced otherwise.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bidder's bond in the form of a percentage of the approved budget for the contract to be bid. The Approved Budget Cost is stated on the bid document.

For further inquiries, interested bidders may contact the BAC Secretariat or

P1-BUDGET

JPE 'vindictive' – PCGG

By Alcuin Papa

THE PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION ON GOOD Government (PCGG) yesterday took Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile to task for recommending a P1 budget for the agency.

Enrile was being "vindictive," said Ricardo Abcede, PCGG commissioner for assets and management, because PCGG Chair Camilo Sabio and other officials refused to attend a Senate inquiry last Thursday into the alleged dissipation of assets of the Philcomsat Holdings Corp. (PHC).

At the start of yesterday's hearing, Enrile, one of the founding shareholders of PHC's mother firm, Philippine Communications Satellite Corp. (Philcomsat), proposed a P1 budget for the PCGG.

"Let him [recommend a one-peso budget]. Our budget would be re-enacted. He is so vindictive. I thought he is for reconciliation but his legislative action is colored by the desire to join (Victor) Africa and his group or take over," Abcede said.

The other day, Sabio had written the Senate saying that no official of the agency would be attending the Senate hearing which was scheduled last Thursday.

Sabio invoked Section 4-B of Executive Order No. 1, which created the PCGG. The provision states that no staff of the commission is required to testify or produce evidence concerning matters "within its official cognizance."

Enrile questioned the constitutionality of the provision and said he would file a bill to repeal it.

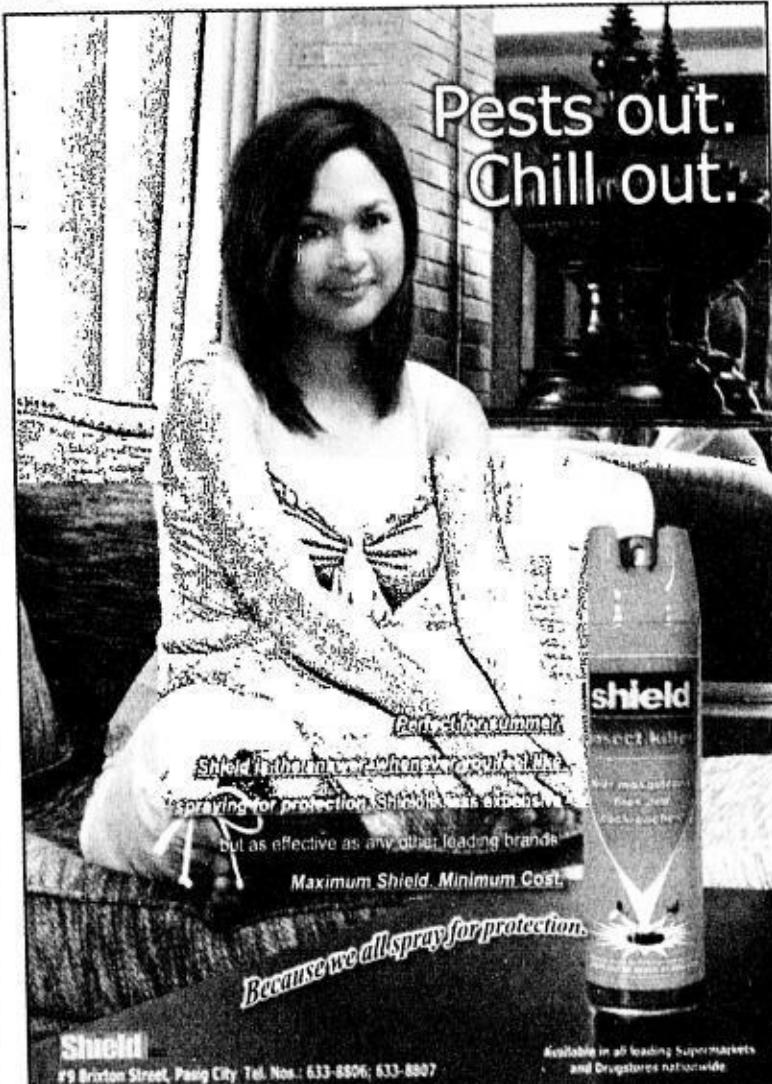

In January, Sabio and the PCGG earned the ire of the Senate when they refused to answer questions on the alleged compromise for the coco levy funds and the Marcos wealth. At the time, senators also recommended a P1 budget for the PCGG.

The Philcomsat controversy erupted last week when Enrile criticized the board of Philcomsat Holdings, including representatives of the PCGG, for "dissipating" the assets of the publicly listed company.

Enrile asked the board to explain how a substantial part of the P1 billion that he said the company got from Philcomsat was spent.

A few days later, Philcomsat Holdings director and vice president Philip Brodett said the company's assets were intact. The company's financial report in 2005 said total assets amounted to P1.48 billion, down from P1.50 billion in 2004. Cash and cash equivalents were P691.0 million, down from P746.2 million in 2004.

It's 0% interest* when you use Citibank Paylite.

Anson EMporium

APPLIANCE INSTALLMENT SHOWDOWN

Ayala Mall, Glorietta
May 1 to 17, 2006

citibank

PayLite

INSTALLMENT PLAN

*Subject to Citi bank approval. 0% interest is available on great selections at 3, 5, 9, 12, 18 & 24 months for a single receipt of at least P3,000.00 and is valid only for PayLite Monthly Installment Dues that are paid in full.

Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 1989, Series of 2006

Who would have imagined that hypertensive patients can live longer and healthier lives in the future-by medicating today?

We did.

Pfizer breakthroughs and innovations are happening everyday.

Even one who suffers from a serious health condition can now hope to surpass the normal life expectancy. Pfizer's life-changing breakthroughs in medical research have produced medicines which help prevent and treat ailments like hypertension, arthritis, bad cholesterol, and severe infections. Salamat sa Maykapal, sa alaga ni Doktor, at sa mga gamot na binuhusan ng research, the hope of a better, stronger, and longer life for you and your loved ones can happen. Sulit na sulit talaga!

Dahil mahalaga ang buhay, ang gamot dapat sulit.

Dapat Sulit

Pfizer

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT PFIZER'S SULIT MEDICINES TODAY.

Principal of 'little' school ... Villar still confident Drilon's a gentleman cards came from or where the pictures were taken.

From page A1

"This, among other achievements, yesterday elevated Alipio as one of the 10 recipients of this year's Gintong Ilawan Teodora Alonso Educator's Award, an annual recognition bestowed by the Department of Education and cosmetic company Avon.

10 awardees

The Gintong Ilawan (Golden Lamp) came with a cash prize of P50,000 for each awardee, a study grant courtesy of the DepEd and a special course called "Principal School Management Program for Prism" from the Asian Institute of Management, a medallion of excellence and a sculpture-trophy by renowned artist Tom Raymundo.

The trophy depicts Teodora Alonso, mother of national hero Jose Rizal, with her young prodigious son on her lap, guiding him through a book by a table lamp.

The award has been recognizing female elementary and high school principals both in public and private schools since 1989. In all the previous awards, only one winner had been chosen, but in this year's edition, "Gintong Ilawan" was handed out to 10 women achievers.

Keen observer

Alipio, who was fittingly described in her nomination papers as a "keen observer" of her community, said she first sensed the problem, one school day in 2000—when she spotted a quiet, sad-looking boy.

This pupil, she recalled, showed up early for class, lingered longer than the others in the school yard as though willing to be marked absent, and finally went in with a cheerless look on his face.

At first, she thought the boy was feeling ill and hesitated on attending class, only to find out from his grandmother that the boy's "father had just left for Saudi Arabia" and that "they were very close."

A few weeks later, Alipio learned about a young girl attending prep school who "for three weeks in a row" cried for her grandmother to stay with her inside the room during the entire class.

Alipio would later get an explanation for the girl's fits: Her mother had just left the family to work in London.

Missing their parents

Located in Barangay Balili, Little Flower holds classes from prep level to Grade 6 and has an average yearly enrollment of around 160.

The school had 23 pupils with OFWs parents when the program was launched in 2000. The number was down to about 12 last school year—either because some of the parents returned from overseas or they decided to bring the children abroad with them.

Postcards from Saudi

"Fifty to 60 percent of these students would have behavioral problems or have failing grades," Alipio told the INQUIRER at the awards program held at the Edsa Shangri-La Hotel.

It came to a point when some of the worried OFW parents would personally call Alipio about their children's situation. "So I thought we could come up with a program that would at least lessen the strain and anxiety of the physical separation," she recalled. "I started asking the children's guardians here to encourage the parents to send postcards and photos."

While no official measure has been taken on the results of the program, Alipio said "the trend has changed" with lesser discipline or grading issues cropping up among the previously affected children.

"The children tend not to verbalize how they feel, but they like what's happening, especially what they see on the bulletin board," she added.

The winners

Louie Migne, head of Avon's Corporate Communications unit, said the award looks for "well-rounded school principals" who have not only worked to provide quality education for their students but whose "reforms" in the school would have an impact on the entire host community.

Playfully dubbed during the program as the "Avon 10," this year's honors were given to private elementary school principals, namely: Georgina Alipio of Little Flower; Dr. Anicia Alvarez of Hansel and Gretel Early Childhood Education Center in Zamboanga City; Mildred Ancheta of the Support for the Handicapped and their Rehabilitation through Education (Share), a study program for the hearing-impaired within the Wesleyan University-Philippines in Cabanatuan City; Loreta Cepriaso of the BHC Educational Institution in San Fernando, La Union; and Sister Miluna Cielo of St. Francis Academy in Sta. Teresita, Cagayan.

The other five winners are: Maria Bella Hernandez of the Mary Immaculate Parish Special School in Las Piñas, Metro Manila; Perla Kwan of Precious International School, Davao; Sister Zenaida Molafa of the Notre Dame-Siena School of Marbel in Koronadal City, South Cotabato; Adelaida Nadera of Dole Philippines School in Polomolok, Cotabato; and Linda Orduria of the Baguio Achievers Academy.

Cartoon Network

Powerful Girls

Ex-Maryland Friends

Tom & Jerry

Pet Men

Coyote Fred's Fruit Salad Island

Comments

Cartoon Network

The Total (2:30 PM)

World News

Global Challenges

CNN

Forensic Files

Bones

Warrior Island II

Unlocked Body & Mind

Wonders

Lilo & Stitch

Total Suspense DOUBLE Episodes

ESPN

Asian X-Games 06-07 Day 2

Joan Of Arcadia

Friends 10

Will & Grace 4

Veronica Mars 2

Destine

TODAY Show

Adventure in Disney

Disney Channel

Image Of God

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

ETC 2nd Avenue

Trading Spouses

Voyantes Myths & Legends

Image Of God

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

EWTN

Veronica Mars 2

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

Fox News

Startalk

Modern Champs IV

HBO

Mon Cole Knights

Shakir

Home Shopping Network

JLU

The Batman

ABC 5

Kid's TV

KNN

Anne Kong

NABCO

PBA

Little Big Star

Comments

Cartoon Network

The Total (2:30 PM)

World News

Global Challenges

CNN

Forensic Files

Bones

Warrior Island II

Unlocked Body & Mind

Wonders

Lilo & Stitch

Total Suspense DOUBLE Episodes

ESPN

Asian X-Games 06-07 Day 2

Joan Of Arcadia

Friends 10

Will & Grace 4

Veronica Mars 2

Destine

TODAY Show

Adventure in Disney

Disney Channel

Image Of God

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

ETC 2nd Avenue

Trading Spouses

Voyantes Myths & Legends

Image Of God

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

EWTN

Veronica Mars 2

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

Fox News

Startalk

Modern Champs IV

HBO

Mon Cole Knights

Shakir

Home Shopping Network

JLU

The Batman

ABC 5

Kid's TV

KNN

Anne Kong

NABCO

PBA

Little Big Star

Comments

Cartoon Network

The Total (2:30 PM)

World News

Global Challenges

CNN

Forensic Files

Bones

Warrior Island II

Unlocked Body & Mind

Wonders

Lilo & Stitch

Total Suspense DOUBLE Episodes

ESPN

Asian X-Games 06-07 Day 2

Joan Of Arcadia

Friends 10

Will & Grace 4

Veronica Mars 2

Destine

TODAY Show

Adventure in Disney

Disney Channel

Image Of God

Crash Of The Month

Mary & Alex

Corner

ETC 2nd Avenue

Trading Spouses

Voyantes Myths & Legends

Bishops break silence on 'Da Vinci Code'

By Christian V. Esguerra

FINALLY BREAKING ITS SILENCE on "The Da Vinci Code," the Catholic Bishops Conference of the Philippines (CBCP) yesterday expressed confidence that the Church would withstand this new attack on the very foundations of its faith.

"Let us not lose heart. The history of the Church attests to how the Gospel of Jesus Christ has withstood many trials. The truth of Jesus Christ can never be shackled," Jaro Archbishop Angel Lagdameo, CBCP president, said in a much-awaited pastoral letter on the upcoming film.

Manila Archbishop Gaudencio Cardinal Rosales described as "vicious and monetarily profitable" the venture of American author Dan Brown and Sony Pictures which produced the best-selling novel's Hollywood adaptation.

Like Rosales, the rest of the bishops were not buying the oft-repeated disclaimer that "The Da Vinci Code" is a work of fiction, especially since its author made claims of historical accuracy and precision in his description of artworks.

"It cannot be denied that fiction shapes the imagination, stirs emotions and forms mental associations. Brown has created the impression that his fiction is historical fact," Lagdameo said.

"Let us appeal to publishers and people in media to practice their profession responsibly, with uncompromising respect for the truth, especially about persons and beliefs dear to various religions and faith communities," he said.

The pastoral statement, relatively

Moro rebs want film banned

By Jeffrey M. Tupas
PDI Mindanao Bureau

DAVAO CITY—THE MORO ISLAMIC Liberation Front is fighting for a new cause—to ban the showing of the controversial film "The Da Vinci Code."

Khaled Musa, deputy chair of the MILF committee on information, said the film should be banned out of religious respect.

The showing of the film "would only promote irreverence... it will not bring any good to the people," Musa said.

An adaptation of Dan's Brown best-selling novel, the movie will be shown in Asia on May 18. It reports, among other allegedly blasphemous things, of a possible relationship between Jesus Christ and Mary Magdalene.

This does not sit well with the conservative MILF; some leaders of the Catholic Church, religious groups and even an antipornography group.

The Philippine Alliance Against Pornography Inc. had asked the Commission on Human Rights to step in when the PAAP learned that Movie and Television Review and Classification Board (MTRCB) Chair Marissa Laguardia reportedly signed the permit to import the movie.

The PAAP said the movie was blasphemous and "anti-Christ."

Musa agreed. "Muslims are not believers of Jesus Christ as God, but we consider the movie blasphemous because it accuses Christ of things which do not befit him even as a prophet," he said.

"Freedom of expression should not invade freedom of religion... we agree with groups calling for the banning of this film," Musa added.

late considering that the movie is due for global release on May 19 (and in the Philippines on May 18), came with an eight-page attachment providing answers to serious allegations contained in the book and possibly, in the film as well.

In a letter to his priests, Rosales yesterday said that not since the time of the Arian heresy in the 4th century that there was an "attack on the divinity of Jesus Christ."

The CBCP did not say if it preferred to have the movie banned considering the allegations it might raise against the Christian faith.

Lipa Archbishop Ramon Arguelles earlier asked the Movie and Television Review and Classification Board (MTRCB) to junk the film for its alleged "blasphemy."

In the novel, which is presented as fiction but historically accurate and a product of impeccable scholarship, former school teacher Brown claims that Christ's divinity was merely a human declaration at the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD.

Lagdameo invited the faithful to

"serenely affirm the fundamental truths of our faith" particularly that Jesus Christ is "truly God and truly human" and that "the revelation of Jesus, received in childlike faith, is preserved and transmitted by the Church."

Lagdameo lamented that the Brown novel "gives erroneous impressions of many things" while making "claims through fictional accounts that give the impression of historical accuracy due to frequent reference to events."

Though relatively delayed in their reaction, the bishops asked the faithful to engage in a "systematic study" of the Gospels and the rest of the teachings of the Church.

In the attachment to the pastoral statement titled "Handling Questions People May Ask About 'The Da Vinci Code,'" the CBCP answered point-by-point key allegations such as Jesus as just a "mortal prophet," Mary Magdalene as the fabled Holy Grail, and the suppression of the sacred feminine.

The CBCP also tackled questions about the Priory of Sion which Brown, apparently lifting from the pages of previously debunked books, presented as protectors of the bloodline of the so-called Jesus-Mary Magdalene marriage.

idac
AIR CONDITION
The New Split Type Aircon

Wall-Mounted
1hp-P16,500
1.5hp-P18,500, 2hp-P25,000, 2.5hp-P30,000
Floor Mounted
3hp-P39,500 5hp-P55,000
Free Installation!
Call: 2432610, 2414731
Available@MC Fort, Makati & Ortigas
Cebu-(032)3465498 Davao-(082)2358821

Producers haven't submitted copy for review yet—MTRCB

By Norman Bordadora

FIVE DAYS BEFORE THE SCHEDULED showing of the Hollywood adaptation of "The Da Vinci Code," the Movie and Television Review and Classification Board (MTRCB) has yet to receive a copy of the film for review.

"As of yesterday, the producers have not submitted a copy for review. The movie will not be shown in local theaters unless the MTRCB approves it," said MTRCB director Vic de Leon at the weekly Kapihan sa Newsdesk in Quezon City yesterday.

"Usually we require a couple of days [lead time] but the distributor [Columbia Pictures] can give it on the day itself because it only takes two hours to review it," De Leon said.

The MTRCB has three levels of review if stakeholders were to appeal the decisions. A rating is reached by the majority of a committee of three board members. If an appeal is made, the MTRCB en banc does the review.

If another appeal is made, the matter is brought to the President's attention. With Scott James Roxas

Candlelight protest vs Cha-cha

PROTESTORS AGAINST THE Cha-cha initiative will hold a candlelight, citizens' assembly at Quezon Memorial Circle, Quezon City, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. tonight.

The interfaith meeting will also call for electoral reforms, including computerized counting of votes, before the 2007 elections.

"It is time to make a stand against forces that make light of our hard-won democratic processes," said the National Action for Political Renewal and Stability (Napras), organizer of the meeting, in a press statement.

"Ordinary citizens can make a difference and press for accountability. We can dispel the darkness that for so long has shrouded this land. Let us go out and light a candle and wake to a new morning."

Participants are requested to bring candles, rosaries and trash bags. Banners, placards or T-shirts proclaiming political affiliations are prohibited.

Napras is made up of KPK (Kapatiran sa Pangkalahatang Kabutihan), ISACC (Institute for Studies in Asian Church and Culture), and the NC-CP (National Council of Churches in the Philippines).

"All that I say to you, I do not say of myself. The Father who dwells in me is doing his own work. Believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me; at least believe it on the evidence of these works that I do."

"Truly, I say to you, the one who believes in me will do the same works that I do; and he will even do greater than these, for I am going to the Father. Everything you ask in my name, I will do, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. And everything you ask in calling upon my Name, I will do."

Commentary

Paul and Barnabas preach the hard word to the crowd that assembles, telling them that they are to be the light to the nations. But because they refuse the Word, they turn instead to the Gentiles, who are delighted and respond to the Word with praise. The resistance becomes planned and they are expelled from the territory. The disciples are experiencing what Jesus warned them of—rejection and refusal to believe either the words or the works of God—and yet, they rejoice because they are doing the great works of God, glorifying the Father, with Jesus. The power of the risen Jesus with us is unmistakable.

Claretian Publications Inc., 8 Mayumi St., UP Village, Diliman, Quezon City, UP PO. Box 4, Diliman, 1101 Quezon City; Tel: 921-3984; Fax: 921-7429; E-mail: ccl@claret.org; Websites: <http://www.bible.claret.org> (Claretian Publications Inc.) & <http://missionaries.claret.org> (Claretians in the Philippines)

COPIERS Sales/ Rentals

RICOH • Canon • Olivetti • Savin
Also Available : LIQUID COPIERS
BRAND NEW CANON R1210 BEST FOR BUS.
POWDER TYPE FT 3320, 15 CPM
P11,000. ONLY
P39,950. ONLY
P20,000. ONLY
RECON RICOH FT 3813 BEST FOR BUSINESS
P15,000. ONLY
PARTS & SUPPLIES AVAILABLE FOR MOST COPIER BRANDS.

COPYTRADE

Copytrade Bldg. 559 M. J. Roces St., Sampaloc, Manila (Beside Nat'l Univ.)

Tels. 749-8155 to 50
781-3472 • 749-8216
www.copytrade.com.ph

ENROLL NOW ! for the PASTORAL BIBLICAL STUDIES PROGRAM

A BIBLE STUDY COURSE designed for the formation, education, training, & on-going formation of lay/religious men & women, teachers, and interested Individuals in the field of Biblical Studies.

The program will provide the fundamental frameworks of technical & popular study of the bible, and will also help the participants develop skills in the praxis of biblical evangelization.

Classes Start
JUNE 17, 2006
Every Saturday 9:00am to 12:00noon

PROFESSORS:
Licentiates In Biblical Theology & Sacred Scriptures
Fr. Alejandro Gobrin, CMF Fr. Leander Barot, OAR
Fr. Randolph Flores, SVD Fr. Melanio Viuya, MJ

For further details contact > Jaymee or Bing
CLARET PASTORAL BIBLE CENTER
526 Tandang Sora Ave., Culiat U.P. P.O Box 4
Diliman, 1101 Quezon City
Tels (02) 921-6587 loc. 254 • 932-0343 to 45

TAKE THE FIRST STEP OF EARNING MILLIONS...
...BE OUR BUSINESS PARTNER !!

GET INTO P.E.T. BOTTLE MANUFACTURING...
TODAY'S HIGHLY PROFITABLE BUSINESS !

We Specialized in P.E.T. Bottle Customization

Bottled Water Manufacturing
Fully Automated Bottling Plant
We Accept Toll Packing (Private Labeling)

BFAD Compliant

For Reservations & More Information, Look for Mr. Alex Donato

Tel: (02) 411-7243 / 0921-7218968

Bridal Month Sale!
on seconds.
May 20 to June 4, 2006
9am - 4pm Daily
A customer is entitled to play "Pachingco" and get a prize for every minimum purchase of Php 1,000.00. (cash basis only)
To be held at: Noritake WAREHOUSE J.P. Rizal Street, Concepcion, Marikina City Tel Nos.: 948-4876; 941-6829; 942-1185; 942-0807; (941-7295 sat. & sun.) Email: marketing@noritake.com.ph Website: www.noritake.com.ph*location map available upon request PER DTI-NCR PERMIT NO. A3-0386 SERIES OF 2006

Noritake
The Finest Name in Chinaware

The Manuel L. Quezon University
LAW ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, INC.

Pro Patria et Jure FOREVER

All graduates of the MLQU School of Law, from 1948 to the present, are invited to the Law Alumni Grand Reunion

Saturday, May 27, 2006, 6:00 PM, Wack Wack Golf & Country Club William J. Shaw Pavilion, Wack Wack Road, Mandaluyong City

This year's celebration will be led by the Golden Jubilarians (Class 1956), the Ruby Jubilarians (Class 1966), the Pearl Jubilarians (Class 1976), the Silver Jubilarians (Class 1981) and next year's Golden Jubilarians (Class 1957) headed by Chairman Benjamin S. Abalos.

For more info, please call the Office of Dean Artemio G. Tuquero: Telefax (02) 734-4933 • Cell No. 0916-7443567
Or call the Law Office of Dean Emeritus Norberto S. Gonzales: (02) 687-1951 • 0921-5043476 • Telefax (02) 687-1949

Benjamin S. Abalos - Honorary Chairman
Norberto S. Gonzales - Chairman
Ponciano D. Subido - Vice Chairman
Artemio G. Tuquero - President
Romulo T. Arellano - Executive Vice President
Perla J. Tria Tirona - Treasurer
Rolando B. Faller - Secretary
Alys Ann I. Angeles-Vlisco - PRO

THE TEARFUL, GRATEFUL Sally Ruiz points to her adopted son the INQUIRER story that appeared last Thursday, which started the outpouring of compassion and offers of support for her and her son who live in a shanty in Tondo, Manila.

EDWIN BACASMAS

World now reaches ...

From page A1

Sandin Lee even if her own family survives on only P50 daily in a shanty in Tondo, Manila.

Poverty has not stopped Sally and her two grown children—Salme and Metilyn—from welcoming and nurturing the child.

Somehow, they are managing to stretch Salme's meager earnings as a scavenger to cover daily expenses, including the child's needs.

"It makes us remember that generosity, love and faith are the cultural traits that make the Filipino survive all odds," wrote a mother from Muntinlupa City.

You're a good mom'

From Alaska, Elisa Hastie wrote: "Sally, you are a good mom. Thanks for adopting Sandin Lee. My prayers go to your family."

Manny Stelmach, who also works in the United States, said the situation of the Ruiz family "[reminded] us Filipinos here how we got to the land of opportunity."

"It's great for some [Filipinos] to see this kind of reminder. I was touched," he wrote.

Milou Percy, another Filipino living overseas, said she was moved by the generosity of Sally and her two children.

"I would like to know how we can help Sally and Sandin," she wrote. "Will the INQUIRER start a fund for them, or is there already an existing one to which we can send a donation?"

Those wishing to donate to the family may call Sally Ruiz directly at 0921-3735633. The mobile phone owned by her daughter Metilyn, a factory worker, usually has no "load," and can only receive calls and text messages.

OFWs role in Saudi progress behind mass pardon by king

From page A1

has never been done before, that it was not normal," Sto. Tomas said, referring to the mass pardons granted by King Abdullah when he met President Macapagal-Arroyo during her state visit there.

She added that the freeing of prisoners at the request of a foreign leader was difficult to obtain because the host country had its own justice system different from the foreign country's.

The labor secretary, in a phone interview, also shared her own "reading" as to why the king was kind toward Filipino workers.

"It's an affirmation of the king's high regard for the Filipino's inherent goodness despite the fact that some of us violated some of their customs and regulations," she said.

Sto. Tomas added: "It's his way of saying, 'Yes, there were some of you who may not have respected our laws, but most of you we respect and appreciate.'"

The secretary said that she met the governors of Riyadh and Eastern provinces, who are the king's close relatives, and the two personally heaped praises on the skills, honesty and kindness of Filipino workers.

Sto. Tomas, who accompanied the President in her audience with the king, recounted how Ms Arroyo opened the topic about the jailed Filipinos by saying how proud she was of the honesty, competence and contributions of the OFWs to the development of Saudi Arabia.

"The President then added if it were possible—[could] she bring home 50 OFWs [who were] jailed for light offenses?" Sto. Tomas narrated.

The king, according to the labor secretary, initially replied, through a translator: "No, you are not bringing home 50."

As many as you can take

"Our spirits were dampened, but then he continued, 'I'm asking the interior minister to see to it that you bring home as many people as you can take,'" Sto. Tomas said.

The King then spoke with Interior Minister Nayif bin Abd al-Aziz Al Saud and Ms Arroyo for about half an hour, which was again unusual, Sto. Tomas was told, since only ceremonial matters, not business, were tackled during audiences with visiting heads of state.

Sto. Tomas said the Saudi interior ministry worked 24 hours, gathering records from jails all over the country, coming out with a final list, documenting and processing the legal papers of the Filipino inmates so that they may be speedily released.

She said she and Overseas Workers Welfare Administration chief Marianito Roque were then faced with the problem of booking commercial flights for those who had been freed.

King charters plane

The king heard about the predicament of the Philippine officials and personally ordered the interior minister again to charter a flight for the freed Filipinos.

Sto. Tomas said the President might have recognized even before the trip that there was a great "reservoir of goodwill" for the Philippines.

"But I don't think she quite realized how big that reservoir was and it's heartwarming because if you witnessed the discussions we had, it's very, very clear that they love the Filipinos," she said.

"It's an overwhelming sense of kindness, sympathy and appreciation for the Filipinos and I think that's something we should be happy about because they (the Saudis) really have a high regard for Filipinos," she added.

Coming home

Sto. Tomas said no influential individual or group helped the Philippine delegation lobby for the release of the OFWs. She explained that the pardons were the result of overtures begun late last year by the Philippine diplomats and labor officials with their Saudi counterparts.

These negotiations were supposed to be given a boost by Ms Arroyo's visit, which was postponed for some time.

In Manila, the repatriated Filipinos who arrived the other day were assisted by the Owwa in returning to their provinces.

Forty-three stayed overnight at the Owwa OFW Center and most of them had left by yesterday afternoon.

Skills training

In a press conference, Owwa deputy administrator Angelo Jimenez said the workers were given "training for work certificates" part of the President's scholarship program aimed at giving the returnees opportunities for livelihood.

The returnee can either undergo skills training in a school accredited by the labor department's Technical Education and Skills Development Authority or obtain loans and grants from Owwa so that they can set up their own small businesses and cottage industries.

Minor crimes

According to Jimenez, most of the freed OFWs were charged with minor crimes which pertained to violations of immigration and residency regulations, as well as cultural offenses.

Jimenez said the effect of the pardons was to quash the cases against the OFWs whether they were convicted or not.

The rest of the returnees may not be able to return to the kingdom for a certain period of time as part of the penalties not covered by the royal pardon.

Jimenez said this would all depend on the nature of the OFWs' cases, although based on his experience, the pardoned OFW cannot return to Saudi Arabia immediately.

Government Warning: Cigarette s...

8 killed as 'Caloy' hits Bicol, Visayas

From page A1

Two other vessels, including another motorized outrigger boat in Masbate and a motor vessel anchored off Tabaco port in Albay, also sank, with no reports of any casualties.

The two other fatalities in the storm were a couple who were electrocuted when they touched a live wire in their yard at Barangay Punta Mesa in Manapla town, Negros Occidental province, at 6:30 a.m. yesterday.

The fatalities were identified by the police as Army Berjamen, 30 and husband Romel, 34.

Army was on her way to feed their pigs when she touched the wire that had fallen from the post. Romel tried to rescue his wife but was also electrocuted, police said.

About 8,000 people were stranded in various ports after storm Caloy (international name Chanchu), packing maximum center winds of 100 kph and gusting up to 130 kph, made landfall on Thursday night and sliced across the country, forcing the Coast Guard to suspend ferry operations.

6 survivors' flight delayed

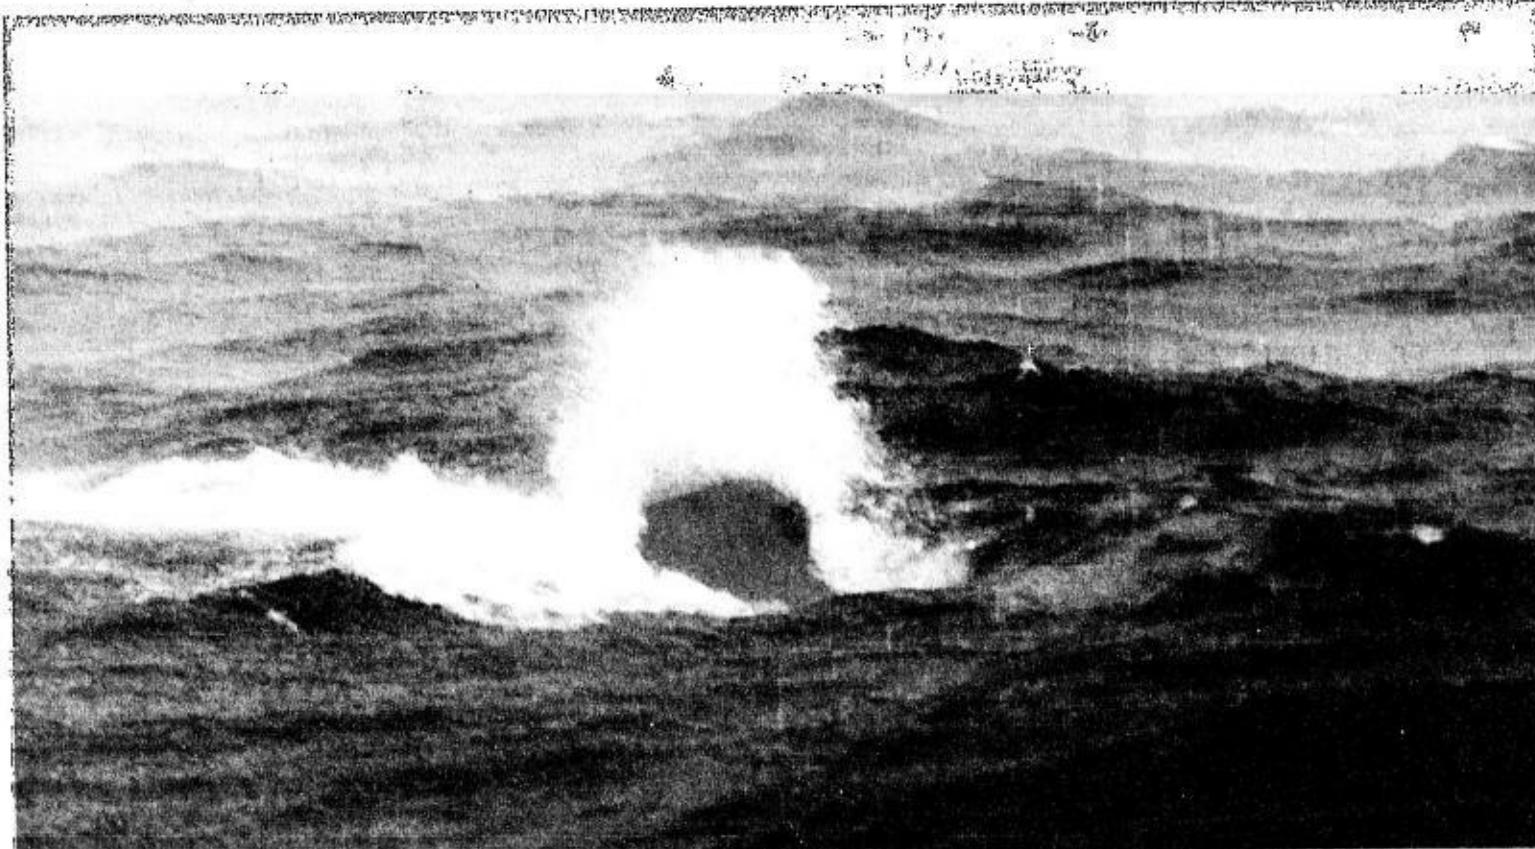

Airport authorities cancelled 79 domestic and international flights, including many bound for provinces in Bicol and the Visayas.

The bad weather also delayed the arrival of six Filipino seamen who survived after their Greek-owned vessel sank in South African waters last week.

They were scheduled to arrive at 8:30 p.m. yesterday via Emirates Airways flight EK 334 from Dubai but the airline decided to cancel its flights from Dubai because of the typhoon, the Manila International Airport Authority (Miaa) said.

The seamen's arrival is tentatively scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today.

Among the families evacuated were those in several villages in the town of Sogod, in Southern Leyte, where about 1,000 people

GOING, GOING, GONE: Only the hull of the MV Northern Samar remains to be seen as it sinks off the port of Tabaco, Albay while waiting to sail to Virac, Catanduanes. No passengers were on board as all seagoing vessels were grounded due to Typhoon "Caloy."

JESS YUSON

were buried alive under a massive mudslide in the village of Guinsaugon three months ago.

Nine villages in the province were isolated by floods and landslides.

"It has been raining really hard, and we had about 130 millimeters (five inches) of rainfall yesterday alone," provincial Gov. Rosette Lleras said, adding that normal rainfall according to forecasters should be 550 millimeters in a week.

Storm warnings were hoisted in some 23 provinces and islands, including Metro Manila, where rain had fallen since Thursday.

Caloy weakens

The storm slightly weakened as it made landfall. By around noon yesterday, it was packing sustained winds of 95 kph, the weather bureau said.

An average of 19 storms and typhoons strike the Philippines every year, killing hundreds of people through floods, landslides, and other hazards induced by strong winds and heavy rain.

In the Bicol region, nearly 6,000 passengers, 172 vehicles and four sea vessels were stranded in seven major ports in the region as Caloy struck early yesterday morning, the Regional Disaster Coordinating Council said.

Caloy also toppled trees, cut off power and forced business establishments to close for the day, RDCC chair Chief Supt. Victor Boco said.

He said 4,148 were stranded in Matnog port in Sorsogon and 1,048 in Tabaco port.

Arnel Capili, Office of Civil Defense regional director, said power was cut off in Catanduanes, Albay, Sorsogon, Masbate and parts of Camarines Sur.

Most of the fallen trees and branches blocking major highways in Albay were being cleared by emergency crewmen.

Jumped into the sea

More than 100 families were evacuated from five coastal villages of Legazpi, Mayor Noel Rosal said.

In Tabaco, the ship MV Northern Samar sank after it developed a hole on its side when strong winds battered it against the concrete port.

No one was reported hurt as people aboard jumped into the sea to save themselves.

The storm stranded about 2,000 people in Eastern Visayas and caused power blackouts in many areas lasting until yesterday morning.

At least 1,132 families were affected when nine barangays in Sogod were affected by landslide and floods, according to Rey Gozon, of the Office of Civil Defense.

As of 9 a.m. yesterday, Gozon said his office had received reports that 2,391 passengers and 134 vehicles bound for Luzon were stranded in ferry terminals in Allen, Northern Samar.

A local radio station reported that more than 4,000 passengers on board vehicles bound for Samar and Leyte and some parts in Mindanao were stranded in Matnog, Sorsogon.

In President Roxas town, Capiz, 54 houses were destroyed and one person was injured when a tornado struck the villages of Aranguel, Carmencita and Badiangon.

Heavy rains and strong winds cut off electricity in Iloilo City. Most of the streets were heavily flooded forcing offices to close early.

The Coast Guard cancelled trips of inter-island vessels in Negros Occidental.

The Coast Guard advised travelers in hard-hit areas to refrain from going to sea ports in the meantime since their vessels would not likely be able to sail.

Advice to travellers

The Coast Guard's Coyne said that instead of wasting time and money sitting around in empty piers waiting for ships or ferries, the passengers would have an easier time if they remained at home and wait for the announcement that the storm signal in their areas had been lifted.

"The best advice I could give passengers is to not go to the piers in the meantime, postpone their trip while Caloy is strong in their areas so that they won't waste time and money at the piers," Coyne said.

With storm signal No. 2 raised in most of the towns in Bicol and Eastern Visayas, the PCG suspended the voyages of vessels weighing 2,000 gross tons and below.

Coyne also said that the PCG had given its commanders in the provinces the discretion to suspend trips depending on weather conditions.

Relief operations

Several government agencies under the transportation department were ordered to assist passengers in southern Luzon and the Visayas who were stranded by the storm.

According to Department of Transportation and Communications Assistant Secretary Roberto R. Castañares, stranded passengers will receive assistance from local units of the Philippine Ports Authority, the Maritime Industry Authority (Marina) and the Philippine Coast Guard. With reports from Edgar Alejo, Mike Jaucian, Madonna Virola and Romulo Ponte, PDI Southern Luzon Bureau; Vicente S. Labro, Joey A. Gabieta, Jani Arnaiz, Nestor P. Burgos Jr., Carla P. Gomez, and Jhunex Napallacan, PDI Visayas Bureau; Nikko Dizon, Dona Pazzibugan, Daxim L. Lucas, Michael Lim Ubac

Smoking is dangerous to your health

Publisher ISAGANI YAMBOT
 Editor in Chief LETTY JIMENEZ-MAGSANOC
 Managing Editor JOSE M. D. NOLASCO
 Associate Editor ABELARDO S. ULANDAY
 Associate Editor for Readership ROSARIO A. GARCILLANO
 News Editor ARTEMIO T. ENGRACIA JR. • Chief, News Desk NILO B. PAUROM
 Opinion Editor JORGE V. ARUTA

National Editor PERGENTINO B. BANDAYREL JR.
 Senior Desk Editor JUAN V. SARMIENTO JR.
 Editorial Consultant AMANDO DORONILA
 Chief Photographer ERNIE U. SARMIENTO
 Art & Design Director LYNETT A. VILLARIBA

Board Chairman MARIXI R. PRIETO
 President ALEXANDRA PRIETO-ROMUALDEZ
 Executive Vice President DAVID O. VALDES
 Senior Vice President for Sales and Marketing RENATO R. REINOSO
 VP for Advertising FELIPE R. OLARTE
 AVP for Circulation SANDY SIMON R. YAP

Readers' Advocate LORNA KALAW TIROL
 readersadvocate@inquirer.com.ph • Tel. No. 897-8808, loc. 342

All rights reserved. Except as permitted by law, no part of the Philippine Daily Inquirer may be reproduced or distributed in any form or by any means stored in a database or retrieval system without its prior written permission.

More of nothing

THE PROBLEM WITH THAT ASTONISHING report that the Philippine population growth slowed down to 1.95 percent is that it has not happened—or at least, not yet. That rate of growth was the projection made by the National Statistics Coordiantion Board—not for 2005 alone, but for the period between 2005 and 2010. In other words, that figure was the projected average annual growth rate for the period.

Another report posted on the NSCB EDITORIAL website gives a slightly lower annual average growth projection of 1.94 percent over the same period. And it qualifies this by saying, "If the growth-rate trend is decreasing from 2.05 percent during the 2000-2005 period, then the 1.94 percent growth rate is likely to be attained around 2007-2008." Which means that if the growth rate hews closely to its historical trend, a 1.94 percent growth—or a 1.95 percent growth, for that matter—is still at least one year away.

The NSCB report warns everyone to be careful with these numbers, saying: "These values should be interpreted with caution as these are projections based on certain assumptions of fertility and mortality and are projected annual average growths for the periods given."

But few people seem to heed that warning, least of all administration officials. They have been acting as if the projections are already reality.

Economic Planning Secretary Romulo Neri, for one, said the 1.95-percent growth rate has brought the country close to its target of 1.94 percent, the rate of growth which would allow the economy to feed the entire population. President Macapagal-Arroyo was pleased, and eager to chalk this up as another achievement of her administration. She congratulated officials of the Population Commission for the "significant drop" in the population growth rate, according to Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye.

If the projections prove to be true, that would certainly call for a celebration. Right from the start of her presidency, Ms Arroyo set about to dismantle an already very feeble government population control program. Afraid to bring down the wrath of Catholic bishops on her government, she passed on the responsibility of carrying out the program to the local governments. Today, the national government's efforts to slow down population growth are "practically nil," said Prof. Ernesto Pernia of the UP School of Economics. Thus if there has been a quick deceleration in population growth, government must have done the seemingly impossible: accomplishing something by doing almost nothing.

No wonder, the President wants to do even less. She has ordered that funds earmarked for programs to bring down population growth be now channeled to other programs intended to feed the hungry, create new employment opportunities and spur economic activities, according to Health Secretary Francisco Duque. At the same time, Duque said, Ms Arroyo wanted to "aggressively implement the scientific, natural family planning methods."

The President wants to promote "aggressively" natural family planning methods while reducing already meager funds for population control? Can the administration be more confused than this?

Sharing burdens

THE DOHA ROUND OF GLOBAL TRADE TALKS UNDER THE World Trade Organization is faltering. An unprecedented confrontation between industrial and developing countries is bogging down efforts to push negotiations forward.

To save this round from failure, each country must share a burden commensurate with its economic power.

Industrial countries can easily handle the cost of a major concession. The United States, in particular, should reduce protections on its domestic farm produce. Japan also must make more contributions to reviving negotiations. It must be willing to make a bigger, braver offer, such as opening its rice market much wider to imports.

Tired of slow progress in the multilateral talks, industrialized countries are now tending to push bilateral and regional free trade agreements. Such moves will hinder many developing countries from benefiting from global trade because they have fewer competitive exports. If the WTO system loses effect, world trade will shrink, hurting industrial nations in the process. Leaders in the developed world must clearly recognize the importance of the multilateral talks and quit dithering to reach an agreement.

Asahi Shimbun (Tokyo)

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

THE PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER, INC. has its business and editorial offices at Chino Roces Ave corner Yague and Mascardo Sts., Makati City • P.O. Box 2353 Makati Central Post Office 1263 Makati City • Our telephone numbers are 897-8808 connecting all departments • Editorial Fax 897-4793 / 897-4794 • Advertising 897-4807 • Circulation 527-3342 / 527-3348 / 528-0183 / 528-0186 and 528-0213 / Fax 528-02-34 • Subscription Hotline 896-6000 • 100% soy ink

Perpetuated but not immortalized

SEPARATE OPINION

Isagani A. Cruz

ONE OF MY THREE LAWYER SONS COMMENDED to me the other day that while going over the latest decisions of the Supreme Court, he came across many grammatical errors that I have mentioned a number of times in this column as commonly committed by our English-speaking citizenry.

I had tried to correct these lapses during my time on the high tribunal, without offense to my colleagues and, indeed, with gracious gratitude from them for my efforts to improve the grammar of our ponencias. It seems, though, that these infractions are back again on the present Supreme Court without a negotiorum gestor or a presumptuous do-gooder like me to correct them.

I recall with pride and satisfaction that I successfully urged the Court to stop referring to ourselves in the third person plural as was the self-inflated practice of our predecessors who saw nothing wrong with calling themselves "We" and their acts as "Our." Sometimes they even spelled the words in all caps as "WE" and "OUR" to magnify their conceit.

I observed that we were not the Queen of England or His Holiness the Pope whose exalted titles were universally accepted. Neither should we usurp the editorial "we" of the journalists who certainly wrote better than we did, especially when they were criticizing us. I added that the President of the Philippines and the members of Congress did not claim a similar artificiality, even assuming (for the sake of argument only) that they were as prestigious as we were.

My suggestion was unanimously accepted and consciously followed except on some rarer occasions when it was ignored by some justices who could not totally abdicate their royal pretensions. But the republican inhibition was generally observed, to give the Supreme Court a more democratic and less infallible image, besides making our ponencias more readable.

There is also the question of improper prepositions. When I chaired a board of judges to choose the best written decision of regional trial court judges in criminal cases, we automatically disqualified any entry where the accused was charged "of" a crime. The suspect is charged "with" and acquitted or convicted "of" the offense. We can accuse many judges "of" ignorance of these rules and scold them "for" this weakness. Even justices are not exempt from this discipline.

It is predictable that when a judge is dismissed by the Supreme Court, it will be because he is "unbecoming of" his position. The verdict may be correct but the language is not. The justices probably never heard Bing Crosby sing "Moonlight Becomes You" to Dorothy Lamour. "Unbecoming" means "that does not become" as when a general is charged with "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman." Notice the absence of the ubiquitous "of" in the familiar and grammatical indictment. It's like "I request a hearing," which does not need a "for" that many justices reverently apply.

When Shakespeare said "let's kill all the lawyers," it must have been because of their esoteric vocabulary with all its "hereinaboves" and "thereofs" that members of the bar use to parade their profession. I believe lawyers and especially justices could be more "regular guys" if they used plain ordinary language in settling disputes between the Party of the First Part and the Party of the Second Part.

Justices, for all the august intimations of their status, are ordinary mortals except for a supposed higher level of literacy. A befitting humility should instruct them that when they prepare their ponencias, they are not writing for posterity. Most decisions are, in fact, like ordinary news reports, read today and wrapping paper tomorrow. Holmes and Brandeis and Cardozo are brilliant exceptions to the ordinariness of jurists.

I beg the indulgence of the Supreme Court if I have been disrespectfully frank. Or unintentionally arrogant as if I were a snobbish know-it-all on the English language. I am not and have myself committed some of the imperfections I have mentioned here. My only purpose is to erase some of the common failings of the justices, including me, in writing decisions that are perpetuated in the SCRA but not immortalized.

Lies and statistics

GET REAL

Solita Collas-Monsod

THE SAYING "THERE ARE LIES, DAMNED lies, and statistics" is a very popular one, as is the charge that "You can prove anything with statistics." Someone even wrote a book titled "How to Lie with Statistics." The statistics that are being referred to here are what sociologist Joel Best, author of—what else?—"Damned Lies and Statistics" calls "bad" statistics. How do statistics become "bad"? According to Best, they are either born bad, meaning they aren't much good from the start because they are based on nothing more than guesses or dubious data; or they are mutant statistics—they become bad after being mangled or twisted, almost always to suit the purposes of the manager or twister.

This week the public was treated to two examples of mangled statistics: one had to do with the results of an SWS survey on hunger; the other had to do with the NSCB projections on population growth.

Per the SWS media release, the percentage of Filipino families experiencing hunger—with nothing to eat at least once in the past three months—"reached a new record high of 16.9 percent in March 2006, equivalent to 2.8 million families—surpassing the previous peak of 16.7 percent in December 2005." The media went to town on this finding, with talk show hosts, editors and commentators discussing the pronouncement as if it were gospel truth.

What's wrong with that picture? Well, there is the problem of "fake precision" (also called "spurious accuracy" and "false precision"). This fallacy occurs "when an argument treats (a piece of) information as more precise than it really is. This happens when imprecise information contained in the premises must be taken as precise in order to adequately support the conclusion." Given the margin of error (which is about plus or minus 2.1 percentage points for a proportion of 16 or 17 percent and a sample size of about 1,200), it is ridiculous to think, much less assert, that there is a difference between the December 2005 and March 2006 figures. But that is exactly what was done.

An objective/statistical analysis of the SWS quarterly data on self-rated hunger has to conclude that there is no significant change (i.e., significantly different from zero) in the hunger statistics between 2004, 2005 and the first quarter of 2006. What can be definitely said, however, is that there was a significant increase in the incidence of self-rated hunger between 2003 and 2004. More specifically, there was a very large and obviously statistically significant jump in that incidence between March 2004 and June 2004 (from 7.4 percent to 13.4 percent), and even from November 2003 to June 2004 (9.4 percent to 13.4 percent).

What the data also show, by the way, is that the SWS self-rated hunger incidence for 2003, at 7 percent (error margin +/- 1.4 percent) is significantly lower than the official 10.4 percent (error margin +/- 1.7 percent) "subsistence incidence" as computed by the NSCB for the same year—which is rather ironic, because government statistics are generally suspected of painting a brighter picture than the real one. Subsistence incidence is the percentage of families whose incomes are less than what is required to purchase the caloric requirements of the family—which presumably means that they go hungry.

The other case of mangled statistics has to do with the data on population growth rates. The tables in the NSCB website show the projected, not the actual, population growth rates for the country, based on what they call "medium" assumptions regarding fertility and mortality rates. (That the projections go up to 2040 makes this obvious.)

Nothing to get excited about, until someone adopted the colossally stupid idea of treating those projections as if they were the real thing. Worse, a high government official, who should know better, was reported as noting that the "latest population growth rate" was nearing the government's medium-term target of 1.94 percent—which means that he swallowed it hook, line and sinker, implying that there is nothing to worry about insofar as population growth is concerned.

Is there a one-to-one relationship between projected and actual data? No. From 1980 to 1995, for example, projected population growth rates for the period were higher than the growth rate that actually occurred. From 1995 to 2000, however, actual growth (2.36 percent annually) was greater than projected growth (2.21 percent).

Is the projected decline in population growth rate realistic? We're talking about 2.34 percent from 1990 to 2000, down to 2.05 percent from 2001 to 2005, down to 1.95 percent from 2005 to 2010. Think of it: the actual population growth rate remained the same between 1980 and 1990 (2.35 percent) and between 1990 and 2000 (2.34 percent). Without a population program in place, there is no realistic basis for assuming that the growth rate will just fall to 1.95 percent.

Two cases of mangling statistics. Yet it is noteworthy that there were immediate—and adverse—reactions to the way projected population growth data were treated like actual population growth data. But the equally misrepresented hunger data seem to have been unquestioningly accepted. Could the difference in the reactions have to do with the fact that in the population case, the mangling would have put the administration in a good light; while in the hunger case, the mangling put the administration in a bad light? One wonders.

FOREIGN COMMENT

By Solita Collas-Monsod

With Solita Collas-Monsod</

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

OPINION

A3

Will Drilon yield to Villar?POLITICAL TIDBITSBelinda Olivares-Cunanan*

SEN. MIRIAM DEFENSOR-SANTIAGO, UPON her return from a trip to Saudi Arabia with the President, made the not surprising assertion that she and some other senators would be willing to participate in a constituent assembly to amend the Constitution. Her condition is that the Supreme Court rule as constitutional a joint vote by Congress on Charter change, and not a separate vote by each chamber. The issue of how Congress ought to vote has long stalled the Charter change drive, but now Santiago has tossed the challenge to the high court. This is logical. More senators are expected to come out in support of Charter change and even the shift to a unicameral legislature if the Supreme Court categorically rules that joint voting is valid.

Santiago's challenge buttresses the belief of many citizens that in reality many senators support the shift to a parliamentary system despite their vocal anti-Cha-cha stance, for they realize that the presidential system has not worked for our country. I suspect many of them are just waiting for the right cue, and Santiago's challenge may be it. Two weeks ago, Cagayan de Oro Rep. Constantino Jaraula filed a bill seeking to convene Congress as a constituent assembly. Santiago should file a counterpart bill, while a citizens' group should file a petition in the high court to get the ruling. Let's bring this issue to a head now.

There's speculation as to whether Senate President Franklin Drilon, who's still on a trip to Africa, would honor the gentleman's agreement he forged with Sen. Manny Villar at the beginning of the first regular session of this 13th Congress. Recall that after the May 2004 elections, which found the administration coalition with a total of 14 senators, they forged an agreement blessed by GMA, whereby Drilon gets the top post for the first two sessions, and Villar will have it during the last session. The reasoning was that Villar should be given that opportunity in 2006-2007 since he would be up for reelection.

Looking into the Senate equation, I suspect Villar can count 10 votes. His core supporters are from the "Wednesday group" that includes himself, Francis Pangilinan, Joker Arroyo and Ralph Recto, but I think he will also have on his side Pia Cayetano, Lito Lapid, Miriam Santiago and Bong Revilla, and perhaps Juan Flavier and Juan Ponce Enrile. I'm including Flavier because when there was a rumor of a coup in the Senate, he said he recognized the "usapan" for the third regular session and would rather wait for it.

One indication of where the wind might blow may be the steady refrain from the Drilon camp that "whoever has 13 votes gets the top post." Put this together with the statements of Mar Roxas and Rodolfo Biazon that they did not sign that agreement and it could mean that Drilon would not give up his post but leave his fate to his colleagues. In other words, the gentleman could be eclipsed by the political gladiator. I don't know, however, if Drilon could ignore public opinion which would perceive him as renegeing on his word.

Assuming Villar would have to fight for it, he would need three more votes. The focus would be on Senators Ramon Magsaysay, Richard Gordon and Edgardo Angara. In 2004, Magsaysay supported the gentleman's agreement, but Gordon has been vague about his views on it and Angara has been quiet. If Drilon decides to fight, he doubtless will get the votes of the seven opposition senators. But I suspect that Villar could appeal to Sen. Fred Lim because may pinagsamahan sila. If he gets Magsaysay, Angara and Lim, he bags the post.

For now, however, it's pakiramdamahan in the Senate, which resumes its session on Monday. The fight for the Senate presidency will come to a head by the middle of July, just before the President's address before Congress.

'Dandansoy'AT LARGERina Jimenez-David*

IT'S EASY TO BE TRANSPORTED BACK TO MORE genteel and innocent times while watching a zarzuela revival, even if your main entertainment source during childhood already consisted of TV cartoons and hazy footage of old Tagalog movies.

I think the rondalla has a lot to do with it. As soon as the rondalla from the Bacolod City National High School (BCNHS) entered the RCBC Theater and started playing, all workday concerns vanished. Immediately, one was brought back to a provincial fiesta, the music triggering racial memories of partying in a clearing beneath the shade of mango trees, basking in the breeze, and downing tuba.

That, in fact, is how the zarzuela, "Dandansoy—Ang Gugma ni Dansoy kag Rosing (The Romance of Dansoy and Rosing)," opens, with a harvest celebration in a sugar plantation, where the main leads Dansoy and Rosing meet and fall in love, and in doing so breach the economic and social divides that had kept them in their separate worlds.

"Dandansoy" is really a contemporary zarzuela, with a storyline fashioned to accommodate traditional Ilonggo songs, but the main plot element, the thwarted romance of lovers from opposing ends of the social spectrum, is a staple of popular entertainment.

"Do not expect a happy ending," warned Raymond Fuentes of the Tourism and Performing Arts Society (Tapas), the Bacolod-based group that supports cultural efforts like this zarzuela revival. "This is about unrequited love, which many love songs are about."

Indeed, "Dandansoy," and "Ahay Kalisud," the most popular songs in the zarzuela and beloved staples of the Ilonggo repertoire, are all about longing and regret, of love lost and frustrated, of the pain of parting and the futility of forgetting. Pair the plaintive voices of the young singers with the soulful strings of the rondalla, and you have a moment of bittersweet catharsis.

"DANDANSOY" was staged the other evening as part of this year's celebration of National Heritage Month, which has as its theme "Viva Zarzuela." The Filipino Heritage Festival Inc. spearheads the celebration, with the National Commission for Culture and the Arts and the Department of Tourism. It is co-sponsored by PLDT and BPI Foundation.

When they sent out a call for zarzuela troupes that could stage this local form of theater for this year's festival, the organizers were directed to Tapas, which has helped stage "Dandansoy," under the direction of Aaron Sorbito with libretto by his wife Salome, based on traditional Ilonggo songs compiled by the late Msgr. Manuel Dormido.

Bambi Harper, festival director, said they plan to bring "Dandansoy" to different college campuses in Metro Manila. Another zarzuela, "the only Pampango zarzuela to my knowledge," said Harper, will also be staged as part of the festival in San Fernando. During the festival's launch in Ilocos Norte earlier this month, part of the entertainment was the staging of excerpts from two Ilocano zarzelas, one of them along the same storyline as "Dandansoy"—about two lovers across the social divide, and another more recent creation with slightly risqué content.

Indeed, the zarzuela, a very popular form of mass entertainment that drew audiences around the turn of the century and before the War, retains its hold on the Filipino sensibility, appealing as it does to Pinoy sentimentality and fondness for doleful melodies and lyrics.

LOCAL talents bring "Dandansoy" to soulful life. Mary Luz Casas, dusky and with a sprightly presence, portrays Rosing, while Joseph Gebusion is a stocky and earnest Dansoy. Jeffrey Delmo and Hannahmel Inventor are Laloy and Pepang respectively, the couple's best friends and allies; while Jose Pepito Esgra and Mae Dolores Mon-tano are Rosing's parents.

An interesting point about the storyline is that the romance between the young people is thwarted because while Dansoy is a mere field laborer, Rosing is the daughter of a plantation manager or encargado. This means the social divide isn't too wide, since Rosing's family could be considered upper middle-class, at best. But then, perhaps if Rosing was the daughter of a haciendero, Dansoy would end up not just broken-hearted but possibly dead!

But there is more to "Dandansoy" the zarzuela than just the hackneyed storyline and the doleful music. The proceedings are enlivened by dances (choreographed by Gerard Guanzon) that range from Spanish-era polkas and waltzes to vignettes that seek to dramatize the feelings conveyed by the characters.

Noteworthy, too are the costumes which are eye-catching and colorful, without upstaging the performers. Costume designer Doreen Dofitas deserves recognition for this.

WHILE we're not Ilonggo speakers, my husband and I were able to follow the proceedings, thanks largely to the program that contains a synopsis of "Dandansoy" and translations of the various songs. But even without these guides, it's still fairly easy to sum up the dramatic action, though the succession of sad songs toward the end proves at times tedious and predictable.

But when Rosing and Dansoy launch into a duet of "Ahay Kalisud," the drama reaches an emotional peak, the romantic tension between the two palpable and moving. In fact, some members of the audience could be overheard singing along with the performers, turning the zarzuela staging into an intimate, shared experience.

The zarzuela, even contemporary revivals of it, may no longer reach the heights of popularity it enjoyed in more innocent and genteel times. But an evening spent basking in the songs, music, dances and sensibilities of long ago is enough to remind us just how rich and substantial our cultural heritage is, and can be, if only we care to preserve it.

New alliances for a new centuryWORLD VIEWDonald Rumsfeld*

The Proliferation Security Initiative to prevent dangerous weapons and materials from being transported to terrorists or outlaw regimes.

There has been a rethinking of the structure and role of our traditional military alliances, including the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which is setting up a new Nato Response Force and has moved outside Europe for the first time with the International Security Assistance Force in Afghanistan.

The focus of attention today is on Iraq and Afghanistan. But in future decades, priorities will change. And much of what we may be called on to do in the future will likely be determined by choices made by others.

Consider Russia, a nation with vast natural resources, an educated population and a rich heritage of scientific and cultural achievements. Like the Americans and others around the world, the Russians are threatened by violent extremism. Russia is a partner of the United States in some security issues, and our overall relationship is the best it has been in decades. But in other ways, Russia has been unhelpful—using energy resources as a political weapon, for example, and in their resistance to positive political changes in neighboring countries.

The same holds true for China. The Chinese people are educated and talented, and their country has great potential, with high economic growth rates and an industrious work force.

Nonetheless, some aspects of Chinese behavior remain unsettling and complicate our relationship. Last year, a US Department of Defense report noted that China's defense expenditures appear to be much higher than acknowledged by the Chinese government. Coupled with a notable lack of transparency, this understandably concerns China's neighbors.

In addition to the choices that these and other countries make, America's own choices will be an important factor in determining what kind of future it faces. From time to time, US public sentiment has opposed playing an active role in the world and fulfilling our commitments to allies—and, indeed, to the cause of freedom. In the early 1970s, as US ambassador to Nato, I remember having to fly back from Europe to testify against a legislation in our Congress that would have pulled US troops out of Western Europe and Nato, just as the Soviet Union was in the midst of a huge military buildup.

Today, nations that were members of the Soviet Union's Warsaw Pact, as well as some of the former Soviet republics—countries that we used to call "captive nations"—are valued members of Nato and represent some of our most stalwart allies in the War on Terror.

This did not happen by accident or by chance. Looking forward, I am convinced that if we have the wisdom, courage and strength to adjust long-standing strategic arrangements, embrace new partners, and, above all, persevere in the face of adversity and difficulty, we will see a similar victory in this "long war" against violent extremism and the other threats that may emerge in an uncertain new century. Council on Foreign Relations and Project Syndicate

Donald Rumsfeld is the US secretary of defense.

Woman in uniform

I USUALLY SEE HER IN HER POLICE UNIFORM. SHE stands with dignity and honor, always ready to serve and protect. She walks with grace and always makes herself available to listen to the complaints of victims of crime or oppression as well as to those who are in need. But to us, her children, she is one tough mama.

She lays down the rules in our house and enforces them.

YOUNG BLOOD*Carlos Erwin I. Fajardo*

We want to know what the young are thinking about. What are their thoughts on current issues? We welcome contributions from the twentysomething and below.—Ed.

When she comes home from work, she conducts a thorough inspection or a tactical interrogation to find out if we accomplished our missions. If we failed to do so, she is transformed into a preacher giving a long and loud sermon. When she's angry, it's as if our house is being shaken by thunder and lightning even if the day is bright and sunny. Sometimes, I feel like we were in a jungle being stalked by a roaring lion.

She is a strict disciplinarian. She always reminds us that if we violate the law, especially the Revised Penal Code, she would not help us and, instead, she would personally put us behind bars.

She does not want us to have any vices. Smoking and drinking are absolutely forbidden. And we cannot file a petition for review or a TRO because, in our house, she is the chief justice.

When I attended our high school acquaintance party, she parked the patrol car nearby and kept a watchful eye on the proceedings. She even used her flashlight to find out the identity of my dancing partner. Later she wondered how we could hold an acquaintance party in a place that seemed to have a solar eclipse.

She cannot always be at home, but she makes sure that her orders are carried out faithfully. Our house is always on red-alert status. And our chief conducts regular briefings on how to avoid kidnappers, robbers, thieves and other people with evil intentions. "Be always alert and use your common sense" is one rule she has hammered into our heads.

But behind her tough measures and her strict nature lies a golden heart. She has sacrificed so many things, including her personal comfort, just so there would always be something on the table. She rarely buys new clothes or shoes for herself so she can save the money for our schooling. Her dreams and desires she has set aside so we can pursue our own dreams in life.

When she isn't on duty, she goes to a reflexology and healing center that caters to the sick in both body and spirit—it—again so she can serve others and earn a little more for our family.

My father, who was also a policeman, died when I was 3 years old. He was killed in an ambush staged by New People's Army rebels in Bukidnon. Since then, mother has been sweating blood to feed her children.

Although she's very strong, there were times when I saw her crying in her room. I think those were the times when she needed my father most, when she felt overwhelmed by the responsibility of being both mother and father to us. Or those were the times when people spread ugly gossip about her or mocked her dream of seeing us all through college.

Sometimes I cried, too. I wished I could help her, but I was still a child then. During those difficult moments, I nurtured the idea of exacting revenge. I dreamed of becoming a soldier so that I could go after the rebels who had killed my father. But by God's grace, I didn't become a soldier. Instead, I was led into a seminary, and later I became a teacher. I am convinced that God makes things happen for a reason.

It is very difficult to have a policewoman for a mother. There were times when we needed her and she could not be around. Although time and again she would explain to us that her job demanded a lot of her time and that we must understand that, there were still times when her presence seemed to matter more than anything else but she couldn't be there. At such times, we could be sure that she was doing her duty and going about her noble task of protecting the lives, property and rights of her fellow Filipinos. I am sure that on those important occasions, she wanted to be there with her children and it must have broken her heart to be away from them when they needed her most. I am sure that on such occasions she shed tears.

Yet she remains steadfast and strong. She is focused on her job, knowing that's the only way she can provide for our needs.

Now we have all finished college. But none of us followed in the footsteps of our parents.

My mother remains in the police force. She serves as the officer of the women's and children's desk in a town in Bohol. Most of her time is dedicated to working on cases involving child abuse, violation of women's rights and domestic and family conflicts.

I feel sad when people label all cops as bad and corrupt, because there are still many who remain faithful to their oath and loyal to the service. There are those like my father who died bravely in the line of duty but whose families were inadequately compensated for their loss. And there are those like my mother who sacrifice the time they should be spending with their children to answer the call of duty.

When we were still children and we saw mother don her combat fatigues, we felt nervous and afraid. We prayed hard that nothing bad would happen to her.

I'm grateful to my mother for showing us how to deal with the hardships of life. She built a house for our family without anybody's help. She did all she could to keep our family together and well, even without our father. There were times when she felt discouraged or defeated, but she would pick herself up again for the sake of her children. To us, her children, she is the general who taught us to obey the laws of God and men. It is a privilege and a gift to have her as our mother.

Carlos Erwin I. Fajardo, 29, is a teacher and a second year student at the Arellano University School of Law.

NOTICE TO YOUNGBLOOD CONTRIBUTORS:

Send your contributions by e-mail to youngblood@inquirer.com.ph together with your address, age and the school, course and year you're enrolled in or, if employed, the position you're holding and the company you work with. Contributions to Youngblood should not have been previously published.

The INQUIRER is a member of the PHILIPPINE PRESS INSTITUTE

The National Association of Philippine Newspapers

INQUIRER Visayas

The old 'casa' and Sitio Ubos

By Gavin Sanson Bagares
Tagbilaran City

ON APRIL 29, THE CASA ROCHA-SUAREZ Heritage Center, now a lifestyle museum on A.M. Torralba Street in Sitio Ubos, Tagbilaran City, celebrated its first anniversary, and the occasion marked yet another rite of passage for the house that has been home to at least six generations of Rochas.

For Ubos, it has been a resurrection from near obscurity.

The Casa Rocha-Suarez was built between 1837 and 1839, and its appearance might have changed a little through the years, except for the alteration in the roofline, from a stately pitched nipa thatch to a low-slung nondescript tin—probably a renovation casualty in the 1970s.

Up the narrow staircase of the en-fronted edifice, one enters a commodious living room and sees the details of a lovingly crafted house: the posts of whole trees carved in a vaguely oriental design, the generous ceiling that give the rooms a certain grace, and the big sliding windows, opening to welcome the sea breezes of night or closing to ward off the glare of day through the nacreous filter of capiz shells.

Family treasures

There is an abundance of brocante throughout the house, but one can find a rare antique: an Ah Tay bed (named after the Chinese furniture maker of Old Manila whose trademark is the unmistakable squash design on the posts and base) holds sway in one of the bigger bedrooms.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The Swiss's house itself used to belong to the Rocha family. Evidence also shows that at least one more house in Ubos once belonged to them.

Pariancito

Journalist John Jasper Cortes wrote that "around 1830, the merchants of Tagbilaran descended to the lower part of the city, at the back of the St. Joseph Cathedral, when the moro (sic) raids along the coastal areas of Bohol were quelled."

They built substantial houses of cal y canto, an upper-class house of strong materials, which Mallat wrote, "generally belong to mestizos." (Mestizo in Mallat's time referred only to those of Chinese ancestry and the racial mix was reckoned patrilineally through generations. Mestizo to refer to the Spanish half-caste was a later development.)

Don Fernando had the benefit of higher learning in Manila, and before his foray to big-time politics, he ran a private school. Only that of his sisters may have equaled his fame as an ilustrado, the well-educated one, among the Tagbilaran principales or elite.

Filomena operated a general store on the ground floor of Casa Rocha-Suarez, later memorialized by one Tagbilaran mayor, Honorio Grupo, as "a bazaar, drugstore, hardware store, and sari-sari store put together."

Two other siblings, Gregoria and Concepcion kept themselves busy with a bakery operation most famous for its hojaldres de Hermanas Rocha. This prize-winning pastry has impeccable antecedents in Cebu.

The French traveler, Jean Mallat, writing in 1846, observed that "their (Cebu bakeries') puff cakes called ojaldres are of a delicacy that would do honor to the best pastry cooks of Paris ..."

Clearly, the Rocha ladies had carried on a grand tradition and made it their own.

A period of eclipse

World War II put an end to Hermanas Rocha. The family itself began to settle in Manila in the 1950s, leaving the house shuttered and dusty for decades.

Yet, another descendant was to bring honor to the family with the appointment Pablo Rocha Suarez as ambassador plenipotentiary to Malaysia, China and the US. The late ambassador, who also served as undersecretary of the Department of Foreign Affairs before his death in 1993, is the Suarez in the Casa Rocha-Suarez name.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The Swiss's house itself used to belong to the Rocha family. Evidence also shows that at least one more house in Ubos once belonged to them.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The Swiss's house itself used to belong to the Rocha family. Evidence also shows that at least one more house in Ubos once belonged to them.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

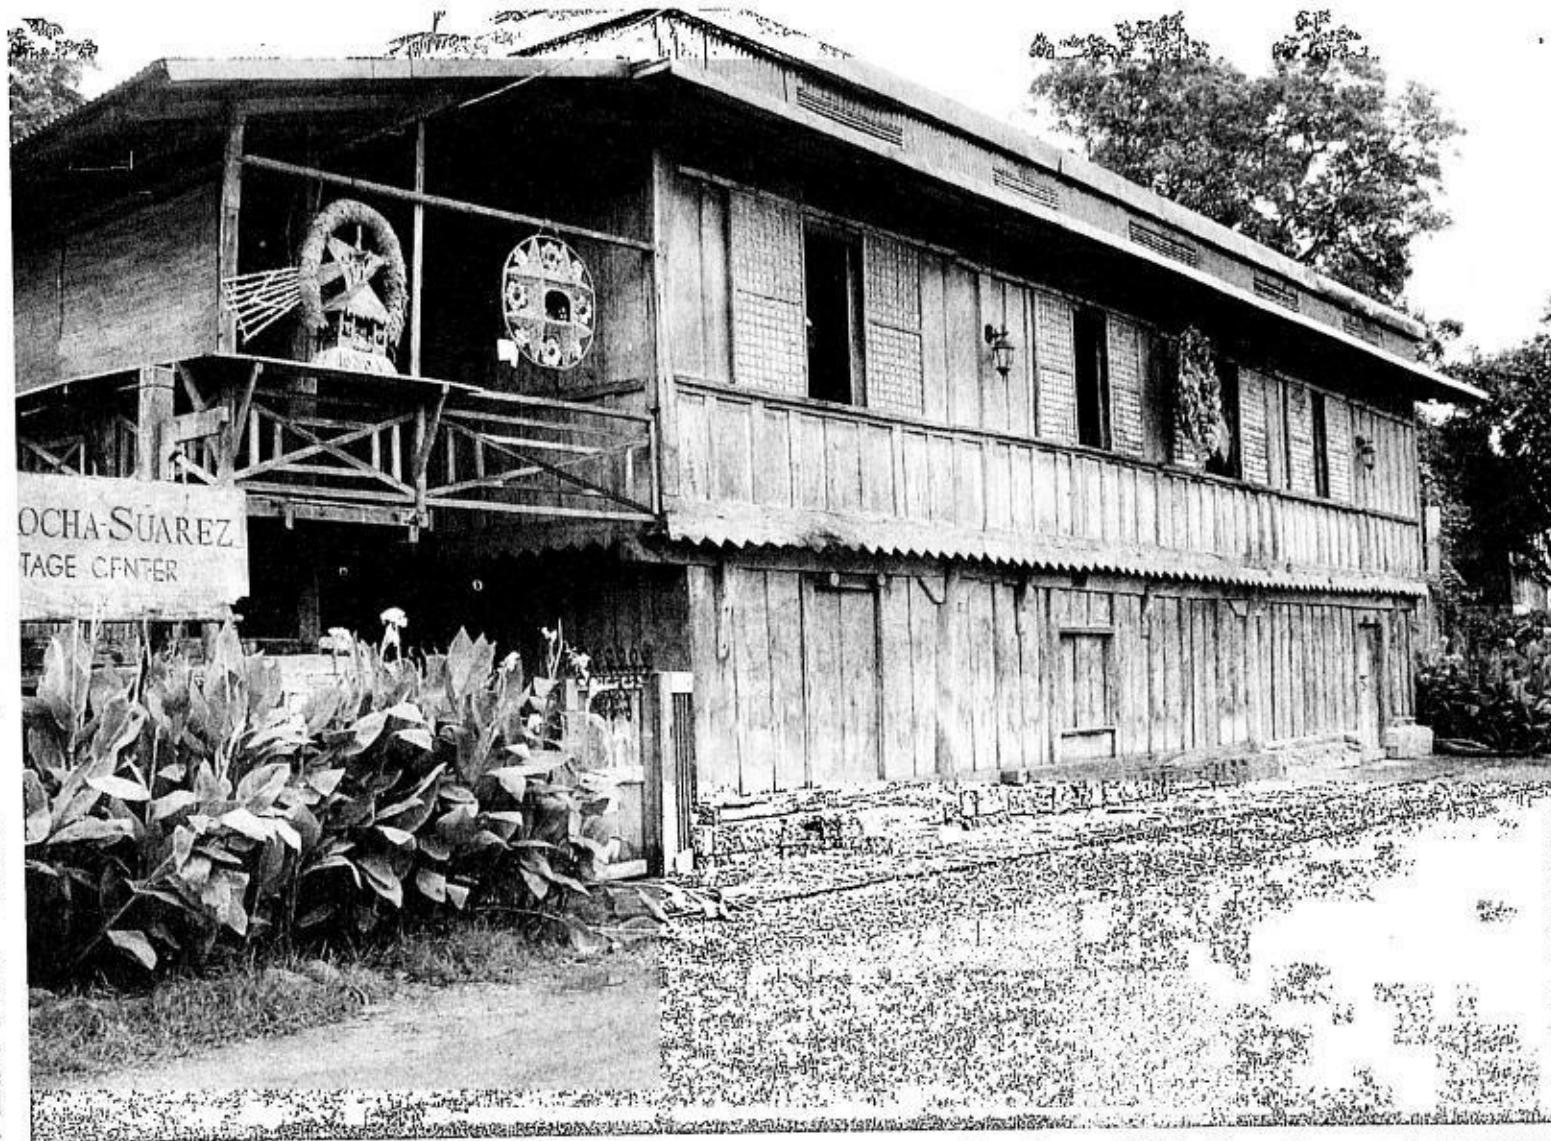

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

The plight of Casa Rocha-Suarez has been similar to the other old houses in Sitio Ubos, itself a truly historic site. Strung along the length of A.M. Torralba Street are 19th-century residences in various states of disrepair or ill-use. One of them has been completely obliterated by a Manila antiques dealer.

The remaining homes are those of (current occupants only) a Swiss citizen, the Beldia family, and the Yap family. And a mysterious old building, halfway between a shed and a barn, occupies the lot between the Yap and the Swiss's homes.

THE OPENING last year of Casa Rocha-Suarez Heritage Center (above) has generated new interest in Sitio Ubos, where many houses were built in the 1830s.

PHOTOS BY GAVIN BAGARES

Lenovo recommends Windows® XP Professional.

TOUGH ENOUGH TO HIT THE ROAD WITH.

When the going gets tough, choose the ultra-reliable ThinkPad® T60. Equipped with a magnesium alloy roll cage, airbag technology and shock-absorbing cushion, it protects your vital data from bumps, drops and hard knocks. The new Lenovo ThinkPad T60 with Intel® Centrino® Duo Mobile Technology.

NEW THINKING. NEW THINKPAD™

Complement these ThinkPad notebooks with special upgrade options:

- ThinkPad Z60m Series 9-cell Li-Ion Battery (40Y6797) PHP7,695*
- ThinkPad T60 Series 6-cell Li-Ion Battery (40Y6799) PHP4,095*
- ThinkPad 90W AC Adapter (40Y6747) PHP2,095*
- Kensington MicroSafe Security Cable Lock (73P2582) PHP2,495*
- USB 2.0 Portable 80GB HDD w/ Rescue and Recovery™ (40Y6726) PHP15,095*
- ThinkPad Essential Port Replicator (25P10W0) PHP4,695*
- ThinkPad Advanced Mini Dock (39T4599) PHP10,095*
- 612MB PC2-4200 CL4 NP DDR2 SDRAM SODIMM (73P3842) PHP6,695*

thinkpad T60 distinctive Innovations

Integrated Fingerprint Reader & Rescue and Recovery™ & Active Protection System

system features

Intel® Centrino® Duo Mobile Technology

- Intel® Core Duo T2300 Processor (1.67GHz)

- Intel® 945GM Chipset

- Intel® PRO/Wireless 802.11 a/b/g

Windows® XP Professional

256MB DDR2 SDRAM, 40GB HDD

CD-RW/DVD-ROM Combo Drive

14.1" XGA (1024x768) TFT LCD display

Intel® GMA 900, HDD Shock Absorber, 3

years parts & labor (system battery: 1 year)

Customer Carry-In Repair Warranty

FREE 128MB Memory Key

think express model

PHP115,195* (195123A)

thinkpad T43 distinctive Innovations

Integrated Fingerprint Reader & Rescue and Recovery™

system features

Intel® Centrino® Mobile Technology

- Intel® Pentium® M Processor 750 (1.66GHz)

- Intel® 915GM Chipset

- Intel® PRO/Wireless 802.11 b/g

Windows® XP Professional

512MB DDR2 SDRAM, 60GB HDD

CD-RW/DVD-ROM Combo Drive

14.1" XGA (1024x768) TFT LCD display

Intel® GMA 900, HDD Shock Absorber, 3

years parts & labor (system battery: 1 year)

Customer Carry-In Repair Warranty

think express model

PHP115,895* (1871PAS)

thinkpad T43 distinctive Innovations

Integrated Fingerprint Reader & Rescue and Recovery™

system features

Intel® Centrino® Mobile Technology

- Intel® Pentium® M Processor 750 (1.66GHz)

- Intel® 915GM Chipset

- Intel® PRO/Wireless 802.11 b/g

Windows® XP Professional

512MB DDR2 SDRAM, 60GB HDD

CD-RW/DVD-ROM Combo Drive

14.1" XGA (1024x768) TFT LCD display

Intel® GMA 900, HDD Shock Absorber, 3

years parts & labor (system battery: 1 year)

Customer Carry-In Repair Warranty

think express model

PHP125,195* (266CA7)

With the Think Express Program, ThinkPad notebooks are preconfigured with your business and your budget in mind.

Contact our authorised resellers today.

lenovo.com/ph/offers

lenovo™

Corporate Resellers: Accent Micro Technologies, Inc. 6303503 • American Technologies, Inc. 7230601 • Creative Technologies, Inc. 4004222 • Equicom Computer Services, Inc. 8133801 • Integrated Computer Systems, Inc. 7273801 • Ng Kai Development Corporation 0323 3482926 • Personal Computer Specialists, Inc. 8195100 • Union Computer Systems, Inc. 3745888

Partners: ABC Abby Business Corp. 7214960 • Accent Micro Products, Inc. 6347099 loc. 3608 • Advance Microsystems Corp. 6354181 loc. 138 • Advance Solutions, Inc. 5263935 • Aris IT Systems 6021000 loc. 2688 • Axis Computer, Inc. 2548547 • Axis International, Inc. 6876500 • Ayala Systems Technology Inc. 8132494 • Columbia Technologies, Inc. 4007881 • Digital Exchange 7520650

• Eco I.T. Solutions Corporation 4151107 • Electroword, Inc. 6318161 • Information Products, Corp. 8053436 • iP-MED Asian Pacific Incorporated 8438000 • MG Business Systems, Inc. 3727926

• Micro Image International, Corp. 8404050 • Micro Pacific Technologies & Systems Corp. 8404663 loc. 115 • Microbase, Inc. 8137603 • Microcircuits Corporation 5316262 • MicroGold Information Solutions & Products, Inc. 8805886 • Microphose Corporation 6128814 • Ng Kai Development Corporation 8937454 • Northgate Technologies, Inc. 8937164 • Productivity Tech Services, Inc. 6906713

• Quotronix Corporation 8134422 • Silicon Valley Computer Center 3716808 • Vatuvine Systems & Solutions Corporation 9257623 • Vilman Computer Systems, Inc. 0204111 • Virtually Business Machines & Software Solutions, Inc. 7277632 • Zonithin Systems Corporation 3609395

Travel weight may vary due to component options and manufacturing process. Lenovo, the Lenovo logo and ThinkPad are trademarks of Lenovo. IBM and the IBM logo are registered trademarks of IBM and are used under license. Microsoft and the Windows logo are registered trademarks of Microsoft Corporation. ColorQ, Centrino

Finally, a high yielding term deposit that gives you the flexibility of a checking account.

Flexi Savings

- For a minimum placement of P50,000 invest in a one (1) year high interest term deposit.
- Flexi Savings comes with a passbook, a checking account and an ATM.
- Earn as high as 7% interest per annum on your retained placement at the end of the term.
- Withdraw funds once a month without paying pre-termination charges and still enjoy 3% interest per annum*.
- Withdraw funds from your Flexi Savings account by issuing checks or via ATM thru any Megalink, Bancnet and Expressnet member banks.

*not more than ten (10) times for the whole term

For more information about this product, please call our customer hotline at 924-5777 or visit our website at www.asiatrustbank.com.

ASIA TRUST Bank

Member FDIC & SIFI

A Private Development Bank

Sweet victory for new head of Asian center for fisheries

By Ma. Diosa Labiste
Tigbauan, Iloilo

WHEN HE AND A NUMBER OF SCIENTISTS resigned in June 2004, he said in jest that he will return to the Southeast Asian Fisheries Development Center (Seafdec) as the chief.

His words came true because last April 18, Dr. Joebert Toledo, Ph.D., was appointed as the chief of Seafdec's aquaculture department, succeeding Dr. Rolando Platon, Ph.D., whom he and some 40 other colleagues criticized for mismanagement and lack of direction in leading the fisheries research institution.

The Philippine government recommended Toledo but his appointment was signed by Seafdec secretary general Dr. Siri Ekmarahraj after the concurrence of Seafdec council directors during their 38th meeting in Brunei Darussalam on April 18 to 21.

Established in 1967, Seafdec is a regional treaty organization of 10 countries—Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam. It has departments in Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore and the Philippines. The Philippines hosts the aquaculture department in Tigbauan.

For Toledo, it was a delayed victory of what they have fought for two years ago, and sweeter still because he had competed against Platon in the selection process. Platon was seeking a sixth term.

"It was a sort of vindication of what we did, but then I told everyone that I come in peace," he said.

Toledo's return to Seafdec was low-keyed. There was no turnover ceremony or installation rite. His presence has raised fear of possible retrenchment or difficult assignments for the employees who stayed on or were loyal to Platon. There were also talks of the return of those who left, some of them senior scientists.

But Toledo said he can't just bring them all in because Seafdec's finances are affected by the Philippine government's budgetary cutbacks. From P199 million in 2002, Seafdec's budget was slashed to P100 million in 2004 and the succeeding years, resulting in scaled down research and extension work. Retrenchment also followed suit, reducing the employees from 300 to the current 82.

In his vision statement, Toledo said he would "actively seek external fund sources," and that Seafdec's facilities will be used to generate income. He said there was money in biotechnology research that Seafdec can cash in on, given its state-of-the-art biotechnology laboratory.

He planned to launch radio and television programs to broadcast aquaculture information from Seafdec. He also wanted Seafdec scientists to mentor students and teachers in local universities and colleagues on doing research.

Toledo, 45, holds a Doctor of Agriculture and Master of Science degrees from Hiroshima University in Japan. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Fisheries at the University of the Philippines in Diliman, Quezon City.

Toledo worked with Seafdec from 1981, rising from research assistant to scientist and then department chief. He has done studies on grouper and finfishes. As a scientist, he won awards for various researches that were published in national and international peer-reviewed journals, some of them winning awards.

When he resigned from Seafdec in 2004, he served as consultant in various aquaculture companies and fisheries associations here and abroad. He also worked full time in his fish hatchery in Oton and Guimbal towns.

The old . . .

From page A15

(Was this the one bought by the antiques dealer?)

And, incidentally, the same document classified "Doñas" Butalid and Rocha, and the Calceta "don" as "mestizo sangley" or Chinese mestizo.

Ubos was apparently a Pariancito, a little Parian. The Parian was a Chinese and mestizo ghetto and, like those of Cebu and Manila, markets for, among other things, quilts from cotton and cotton gauze.

Again, Mallat had this to say: "... with the cotton they (Boholanos) harvest they manufacture cloths of great solidity; they also weave some cloths of silk of which we have seen beautiful examples."

Interestingly, the profession of the aforementioned Rocha woman was that of the "ilandera" or spinner of yarn for cloth production.

The Rocha ancestors' choice of Ubos clearly demonstrated their mestizo backgrounds or their vocation as merchants. Don Felipe Rocha was one such "comerciante" in 1872.

Ubos was sandwiched between the commerce of the old public market (now defunct and long supplanted by new ones) beside the cathedral and the trade at its shoreline fronting the Bohol Strait, thus profiting from business of both upland and waterway.

Government must help

The work began at Casa Rocha-Suarez will hopefully provide a catalyst for the rehabilitation of Ubos, from a slum to a magnet of tourism.

The genteel Swiss citizen and Ubos resident suggests that the government must help further this cause not only by providing funds, expertise or muscle to help maintain the old houses (and encourage homeowners to do so), but by exerting political will as well in quelling the fresh tides of informal settlers and in relocating the old ones.

This would also mean their strict enforcement of building codes.

They would like to see the day when the now obstructed view to the beach is cleared, and the sea breezes once again flow back freely into the old houses.

In the end, it is not only tourism that will benefit, but also the Boholano soul.

Summer Seat Sale

May 5 to 15, 2006

This is hot -- get big savings on our domestic destinations! But hurry, you only have until May 15 to buy your Summer Seat Sale Tickets. Travel period is from June 14 to July 31, 2006. Buy now!

Book online now at CEBU PACIFIC AIR.COM
Call (02) 70-20-888 or visit our Cebu Pacific office or the Travel Agent nearest you.

Terms and conditions apply. One-way fares/vice-versa • Limited seats • Fares may not be available on all days and flights • ++ Fares are exclusive of fees and taxes. Surcharges may vary depending on destination and range from P650 to P1,100.

EZ2 SUERTRES
4 24 8 3 5
 (All in exact order)

FOUR DIGIT 5 0 5 9

E-mail: pr_provincial_news@inquirer.com.ph

Across the NATION

Text us your feedback: Inquirer at name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart). Assistant Editor Tony Bergonia

MEGALOTTO 6/45

7 10 22 26 28 30
P19,808,163.00

2 slain after planting bomb in mall

By Jhunex Napallacan
 PDI Visayas Bureau

CEBU CITY—TWO SUSPECTED MEMBERS OF A terror group linked to the Jemaah Islamiyah were killed in a clash with police on Thursday night shortly after they allegedly left a box containing two rifle grenades with a timing device outside SM City at the North Reclamation Area here.

Supt. Paul Labra, chief of Cebu City's Criminal Intelligence and Investigation Bureau (CIIB), said Ali Usop and Datu Niel Ulama were identified through the ID cards found inside their wallets.

He said based on the information forwarded to them by the Criminal Investigation and Detection Group—National Capital Region, Usop and Ulama were part of a group whose hideout in Marikina City was raided by the CIDG-NCR last April 27.

Chief Supt. Eduardo Gador, police director for Central Visayas, confirmed that the two were members of the Rajah Sulayman Group (RSG), that belongs to the Jemaah Islamiyah-linked Abu Sayyaf.

In a separate interview, Supt. Nelson Yabut, one of the team leaders of the CIDG-NCR that raided the hideout in Marikina, said they were coordinating with police in Cebu City to identify the two slain suspects.

He, however, said only his boss, Senior Supt. Asher Dolina, CIDG-NCR chief, knew the background of the two suspects.

He added they failed to arrest anyone during the raid but their targets were RSG members.

The RSG is composed of Christians who became Muslims. The group has ties with the Abu Sayyaf and the Jemaah Islamiyah, an Indonesia-based regional terror group, which has been linked to the al-Qaida international terrorist network.

National Security Adviser Norberto Gonzales earlier said a group of Muslim converts with ties to the Jemaah Islamiyah was the biggest "headache" in the antiterror campaign.

Last April 27, a team from CIDG-NCR raided a one-story bungalow at No. 21 Champagne St. in SSS Village, Marikina City.

Although no one was arrested, the police team recovered six grenades, an improvised explosive device and other bomb materials.

Labra said mall goers saw Usop and Ulama leaving a box outside the glass entrance of SM City at 8:53 p.m.

The security guard then called the attention of SM management, which in turn, alerted the Mobile Patrol Group (MPG).

A team from the MPG arrived and saw the box. The group then called the Special Weapons and Tactics team.

REUTERS

PRACTICE
 Soldiers preparing for a United Nations-sponsored peacekeeping mission in Haiti and Liberia subdue a colleague who was playing the role of a rebel during exercises in Zamboanga City.

C. Luzon transport groups fight over routes

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO—Public transport groups in Central Luzon's seven provinces have not applied for fare increases despite the high costs of fuel, but disputes over routes have erupted recently.

Lawyer Robert Peig, regional director of the Land Transportation Franchising and Regulatory Board, said three conflicts over routes and several more applications for route amendments were pending in his office.

The three cases involved about 500 bus and jeepney drivers in Bataan, Tarlac and Angeles City.

The problem arose because the certificates of public convenience issued to drivers gave general descriptions of routes.

These allow drivers to venture into areas covered by other groups, Peig said. "The issue is mainly about the competition for passengers," he said.

There are at least 68 authorized routes for buses and 452 for jeepneys, data showed.

Peig said he has asked the LTFRB national office to approve his proposal to "rationalize all routes" in Central Luzon. This is to ensure the viability of operations in the region by transport groups, he said.

The LTFRB regional office, he added, is also coordinating with local governments on the routes that have been revised due to traffic management groups, he said.

The task of regulating the routes of tricycles, even their licenses, is within the power of the local governments.

Applications for route amendments are happening in areas where big shopping malls have mushroomed, Peig noted.

In the case of SM Clark, which is scheduled to open on May 12, he said his agency can only act on cases only after the Clark Development Corp. has issued endorsements to jeepney drivers wanting to service that area.

Tonette Orejas, PDI Central Luzon Desk

Fraternity hazing claims another victim in Capiz

By Felipe V. Celino
 PDI Visayas Bureau

ROXAS CITY—A 21-YEAR-OLD fifth year electrical engineering student of Capiz State University (CapSU) here died due to fraternity hazing.

Jan Angelo Dollete, of Phase 2 Milibili Heights in this city, was declared dead on arrival at the Mambusao District Hospital (MDH) in Mambusao, Capiz.

He was brought in by four unidentified persons riding in a red jeep early Sunday, MDH personnel said.

The victim's father, Jesus Dollete, 50, the Philippine Coast Guard detachment commander, said his son's body was covered with bruises and he strongly believed that he died due to hazing.

The cause of his death, however, will not be known until today when the National Bureau of Investigation releases the result of an autopsy it made on Angelo's body.

Jesus said his son asked and was granted permission on Saturday day to go to the birthday party of his friend in Sapien town, some 25 km here.

He said he never suspected that his son would be in any trouble as Angelo, member of a school band, was "a very good and soft-spoken son."

Lolita Dollete, 42, said she did not worry at first when her son failed to return home the following day as they thought he opted to stay overnight with friends because Angelo's girlfriend was from Sapien.

She said the family only became worried when they heard over the radio that a man with Angelo's description had died and was abandoned at MDH.

Lolita said she went to the Laguda Funeral Home in Mambusao where the body of the victim was brought and found that it was her Angelo.

Jesus said he found that his son has been trying to join the Alpha Phi Omega International Fraternity through a letter found in his closet. He said the APO fraternity has a chapter based in Filamer Christian College here.

ROUNDUP

New ARMM body exec

COTABATO CITY—The Regional Legislative Assembly in the Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao has a new chief following the resignation Monday of RLA Speaker Hatimil Hassan due to the demand and volume of his work as chair of the mainstream Moro National Liberation Front. Except for Assemblywoman Noranza Tulawle of Sulu, who was sick, the 24-member lawmaking body was one in endorsing Assemblyman Palsalin Tago as Hassan's successor. Tago, 38, is former RLA speaker pro-tempore of Lanao del Sur's first district.

Charlie C. Señase, PDI Mindanao Bureau

Bataan town cop killed

ABUCAY, Bataan—The chief of this town police's drug enforcement unit was gunned down near the town hall on Friday. Abucay police chief Senior Insp. Joel Tamps said SPO4 Reynaldo Raymundo, chief of the municipal drug enforcement unit (MDEU), was coming out of a barbershop at past 9 a.m. when four men armed with .45 cal. and 9 mm guns shot and killed him. Tamps said the police were looking at Raymundo's campaign against illegal drugs as reason for the murder. The communist armed group Robolusayong Hukbong Bayan, however, claimed responsibility for the slaying of Raymundo. Cris Baluyot, spokesperson of the RHB in Bataan, told the Inquirer on Friday that Raymundo was killed for allegedly condoning illegal drug pushers.

Greg Refraccion and Tonette Orejas, PDI Central Luzon Desk

3 suspected robbers slain

CAMP OLIVAS, Pampanga—Three suspected highway robbers were killed in a shootout with policemen at past 1 a.m. on Friday in Angeles City. Supt. Napoleon Cayanan, chief of the Traffic Management Group in Central Luzon, said the five-minute clash ended the one-hour pursuit from Lubao, Pampanga, where the suspects hijacked a 10-wheel truck. Cayanan identified two of the slain suspects as Lolito Gomez and Arguelles Domingo, said to be members of the Ilango Group. A fourth suspect fled toward Porac, Pampanga. Police recovered the truck loaded with P1.5 million worth of soy products due for delivery to Binalonan, Pangasinan.

Tonette Orejas, PDI Central Luzon Desk

5 Taiwanese vessels impounded

STA. ANA, Cagayan—A team from the Coast Guard and the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquatic Resources have impounded five Taiwanese vessels for allegedly poaching along the Cagayan and Isabela coasts. A sixth vessel has escaped. Eighteen crew members of the boats are now facing charges for poaching, according to Jovita Ayson, BFAR regional director. The vessels were fishing for yellow fin tuna and blue marlins when the team pounced on them. "They are swarming our Philippine waters because this is the mating season of tuna and marlins," Ayson said. The team also seized the fishing gear and several hundred kilos of tuna and blue marlins from the Taiwanese, Indonesian and Filipino crew members.

Estanislao Caldez, PDI Northern Luzon Bureau

New Tarlac State U president

TARLAC CITY—In a ceremony that also marked the centennial year of the founding of the Tarlac State University, Dr. Carlton Puno, chair of the Commission on Higher Education, installed on Wednesday the university's fourth president. Dr. Priscilla Viluya, who was elected president by the university board of regents on March 22, is the only woman president among state colleges and universities in Central Luzon. She graduated cum laude in 1968 from the Philippine Normal College (now Philippine Normal University) with a Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education. She finished her Ph.D. in philosophy and educational history as a university scholar at the University of the Philippines.

Russell Arador, PDI Central Luzon Desk

3 nabbed for marijuana

BAGUIO CITY—Police arrested three men for possessing 8 kilograms of marijuana bricks worth about P200,000 here last week. One of the suspects, Garet Cadley, 26, was arrested as he received P2,000 from a police agent who posed as a buyer on Naguilian Road here on May 7. Cadley's companions, Danny Tulabis, 22, and Jun Dangle, 23, were later arrested after police found marijuana bricks in their backpacks.

Shayne Anne Basco, PDI Northern Luzon Bureau

Plans drawn to make RP world's retirement haven

ILLUSTRATION: ALBERT RODRIGUEZ

CLARK SPECIAL ECONOMIC ZONE—What can help stop the mass departure of Filipino health professionals and convince them to stay in the country and earn the same amount they would have earned abroad?

Bring their jobs to the home front and invite foreign retirees to live in the Philippines by making it a "retirement haven," said the chair of the Philippine Retirement Authority.

"Reversing the migration" was how former Philippine National Police chief Edgar Aglipay, PRA chief, called that thrust alongside generating investments and employment.

"In the future we would like to bring back our caregivers, doctors and nurses so they can help in the medical and health care system of the Philippines. At the same time that they are here, they are also earning the same amount they are earning abroad," Aglipay said.

This would keep the families of overseas Filipino workers together, he said, referring to the social costs of labor migration.

Aglipay said a sector servicing elderly people could be "another leg" on which the country's economic development could stand on at a time when China is leading in manufacturing and India is topping the information technology market.

He said the retirement market teems with big potentials considering that there are 200 million retirees worldwide.

Japan alone has 30 million elderly people, Aglipay said, and getting just a tenth of that figure "would be big enough."

But to get this whole thing on track, Aglipay said the private sector would have to invest more in developing retirement villages.

Enthusiasm has picked up, with SM Prime Holdings joining what he called the "major retirement village service providers."

The PRA contributes about P100 million yearly in income tax from the P20,000 to P50,000 contributions of enrollees and P2,000 processing fee.

"Today, we would like it to be a catalyst for us to become a retirement haven in the world," Aglipay said.

Tonette Orejas, PDI Central Luzon Desk

Estanislao Caldez, PDI Northern Luzon Bureau

P10

tuloy ang saya, tuloy ang chika sa SMART Summer Flatrate!

for SMART to SMART calls up to 3 minutes or up to 5 minutes for only P15!

to make a SMART to SMART flatrate call

Just dial *883 followed by the number of the person

*883 09201234567

Unilab ang unang naging partner ng SMART at ang pinakamalaking extended flatrate ang SMART Flatrate. Ibabang tawag na legal at may usapan lamang kahit ang sayang!

Extended from April 14 to May 15, 2006

Available to:

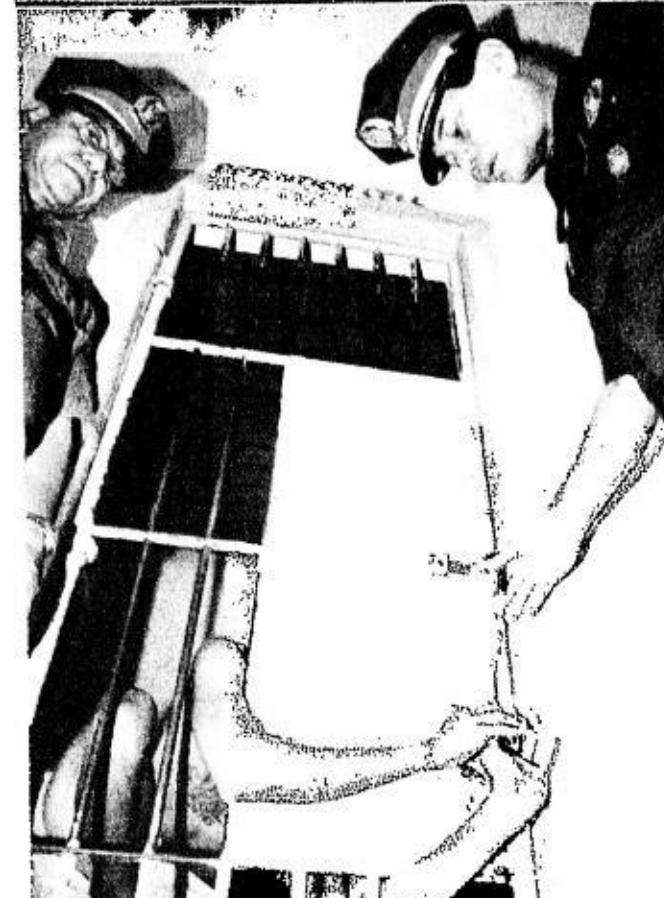

SMART
Simply Amazing!

Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 2207, Series of 2006

METRO

Editor Ester G. Dipasupil

Text us your feedback: inquirer met name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart) E-mail: pr_metro@inquirer.com.ph

AN INMATE shows Manila Police District Chief Pedro Bulaong and station 7 commander Superintendent Arturo Paglinawan how he picked the cell lock of their detention cell.

REM ZAMORA

17 inmates escape from Manila jail

5 recaptured, 1 surrenders to cops

By Margaux C. Ortiz

SEVENTEEN INMATES OF THE MANILA POLICE District Station 7 escaped early yesterday morning by picking the lock of their cell. Five of them were recaptured hours later while another gave up to authorities.

It was a rude welcome for Supt. Arturo Paglinawan, who reported for work yesterday as the new chief of the police station.

The inmates, detained at the Jose Abad Santos police station in Tondo for drugs, rape, and petty crimes such as snatching, theft and gambling, sneaked out of their cell at around 3:15 a.m.

"There was no indication that the inmates used force in their escape," Paglinawan told reporters in an interview.

He added that the suspects may have used a pick lock in opening the cell door, contrary to the claims of some inmates that they used a steel pipe to destroy the padlock.

After unlocking the cell door, the detainees passed through the station's back door. The ensuing noise alerted deputy station commander Supt. Vicente Tan and night shift duty officer, SPO4 Renato dela Cruz, who prevented the remaining eight inmates from escaping.

The escapees were Jonathan Pantig, Christian Garcia, Ariel Dollente, Jaime Salcedo, Roberto Macalalad, Rolando Alba, Roosevelt Bondoc, Divo Jimenez, Rolando Bautista, Florecel Gutierrez, Edwin Magusara, Marlon Fernando, Roy Serano, Sonny delos Reyes, Rolando Dizon, Jonathan Poreda and Carlito Relox.

WHAT'S INSIDE

■ Was buy-bust operation in Manila legitimate? /A20

■ 3 policemen nabbed for Parañaque disco murders /A20

■ It rained on their parade, but show went on for San Roque revelers /A20

Garcia, Salcedo, Macalalad, Alba and Fernando have been recaptured by the police during follow-up operations, according to Paglinawan. Pantig, who had fled to Nueva Ecija right after escaping, surrendered in the afternoon.

The station commander said the location of the jail and the station desk made it hard for guards to monitor the inmates' moves. Bulaong said he already ordered the disarming of Tan and Dela Cruz and would initiate an investigation for possible negligence of the two officers.

Guess where Mom wants to spend Mother's Day.

Where else but the country's most beloved theme park! Because everyday, from May 8 to 14, she gets free entrance plus special discounts if her kid's an BK Day Pass holder and she's one of the first 100 moms to register. What's more, a concert by Pinky and Karell Marquez plus a mother and daughter look-alike contest cap off the festivities on May 14. So surprise Mom with something she can really get excited about this day. Give her the magic of Enchanted Kingdom.

A proud member since 1992 Park Address: San Lorenzo South, City of Santa Rosa, Laguna • Makati Sales Office: Ground Floor, The Biltmore Condominium, 102 Aguirre St., Legaspi Vill., Makati City. Tel. Nos. 830-21-11 to 16 and 843-60-73 to 78. www.enchantedkingdom.com.ph

Dusit Hotel Nikko

CASIO

Johnson & Johnson

AVON

Perry Ellis

10 Years
Enchanted Kingdom

The magic stays with you. Enchanted Kingdom

WANT TO TRY AN AFFORDABLE WAY TO SEND MONEY ABROAD?

WESTERN UNION
FAST, RELIABLE, WORLDWIDE MONEY TRANSFER

With the Western Union SEND-MONEY-ABROAD Service, you can send money for as low as $14*. No additional charges and deductions to your receiver. What you send is what they get.

*For every transaction up to $200. Available for USA, Canada, United Arab Emirates, India, Australia, China, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Singapore, Brunei. In addition to transfer fees, Western Union also earns from the exchange of currencies. Call 888-1200 (Metro Manila), 1-800-1-888-1200 (free calls outside Metro Manila), or text 0917-888-1200 for more information.

Whose antidrugs operation was legit?

By Luige A. del Puerto

INTERIOR SECRETARY RONALDO PUNO yesterday said it was up to the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency to determine whether or not the four anti-narcotics officers of the Manila Police District (MPD) were really conducting a legitimate antidrug operation when they were arrested on Thursday.

P01 Erwin Castro, P02 Jonathan Ruiz, P03 Mike Fabian Ongpauco and P02 Dranreb Cipriano—members of the MPD's anti-illegal drugs unit—were nabbed during a buy-bust operation in the parking area of a fast food restaurant on Jose Abad Santos in Tondo.

Agents of the Criminal Investigation and Detection Group and the Anti-illegal Drugs Operations Task Force who arrested the four said a search of their car yielded at least a kilo of suspected methamphetamine hydrochloride or shabu.

But in a statement, Chief Supt. Pedro Bu-laong, MPD director, defended his men. "They were wrongfully labeled as suspects," he said.

He added that the four, contrary to the CIDG agents' claims, were conducting a legiti-mate buy-bust operation "complete with a pre-operation report and coordination sheet with the PDEA."

CIDG director Jesus Versoza, however, said there were some irregularities in the actions of the four MPD policemen.

He said that such an operation would require the presence of an official but the four officers were low-ranking policemen. None of them was an official, meaning a cop with the rank of inspector.

Versoza listed a few requirements for an anti-narcotics operation to be legitimate:

- There must be a deputation or authorization from PDEA, or the agency's men should be present during the operation.

• There must be an operation clearance.

• The operation must be coordinated with territorial units.

• If drugs are sold as bait, there must be "controlled delivery," meaning officers should monitor the movement of the drugs at all times.

The four officers had shown a pre-operation report, but had no papers on them at the time of their arrest, Versoza said. With Margaux C. Ortiz

REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
GOVERNMENT SERVICE INSURANCE SYSTEM
Financial Center, Roxas Blvd.,
Pasay City, 1308

NOTICE TO INTERESTED PARTIES

The GSIS, thru its ACQUIRED ASSETS EVALUATION COMMITTEE (AAEC), shall be accepting offers for the following properties:

1. GSIS Philippine Heart Center Property

Location: Sitio Payong, Marikina City
TCT No. 43582
Land Area: 12.25 hectares
Proposal Type: Land Development

2. Former GSIS Makati Office

Location: Legazpi St., Legazpi Village, Makati City
TCT Nos. S - 19518, S - 19519, S - 19520
Land Area: 2,429sqm.
Improvements: 7 storey bldg. w/ roof deck
Proposal Type: Sale, Long Term Lease

3. Vernida III (Formerly PAL Building)

Location: Legazpi St., Legazpi Village, Makati City
TCT Nos. 207426, 207427
Land Area: 1,766 sqm.
Improvement: 9 storey building
Proposal Type: Sale, Long Term Lease, Joint Venture

4. GSIS Quezon City Property

Location: Elliptical Road, Quezon City
TCT Nos. N-187226, N-187227
Land Area: 29, 844 Sqm.
Proposal Type: Long Term Lease

Interested parties may submit their proposals to the Disposition of Acquired Assets Department, 5th floor, Core C, GSIS Headquarters, Financial Center, Pasay City.

All proposals shall be evaluated by the AAEC and shall be subject to the final approval of the President and General Manager and/or BOARD OF TRUSTEES. GSIS reserves the right to reject any and/or all proposals.

(Sgd.) RENATO R. SANTICO

Senior Vice President

Housing and Real Property Development Group

The rains came, but so did answered prayers

By Nancy C. Carvajal

DESPITE THE INTERMITTENT RAINS, DEVOTEES and merrymakers danced in the streets during a procession to celebrate the 243rd Feast Day of Señor San Roque in Valenzuela City yesterday.

While single women asked for divine intervention in finding a husband, others prayed for the recovery of their sick loved ones. Others, however, said they were giving thanks for prayers that had been answered.

"I have been dancing in the fiesta for the past five years and yet I am still unmarried," said Mayor Sherwin Gatchalian who led the dancers.

The 31-year-old Gatchalian is one of the few chief executives in Metro Manila who are still single.

Even the serious-looking director of the Northern Police District, Chief Supt. Leopoldo Bataoil, joined the other dancers on the streets..

When asked jokingly whether he was praying for a partner, Bataoil, who is already married, said, "I prayed for health and safety for my family and to be good at what I do."

Gatchalian said that the celebration was a way of preserving and promoting a tradition of the city despite the changing times.

"It is always a pleasant respite to go back to tradition," he added.

Among the attendees who braved the rains was the Cebu-based family of Leticia Ramos who had prayed for the recovery of her dying daughter.

"We have been going to Valenzuela for the past 28 years to pray to Señor San Roque who interceded for my daughter so she could be healed," Ramos said.

AN elderly man dances with gusto during the procession.

ALANAH TORRALBA

Apart from the procession, which served as the highlight of the fiesta, several activities like the inauguration of the city's new emergency hospital, fireworks and a concert were scheduled last night.

A fireworks display and a concert were also on the list of events in the evening.

Pasig orders closure of 2 siphon offices

By Edson C. Tandoc Jr.

THE PASIG CITY GOVERNMENT YESTERDAY closed two offices of a company engaged in siphoning sludge from septic tanks for allegedly dumping waste into a drainage system and operating without business permits.

City Environment and Natural Resources Office chief Raquel Naciongayo told the INQUIRER that they served the closure orders on two offices of the E. Malaban Belen Excavator and Plumbing Services in Barangay Sta. Lucia.

Naciongayo said they will also file criminal charges against the company on Monday.

"We already canceled the company's business permit in July 2004 after one of their trucks was accosted in Quezon City," she added.

On Tuesday, another of the company's trucks was allegedly caught dumping human waste into a drainage in a residential area in Barangay Bagong Ilog.

The first closure order was served on an office registered under the name of Luzviminda Belen. The order, signed by Business Permits and License Office chief Dianeth Valencia, said the decision to close down the office stemmed from Tuesday's illegal dumping incident.

The second closure order was served on an office registered under the name of Mario Belen. The firm reportedly did not have the necessary business permits apart from not paying taxes it owed the city government. The INQUIRER called up the company's offices but the employees who answered said Luzviminda Belen was not available for an interview. With Eliza A. Victoria

METROBRIEFS

...sustained minor injuries, Rodriguez Police chief Supt. Manuel Pion told the INQUIRER. Investigator SPO2 Onofre Avas said the incident happened at 1:30 p.m. yesterday in Sitio Toyang, Barangay Mascap, a remote mountain barangay in the area. The driver, Ernesto Panopio, 53, told the police that as they were on their way down the mountainous area, he lost control of the vehicle. When he turned the wheel to the left to make the vehicle slow down, the jeep fell on its side, and Nicasio was thrown off the roof. Edson C. Tandoc Jr.

AAP car show

THE AUTOMOBILE Association of the Philippines (AAP) has lined up several activities to celebrate its 75th year, including the first-ever AAP Auto Show. The latest cars, after-market auto parts, accessories, gadgets, tools and equipment will be featured at the show which will run until tomorrow at The Forum, Philippine International Convention Center in Pasay City. AAP president Augusto "Gus" Lagman said exciting activities for car buffs and motor sport enthusiasts are also scheduled during the week-long celebration such as an exhibit of vintage cars, a parade of AF3 cars, slalom, rally cross and karting events. For more information, call the AAP 75th Diamond Jubilee celebration secretariat at 7230808, 7051900, 8325401 or 8325422.

Ani' at QC Circle

GINTONG Ani Philippines, a group of artists based at the Institute of Sports, Physical Education and Recreation of the Central Luzon State University in Muñoz, Nueva Ecija, will present a cultural show at 6 p.m. on Sunday at the Quezon Memorial Circle Liwasang Aurora. CLSU president Dr. Rodolfo Undan said the cultural show—dubbed as "Sayaw Filipino, Handog Sentenaryo"—is part of the pre-celebration of the state university's centennial founding anniversary next year. QC Parks Development Foundation president Charito Planas and other officials invite everyone to watch the free show.

Saudi trip no mean feat

SPEAKER JOSE DE VENECIA

is known for exaggerating tales and promises, but he was not exaggerating when he said that President Macapagal-Arroyo's trip to Saudi Arabia was a "major coup."

Extracting a pledge from the Saudi king and crown prince that the oil-rich kingdom would invest heavily in the country was no mean feat.

Mindanao would greatly benefit from the Saudi investments since the region is being eyed as the site of a $1-billion oil refinery.

A $300-million petrochemical plant in Bataan by Saudi Aramco is in the works.

That's the economic side.

But to ordinary folks, what counts more is the grant of freedom to 170 overseas Filipino workers who were detained in Saudi jails for various offenses.

The OFWs were set free by the Saudi king on the occasion of the President's visit to the kingdom.

No leader before GMA has done that feat. And to the poor, who make up the majority of our overseas workers, that meant a lot.

For that feat alone, GMA's trip to Saudi Arabia paid huge dividends for her in terms of winning the poor to her side.

ON TARGET

Ramon Tulfo

Sen. Panfilo Lacson had better think twice next time before looking for people to cross swords with.

The loquacious senator found a match in Justice Secretary Raul Gonzalez.

Lacson had said Gonzalez was having kidney problems and was undergoing dialysis.

So what, countered Gonzalez, my sickness is a non-issue.

Gonzalez retorted that Lacson should explain his role in an alleged coup plot revealed by former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent Leandro Aragoncillo.

Aragoncillo pleaded guilty to stealing top-secret documents in FBI and White House files.

The papers were allegedly passed on to Lacson and former President Estrada.

The US government may soon ask for Lacson's extradition to face espionage charges in America.

So, who has the bigger problem—Gonzalez, with his defective kidneys that are being treated, or Lacson, who is sure to be indicted in the US for conspiring with a man who has pleaded guilty to the charge of espionage?

Manila Water

Water interruption in portion of Pasig City and Quezon City needed to upgrade pipelines

Manila Water is currently undertaking an aggressive capital expenditure program to improve the distribution of water in the East Zone. In line with this, the company will undertake an interconnection of pipelines along J Vargas and San Miguel Avenue which will result in a temporary cutoff of water supply. The interruption will begin 10:00 p.m., Saturday, May 13, 2006, up to 6:00 a.m., Sunday, May 14. The following Pasig areas will be affected: Ortigas Center; Ortigas Avenue; San Antonio Village; Barangays: Kapitolyo, Pineda, Oranbo and Bagong Ilog; Sheridan, United St. and Valle Verde IV.

Meanwhile Valle Verde VI in Quezon City will also experience temporary water interruption.

Manila Water Company advises all residents of the said areas to store enough water prior to the scheduled interruptions to avoid inconvenience.

For the latest update, please call our Customer Call Center Hotline at 1627.

We don't just lay pipes, we improve lives.

(PDI - May 13, 2006)

UK lacked resources to stop London bombings

LONDON—TWO OF THE SUICIDE bombers behind last year's deadly attacks on London probably had contacts with al-Qaeda—but British security lacked resources to stop the atrocity, two reports said on Thursday.

The first detailed accounts of the July 7 bombings cleared the intelligence services of any failings in not preventing Britain's worst-ever terrorist strike.

At the same time the reports—one by an influential parliamentary committee and another by the Home Office—highlighted the magnitude of the task they face in foiling such plots.

Four British Muslim extremists killed 52 innocent people and injured more than 700 others when they blew up three London Underground trains and a double-decker bus during the morning rush hour by detonating bombs packed into rucksacks.

Two of the men, Mohammad Sidique Khan, 30, and Shehzad Tanweer, 22, had appeared only vaguely on Britain's intelligence radar beforehand, but were considered peripheral figures and not pursued.

After the bombings, it emerged both Khan and Tanweer had been to Pakistan: Khan alone in 2003 and again with Tanweer between November 2004 and February 2005.

"It has not yet been established who they met in Pakistan but it is assessed as likely that they had some contact with al-Qaeda figures," the Intelligence and Security Committee report said, comments echoed in the Home Office document.

The two men, whose identities were established only after July 7, probably received "operational training" there, it said.

Security officials in Pakistan said Thursday that British and Pakistani investigators were focusing on almost 200 phone calls made from Pakistan to one of the London bombers in a bid to uncover any links to al-Qaeda.

British Home Secretary John Reid said there was no "irrefutable evidence" that the terrorist group played a part in July 7 but "considerable circumstantial evidence" because of Khan and Tanweer's trips to Pakistan.

Although the parliamentary committee's chair, Paul Murphy, insisted there was no "culpable failure" on the part of the intelligence services, British newspapers Friday were more critical.

The Sun headlined its double-page spread on the reports "Poor intelligence" while both The Guardian and The Times highlighted that domestic spy agency MI5 did not think "home-grown" suicide bombings were likely in Britain.

The Guardian said in its leader column it was "hard not to conclude that the security failure was both negligent and inexcusable."

"Beneath the reasonable language in Paul Murphy's report lies a searing indictment of confusion, poor judgment, missed opportunities and plain ignorance that prevented Britain's security services from carrying out the basic task assigned to them: protecting the nation from its enemies," The Times said.

The parliamentary committee's report also revealed a third bomber, Germaine Lindsay, 19, was unwittingly known to the security services. There was no prior information on the fourth and youngest attacker, 18-year-old Hasib Hussain.

AFP

50 rebels killed, 17 sailors lost in Sri Lanka violence

COLOMBO, SRI LANKA—A SEA battle launched by Tamil Tiger rebels in northern Sri Lanka left about 50 insurgents and 17 sailors dead or missing in a sharp escalation of violence that moved the country back to the brink of civil war Friday.

Both the government and a team of European-led monitors accused the Tigers of violating the country's 2002 ceasefire accord with their attack that sank a navy patrol boat off the northern coast on Thursday.

Government troops retaliated, downing five rebel boats, damaging three others and launching airstrikes on guerrilla-held territory, putting the severest strain yet on the 2002 accord between the Tigers and government that halted two decades of warfare.

"This is a very serious attack (by the Tigers), a blatant violation of the ceasefire agreement," government spokesperson Keheliya Ramkakwella told The Associated Press.

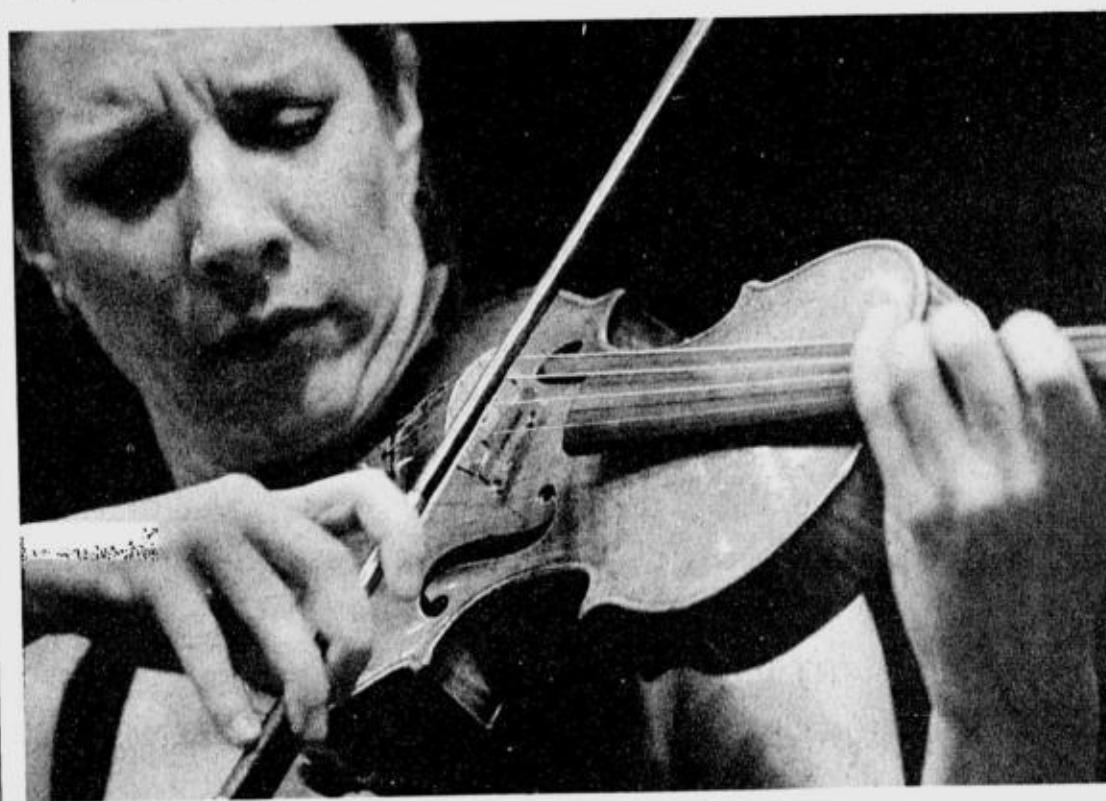

AP

The incident prompted the police to tighten security in the capital Colombo, where tens of thousands of Buddhists prepared to celebrate the birth of the Buddha, the faith's founder. Soldiers with drawn guns were seen posted at some intersections where colorful artwork depicted the life and teaching of Buddha.

The Tigers, formally known as the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam, launched their attack in 15 small boats against a navy convoy escorting a troop carrier with 710 soldiers aboard joining back to duties, navy spokesperson Commander D.K.P. Dassanayake said.

"Navy fast-attack boats escorting the vessel engaged the Tiger boats and one of them was destroyed by a suicide boat," he said.

There were 15 sailors and two officers on board the downed navy boat, and the Sri Lankan military website said the men were lost, meaning they were dead or missing.

WANNA BUY A STRADIVARI?
The Stradivari violin known as "The Hammer" is played by violin virtuoso Elizabeth Pitcairn at Christie's auctioneers in New York May 11. The violin, expected to fetch between $1.5 and $2.5 million, will be part of an auction of musical instruments at Christie's in New York on May 16. REUTERS

26 years later, priest convicted of nun's slaying

TOLEDO, OHIO—EVEN AFTER POLICE SUSPECTED a priest of killing a nun 26 years ago, they had no one who could place him at the hospital chapel where the body was found.

The Rev. Gerald Robinson had twice told investigators—in 1980 and just two years ago—that he was in his room that morning and just finished showering.

But after his arrest in 2004 made national headlines, three people came forward saying they could put Robinson at the murder scene.

Robinson was convicted Thursday of murdering Sister Margaret Ann Pahl a day before Easter in 1980. He was immediately sentenced to the mandatory term of 15 years to life in prison and led away in handcuffs to the county jail.

Robinson, 68, did not visibly react to the verdict. His friends and family gasped when it was read. The priest's lawyers promised to appeal.

As the hospital chaplain, Robinson had worked closely with Sister Pahl, the chapel caretaker, and presided at her funeral Mass.

Sister Pahl, 71, was killed while she was preparing the chapel for Easter services at Mercy Hospital on April 5, 1980. She was choked, then stabbed 31 times.

Grace Jones, who worked in a hospital laboratory, said she was waiting for an elevator when she saw Robinson come out the chapel doors carrying a duffel bag. Another worker said she saw Robinson by the chapel an hour before a nun discovered Sister Pahl's body.

The priest's attorneys pointed out that witnesses gave conflicting accounts of where and when they saw Robinson near the chapel. Despite the inconsistencies, however, the testimony put the priest near the chapel at a time he claimed to have been in his hospital apartment.

Police focused their attention on Robinson within two weeks of the slaying. They found a sword-shaped letter opener in his desk, and he admitted making up a story he told police that someone else confessed to him about committing the murder.

Robinson wasn't charged, however, and remained a priest in a city where about one-fourth of the 300,000 residents are Catholic.

The case went cold for two decades. The letter opener and a bloodstained altar cloth remained locked away in a police storage room until a letter surfaced in December 2003 accusing Robinson and other priests of molesting a woman. Police weren't able to substantiate the allegations of sexual abuse, but it led them back to the nun's murder.

Investigators soon noticed that bloodstains on the altar cloth seemed to match the patterns of the letter opener. New technology not available in 1980 allowed a comparison between the stains and the letter opener, which had a diamond-shaped cross-section and a dime-sized medallion with an image of the US Capitol.

Forensic experts said the blade was used to inflict the wounds, and that the medallion appeared to be the source of a faint stain on the altar cloth. They also matched up holes in the nun's clothes with the blade.

www.whirlpool.com.ph

IGNITE YOUR PASSION FOR COOKING

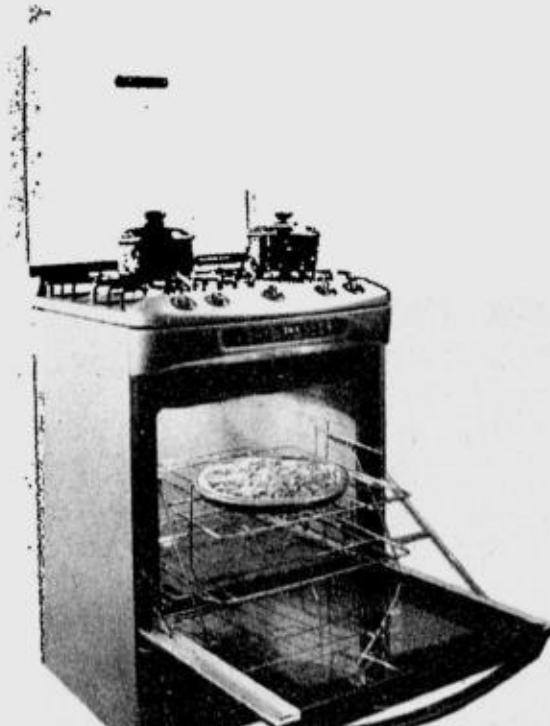

Stainless Steel Grates with Burner Caps
These stainless steel grates with enameled burner caps are easy to clean and dishwasher safe and retain their luster.

Continuous Cleaning
No more need for harsh cleaners and the mess of foams and sprays. The oven will do the cleaning for you.

Warming Drawer
Keep food safe and warm until serving time by storing it inside this warming drawer.

EasyView™ Window with Oven Light
The stylish window helps you check cooking progress without opening the oven door and disturbing the temperature.

YF360

60 cm. 4 Gas Burner Stainless Steel Cooking Range with Oven

Experience the joys of cooking with this elegant Whirlpool Cooking Range. Its stainless steel grates and enameled burners allow you to cook your favorite recipes to perfection. Moreover, cooking is made more enjoyable because the oven itself will do the cleaning for you with its continuous-cleaning feature.

With Whirlpool, cooking has never been this effortless.

Also available:
WFM50
4 Gas Burner with Oven

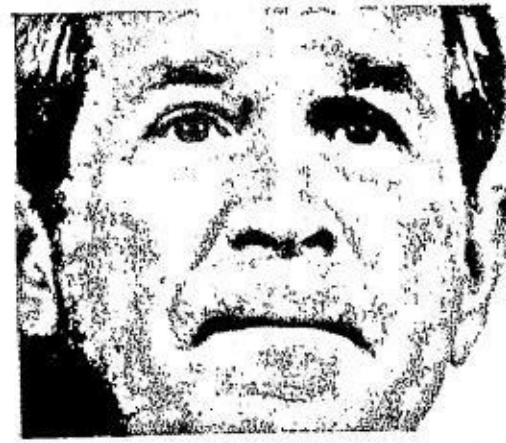

Showrooms:
Alabang G/F Alabang Home Depot, Lot 103-117 Alabang Zapote Road cor. Filinvest Avenue, Westgate Alabang, Muntinlupa City, 771-1273 • Cebu 3/F Sogo Home and Office Center, Ayala Avenue, Cebu Business Park, Cebu City, (032) 232-1001 • Makati 2/F Amion Emporium, Pasay Road, Makati City, 843-5046 • Ortigas 2/F Automatic Center, Ortigas Home Depot, Julia Vargas Avenue, Ortigas Center, 635-9010 • Quezon City 222 D.Tuzon St. cor. L. Castillo St., Quezon City, 732-7370 loc 101-103

The WORLD

Editor Luverne B. Gueco

Millions of Americans' calls tracked by Bush

BUSH

WASHINGTON—LAWMAKERS VOWED THURSDAY TO investigate revelations that a US spy agency was tracking the phone records of tens of millions of Americans as President George W. Bush insisted that privacy rights were not under threat.

Members of Bush's Republican party and opposition Democrats expressed alarm at the newspaper report that the National Security Agency (NSA) was building an unprecedented database of phone records with the help of three major telephone companies.

Republican Sen. Arlen Specter, chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee, vowed to hold hearings and demand testimony from telephone company executives to determine if constitutional freedoms had been violated.

"The danger is privacy is being invaded. It's a program of big, big brother," Specter told CBS television.

Coming on the heels of recent revelations that Bush had allowed eavesdropping on telephone calls to foreign destinations without court warrants, Bush sought to head off possible political damage with a hastily arranged appearance before reporters.

Bush did not deny or confirm the existence of the world's largest database, which USA Today said was set up after the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks.

But he asserted that the US intelligence community is not "mining or trolling" through the private lives of Americans, simply attempting to intercept the communications of people with known links to al-Qaida and related terrorist organizations.

"After Sept. 11, I vowed to the American people that our government would do everything within the law to protect them against another terrorist attack," Bush said at the White House.

"If al-Qaida or their associates are making calls into the United States or out of the United States, we want to know what they're saying," he said.

Bush sought to reassure the public that "the privacy of ordinary Americans is fiercely protected," under the antiterrorism programs.

Opposition Democrats seized on the report as further proof that the Bush administration was flouting civil liberties under a veil of secrecy.

AFP

US Senate breaks stalemate over immigration bill

WASHINGTON—SENATE LEADERS SAID Thursday that they had broken a political stalemate and would bring to the floor next week an immigration bill that could put millions of illegal immigrants on the road to eventual US citizenship.

An agreement reached Thursday by Senators Bill Frist, R-Tenn., the Republican majority leader, and Harry Reid, D-Nev., the Democratic minority leader, ends an impasse that has stalled action in the Senate for weeks while immigrants and their advocates have staged huge demonstrations across the country.

The deal does not mean that a bill will emerge from Congress soon. But it is significant that the Senate leaders agreed to proceed, because the chamber operates under peculiar rules and traditions that can bury legislation indefinitely. Frist and Reid said they hoped to schedule a vote before Memorial Day.

Even if the Senate passes an immigration bill, it would have to be reconciled with a bill passed in December by the House.

Until partisan bickering sidetracked legislation in the Senate in early April, the chamber was working on a package that offered opportunities for eventual citizenship, a guest-worker program for some immigrants and measures to enhance border security.

The tougher House bill focuses on border security and would crack down on illegal immigrants and those who employ them. Given the deep differences between Senate and House, negotiations could be long and heated.

"What the Democratic leader and I have laid out is a way to get on to this bill," Frist said, "and as you can tell, both of us are working in very good faith on the various issues that have been raised on the floor."

Reid said he welcomed the return of the immigration bill to the Senate floor. "America's immigration system is broken, and our national security depends on Republicans and Democrats finding common ground to fix it," he said. "The assurances I have received from Senator Frist make me hopeful we can finally move forward on real comprehensive reform." NYT

Disgraced stem cell scientist indicted for fraud

SEOUL—SOUTH KOREA'S disgraced cloning expert Hwang Woo-suk was indicted Friday for fraud and embezzlement related to his faked stem cell research, a senior prosecutor said.

Five other scientists were also indicted on various charges in connection with Hwang's research and the disappearance of millions of dollars in donations, prosecutor Lee In-kyu told a press conference.

"Dr. Hwang was indicted on charges of fraud and embezzlement and breach of bioethics. And five others were also indicted" on various charges, said Lee, reading the conclusions of a five-month probe by prosecutors into Hwang's case.

Hwang, 52, claimed last year that he had created 11 patient-specific stem cells through cloning.

But a panel of experts at Seoul National University, where Hwang worked as a professor, concluded in January that the stem-cell claims were bogus.

The panel also concluded that a 2004 paper by Hwang, in which he claimed to have produced a stem cell from a cloned human embryo, was fabricated.

Prosecutors said their probe confirmed that Hwang's claims regarding stem cells were fraudulent.

"Hwang asked his team to fabricate various data, including photos, the number of stem cells created and DNA test results, featured in the 2004 and 2005 papers published in the US journal Science," Lee said in a televised news conference.

AFP

HWANG with Snuppy, the first male dog cloned from adult cells.

REUTERS

We made our gasoline greener.
New Shell Super Unleaded E10.

It contains ethanol, which helps complete combustion and can contribute to the reduction of greenhouse gases, so it's good for your engine and the environment. New Shell Super Unleaded E10 available at Buendia cor. EDSA, Makati; Pasong Tamo, Makati; Pres. Quirino Ave., Paco, Manila and the new station at EDSA cor. Scout Borromeo, Quezon City.

■ Obosa sprints to Stage I victory /A25
■ Express stun
Phone Pals /A24

SPORTS

E-mail: pr_sports@inquirer.com.ph

Editor Teddyvic S. Melendres

Text us your feedback: inquirer.sprt.name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart).

'Caloy' blows Palaro off course

By Marc Anthony Reyes

NAGA CITY—TROPICAL STORM "Caloy" and its fury took center stage in the penultimate day of the Palarong Pambansa here yesterday.

While the city suffered a day-long power outage, at least 10 athletes and an official of the Philippine Sports Commission were hurt as winds and heavy rains buffeted the already delayed Games. Four regional delegations were evacuated from their billeting areas due to impending floods.

All finals in swimming and athletics set for yesterday afternoon were cancelled. Instead, the medalists were decided based on the entries' best times in the heats.

Pole vault events were scrapped as the Metro Naga Sports Complex took the brunt of the storm, forcing athletes and officials to seek shelter at the venue's dark, dingy dugouts.

The absence of power generators forced Games officials to process the results manually.

Palaro national coordinator Len Toledo said the delegations from Northern Mindanao, Calabarzon, Mimaropa and the Cotabato Region were evacuated from their respective billeting campuses which were at risk of getting flooded.

Ball games like basketball, volleyball, football, softball and baseball were rescheduled and would be played today, the Games' last day.

Despite the typhoon, the National Capital Region continued to lord it over in the elementary

NCR parents claim EV, C'barzon bets overaged

By Marc Anthony Reyes

NAGA CITY—THOU SHALT NOT cheat.

Parents of the National Capital Region elementary baseball team yesterday filed a formal protest against the elementary baseball teams of Calabarzon (Region IV-A) and Eastern Visayas, which they claimed have players over the age limit of 13 years.

In a letter addressed to Department of Education Officer-in-Charge Fe Hidalgo yesterday, the parents specifically cited as overaged Calabarzon pitcher Rannel Osmilo and two unnamed players from Eastern Visayas manning first base and center field.

The complaint used as basis the May 11, 2006 episode of TV Patrol (early evening edition) on ABS-CBN and the show of Ces Drilon on ANC, which mentioned that Osmilo was born in 1987.

As to the two East Visayans, the and secondary competitions based on the team score systems of the Department of Education.

NCR, the secondary defending champion, has already tallied 102 team points, with the bulk of its victories scored in gymnastics, archery, swimming and athletics.

Calabarzon, striking hardest in track and field, amassed 88 points, followed by Western Visayas with 66, Mimaropa (35), and Central Luzon (27).

The Big City bets also dominated the elementary division with 97 points, 45 ahead of second-running Western Visayas (52). Defending champion Calabarzon came next with 34.5 followed by Central Luzon (29.5) and Mimaropa (25).

With its high school basketball and baseball teams unbeaten, NCR is also expected to gain in team sports which dangle between 25 and 30 points. Powered by University of Santo Tomas

'CALOY'/A24

Burlington
Batang PBA
Basketball League - Season 3

MAMA I LOVE YOU! Tiangge
St. Francis SQUARE
ORTIGAS CENTER
BEHIND SM MEGAMALL

Oras-oras Regalo para sa inyo!

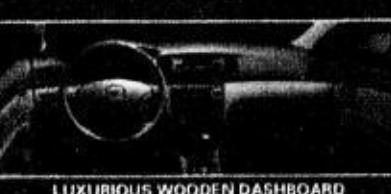

Celebrate Mother's Day at St. Francis Square from May 12 to 21, 2006

Promo Duration: May 12-21, 2006
Grand Raffle Draw: May 21, 6 PM
Cut-off Date: May 21, 5 PM

sponsors:
Anlene • Pacific Carlton CALIFORNIA
Mous • Nivea • L'Oréal PARIS

FOR LEASING INQUIRIES, CALL
632-1010
638-0537

THE NEW COROLLA
ALTIS

FUEL-EFFICIENT
VVT-i ENGINESTATE OF THE ART OPTITRON METERS WITH MULTIPLE INFORMATION DISPLAY (MID)

LUXURIOUS WOODEN DASHBOARD

CONVENIENT STEERING WHEEL
AUDIO CONTROLS

FUNCTIONAL REAR SEAT SUNSHADE

STYLISH REAR
GARNISH DESIGN

Brace yourself for a new synergy of style, performance and luxury—the new Corolla Altis.

Proud of its heritage of Quality, Reliability and Durability, the Corolla has been loved by owners worldwide. As it celebrates its 40th anniversary with over 30 million units sold globally, Corolla Altis continues to reap awards for its dependability and quality.

We at Toyota believe there is no best, only better. As we move forward to the future, you can be sure that our ardent passion to create innovative products will never cease.

TOYOTA moving forward ▶

www.toyota.com.ph

TOYOTA FINANCIAL SERVICES 858-8500

TOYOTA DEALER NETWORK: TOYOTA ALABANG, INC., 800-0801 to 32 / 802-1991 TOYOTA BACOLOD CITY, (034) 444-1811 to 13 TOYOTA BAGUIO CITY, (074) 447-0851 / (074) 300-3273 to 74 / (074) 300-4128 / 3825 / (074) 443-6778 TOYOTA BALINTAWAK, INC., 366-8901 to 06 / 364-1547 to 50 / 364-4071 to 75 TOYOTA BALINTAWAK-NORTH, 927-7215 / 17 / 30 / 39 / 927-7242 / 44 / 48 / 52 / 027-7257 / 62 / 65 / 927-7268 / 69 TOYOTA BATANGAS CITY, INC., (043) 723-7386 / (043) 723-7639 TOYOTA BICUTAN PARANAQUE, 777-9500 TOYOTA CABANATUAN CITY, INC., (044) 463-8481 to 87 TOYOTA CAGAYAN DE ORO, INC., (08822) 735-770 / 791 / 846 / (088) 858-9994 / (088) 858-7770 / (08822) 737-480 TOYOTA CEBU CITY, INC., (032) 253-1161 TOYOTA CEBU-MANDAUE, (032) 345-8570 TOYOTA COMMONWEALTH, 952-1021 to 27 TOYOTA CUBAO, INC., 911-0651 to 63 TOYOTA DAGUPAN CITY, INC., (075) 517-2028 to 28 / (075) 522-6771 / 6734 / 4773 TOYOTA DASMARIÑAS CAVITE, (046) 860-2036 / (046) 850-2929 TOYOTA DAVAO CITY, INC., (082) 234-9988 / (082) 234-2994 / (082) 234-8640 TOYOTA ILOILO CITY, INC., (033) 320-6115 to 19 TOYOTA MAKATI, INC., 897-3333 TOYOTA MANILA BAY CORP., 832-3408 to 10 / 832-3432 to 34 / 832-3384 / 832-3437 TOYOTA MARINA SERVICE STATION, 682-9701 to 03 TOYOTA OTIS, INC., 564-1811 to 20 TOYOTA PASONG TAMO, INC., 803-8084 TOYOTA QUEZON AVENUE, INC., 712-5001 to 06 TOYOTA SAN FERNANDO, (045) 961-1188 TOYOTA SHAW, INC., 532-4132 / 532-8428 / 534-3009 (telex) TOYOTA SHAW-ORTIGAS, 671-9854 to 04 / 674-0460

Air21 pulls off big upset

By Francis Ochoa

WHEN AIR21 DEALT AWAY RENREN RITUALO, THE TEAM MANAGEMENT made it clear that the Express were going to rally behind a new franchise face in KG Cafaleta.

Last night, the slam dunk artist embraced that role to the hilt.

Cafaleta led an Express crew that transformed itself into an efficient error-forcing machine that went on to pound the beefed-up Alaska Aces, 99-88, in the Gran Matador PBA Philippine Cup at the Araneta Coliseum last night.

"We just have to move forward," said Air21 coach Bo Perasol as the Express continued its post-Ritualo era after a blockbuster trade that shipped the former La Salle gunner to Talk N Text.

And standing at the forefront of that forward push was Cafaleta, the reigning dunk champion who finished with a game-high 27 points built around 10-of-16 shooting from the field.

Cafaleta helped the grossly undermanned Express build early double-digit leads, but when the Aces made a run that threatened to turn the game around, Air21's defense bared its teeth, forcing three huge steals and even bigger defensive stops down the stretch to ice the victory, the team's fifth in 14 outings.

Alaska, its fluid offense thrown into disarray by an Air21 defense that forced 30 turnovers and collected 40 points off them, dropped its seventh game in six outings despite welcoming a pair of big acquisitions.

The Aces showed up with former MVP Willie Miller and John Ferriols, acquired in a trade with the Phone Pals for Don Allado.

Ironically, the Express went the opposite way manpower-wise. Not only did they lose Ritualo in exchange for a token warm body in seldom-used Leo Avenido, Air21 was also without swingman Gary David and spunky guard Ronald Tubid, who were both injured.

In the second game, Mark Macapagal starred as Barangay Ginebra, another handicapped team, shocked a retooled Talk N Text squad, 124-121.

The Kings climbed to 6-6 despite missing Erik Menk, Andy Seigle, Romel Adducal and Rodney Santos, all out due to various injuries.

The Phone Pals, on the other hand, dropped to 5-8 despite showing up with a vaunted roster that included new acquisitions Ritualo and Allado.

The scores:

First Game

AIR21 99—Cafaleta 27, R. De Ocampo 21, Y. De Ocampo 21, Arboleda 13, Avenido 9, Telan 8, Dacia 0, Padilla 0, Bernardo 0, Se 0.

ALASKA 88—Cortez 16, Thoss 15, Cariaso 14, Belasco 14, Ferriols 8, Miller 8, Dela Cruz 7, Hugnatan 6, Wilson 0.

Quarters: 26-28, 54-48, 73-70, 99-88.

HIGH winds brought by tropical storm "Caloy" blows a mat used in the high jump flying onto the path of Mimaropa's Jenny Manansala who is sprinting to the finish in the 4x400-meter relay at the Metro Naga Sports Complex. A stunned Manansala staggered but managed to finish the race. Her quartet landed in fifth place. JESS YUSON players, NCR drubbed Central Visayas, 58-47, yesterday to advance to the basketball finals.

'Caloy' blows Palaro off course

From page A23

Medical chief Dr. Joframel Paz said at least 10 athletes were treated for hypothermia after competing in the athletics relays in heavy rains. Several athletes waiting for their turns at the oval collapsed and were carried to the medical room on stretchers.

Among the athletes treated were John Bert Ybanes and Carlito Sumindung of Northern Mindanao, Paul Angeles of Central Luzon, Merdilisa Disu, Lyka Mae Tubera and Sharon Ciso of Ilocos Region, Analyn Sarabia and Sophia Ali of ARMM, Rocel Agbayani of NCR and Christine Baroy of Zamboanga Peninsula.

PSC chief executive assistant Jonathan Encabo also suffered bruises on his right shoulder after he was hit by a branch of an acacia tree that was blown away by winds at the MNSC. Encabo said the branch hit him while he was walking to the media center. He did not seek medical attention.

SPORTSWATCH

'Salpuhan' finals today

THE "SUMMER SALPUKAN" 6-COCK DERBY enters its championship round at the Makati Coliseum today with 20 participants seeing action. Seeing action today in the B-Meg Derby Ace-sponsored derby, which stakes P4.4 million, are participants who posted 3.0 and 2.5 points in the elimination rounds. Among the frontrunners are Efren Canlas (Mayo Kinse Makati Coliseum), Sam Mendoza (Sam High Fashion), Francis Rodriguez (San Rafael LNF Farms), Alex Calderon (ME Tama Ka), Dexter Sacosan (Hard Cuts), Lito Joseph (Maverick), Wilmer Ting of Davao City (Davao Gold), Louie Cua (LCC), Tranca Bay and Pogi Solo Champion entries. For more inquiries, call 896-3545 or 895-6475.

Las Piñas derby kicks off

COCKERS FROM CAVITE, LAGUNA, LAS PIÑAS, Muntinlupa, Pasay and Parañaque square off in a special 3-cock derby tonight at the Las Piñas Coliseum. Sixty-two participants will figure in 90 fights starting at 6 p.m., said coliseum manager and derby host Alex Toblas. At stake is a cash prize of P300,000 for an entry fee of P5,500. For inquiries on submission of weights, call 873-1040 or 874-3910. Regular hackights are also staged at the Las Piñas Coliseum from Monday to Sunday. Each winner (first 20 fights) gets a P1,000 cash bonus.

Standings—La Salle 5-0; Adamson 3-1; PCU 3-2; FEU 3-2; SSC 2-3; Ateneo 1-3; Lyceum 1-3; UE 0-4.

GAMES TODAY (Blue Eagle Gym)

4 p.m.—Ateneo vs Adamson

6 p.m.—Lyceum vs UE

ERSTWHILE UNBEATEN ADAMSON HAS tasted the bitter pill, it now wants a victory

Sparks gun for Final 4 berth

IN THE EARLY GAMES OF THE PBL UNITY Cup, Toyota Otis coach Louie Alas kept mouthing a familiar cliché.

"There's no way to go but up," he said, taking care to preface his statement with the explanation that "in the last two conferences we were in the cellar."

Nobody, not even Alas, could have guessed that this is what "up" meant.

Holding a league-best 9-3 record, the Sparks will vie for a Final Four seat versus the Montaña Jewels at 4 p.m. today at the Olivarez Sports Center in Paranaque.

It's a big turnaround for the team that posted only three wins in the previous conference, but Alas continues to expect more from the Sparks.

STANDINGS	W	L
Toyota Otis	9	3
Montaña	8	3
R. or Shine	7	4
G. Goose	6	6
Magnolia	5	6
Harbour	5	6
TeleTech	3	9
Hapee-PCU	3	9

GAMES TODAY
(Olivarez Sports Center)	2 p.m.—TeleTech vs Rain or Shine
	4 p.m.—Toyota Otis vs Montaña

Only the top two performers at the end of the eliminations will gain outright semifinal spots.

The Jewels and the Rain or Shine Elasto Painters, who will tackle the TeleTech Titans at 2 p.m., are closely chasing the Sparks.

Montaña fell to second place after a surprising 88-73 loss to Granny Goose last Tuesday, while a two-game slide relegated Rain or Shine to third.

The lower-ranked squads have also been jockeying for position as the two basement teams will be cut at the end of the elimination round.

For TeleTech, the only way to keep its quarterfinal chances alive is to sweep its last two outings versus Rain or Shine and Harbour Centre. At the same time, it must hope that Harbour Centre drops its remaining assignments.

Jasmine W. Payo

Spring Oil downs Tagaytay cagers

TAGAYTAY CITY—SPRING COOKING Oil-Parañaque ended a three-game losing skid Thursday night by subduing Batang Tagaytay, 65-58, in the 2006 Guerrero Brandy-NBC national basketball championships at the International Convention Center here.

Mar Reyes of Spring was the only player to finish in double figures with 17 points in the see-saw battle which saw 12 lead changes. But that was enough to give NBC president Nathaniel "Fac" Padilla's Cooking Oil Masters their third win in six games.

NBC executive vice president and Mayor Bambol Tolentino's Tagaytay squad fell to 4-4 in the tourney sponsored by Panasonic, Sulpicio Lines, Nature's Spring Mineral Water, Spring Cooking Oil, Regent Foods, Firefly Lightnings, Molten and Prime Channel.

least gain a tie for the fifth and last semifinal berth staked in the elimination phase of this event presented by Shakey's Pizza and organized by Sports Vision.

Lyceum, tied with Ateneo in sixth place, also seeks to keep its flickering semis hopes alive when it battles winless University of the East at 6 p.m. Admission is free.

SEA fencing starts today

FENCERS FROM SEVEN COUNTRIES, including host Philippines, will vie for honors in the 2006 Southeast Asian fencing championships which reeks off today at the Philsports Arena (formerly Ultra) in Pasig City.

These fencers come from Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

Action kicks off at 9 a.m. with national cadet foil champions Maximus Baluyot and Abu Ignacio leading the charge for the Filipinos.

The opening rites scheduled this afternoon has been reset at 4 p.m. on Monday. Pasig City Vice Mayor Yoyong Martinez, a former national basketball player, has been invited as guest of honor in place of Mayor Vicente Eusebio.

The other guests are Philippine Sports Commission chair William Ramirez and Philippine Olympic Committee president Jose Cojuangco Jr.

Tale of two Everest climbs

IN HUDDLE

Beth Celis

FAULTY EQUIPMENT, severe loneliness and depression, these were purportedly the factors that had prompted mountaineer Dale Abenojar to abandon his quest to reach the summit of Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world.

Somehow I had this premonition when I was told by Jake Aspiras of ABS-CBN, one of Dale's staunchest supporters, that he was feeling homesick and was calling home frequently while at Base Camp l.

"He misses his wife and kids. He's trying to boost his morale and draw strength and inspiration by talking with them as often as he could," Jake said.

That was some weeks ago. The last update I got from Jake was that Dale was moving up fast and was, in her estimation, ahead of Romi Garduce, the other climber who had set out on this perilous mission way ahead of Abenojar.

I was surprised therefore, to hear that Abenojar had packed up and called it a day, his exact reason or reasons for doing this still unknown. I had been trying to touch base with Jake all day yesterday but she would not answer.

On the other hand Garduce, who was taking the slow but sure route, stayed on track.

In the luncheon press conference hosted by GMA-7 last Wednesday, Garduce explained the manner in which he was tackling the mountain.

It was an up/down procedure. From the base camp, he would climb several thousand feet up, then go down to base camp again to recharge. With every ascent, he added several thousand feet.

This process, he said, is called acclimatization.

Garduce had just descended from a 20,000-foot climb when the press interviewed him via satellite from the base camp where he was resting with the GMA-7 television crew headed by Jiggy Manicad.

Romi said he had just made his last descent. He was preparing for his final assault to the summit where there was no turning back. They call this area "Death Zone," which is self-explanatory. This is the place where the greatest dangers lurk.

"God willing, it will take two to three weeks to complete the climb. We are praying for good weather and good health."

So far, the forces of nature have cooperated with Romi and his team. And he has managed to stay healthy, unlike some of the other climbers who have experienced frost bite, brain and lung edema and disorientation.

"Yun ngang isang kasabay namin, he climbed for eight hours and remembered nothing of what transpired," Romi related. One mountaineer also fell off 2,000 feet and eventually died.

Romi has never experienced the major "illnesses" brought about by extremely high altitude and thin air. Credit this to knowledge and preparedness.

When he makes his final assault, Romi will carry bags of oxygen with him, to ensure that his lungs and brain stay healthy.

Romi had his training with the UP mountaineers. He sounds like a very intelligent man. Based on the condition he was in when we talked to him, it looks like he's a man on the way to the top. That's being literal.

Meanwhile, GMA-7 corporate communications head Butch Raquel made it known that they would also be documenting the ascent of the third group that arrived in Katmandu recently, if they are willing.

"It doesn't matter who gets there first. What is important is that a Filipino has reached the peak of Mount Everest."

Lady Falcons try to get back into groove in the Shakey's V-League at the Blue Eagle Gym in Loyola Heights.

The Lady Falcons, who swept their first three games only to be grounded by the Far Eastern Lady Tams, 25-17, 16-25, 25-19, 25-19, last Sunday, try to get back on track when they tangle with the Ateneo Lady Eagles at 4 p.m.

The Lady Eagles are also smarting from a 25-21, 25-23, 25-21 beating at the hands of the tough Philippine Christian University squad in their last outing.

Although both teams are coming off a six-day rest, Ateneo is more hard-pressed to score a victory. The Lady Eagles, in fact, need to sweep their last three games to at

SPORTS

ASIA INTERNATIONAL AUCTIONEERS, INC.

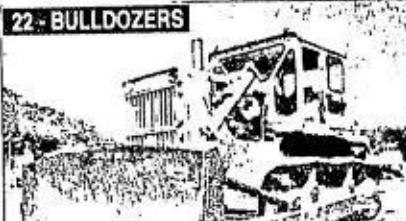

Your Best Source of Quality Machines in Asia

Trucks & Equipment

4-DAY PUBLIC AUCTION

AUCTION STYLE : PARADE

101 - EXCAVATORS

22 - BULLDOZERS

32 - WHEEL LOADERS

5 - WRECKER TRUCKS

108 - 10W DUMP TRUCKS

27 - GENERATOR SETS

43 - WING VANS

34 - TANKER TRUCKS

10 - 220 KVA

ISUZU FWD ALUM WING VAN TRUCK

MITSUBISHI CANTER TANKER-2KL

ISUZU BIG HORN 3.1L

Lower Mau Camp, Argonaut Hi-way, Subic Bay Freeport Zone

Tel #: (63-47) 252-3333 • Fax #: (63-47) 252-6840 • (63-47) 252-1441

Inquire & Register Online via: <http://www.asia-intl-auctioneers.com> Email: aiainc@subictel.com

Lower Mau Camp, Argonaut Hi-way, Subic Bay Freeport Zone

ORIX METRO Leasing & Finance Corp. Tel: (02) 858-8888

Lower Mau Camp, Argonaut Hi-way, Subic Bay Freeport Zone

SIXTY PLAYERS IN 15 SURVIVING FOUR-MAN SQUADS WILL DISPUTE AN ALL-EXPENSE PAID GOLFING HOLIDAY TO KUNMING, CHINA, WHEN THE GRAND FINALS OF THE FORD NATIONAL TEAM SHOOTOUT IS PLAYED ON MAY 25 AT THE ORCHARD AND ON MAY 26 AT STA. ELENA.

MANILA SOUTHWOODS, CEBU COUNTRY CLUB AND ROYAL NORTHWOODS EMERGED AS THE FIRST GRAND FINALISTS RECENTLY IN THE THREE-PHASE TOURNAMENT PRESENTED BY FORD MOTORS PHILS., AND SPONSORED BY THE FEDERATION OF GOLF CLUBS PHILS. INC. AND SWING MAGAZINE.

CEBU COUNTRY CLUB SENT TWO TEAMS TO THE GRAND FINALS BY FINISHING 1-3 IN THE VISAYAS-MINDANAO SATELLITE FINALS AT THE CCC, ILOILO GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB PLACED SECOND.

Le Vesconte will also have to tackle Wack Wack, which he has never played previously. The last time Wack Wack hosted the Open in 2002, Canadian Rick Gibson claimed the title.

"I might ask (Gibson) about his thoughts on the course," said Le Vesconte.

The Philippine Open has welcomed the International Container Terminal Services and Pagcor as part of the family of valued sponsors.

"My love for golf and pride in the future of the sport here made it an easy decision to become involved with the Philippine Open," said the ICTSI supremo Ricky Razon.

Pagcor chair Ephraim Genuino said the company was delighted to be involved with the Open.

At least 39 Filipinos, nine of them amateurs, are vying for the title of Asia's oldest golf Open.

Australian seeks RP Open repeat

DEFENDING CHAMPION ADAM LE VESCONTE OF AUSTRALIA HOPES TO RELIVE HIS OFF-THE-FORM-CHART VICTORY LAST YEAR WHEN HE LEADS A SOLID FIELD IN THE US$200,000 Philippine Open set May 25-28 at the fabled Wack Wack East course.

The 35-year-old Australian claimed the Philippine Open title by besting Filipino Gerald Rosales with a four-day total of 12-under-par 272 at the Malarayat course in Lipa City.

The victory was a life changing experience for the Queensland-born Le Vesconte who had been winless for the past 10 years.

"The win made me realize that I have not been wasting my time," said Le Vesconte ahead of the 90th RP Open. "After 10 years, I was getting to the point where I was thinking maybe it's time to give it up and go home and do something else."

The valiant Aussie knows the task ahead will be tough, especially with the presence of compatriot Jason Dawes and Thai veteran Boonchu Ruangkit who stayed hot on his heels during the final day last year.

Apart from the array of Asian Tour stalwarts,

Southwoods, CCC, Northwoods quartets gain Ford nat'l finals

Southwoods and Riviera teams wound up 1-2 in the Luzon West finals held at The Orchard last week with Eagle Ridge finishing third.

Royal Northwoods topped the Luzon North finals over second placer Baguio Country Club and third placer Luisita.

Two other satellite finals are slated in different venues with Wack Wack hosting the Luzon East hostilities and Mt. Malarayat the Luzon South.

The top three teams from each of the five regional stages will advance to the grand finals of the event backed by Philippine Airlines, Mizuno, Hewlett Packard, Citibank, Rudy Project, Solar Sports, the Philippine Daily Inquirer and OIM.

IF YOU KNOW CARS, THIS IS YOUR RIDE.

MAZDA3 1.6L

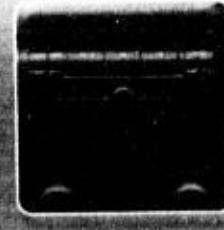

1.6L MZR ENGINE
W/ S-VT AND VIS

ACTIVEMATIC TRANSMISSION
W/ SPORTS MODE

LEATHER-WRAPPED
STEERING WHEEL W/
AUDIO CONTROLS

6-CD W/ MP3-COMPATIBLE IN-DASH AUDIO

60/40 SPLIT-
FOLD SEATS

RETRACTABLE KEY
W/ RKE AND ALARM

DUAL FRONT
AIRBAGS (SRS)

MAZDA MAZDA ADVANCED IMPACT DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM WITH TRIPLE H BODY STRUCTURE

MAZDA3 1.6L 5-DOOR

ZOOM-ZOOM

Mazda3 1.6L available in V, S and SD variants. Visit a Mazda dealership near you and inquire about our great deals.
Mazda Alabang Filinvest Corporate City, Alabang-Zapote Road, Alabang, Muntinlupa City, Tel. no. 772-3168, Fax 772-3170 • Mazda Greenhills 202 EDSA cor. Rochester Street, Greenhills East, Mandaluyong City, Tel. no. 722-1102, Fax 722-1138 • Mazda Quezon Avenue 721 Quezon Ave., Sto. Domingo, Quezon City, Tel. no. 712-3355, Fax 742-2080
Mazda Makati 2723 Chino Roces Avenue (formerly Pasong Tamo), Makati City, Tel. no. 751-2235 to 36, Fax 751-2237
Model may vary from actual unit.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

E-mail: pr_saturday_special@inquirer.com.ph

Editor Nestor U. Torre
Assistant Editor Rito P. Asilo

PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER

SATURDAY Special

Text us your feedback: inquirer sat name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart)

Pulse-pounding action keeps Petersen's disaster flick afloat

By Rito P. Asilo

"Poseidon"

D: Wolfgang Petersen
S: Josh Lucas, Kurt Russell

WOLFGANG PETERSEN THRIVES ON WELL-made, lavishly-produced popcorn flicks, like the Harrison Ford and Clint Eastwood starrers "Air Force One" and "In the Line of Fire," respectively. But, it's on water (1981's "Das Boot," 2000's "The Perfect Storm") where he truly shines.

The latest addition to Petersen's oeuvre is a reworking of 1972's "The Poseidon Adventure," about a group of survivors who become unlikely allies as they face seemingly insurmountable odds to squeeze, swim and claw their way out of the sinking luxury ship, Poseidon, after a 150-foot rogue wave turns the New York-bound vessel upside down in the middle of the North Atlantic ocean on New Year's Eve.

This time, the characters are different: Josh Lucas plays Dylan Johns, a professional gambler who finds himself playing reluctant hero to a feisty bunch of survivors, including Robert Ramsey (Kurt Russell), a former New York City mayor, and his daughter, Jenny (Emmy Rossum) and her beau, Chris (Mike Vogel); a mother-and-son pair (Jacinda Barrett and Jimmy Bennett, respectively);

A stowaway (Mia Maestro), a waiter (Freddy Rodriguez), another card shark, Lucky Larry (Kevin Dillon), and Richard Nelson (Richard Dreyfuss), a gay passenger who contemplates suicide after his lover fails to show up on board.

Petersen hardly falters when he cooks up his waterlogged, adrenaline-pumped stories. On point of action and adventure alone, the German auteur never misses a beat.

But, making a film eventful while keeping its story fresh, engaging and schmaltz-light is a tricky juggling act. Unfortunately, most of the production's protagonists don't go beyond the superficial character sketches that they are. And the suds lines they're required to deliver don't help, either.

Like the mythical cruise ship, Petersen's movie alternately sinks (from its overtly soggy melodramatic dialogue) and swims (due to its swift pacing), and is kept afloat by inspired performances (Russell, Barrett and the dashing Lucas), and by the director's ability to execute thrilling, edge-of-your-seat entertainment.

Petersen demonstrates his mastery at staging life-and-death situations. Despite its mush and bravado, however, this ship is no "Titanic." But, thrillseekers will find enough to shriek and squirm about as the film's protagonists race against time—and fight for their lives!

'Dance Fever' sets high terpsichorean standard

By Nestor U. Torre

EVERY WEEK ON "DANCE FEVER" (Sundays on ABC-5), the best young dancers in the United States compete to make it to the finals.

The weekly competitions are already top-level, so we could only imagine how tough the finals would be. Well, the final round of the dance competition did come to pass last Sunday, and it surpassed our high expectations.

Six weekly winners and one "wild card" entry competed for the $100,000 top prize. The Southern Belles came on first and came up with a "clogging" performance that had the tilt's judges raving.

Difficult and classy

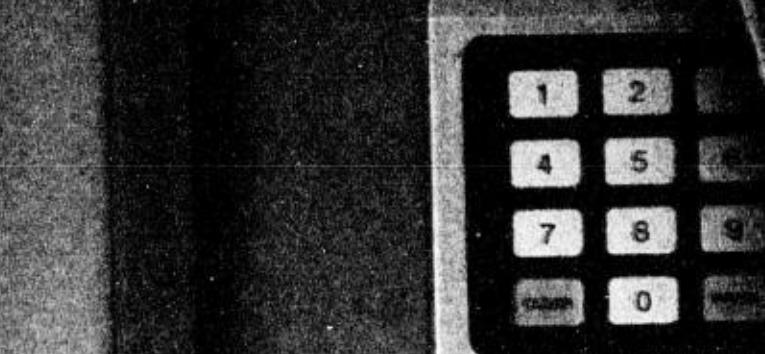

Funk & Fusion also got its share of plaudits, then Ryan and Diana did a really difficult and classy ballroom dancing number that had the judges fumbling for superlatives.

The "wild card" contestants, Jonathan and Sean, next went to town with their hip-hop number, but they were upstaged by the tilt's only solo entry, B-Boy Crumbs, who took hip-hop to an even higher level.

The last two bets, Live In Color and All That, were pretty similar (four male dancers each, doing creative variations on clogging), except the first group was black,

DANCE/A2-2

UNLOCK THE MYSTERY.

Crack the Code at Power Plant Mall and win up to P100,000 weekly with your HSBC credit card.

POWER PLANT MALL

In theaters May 2006
©2006 Columbia TriStar Marketing Group, Inc. All rights reserved.

Spend this summer with

Shopping at Power Plant Mall has never been this exciting. Every single receipt purchase using your HSBC credit card worth P1,000 or more at Power Plant Mall gives you

► 2 chances to unlock the vault. Crack the Code and share in the P100,000 prize available to shoppers every week.

► 2 chances to win in the Crack the Code raffle where you can be one of 5 to join in the P500,000 Shopping Spree at Power Plant Mall.

► Get a limited edition, Da Vinci Rubik's Cube.

Spend this summer with your HSBC credit card. If you don't have one yet, apply now and double your chances of winning. Call 885-7590 to 93 for details.

HSBC

The world's local bank

See flyers for details. Promo period is from 28 April - 31 May 2006. Per D11-NCR Permit No. A1-323. Series of 2006.

Issued by The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited

Non-HSBC cardholders may also try to Crack the Code once with every credit card receipt worth P1,000.00

Anthology compiles Dick Zamora's musical legacy

By Behn Cervantes

DICK ZAMORA'S NAME has been synonymous with the Upsilon fraternity's music since 1951. The oldest frat on the UP campus has been at the forefront of cultural innovation since 1918.

Tutelage

In the field of music, Zamora stands out. At the UP Conservatory of Music, he mastered the piano under the tutelage of National Artist for Music, Antonio Molina, no less.

As a young Upsilonian, he joined forces with adventurous fellow members, Teddy Yabut and Mart Martell, to start the tradition of original Filipino musical presentations called Cavalcades.

The creative collaboration began with "Aloyan," a story of UP students who trek to the Cordillera Mountains during a summer break. A story of cultural conflict, it was also distinguished by Zamora's ingenious use of local flavor and musical traditions.

Dick wrote music for Martell's lyrics. In turn, Teddy gave it life on stage—as performed by enthusiastic Upsilonians and their sorority sisters, the Sigma Deltans.

Social injustice

Dick and Mart collaborated to produce original cavalcades for the next decade. Among them were "Hanaka," "Linda" and "Interior #14," musicals that daringly dealt with interracial and cultural conflict and social injustice.

Certainly, these themes were audacious for our time. Among the performers were Pilita Corrales, Juno Henares, Boy Camara, Joseph Olindo and this author.

In between cavalcades, Dick composed music for movies and directed television shows. He continued to hone the fraternity's musical talents by conducting its choir in recitals, the annual Christmas caroling, and the Sigma Delta sorority's musicals.

In the early '60s, the fraternity choir participated in intercollegiate choral contests and romped off with top prizes. To be a member of the choir under Dick's strict tutelage was deemed a signal honor.

Dick's training in George Gershwin's style of music is apparent in some of his compositions. But, he also composed a serenely beautiful "Ama Namin," and fiery Spanish songs like "Que Mas?" and "Soñé," both sung by Pilita.

Sense of fun

Zamora's sense of fun is apparent in flighty numbers like "Walis ni Tenteng." Romance is at its most sentimental in "Sa Mga Pangarap, Giliw" and "Tunay na Pag-ibig."

It has been 54 years since Dick, Mart and Teddy first joined forces. But, Dick continues to collaborate with younger members of the fraternity. Recently, he composed "Could This Be Love?" to suit the emotive lyrics of Lenny de Jesus and ZAMORA. His music has endured through the decades.

Ramoncito Abad.

The duo thought it was time to put together Dick's significant musical compositions in a CD, "The Music of Dick Zamora."

Piano

Dondi Ong, Nanette Moscardon Maigue, Aileen Cura, Corrales and Camara interpreted the numbers, with Dick himself at the piano.

The choral numbers were performed by the UP Singing Ambassadors, while select fraternity members recorded the "Upsilon March" and "Walis ni Tenteng."

Zamora's music and lyrics have held up through the decades. They remain as romantic, poignant and meaningful today as they were over half a century ago!

'Dance Fever'...

From page A2-1

while the second was W.A.S.P. They were both top-level acts, so the judges had a really hard time deciding which group was better.

When the judges finally announced their decisions, Ryan and Diana won third, All That copped second place, and Live In Color romped off with the title and the hefty cash prize that went along with it.

We understood why the judges voted the way they did, but our own personal best bet was the dancing-dervish duo of Ryan and Diana. We also thought that B-Boy Crumbs should have scored higher.

In our view, the solo and duo acts had a tougher time than the four-man groups, since more is really merrier, while the smaller acts have to work much harder to generate excitement and sustain viewers' attention.

Categories

In future, therefore, the competition could come up with "smaller" and "larger" categories, or concentrate on solo or duo acts for one season.

Those quibbles aside, however, we were thrilled to catch the "Dance Fever" finals, and hail it as a great showcase for new dance talents. They more than met the tilt's challenge, and inspired

DANCE/A2-3

THE #1 MOVIE IN AMERICA!

MTRCB R-13
RATING
STRICTLY FOR 13 YEARS OF AGE AND UP.

DAHLIA The MINER The DARK NURSES The JANITOR The GREY CHILD The RED PYRAMID

SILENT HILL

3RD WEEK

AT THE CINEMAS*At the Activity Center

Reserve your tickets by texting SURESEATS GB3 or SURESEATS GA to 2333 (Globe) or 211 (Smart) Movie schedules may change without prior notice. For verification, please call 729-7777
G1 GLORIETTA 1	1 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	2 POSEIDON	3 REINCARNATION	4 POSEIDON
G4 GLORIETTA 4	1 POSEIDON	2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	3 POSEIDON
GB1 GREENBELT 1	4 SENTINEL	5 AQUAMARINE	6 POSEIDON	7 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3
GB3 GREENBELT 3	1 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	2 POSEIDON	3 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	4 POSEIDON	5 POSEIDON
ATC ALABANG TOWN CENTER	1 POSEIDON	2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	3 POSEIDON	4 AQUAMARINE	5 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3
ACC AYALA CENTER CEBU	1 POSEIDON	2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	3 POSEIDON	4 SUBMERGED
M2 MARKET! MARKET!	1 POSEIDON	2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3	3 REINCARNATION	4 POSEIDON	5 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

Customer Service text hotline: 0917 6095900
Customer Service Numbers: Glorieta - 752 7272; from 10am to 8pm
Greenbelt - 752 4853; from 11am to 12mn
Market! Market! - 866 7519

GLORIETTA

Anlene Love Your Bones Exhibit
May 13, 2006

AYALA CENTER CEBU

Fashion TV Model School
May 13, 2006

GREENBELT

Dinner Theater presents
"I LOVE YOU, YOU'RE PERFECT, NOW CHANGE"
A Repertory Philippines Production
May 9 & 16, 2006 / 8 pm / Greenbelt 2 onstage!

"IN BITUN... For The First Time" starring Ms. Bituin Escalante

Special Guest: Mr. Mon David

May 12 & 13

Ayala MUSEUM

Registration is now ongoing for Ayala Museum's Summer Art Festival Workshop 2006
For inquiries, please call 757-7117 to 21 loc 29 or visit www.ayalamuseum.org

Asia's
Nightingale

Ayala
Malls

Lani
Misalucha

A Special Concert only at Ayala Malls

Lagoon
Ayala Center Cebu
May 19, 5pm (Friday)
Customer Service Hotline:
(032) 231-5342 loc 324

Activity Center
Alabang Town Center
May 20, 6pm (Saturday)
Customer Service Hotline:
842-2782/772 1860

Glorietta Activity Center
May 21, 6pm (Sunday)
Customer Service Hotline: 752 7272

POSEIDON.

RESERVE YOUR SEAT BY TEXTING GB3 TO 2333 (Globe) or 211 (Smart)

Or log on to www.sureseats.com for web reservation

For screening schedule, pls. call 729-7777

NOW SHOWING at all Ayala Malls CINEMAS!

MTRCB Rating: PG-13

www.poseidon-asia.com

WARNER BROS. PICTURES

SATURDAY,
MAY 13, 2006SATURDAY Special

A2-3

A heart for photography

DR. ALISA P. BERNAN WAS WITH US in the Batanes Photo Safari, with her pal, Dr. Monserrat Velasquez. She belongs to a Muslim political clan—the Pendatuns—in Maguindanao.

After her family relocated to Davao from war-torn Cotabato, she thought of taking up Agriculture to tend to her father's farm.

Degree

Instead, her mom sent her to Manila to take up Medical Technology at FEU. She went back to Davao to get a degree in Medicine. After witnessing patients being revived after cardiac arrest, she decided to pursue cardiology.

Mandy Navasero

According to Dr. Bernan, training for her fellowship at the Philippine Heart Center was grueling. Whenever she was assigned to the ER, she would take a heavy breakfast, because it could be her last meal for the day due to the volume of patients. The heavy workload almost made her quit. Looking back, she's glad she didn't!

Friends

To decompress, she and her friends go camping, scuba diving, trekking and river-crossing. She's always on the lookout for adventure.

Recently, Alisa rediscovered photography. She got her first camera at age 12. Ten years ago, she bought her own SLR, plus books on photography. The Batanes trip showed her knack for her new hobby.

BERNAN. Got her first camera at age 12.

Perfection

From page A2-4

other living entities. There are wives who refuse to shut up, husbands who don't know how to be selfless, or politicians who steal.

Living entities

When things become so messy, some people want to destroy everyone and everything around them by saying, "I try to make the world perfect, but living entities get in the way. So, I get rid of them."

But, even if he blows up every living creature around him, it's his own body that causes him trouble. As his body gets older, he suffers more from illnesses. And even when he's healthy, it's his mind that disturbs him.

We don't live in complete comfort. But, we should cultivate our need for the Perfectly Lovable Being.

Discomfort

When wise sages experience discomfort, the experience reminds them of their real home. The discomfort is a confirmation that their reality is not in the material world.

The solution is not to create a perfect world, but to cultivate our love for the Supreme Person. Pushing for perfection doesn't work. Once we accept this, we won't be hitting our heads against the wall. And frustration or anguish will no longer exist.

'Dance' . . .

From page A2-2

viewers because they set a high terpsichorean standard for subsequent seasons of the show to measure up to.

Amateurish

We couldn't help comparing the US competition to some amateurish, lazy and uncreative dance tilts held here, and we hope that "Dance Fever" will either inspire to shame their local counterparts to get their acts together.

Filipinos are potentially great dancers, and deserve a really challenging dance tilt to bring out the best in them.

'United 93' moves filmfest
audience

NEW YORK—The first few hours of the Sept. 11 attacks have been imagined and replayed countless ways in the minds of many. But, for the first time, a movie of that nightmare premiered on the big screen.

"United 93," the first feature film to dramatize the Sept. 11, 2001 story, opened the Tribeca Film Festival recently.

Vision

"The vision is something we see in our heads everyday," said Jan Snyder, whose daughter Christine was on the flight. "It's time for this. The public needs to remember, they need to know what the families have gone through."

The 90-minute movie takes place in real time, and portrays the gripping story of the flight that left Newark, New Jersey, and crashed in a Pennsylvania field after passengers rallied against their hijackers and tried to regain control of the jet.

At the premiere, the screen went dark after the stomach-turning sequence showing the plane's nosedive. The theater was silent except for the gut-wrenching sobs and wails from the loge, where the relatives were seated together. AP

From the nation's No. 1 Newspaper: INQUIRER

Read it every Sunday with the Philippine Daily Inquirer.

JOB Market

ARANETA CENTER

Gateway MALL Farmers Plaza

Celebrate Mother's Day at Araneta Center

Shop For Her
Gateway • Ali Mall • Farmers Plaza

Treat Her To Dinner
Over 50 world-class restaurants around the Center

Take Her To A Concert Or The Movies
Paul Anka on May 14 & 15 at the Araneta Coliseum

MI:3, Poseidon & other blockbusters at Gateway Cineplex 10 & Ali Mall Cinemas

For ticket inquiries, please call TicketNet at 911-5555 or log on to www.ticketnet.com.ph

THE ONLY CINEPLEX IN THE COUNTRY Gateway Cineplex 10 FULL STADIUM SEATING

POSEIDON 12:05 / 12:40 / 1:15 / 2:25 / 3:00 3:35 / 4:45 / 5:20 / 5:55 / 7:05 7:40 / 8:15 / 9:25 / 10:00	AQUAMARINE 7:15 / 9:30	REINCARNATION 12:10 / 2:30 / 4:50 / 7:10 / 9:20	GLOBE PLATINUM CINEMA
THE WILD 1:00 / 3:00 / 5:00	MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3 12:40 / 1:20 / 2:00 / 3:20 4:00 / 4:40 / 6:00 / 6:40 7:20 / 8:40 / 9:20 / 10:00	POSEIDON 1:50 / 4:10 / 6:30 / 8:50	ONLY PI20 ADMISSION LOBE PLATINUM PI249/P299
DOLBY DIGITAL EX	SILENT HILL 1:40 / 4:20 / 7:00 / 9:40

4MALL CINEMAS

1 POSEIDON 12:10 / 2:15 / 4:20 / 6:25 / 8:30	2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3 12:25 / 3:05 / 5:45 / 8:25	3 AQUAMARINE 12:05 / 8:3 / 1:35 / 3:50 / 6:05 / 8:20
4 APOY SA DIBDIB NG SAMAR 12:00 R2 / 1:50 / 4:00 / 6:10 / 8:20	5 SLITHER 12:15 / 2:20 / 4:25 / 6:30 / 8:35	DOLBY DIGITAL SDDS

LOG ON TO WWW.ARANETACENTER.NET FOR MORE DETAILS OR TO SUBSCRIBE TO OUR WEEKLY E-MAIL ENTERTAINMENT UPDATES

ROBINSONS MOVIEWORLD CINEMAS MOVIE GUIDECINEMA ACCESS*635-5555

FOR ALL BRANCHES

www.robinsonsmovieworld.com

MOVIES/SCHEDULES/PRICES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT PRIOR NOTICE

GALLERIA

632-0116

1 POSEIDON • THX

12:40 3:00 5:20 7:40 10:00

6 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

12:40 3:00 5:20 7:40 10:00

2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

11:00 1:45 4:30 7:15 10:00

7 AQUAMARINE

12:10 2:35 5:00 7:25 9:50

3 REINCARNATION

1:10 3:20 5:30 7:40 9:50

8 SILENT HILL

2:00 4:40 7:20

4 POSEIDON

11:40 2:00 4:20 6:40 9:00

9 APOY SA DIBDIB NG SAMAR

1:00 3:15 5:30 7:45 10:00

5 POSEIDON

12:10 2:30 4:50 7:10 9:30

10 SLITHER

1:00 3:15 5:30 7:45 10:00

ERMITA

636-7809 to 12

1 POSEIDON

11:00 1:10 3:20 5:30 7:40 10:00

2 SLITHER

12:30 2:50 5:10 7:30 10:00

3 SILENT HILL

12:30 2:50 5:10 7:30 9:50

4 APOY SA DIBDIB NG SAMAR

12:30 2:50 5:10 7:30 9:50

5 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

12:30 2:50 5:10 7:30 9:50

METRO EAST

682-8193 • 682-8199

1 SLITHER

1:30 4:30 6:10 9:00

2 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

11:20 1:50 4:20 6:50 9:15

3 SUBMERGED

1:00 1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:10

4 AQUAMARINE

1:25 3:35 5:45 8:00

5 SILENT HILL

1:30 4:30 6:10 9:00

6 REINCARNATION

1:25 3:35 5:45 8:00

935-3231 / 935-3229-30

CITISQUARE MALABON288-2575 PIONEER

687-5378

1 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

2 POSEIDON

12:10 2:10 4:10 6:10 8:10

3 RESERVE

1:00 1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:10

4 RESERVE

1:25 3:35 5:45 8:00

STA. ROSA

(049)

837-0807

1 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

2 POSEIDON

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

3 MURDER

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

4 SLITHER

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

5 TIGER BLADE

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

DASMARINAS

(046)

416-4332

1 POSEIDON

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

2 SUBMERGED

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

3 FINAL DESTINATION 3

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

4 MISSION IMPOSSIBLE 3

1:00 3:00 5:00 7:00 9:00

IMUS

Charming tweens' tale

By Noelani Torre

THREE AREN'T that many movies out there for the girls-who-are-not-quite-teens-yet set (also known as preteens and tweens). Those that are out there invariably feature Hilary Duff (need we say more?). This is why, fluffy and predictable though it may be, the made-for-tweens movie, "Aquamarine," is worth a second look.

Best friends

Directed by Elizabeth Allen, "Aquamarine" stars Emma Roberts, Joanna "JoJo" Levesque and Sara Paxton. Set in a small Florida town (but shot in Australia), it tells the tale of best friends, Claire (Roberts) and Hailey (Levesque), who are days away from being separated from each other, because the latter is about to move to Australia.

In between moaning about their eventual separation, they swoon over cute lifeguard, Raymond (Jake McDorman) and try to hold their unfashionable, pre-pubescent own against the fashionable trio led by self-proclaimed town princess, Cecilia (Arielle Kebbel).

ROBERTS, PAXTON AND LEVESQUE. Team up to prove that love exists in Elizabeth Allen's comedy fantasy.

They jokingly say a prayer to the powers that be, and it's answered—in the form of one blonde, self-assured mermaid, who washes into Claire's swimming pool during a storm.

Aquamarine (Paxton) is bubbly and beautiful. She's escaping from an arranged marriage and must find love in three days' time before her father (the king of the ocean, no less) pulls her back into the deep.

Voice

Luckily for her, she gets to have legs without giving up her voice ala "The Little Mermaid," but only during the day and only if she keeps them completely dry.

She sets her sights on Raymond and enlists the help of Claire and Hailey in exchange for a wish. Deciding that friendship is more important than a cute lifeguard, they agree, and the usual fish-out-of-water scenario follows.

As mentioned, the plot is predictable, but it doesn't really take itself seriously. The two leads are refreshing and believable.

Roberts bears a resemblance to her famous aunt (yes, that Roberts). She is sweet as the sensitive Claire. For her part, pop star JoJo is also charming.

Makeover sessions

Scenes of shopping expeditions, makeover sessions, and marathon magazine readings may make you cringe, but they're staple fare for your average middle-class 13-year-old girl. In the end, the quest for love takes the back seat to friendship.

It sounds corny—and they do overstate it a bit so that it becomes somewhat didactic—but, it's commendable nonetheless.

Besides, you're allowed to be corny, bubbly and giggly when you're a tween: Just because you're too cute for words doesn't mean you can't be real!

Perfection

THIS WORLD IS NOT MEANT to be a place of perfect comfort.

First of all, in this material world, we suffer from natural disasters such as typhoons and earthquakes. We can't prevent them. Second, we are constantly exposed to sufferings inflicted by

PERFECTION/A2-3

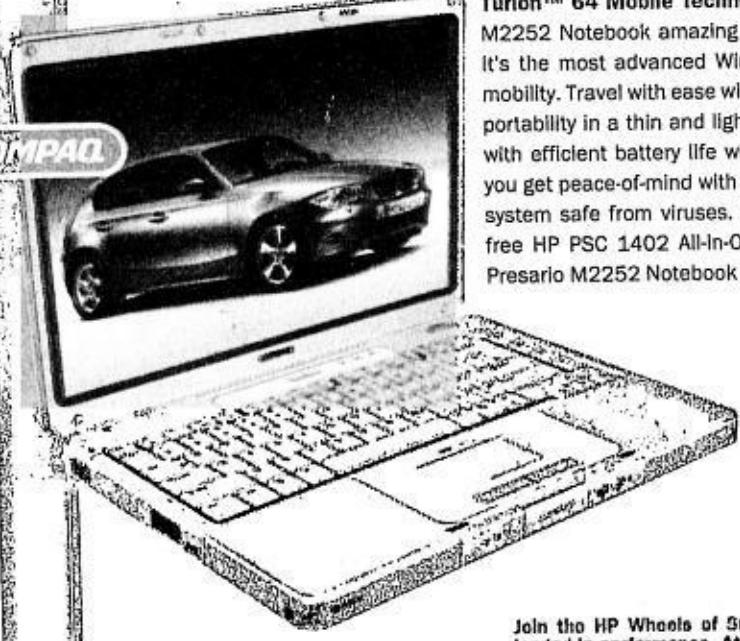

LOTUS POND

R. Valencia
and S. Bismarck

Thin, light and heavy on performance.

The Compaq Presario M2252 Notebook is powered by the AMD Turion™ 64 Mobile Technology. It gives sleek notebooks like the M2252 Notebook amazing speed when it comes to work or play. It's the most advanced Windows® Compatible chip designed for mobility. Travel with ease with performance-to-go without sacrificing portability in a thin and light package. Get more done on the road with efficient battery life with AMD PowerNow™ Technology. Plus you get peace-of-mind with Enhanced Virus Protection to keep your system safe from viruses. And for a limited time*, only, receive a free HP PSC 1402 All-In-One for every purchase of the Compaq Presario M2252 Notebook from participating resellers~.

Join the HP Wheels of Summer promotion and get a chance to get loaded in performance. At stake, the exciting BMW 1-Series for every purchase of the featured Compaq Presario Notebooks. See flyer and posters for details. Promotion runs from April 24 to June 25, 2006.

Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 0790, Series of 2006.

Compaq Presario M2252 Notebook

- AMD Turion™ 64 Mobile Technology ML-32
- Genuine Windows® XP Home
- 512MB Memory
- 80GB HDD
- 381mm (15.0") XGA
- DVD+/-RW Dual Format, Double Layer
- 802.11 b/g
- 6-in-1 media card reader
- 1 year limited warranty
- Carrying case

P79,950

FREE HP PSC 1402 All-In-One

*Promotion period runs from April 29 - May 14, 2006.

Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 2539, Series of 2006.

Compaq recommends Windows® XP Professional

BUY NOW!

Call (632) 867-3557, or Toll-free 1-800-1441-6688

Click www.hp.com.ph

Visit Your Local Retailer

COMPAQ

HP recommends Microsoft® Windows® XP Professional.

Get more, do more, and enjoy more with the new HP Pavilion a1349d Desktop PC featuring the latest Intel® Pentium® D Processor with Dual-Core Processing. Two full processing cores mean an extra powerful PC when you need it. Accomplish more while running multiple demanding programs, such as editing video while downloading music or playing one of the 30 pre-loaded games. So hurry and bring this HP Pavilion Desktop PC home and experience new ways to use your family PC.

P 59,990.00 | HP Pavilion w5260d Desktop PC

- Intel® Pentium® 4 Processor 519K* (1MB L2 Cache, 3.06GHz, 533MHz FSB)
- Genuine Microsoft® Windows® XP Home Edition
- Intel® 915P Chipset
- 256MB DDR
- 160 GB Serial ATA hard drive at 7200RPM
- Lightscribe Double layer DVD+/-RW
- ATI Radeon X300SE 128MB Graphics Card
- Integrated stereo sound system Dolby 7.1 Surround Sound Ready
- 9-in-1 Digital Media Reader
- ITU V.90 K56 Flex Modem
- HP De Luxe Multi-media Keyboard and Mouse
- 43.18cm (17") LCD Monitor
- 1 year limited warranty

P 45,990.00 | HP Pavilion a1360d Desktop PC

- Intel® Pentium® 4 Processor 524 with HT Technology* (1MB L2 Cache, 3.06GHz, 533MHz FSB)
- Genuine Microsoft® Windows® XP Home Edition
- 256MB DDR
- 80.0 GB Ultra DMA hard drive at 7200RPM
- CD/DVD Combo Drive
- Integrated stereo sound system Dolby 7.1 Surround Sound Ready
- 9-in-1 Digital Media Reader
- ITU V.90 K56 Flex Modem
- Integrated 10/100 Base network interface (Broadband Ready)
- HP De Luxe Multi-media Keyboard and Mouse
- 43.18cm (17") 17" Flat Screen CRT Monitor
- 1 year limited warranty

Double multiply THE POWER, THE FUN!

Star FeaturesTM

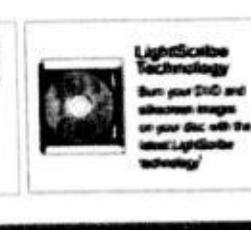

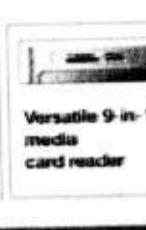

- 43.18cm (17") LCD Display
- FREE 2 blank Lightscribe CD-R media
- Wireless Multimedia Internet Mouse and Keyboard
- 7.1 Surround sound ready

P 66,990.00 | HP Pavilion a1349d Desktop PC

- Intel® Pentium® D Processor 820 with Dual-Core Processing* (2 x 1MB L2 Cache, 2.80GHz, 800MHz FSB)
- Genuine Microsoft® Windows® XP Home Edition
- 512MB DDR2 (expandable up to 2.0 GB with discard)
- 160GB Serial ATA hard drive at 7200RPM
- SuperMulti Drive with Lightscribe Technology, Double Layer DVD+/-RW
- Integrated High Definition Audio, 7.1 Surround Sound Ready
- 9-in-1 Digital Media Reader
- ITU V.90 K56 flex modem
- Integrated 10/100 Base network interface
- Integrated ATI Radeon Xpress 200 Hypermemory Graphics
- 30 Trial Games with Free 60 minutes of play*
- 1 year limited warranty with up-and-running phone support for first 30 days

Upgrade your viewing experience on these desktop monitors:
HP 18.1cm (15") LCD Monitor* P6300 or
HP 18.1cm (15") LCD Monitor* P6300
HP 18.1cm (15") LCD Monitor* P6300
HP 18.1cm (15") LCD Monitor* P6300

Participating Reseller: HP Branded Stores - HP Home and Business Center (Glorietta) 752-8821, HP Store - DLSU Taft 536-3245, HP Store - Ortigas Computer Depot 636-7589; HP Store - Cebu (032) 346-2962, 232-4546; HP Pavilion Reseller - Accent Micro/PC Live 771-0779, 633-1722, Complink/E-Hub 637-3988, 637-4444-45; Electroworld 812-3868, 927-9525; PCWorld 725-1819, Octagon 635-9080, 867-1705; The Computer Authority 633-1594, 810-5090

Trial version of game. 60 minutes of play time per game. Full version available for purchase. *Star Features are only available on HP Pavilion a1349d Desktop PC, Image with Grand Canyon chassis for HP Pavilion w5260d Desktop PC only. Only available on HP Pavilion w5260d Desktop PC and HP Pavilion a1349d Desktop PC.

SATURDAY Special

Celebrities as doting moms

By Jocelyn Valle

AS THREE OF LOCAL SHOW BIZ' BRIGHTEST stars, Carmina Villaroel, Zsa Zsa Padilla and Ruffa Gutierrez are accorded special treatment in show biz functions. But, at home, they take the back seat to the real stars in their hearts: Their kids.

Carmina Villaroel admits to feeling guilty whenever she leaves her five-year-old twins, Maverick and Cassandra, at home to work. "I am constantly on the phone with them. I am a hands-on mom," she explains.

Busy schedule

Despite her busy TV schedule for "Sis," "Nuts Entertainment," "Majika" and "Day-off," she makes it a point to spend quality time with her kids. "We all sleep in one bed. We watch TV or movies together. My daughter likes to read and loves her 'Princess' books."

Are the twins aware that their parents are show biz personalities? "Hindi nila alam ang concept ng pagiging artista," replies Carmina. "Noong bata ako, ganoon din ako. Exposed na-man sila sa trabaho namin ni Zoren (Legaspi) because he visits me on the set with the kids."

Zsa Zsa Padilla, meanwhile, shares that her children, Karylle, Nicole and Zia, have been accustomed to her hectic schedule as a performer. "So, I don't hear them complain that I don't spend time with them," she points out.

Daughters

That doesn't mean, though, that mother and daughters don't miss one another. They look forward to watching movies together and dining out. They also go on vacations every year.

Zsa Zsa, who plays the biological mother of Sarah Geronimo on ABS-CBN's "Bituing Walang Ningning," enthuses that raising three girls isn't so difficult. "They have different personalities—but, they all know what they want," she observes.

"I'm lucky that their eldest sister, Karylle, is such a good role model. She started singing at 18, but she was able to finish college at the Ateneo. My middle child, Nicole, wants to take up a business course, and Zia wants to be in show business. I find no need to have a son."

I'm so lucky to have been blessed with three wonderful, intelligent children."

Ruffa Gutierrez has two daughters, Lorin and Venice. "I love being mom to energetic toddlers!" she beams.

Bedtime stories

The jetsetting mother and her half-Turkish daughters find joy in simple activities like reading bedtime stories or singing nursery rhymes.

When asked if she'd want her girls to become beauty queens and actresses like her, Ruffa gives a cautious response: "I would encourage them to follow their dreams, be God-fearing individuals and finish their studies."

"I'm proud of everything that I have accomplished, but if you aren't made of sterner stuff, it isn't easy to deal with the intrigues of the film industry!"

VILLAROEL (WITH TWINS, CASSANDRA AND MAVERICK, RIGHT). Quality time.

For more details please call/text
SALVE - 0917-411014 / 826-2819
Alice - 829-9600 / 826-2900 / 0927-5542951
Eder - 829-4527 / 0916-3400504

NVC's 'Aspects of Love' acclaimed in Singapore

By Rito P. Asilo

STAGING A MUSICAL IS NEVER AN easy task. We should know: In the past year alone, we were part of the creative teams of two newly-minted but otherwise hugely successful original Filipino musicals, "Pag-ibig sa Bayan" and "Birhen ng Caysasan". Logistical issues pile up further when these productions take wings and are toured around the country.

Stakes

The stakes are even higher if you bring shows abroad. In New Voice's case, the Andrew Lloyd Webber's musical, "Aspects of Love," with a 28-man production team, to theater-savvy Singapore, which sees touring productions from the West End and Broadway all the time.

Following five previous full-house runs of the controversial "The Vagina Monologues" in the prosperous city-state, the New Voice Company want-

WILSON.
Remarkable emotional depth and polished voice.

CARICATURE BY LA MISTADES

Hmmm...
Want a FREE Hair Rebond or Color?

CALL:
426-4567

TEXT:
0922-8-YSTILO

YSTILO
SALON Schwarzkopf
"We Keep You in Style"

SM CITY BUTUAN • SM CITY SAN JOSE • SM CITY DASMARIENAS • TAYTACAN MALL ALABANG BERKELEY SQUARE • COMERICA MALL • ROBINSONS PLACE UP • SOUTH SUPERMARKET • VALENZUELA NEPTUNE CITY • PARADISE CITY • GREENHILLS • VITO CRUZ, MAKATI • B.F. HOMES PARANAQUE • BAclaran PARANAQUE • ANTIPOL, RIZAL WILSON, GREENHILLS • MALOLOS BULACAN • BALUNG, BULACAN • TANJUNAN, BATANGAS • STA. CRUZ, LAGUNA LEGAZPI, ALBAY • DUMAGUETE CITY • METRO TOWN MALL, TARLAC CITY • ANGELES CITY, PAMPANGA SOON TO OPEN SM MALL OF ASIA

MOISSANITE JEWELLERY

Let your gratitude sparkle & shine.
For the most important woman in our lives,

Happy Mother's Day!

MOISSANITE
Created by CHARLES & COLVARD®

2F Glorietta 1, Ayala Center, Makati City Tel 893.0521 | 893.2578 • Lower Ground Floor Main Bldg., SM City North Edsa, Quezon City Tel 926.1961 to 62 • 3F SM Megamall Bldg A, Mandaluyong City Tel 637.0490 • SM City Davao Tel 082.297.2069 • 2F Agustín Bldg, Emerald Ave., Ortigas Center, Pasig City Tel 631.1615 | 633.4625 Fax 631.1616 • www.moissaniteph.com

MSA Summer Programs 2006

Entrance Tests and SAT Review	Academic Advancement Programs	WHIZ KIDS ACADEMY Pre-School Programs	Professional Review
for schools like UP UST ATENEO De La SALLE Phil. Science H.S. and universities abroad like SMU Singapore Management Univ. NUS National Univ. of Singapore	GRADE SCHOOL • English • Reading • Math • Science HIGH SCHOOL • English • Science Algebra • Trigo • Geometry COLLEGE • Algebra • Trigo • Calculus MSA Mental Math	Play Camp Math Clinic Reading Clinic Skilled Readers Phonics Factory Penmanship	CSEE CESO Civil Service MATB CEOE LET TSE IELTS TOEFL GMAT
Register now!!! 315 Kalipunan Avenue, Loyola Heights, Quezon City G/F Prince David Condo, Kalipunan Ave., Loyola Hts.	925-7544 • 929-9145 435-6062 • 925-4602	925-7544 • 929-9145 435-6062 • 925-4602	925-7544 • 929-9145 435-6062 • 925-4602
Makati 101 Esteban cor. Dela Rosa, Legazpi Village 815-1307 813-0943 Alabang G/F South Center Tower, Madrigal Business Park 850-6550 850-6551	SM Fairview #17 Brown Street, Teresa Heights 935-0011 935-0012 417-4469 938-8134	Novaliches #17 Brown Street, Teresa Heights 646-8243 Cainta Vista Verde Imelda Avenue Antipolo 24 Iwan Street, Filinvest Homes East Marcos Highway (032) 255-2191 Cebu Rvergate Complex 49-A Maxton Ave. 255-2193	925-7544 • 929-9145 435-6062 • 925-4602

SM Advantage exclusive

carrymats only P299.90 each versatile comfort on the beach, while camping or at home when you present your SM Advantage Card with a minimum P500 purchase of YELLOW TAG items at SM Supermarket.

now until May 31, 2006
Regular price for non-members P599.75
Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 1559, Series of 2006.

BDO Rewards Cardholders also enjoy this special privilege!

SM Advantage
BB 8880 8880 7899 2015
PAMELA R. GARCIA
10/2007

SM PERMART • SUPERMARKET

Check the Lifestyle Section every other week for the latest in SM Advantage promos and highlights.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

SATURDAY Special

A3

Room at the top for Elijah Castillo

By Nestor U. Torre

RIIGHT AFTER WE WROTE ABOUT Elijah Castillo last April 29, we got the great news that the title role player of Doy del Mundo's digital feature, "Pepot Artista" had won the best actor award in the recently-concluded Singapore Film Festival.

It's a signal honor not just for the talented child actor but also for all Filipino film people, so we thank Elijah for giving us a psychic boost just when we need it most.

Winsome portrayal

We aren't surprised that the Singapore filmfest judges were disarmed by Elijah's winsome portrayal of Pepot, the filmstruck kid whose dream of show biz stardom keeps getting comically frustrated in the course of Del Mundo's delightful and perceptive movie (which won the best picture award at last year's Cinemalaya competition).

Elijah's best suit as a young performer is his natural acting style. Coupled with his genuine goodness as a person, his precocious thespic talent and his total lack of conceit and porma, this positive trait infuses his stage and film portrayals with truth and empathy.

We know whereof we speak, because we've directed young Elijah in major roles in two stage musicals—"Birhen ng Caysasay" at the CCP, and "Pag-Ibig sa Bayan" at Meralco Theater.

In both instances, Elijah impressed viewers with his felt performances, which were exceptionally textured and insightful for someone so young.

Granted, at the start of rehearsals, he had a difficult time performing in a stage musical, not because he wasn't a good actor, but because he was used to acting for the movie camera, so his portrayal was too "small" for the musical stage.

More intense emotions

Soon, however, Elijah understood the differing thespic requirements of the cinema and theater, and was able to summon up the more intense emotions and "larger" performance style that were better suited to musical theater.

This ability to adjust his thespic "attack" is a testament to Elijah's open-mindedness and trust in his director, traits that other young actors would do well to similarly acquire.

Hardworking and gifted

Now that Elijah is an international acting awardee, we trust that mainstream producers here will finally take notice of him, and cast him in their TV shows and movies. They won't be sorry, because he's one of the most hardworking and gifted young actors around.

Elijah's victory in Singapore is the latest feather in the 2005 Cinemalaya festival's cap. Most of the international awards have gone to "Ang Pagdadalaga ni Maximo Oliveros," but now it's the turn of "Pepot Artista" to do us proud.

Congratulations and thanks to Doy and his talented cast and crew!

CASTILLO. Natural actor.

CARICATURE BY STEPH BRAVO

Wyeth

MOTHERS ARE THE BEST

The instinctive nature of mothering comes to the fore many times throughout a child's life, particularly when it is needed most. A mother knows what her child needs and hastens to give it to him even before he asks. And when mother gives her best to her child, she gives him one of the greatest gifts she can give—just like Mrs. Gwendolyn Carino, mother of accelerated child Sabine Carino.

Mrs. Carino is a prime example of a mother able to play a multitude of roles, giving all of herself in order to let her child feel that the best care is given him all the time.²

A mother is a constant teacher, who continually helps her child learn. From his earliest days, even while in the womb, a child forms his perceptions and understanding of the world according to those of his mother. By her words and actions a mother sets the stage.³ Jose Rizal recounted in several of his writings how much he owed his mother, his first teacher. "The education that I received since my earliest infancy was perhaps what has shaped my habits."⁴

A mother is a child's first source of tender love. Love is the most vital emotion for a child, particularly in his formative years, and his mother is its foundation.⁵ A mother's love is what enables her to bear the pain of childbirth, to spend sleepless nights caring for her children, and put their needs above her own.

A mother is a wellspring of emotional support. In the role of her child's "first cheerleader," she encourages him in his various activities, and lets him know how proud of him she is. Mothers rejoice in the achievements of their children. And well they should, for these achievements are the fruit of their very best care. As the proud mother of an accelerated child, Mrs. Carino discloses: "I love Sabine very much and I see to it that I do everything to help her become the best that she can be. That is why it is important that she gets the best—the best nutrition and the best environment for her to grow up in. And I am so proud that she is growing to be a very good daughter and a thoughtful friend. I am very happy to see her excel in her studies." Mothers are unique, special and irreplaceable.⁶ It is because of them and what they go through that we enjoy the best care and love. "All that we are and all that we can be, we owe to our mothers," says Abraham Lincoln. Sabine Carino agrees: "My mommy helps me do well in school. Thank you, mommy!"

To all mothers, Happy Mother's Day! You're the best!

From your kiss, to your embrace.
From wiping my tears, to putting a smile on my face.
From staying at my side every night and day.
To supporting me every step of the way.

For always giving me your best,
thank you Mommy!

Sabine Carino,
Skipped Nursery
Progress User for 2 years
Accelerated!

Gwendolyn Carino
Sabine's mom

Happy Mother's Day
from Progress
Gold
From 1 year onwards

Progress GOLD

¹<http://EzineArticles.com>²<http://www.embracedbyheight.com/mothers/tribute1.htm>. Badie, Betty. Celebrating Motherhood. 2004. Ibid.

³<http://www.geocities.com/sinupan/AlonzoT.htm>
⁴<http://www.ralicotaza.com/Mother'sDay.htm> Ibid.

A3-4 SATURDAY Special

Confessions of a first-time mom

By Tintin P. Bersola-Babao

ON MOTHER'S DAY, THERE ARE countless stories written about moms. Well, I'm a first time mother. I gave birth to Antonia Sofia Julia on Feb. 26, 2005. She weighed nearly eight pounds, so I had a difficult time giving birth.

But, it's true what mothers say: Once the baby comes out, the unbearable birthing pains magically disappear, as if labor didn't happen.

Such is the miracle of childbirth!

Well, Antonia is a year and two months old now, and it's amazing how so many milestones can be achieved in so short a time. My favorites are:

1) Breastfeeding: I breastfed Antonia for eight months. According to the World Health Organization, infants must be breastfed for at least six months.

Milk supply

On hindsight, I should have pushed myself harder and breastfed longer. When my milk supply was dwindling, I called Dr. Elvira L. Henares-Esguerra and Nona D. Andaya-Castillo. Their profound advice, patience, prayers and support were such a big help to me when I was desperate to continue breastfeeding, yet my milk supply could no longer keep up with Antonia's growing demands.

Another confession: when I introduced the bottle and formula to Antonia, I felt jealous of the bottle!

Rivalry

Yes, I felt some sort of rivalry between me and the bottle which no longer contained my pumped breastmilk. I did not even want to hold the bottle because it no longer had my milk in it. I felt that the bottle was competing with me! That's how jealous I got. But now that Antonia is more than a year old, I've come to terms with the fact that not all mothers can breastfeed forever.

But when I breastfed my baby, I felt it was the best way to show a mother's purest love.

Let me also tell you how sorely I miss waking up every two hours in the middle of the night to offer my breasts to Antonia so she could feed on demand.

Never mind if I had sore nipples at first, or if I would get dizzy because I was sleep-deprived.

Breast pump

After I went back to work hosting "Magandang Umaga Pilipinas," during commercial breaks, I'd proceed to the TINTIN AND ANTONIA. Good mothers make better daughters.

make-up room where I would express milk, then use my reliable electric breast pump to collect it to bring home to my baby after the show.

Sometimes I'd bring Antonia with me to the studio. I would breastfeed her in the make-up room.

In restaurants, I'd just wear a bib or drape a shawl over my shoulder in order to be discreet. I dropped my inhibitions and had no qualms about breastfeeding in public. I realized that there is nothing to be ashamed of. And the public should accept it as a natural part of motherhood.

Skating rink

Good news to all breastfeeding moms: The first in-mall breastfeeding station has opened at the basement foodcourt area of Megamall Building A, near the skating rink. Hurray!

I continue sharing what I know with new mothers in my workplace. They have a common problem: the work schedule is so toxic that they can no longer keep up. I give them articles on breastfeeding, and the contact numbers of breastfeeding support groups. (Call Dr. Andaya-Castillo at 271-0954 and 444-4716 or cell no. 0919-839555.)

By the way, Antonia is a brown rice baby. I also don't give her anything with white sugar.

Other milestones

Other "mothering" milestones:
2) I was there the first time Antonia rolled over.

3) I was there when she took her first steps. I recorded that moment on video.

4) Her other milestones are well-documented: her first teeth, her first set of clothes or "onesies."

5) I have a journal wherein I write down the dates and notes of her many milestones—like the first word she uttered: "Mama." She was looking directly into my eyes from across the dining room when she uttered the word. How can a mother forget a moment like that?

6) The first and so far the only time Antonia fell—from the diaper changing table, landing, thankfully, on a thick rug. Everything happened so fast—I could not forgive myself—I was screaming for help and Antonia cried—not because she was in pain, but because she panicked upon hearing me scream.

At the hospital, Dr. Alma Enriquez assured me that Antonia was safe. It was a warning to me, never to be careless again. But, I also believe that babies do have angels who watch over them!

Challenges

These are just some of the trials, happy times and challenges I've experienced—and to think that this is just my first year as a mother! God help me, please, as I face the other challenges of motherhood in the years to come! With my loving and ever so patient, understanding and responsible husband, Julius, who is a doting daddy to Antonia, I know I will survive.

On Mother's Day, tomorrow, I also pay tribute to my own Mommy Ching. Mama, thank you for bringing me into this world, and for being so patient and generous. I will forever be grateful to you for all of your sacrifices.

We may not agree on some things, but we respect and love each other!

Thank you for bringing me up this way—with an independent mind. Thank you for all the values you taught me. I've learned to be prayerful because of you.

I love and appreciate you even more now that I, too, am a mother. It's true what they say: We become better daughters once we become mothers ourselves!

'Child of Our Time' on Hallmark

ON MAY 28 AT 7:55 PM., THE HALLMARK CHANNEL starts screening "Child of Our Time," a series that follows the lives of 25 babies in Britain born in the year 2000. In the 2004 series, the babies are now three-year-olds gearing up for

Montage

The three-part documentary explores a variety of child development issues in a "nature vs. nurture" perspective, as charted by doctor and fertility expert, Lord Robert Winston.

The first episode, "Zero to Hero," shows how, at a young age, children may be capable of mapping their personalities to delineate the popular kid from the loner. "Read My Lips," the second episode, focuses on effective communication. And the final episode, "The Making of Me," zeroes in on self-esteem.

Prior to May 28, Hallmark will screen earlier episodes in the series (from year 2000) on Sundays at 7:55 p.m.

Mellow 94.7

The new Mellow 94.7 provides welcome escape from the stresses of everyday life. It's always soothing to come home and listen to lovely sounds, or go about your work at the office to soft, calming music.

Mellow 94.7 provides the perfect blend of music and information. No matter what genre of music you're in the mood for, whether it's pop rock or R&B, if it's mellow, 94.7 has it, 24/7. Savor your mellow side!

Array's Technology Inc.

Array's Technology Inc., a leading cinema systems integrator, recently sponsored a seminar presentation on cutting-edge digital cinema technologies at the Crowne Plaza Hotel. The event tackled a complete filmmaking concept that could give the troubled Filipino movie industry a much-needed shot in the arm.

This will modernize and cut costs in the production, post-production and distribution phases of the film business.

In the process, piracy could be eradicated, as digital information is encrypted, making unauthorized duplication virtually impossible.

LORD ROBERT WINSTON. Host of three-part documentary.

Array's Technology Inc. has designed, supplied, installed and maintained equipment in over 350 cinemas across the country. For more information, log on to www.array.com.ph.

Makuh Ka sa Tikim'

Knorr's "Makuh Ka sa Tikim" (Channel 2, Saturday at 10:30 a.m.) today cooks up a seafood luau in Boracay for its third monthly finals. Eula Valdez, Cherry Pie Picache and Eugene Domingo host the cooking show.

Summer Music Blast

Winston's Summer Music Blast hits Cocomangas in Boracay for the second time tonight, with Bamboo and Sugar-free performing. Open only to rock enthusiasts who are at least 18 years old.

Bituin Escalante

OnStage at Greenbelt 1 is the venue for Bituin Escalante's first major concert tonight, with Mon David as special guest performer. Beneficiary is the Sagip-Buhay Medical Foundation. Call 891-9999 or 426-0103.

Barbie Almalbis

On May 19, it's Barbie Almalbis' turn to rock the Araneta Coliseum with her own solo concert. Guests are Kitchie Nadal, Ney Dimaculangan and Rockstedy. Call 9111-5555.

'Upan'

At 6:30 p.m. on May 25 at the Metropolitan Museum of Manila, the "Upan" exhibit will be opened. The exhibit showcases Philippine seating arrangements during the American colonial period. A pre-opening Curators' Forum will be held at 4 p.m.

Movies on TV

On HBO, May 13 at 7:30 p.m., "Shrek 2." May 14 at 9:30 p.m., "Exorcist: The Beginning." May 15 at 10 a.m., "Any Which Way You Can." May 16 at 1:30 p.m., "Husbands and Wives." May 17 at 2 p.m., "Men Don't Leave." May 18 at 6:30 a.m., "The Winning Season." May 19 at 6 p.m., "A Separate Peace."

On Cinemax, May 13 at 7:15 p.m., "Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind." May 14 at 9 p.m., "The Italian Job." May 15 at 2:50 p.m., "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." May 16 at 9:45 p.m., "Pleasantville." May 17 at 3 p.m., "Indiscretions." May 18 at 4:20 a.m., "High Noon." May 19 at 3:50 p.m., "The Guns of Navarone."

ALMALBIS. Solo concert at the Big Dome.

'Wish' come true for Michaelangelo

By Remy M. Umerez

MICHAEL AND ANGELO MANAHAN are twentysomethings who have formed their own musical act, which they aptly call Michaelangelo.

Michael was formerly with the acoustic group MYMP, but he quit shortly after MYMP's debut album was declared gold.

Band

His brother Angelo, on the other hand, was part of the band Shortcake.

Michael recalls: "Without a group, I was 'paralyzed' temporarily. I love music so much, so I didn't mind starting all over again. I went back to school and rehearsed with my brother every weekend, which gave me the idea of forming a 'brother-act' duo like the Carpenters."

"I requested the Tapika restaurant's management to try us out for one night. When the crowd appeared pleased, Boss Vincent asked us to stay on."

Viva Records has just released "Wish," the debut album of the Manahan brothers. "It has been a long journey, but with a fulfilling ending."

Mike exclaims.

The album features two OPM songs ("Wish" and "Abot Kamay"), both composed by Mike. A third cut, "Trapik," was composed by Richard Poon.

Remakes

The rest of the CD's selections are remakes. They include "50 Ways to Leave Your Lover," "Never Surrender," "Interstate Love Song," "Space Oddity" and "Rainbow Connection."

The music video of "Wish" is currently one of MYX's most requested songs.

Deal-breakers and makers on 'PBB's' teen edition

By Nestor U. Torre

WE'RE ASSURED BY ABS-CBN THAT, BEFORE being chosen, the teen housemates of the current edition of "Pinoy Big Brother" were given psychological tests to prove that they could deal with the stresses and challenges of the popular reality show.

Fine, but what viewers want to know is, if the teen housemates passed psychological muster, why did one of them, Aldred, quit during the show's very first week?

Loneliness

The perceived deal-breakers in Aldred's case were loneliness and lack of belongingness. Well, didn't these incipient chinks in his armor show up during those qualifying psychological tests?

We also wonder why some other young housemates have been exhibiting such neurotic tendencies, like crying a blue streak, slipping into a blue funk, and other symptoms of—well, the blues.

And why verbal if not physical violence has been displayed by some of the housebound teens. Now, we know that young people can be prone to emotional or hormonal displays of negative behavior. But, why is there so much of it on "PBB" this time around?

A bright ray of light in the encircling gloom and doom is provided by the occasional tasks that the teens are made to perform, to develop their team spirit, promote bonding, and encourage them to help one another in various inspiring ways.

The show should really go in for more of this, since the youth are the hope of the fatherland, and viewers feel great when they see teens shown in a good light on TV, instead of constantly bickering, pouting, complaining, competing, and generally making cute asses of themselves.

Romantic affection

We also feel OK about the teens' displays of romantic affection—isn't this what post-adolescence is supposed to be about, especially as teens see it?

After a while, however, the crushes, professions of love, rejection, resulting depression, loud protests and self-pitying ululations do get to be a drag. Can't they concern themselves about anything else?

The teens we know in our universe do all that, but they also occasionally talk about their studies, deal with social and topical issues, and relate to the big, wide world.

We've been catching glimpses of "PBB" for a number of days now, but we have yet to see much of that alternative awareness going on.

Target audience

Is it because it's not felt to be involving or entertaining for the show's target audience? Or, is it because these handpicked teens couldn't care less? If so, why did the show make such a big deal about some of the housemates' intelligence and well-rounded personalities?

Now, we don't mean to suggest that "PBB's" teen edition should transform itself into an intensely "relevant" and "significant" viewing experience—perish the thought.

All we're saying is that, since "PBB" bills itself as "ang teleserye ng totoong buhay," we should see more of that "totoong buhay" making itself felt in the show's arid TV universe. Is that much too big an adjustment to make?

NVC's . . . From page A3-2

the emotional antics with sympathetic characters."

While she griped about the production's slower second act, she nevertheless complimented the performances delivered by its cast: "Monique Wilson displayed remarkable emotional depth. Her polished voice was rich and mellow, wrapping itself easily around the high notes like a heady intoxication of buttery gin," "Jake Macapagal charmed," "Leo Rialp's baritone was balm to the ears," etc.

Cheong even noted the solid work of the ensemble, for "frequently doubling up as the props team, a move that added camaraderie and buzz to the crowd scenes."

Theater-honed actors

But, this would not have been possible without NVC's pool of theater-honed actors: Wilson, Jake Macapagal, Jenny Jamora, Nikki Ventosa, Julia Abueva, Topper Fabregas, Angela Padilla, Gina Samson, Mika Margolles, Dandy Ramos, Amiel Mendoza, Anabel Bosch, Nelson Caruncho, Ronalou San Pedro, Gabby Buencamino and Lily Chu.

The production team includes executive producer Rossana Abueva, Dexter Santos (for choreography), Mary Loh (marketing/promotions), Martin Esteva (light design), Jamie was

NVC's/A3-6

was "paralyzed" temporarily. I love music so much, so I didn't mind starting all over again. I went back to school and rehearsed with my brother every weekend, which gave me the idea of forming a "brother-act" duo like the Carpenters.

"I requested the Tapika restaurant's management to try us out for one night. When the crowd appeared pleased, Boss Vincent asked us to stay on."

Viva Records has just released "Wish," the debut album of the Manahan brothers. "It has been a long journey, but with a fulfilling ending."

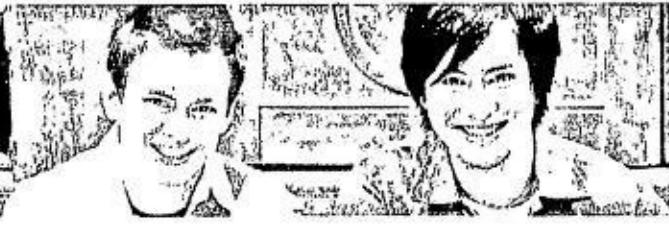

Mike exclaims.

The album features two OPM songs ("Wish" and "Abot Kamay"), both composed by Mike. A third cut, "Trapik," was composed by Richard Poon.

Remakes

The rest of the CD's selections are remakes. They include "50 Ways to Leave Your Lover," "Never Surrender," "Interstate Love Song," "Space Oddity" and "Rainbow Connection."

The music video of "Wish" is currently one of MYX's most requested songs.

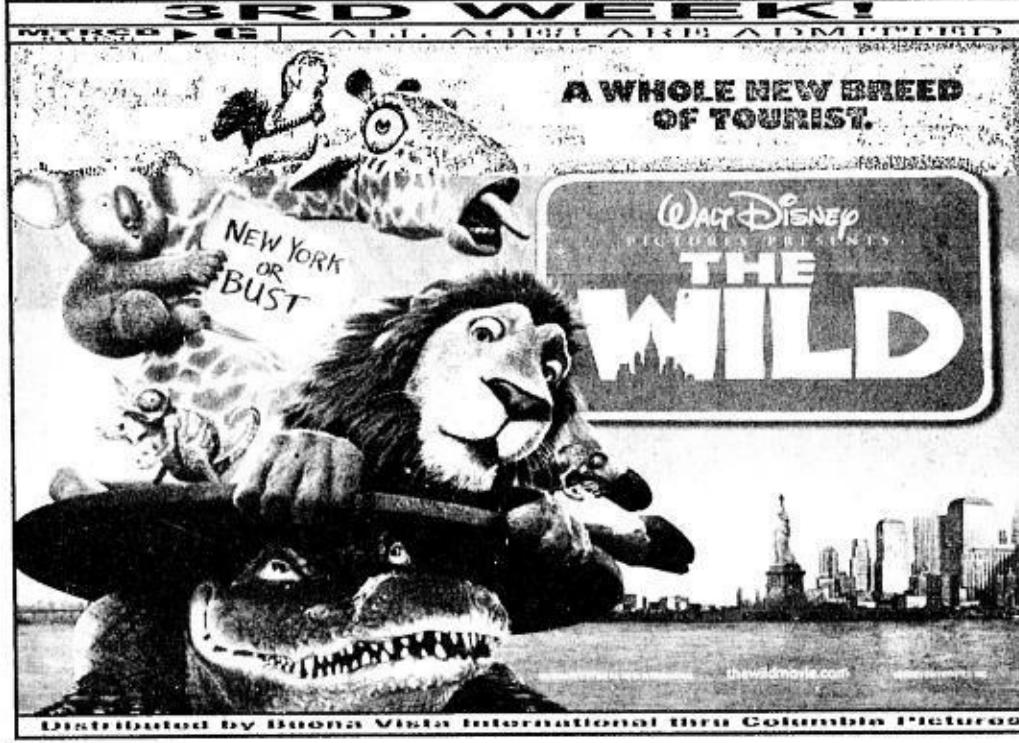

MICHAEL AND ANGELO MANAHAN. Musical "brother act."

Robinsons MOVIEWORLD can be YOUR CINEMA!

Open for advance screenings, product launches, concerts, school events and other organizational functions. PLUS! Exclusive screenings of blockbuster films.

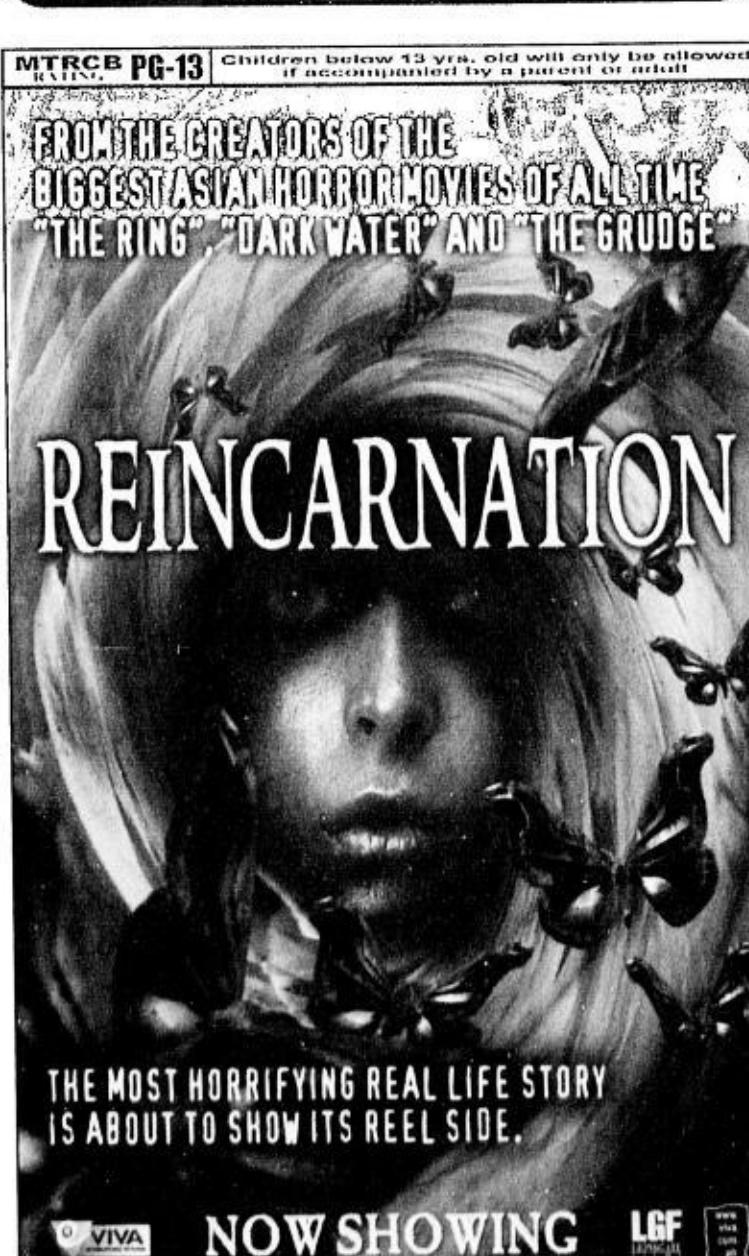

For interested parties, you may contact Marketing Services Department 687-7945 to 47 • 633-4446 • 636-2894 locals 14/15

Your mother deserves only the best.

This Mother's Day, give her the gift of perfect entertainment from Ayala Malls Cinemas.

Available at Glorietta 4, Greenbelt 3, Glorietta 1, Greenbelt 1 & Alabang Town Center cinema ticketbooths.

Breath of fresh air on television

By Lilia Borlongan-Alvarez

"JUDGING AMY" IS A BREATH OF FRESH air amidst the rubbish on television. Aired from Mondays to Wednesdays on the Hallmark Channel, it is a moving and insightful family drama about three generations of women who live together. It is also about how children of this generation should be raised by parents (and grandparents).

Plot

Its plot revolves around the personal and professional lives of Judge Amy Gray (portrayed by its creator and executive producer, Amy Brenneman), a no-nonsense family court judge, divorcee and mother of 12-year-old Lauren (Karlie Warren), and of Maxine, the judge's mother (Tyne Daly), a tough-talking, highly-principled government social worker, and the widowed mother of Peter, a successful insurance agent (Marcus Giamatii), and journalist Vincent (Dan Futterman).

"Judging Amy" is based on the real-life experiences of Brenneman's mother, a superior court judge, who was one of the first women to graduate from Harvard. It shows parents how to deal with child geniuses who have no regard for authority, and how self-absorbed parents can misguide their children.

The series presents scenarios in which women striving to become role models for their children need not abolish their humanity.

Search for love

Amy, in her search for love, ends up in the arms of a fellow judge, a young teacher, and a doctor. Maxine meets a top businessman (Richard Crenna) and manages to break his heart, because she figures they cannot adapt to the circumstances of a long-distance relationship. Later, she goes through the anguish and pain of dealing with his sudden death—48 hours before their wedding!

BRENNEMAN. Plays no-nonsense family court judge.

Welcome respite

The series is a welcome respite from the "garbage" that offends the sensibilities and intelligence of viewers. Surely, we want to be liberated from TV shows in which contestants are made to chew and swallow bulls' testicles or worms, from celebrities who brag about their scandalous relationships, from religious programs that malign and attack each other.

We are sick and tired of them! We hope they will be thrown away—never to be retrieved again.

NVC's . . . From page A3-5

Wilson (technical direction), Lisa Santos (stage management), Ronalyn de Lim and Jonas Abueva (production management), and Veronica Kallos and Michelle Nicolasas at the piano.

This time around, NVC was lucky to get Jet Star Asia and the Royal Plaza on Scotts as its main sponsors. Without them, it would have been hard to fly in and house the relatively big team for the company's 16-day theatrical adventure.

Rehearsal process

For our part, after directing many of NVC's previous productions, we were just happy to take part in and absorb the protracted rehearsal process exclusively as an actor. To say the least, it was a breather to just focus on the character we played, rather than think of every single aspect of the production.

We found the heady experience empowering. Indeed, working on characterization and text made us a tad more confident about our craft. But, as it is, the work of an actor is never done.

Since 1999, NVC has been touring its shows—from Singapore and Hong Kong to Scotland and Japan. With "Aspects of Love," NVC has marked another milestone.

ALL THE MOVIES YOU WANT TO SEE ON THE BIG SCREEN AND IN SHOULDER HIGH STAR GROUP OF THEATRES

starmall
EDSA - SHAW
Tel. No. 726 0150

METROPOLIS
ALABANG star
Tel. No. 850 4285

1: Mission Impossible 3 1: Apoy sa Dibdib ng Samar
2: Poseidon 2: Silent Hill
3: Apoy sa Dibdib ng Samar 3: Poseidon
4: Mission Impossible 3 4: Mission Impossible 3

Everyday Family Day at StarMalls!

Every Tuesdays Comedy Nights. Every Fridays Live Acoustic Bands at Cube Libre Bar Starmall Edsa Mondays Live Bands. Every Thursdays Comedy Nights at Merk's KTV Metropolis Star Alabang 3 DAY SALE (May 19-21) Ruby Rodriguez (May 20) Side A (May 27) Metropolis Star Alabang Ruby Rodriguez (May 14) Christian Bautista Jemelyn Mercado (May 27) Starmall Edsa

WHICH WOMAN COMPLETES THE IMPOSSIBLE MISSION?

TOM CRUISE
Mission: Impossible III
MICHELLE MAGGIE KERI MONAGHAN Q RUSSELL

MissionImpossible.com

2ND BLOCKBUSTER WEEK!

Distributed by Solar Entertainment Corporation

MTBCB RATING PG-13
Children below 13 yrs old will be allowed if accompanied by a parent or adult.
If accompanied by a parent or adult.

OVER THE HEDGE
Produced by the creators of Shrek
DREAMWORKS
BRUCE WILLIS GARY SHANDLING STEVE WILLIAM SHATNER
WANDA SYKES NICK NOLTE

Taking back the neighborhood.

IN THEATERS MAY 19

NOW SHOWING

MTRCB RATING PG-13 Children below 13 yrs old will only be allowed if accompanied by a parent or adult. Strong caution due to prolonged scenes of tragedy and devastation.

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF
'TROY' AND 'THE PERFECT STORM'

POSEIDON

www.poseidomovie.com

WARNER BROS. PICTURES
A Division of Time Warner Inc. All Rights Reserved

BUSINESS

Editor Raul O. Marcelo • Assistant Editor Corrie S. Narisma

Text us your feedback: Inquirer biz name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart) E-mail: pr_business@inquirer.com.ph

Website: www.inq7money.net

From Pagudpud to Sorsogon

on just one full tank.

*Actual test result on a 1300 cc vehicle.
as certified true by Automobile Association of the Philippines and Car Awards Group, Inc.

Landbank, DBP eye 70% of OFW bank

INQUIRER MONITOR

Figures that matter in our nation's life

Reasons behind unemployment (January 2006)

More than half of the 2.8 million unemployed do not look for work anymore, as two in every five were either too tired, or believed there was no work available for them.

Sources: Highlights of the January 2006 Labor Force Survey
Bureau of Labor and Employment Statistics

Kate Pedroso PDI Research

To consolidate remittance businesses in new firm

By Doris C. Dumla

STATE-OWNED LAND BANK OF THE PHILIPPINES AND DEVELOPMENT Bank of the Philippines plan to jointly acquire up to 70 percent of the Malacañang-backed P1-billion Overseas Filipino Workers (OFW) Bank to be created out of Philippine Postal Bank.

During the bank's quarterly briefing Thursday night, Landbank officer-in-charge Gilda Pico told reporters that the government banks were invited to invest in the proposed OFW Bank and realized the benefits of pooling their resources into one entity focused on serving the interest of migrant Filipino workers.

Alfonso Cruz, Landbank executive vice president, said the likely scheme would be for DBP and Landbank to provide up to 70 percent of the seed capital needed by OFW Bank and split the cost. He said the two banks could pump in P350 million each while Postal Bank would contribute the remaining P300 million out of its existing resources to meet the P1-billion proposed capitalization.

The earlier plan was for the Overseas Workers Welfare Administration to shoulder the entire P1 billion, but there were legal questions on such an equity investment. Cruz said the easier scheme would thus be for the government banks to infuse the funds while the OWWA could come in later by subscribing to preferred shares, allowing the agency to benefit from a dividend stream.

The officials said Landbank and DBP would not only provide fresh capital but infuse their

LANDBANK/B2

WHAT'S INSIDE

REPLACES SGV AS AUDITOR

SMC probes reported overstatement of sales

By Elizabeth L. Sanchez

Provincial ATM network to be launched next week /B2

BIR directs offices to shore up collection /B10

SAN MIGUEL CORP., SOUTHEAST Asia's biggest food and beverage firm, has tapped Laya Mananghaya & Co. as independent external auditor to review its financial books following claims that one of its beverage units had overstated sales.

The allegations, which were contained in an anonymous letter received by San Miguel, has stalled the firm's plan to issue new hybrid securities that have lured as much as $750 million worth of orders from interested investors.

An investigation of these allegations is ongoing.

Laya Mananghaya, which replaced SGV & Co. this year as San Miguel's new external auditor, is an affiliate of global tax, audit and advisory services firm KPMG group.

SGV, which was replaced during the San Miguel stockholders' meeting last Tuesday, has been the company's external auditor since 1997.

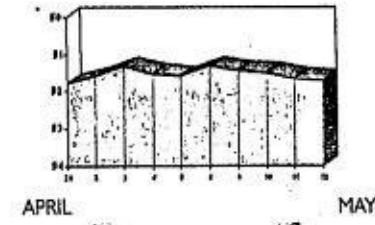

San Miguel president Ramon S. Ang said he was also unfazed by reports that Taiwanese bank Chinatrust Commercial Bank Corp. had replaced Laya Mananghaya as its external auditor.

In a previous disclosure to the stock exchange, some members of Chinatrust's audit committee said the change in its external auditor was due to minimal improvement in the auditor's service quality.

SMC PROBES/B2

INDICATORS CURRENCIES

P 51.71 = $1

As of 5 p.m., May 12, 2006

SV 109.81 = $1

As of 5 p.m., May 12, 2006

GOLD: $722.10-722.60

per ounce Hong Kong, May 12, 2006

STOCK MARKET

(See stock market report on Page B4)

Stocks down 1.28%

SHARE PRICES CLOSED 1.28-percent lower yesterday as investors took their cue from weaker regional markets after US stocks were dragged down overnight by rising commodity prices, dealers said.

They said the focus remained on mining, commodities and oil exploration-related stocks given the recent bullish performance of those markets.

STOCKS/B2

SPECIAL DEALS

AS LOW AS
P100,000 DP AND P23,800 MONTHLY*

AS LOW AS P200,000 DP AND
P27,781 MONTHLY*

AS LOW AS
P100,000 DP AND
P20,389 MONTHLY

THE ONLY TOUGH PART WOULD BE CHOOSING.

Model	SRP	DP	LOW PAYMENT				LOW MONTHLY
			48 mo.	60 mo.	50% DP	60 mo.	48 mo.	60 mo.	48 mo.	60 mo.
Escape 3.0L	1,399,000	200,000	32,500	27,761	699,500	15,600
Focus 1.8L	945,000	100,000	23,594	20,389	472,500	10,988
Focus 1.8L with Skirt	975,000	100,000	24,449	21,133	487,500	11,354
Everest 4x2 MT	1,065,000	150,000	23,500	-	-	-
Everest 4x2 AT	1,115,000	150,000	24,500	-	-	-
Everest 4x2 AT Leather Seats	1,150,000	150,000	25,500	-	-	-

ESCAPE 3.0L PROMO - 3 OPTIONS FOR CASH TRANSACTIONS:

Option 1 : 4 years bumper to bumper worry-free ownership – valued at P110,000 which includes 2 years extended warranty, additional 3 years of Emergency Roadside Assistance and 4 years of Scheduled Service Plan OR

Option 2 : P75,000 worth of free fuel OR

Option 3 : P75,000 cash discount

*For 3.0L AT model only. Offer valid until May 31, 2006.

Offer stands until May 31 only. Visit a Ford Dealer near you for more financing deals!

Promo extended until May 31, 2006 Approved by DILG ICR Per DILG permit no. 0580, series of 2006 and Per DILG permit no. 1325, series of 2006.

*AS FORD NEW PURCHASE PLAN  60 months low interest financing plan. Financing details subject to Ford Credit approval. *Everest Standard Sheet

Ford Alabang, Unit 1001, Bldg 1001, Alabang-Zapote Road, Muntinlupa City, Tel. No. 842-3638 / 842-4628, Fax No. 807-4430 • Ford Balintawak, Street Line, 927-9048, Fax No. 927-5981 • Ford Commonwealth, Tel. Nos. 952-9118, 952-9441, 952-9446 Fax No. 952-9440 • Ford EDSA Greenhills, Tel. No. 744-2222, Fax No. 723-6311 • Ford EDSA Service Center, Tel. No. 723-7029 • Ford Libis, Unit 1001, Bldg 1001, Libis, Quezon City, Tel. No. 842-3638, Fax No. 818-5000 • Ford Manila, Tel. No. 562-5555 Fax No. 562-5985 • Ford Quezon Avenue, Tel. Nos. 231-2617 / 742-3435 • Ford Shaw Blvd., Taguig City, Tel. Nos. 747-3436 Fax 747-3451 • Ford Shaw Blvd., Taguig City, Tel. Nos. 717-0188, Tel. Nos. 717-0189 • Ford San Pablo, Tel. No. (046) 600-4200, Fax No. (046) 600-4200 • Ford Dagupan, Tel. No. (075) 522-2222, Fax No. (075) 515-5510 • Ford San Pablo, Tel. No. (046) 600-4200, Fax No. (046) 600-4200 • Ford Cebu, Tel. No. (032) 231-9188, Fax No. (032) 231-9023 • Ford Bacolod, Tel. No. (034) 434-2877 • Ford Iligan, Tel. No. (083) 221-3552, Tel. No. (083) 271-3751 • Ford Cagayan de Oro, Tel. No. (083) 855-8511, Fax No. (083) 855-8577 • Ford Davao, Tel. No. (082) 234-2222 • Ford Credit, Tel. No. 635-1251

Per DILG permit no. 0580, series of 2006.

www.ford.com.ph

Ford Motor Company

COJUANGCO

Pure Foods posts Q1 net of P107M

Revenue up 7% to P12.4 billion, operating income jumped 193%

By Elizabeth L. Sanchez

SAN MIGUEL PURE FOODS INC. HAS posted a net income of P107.4 million in the first quarter, a turnaround from a net loss of P40 million in the same period last year.

SMPFI chair Eduardo Cojuangco Jr. attributed this to the increases in the sales volume of branded products.

Cojuangco told stockholders yesterday that the company's consolidated revenue rose 7 percent to P12.4 billion in the first quarter from year-ago level.

Operating income also jumped 193 percent to P385 million in the January to March period.

Last year, SMPFI offered 140 new retail and foods service products resulting in a wider choice for consumers.

Earlier, SMPFI reported that its 2005 net income grew 80 percent to P1 billion from P564.7 million in 2004. Last year's performance, it said, was driven by higher sales volumes registered by all businesses, especially the poultry, feeds and flour operations.

SMPFI said it registered a banner performance in 2005 as consolidated revenue grew to P50.4 billion, from year-ago's P45.3 billion. This represented an 11 percent growth over 2004 level.

"The initiatives taken during the year have transformed the character and scope of our company, giving us far-reaching advantages in terms of stability and cohesiveness," Cojuangco said.

Last year's revenue from new businesses—cooking oil, coffee, condiments, ice cream, milk and veterinary medicines—increased by 193 percent from 2004 level. This translated to an additional revenue contribution of P916 million from SMPFI to the San Miguel group's total earnings.

Bankers remain upbeat on PDEX

By Doris C. Dumla

THE BANKERS ASSOCIATION of the Philippines has reaffirmed its commitment to fixed income exchange Philippine Dealing & Exchange Corp. (PDEX) despite the costly delays in the project implementation.

The Philippine Dealing System Holdings Corp. (PDS group), composed of three operating companies—PDEX, Philippine Depository & Trust Corp. and Philippine Securities Settlement Corp.—held its second annual stockholders meeting on Wednesday, during which the group reported a net loss of P32 million in 2005.

In a press statement, the PDS group said the loss was lower than the projected deficit of P50 million. The losses were attributed to the delays in the implementation of PDEX's programs.

PDTA registered a net income of P26.8 million while PSSC reported a net of P7.2 million. The group's resources reached P496.1 million in 2005 while its capital amounted to P444 million, or lower than P475.3 million in 2004.

Group operating expenses and development cost jumped to P185.6 million from P99.2 million than the previous year.

"This reflected the capacity building and start-up stage of operations, which required the hiring of competent professionals and setting of strict standards for a safe, efficient, and reliable technology infrastructure for the debt market," the group said.

PDEX launched the Fixed-Income Inter-dealer Negotiated Trading System during the first quarter and closed the year with the introduction of the Fixed-Income Inter-dealer Order Driven Platform.

In their letter to shareholders, PDS Group chair Cesar Virata and president Vicente Castillo said the group's 2005 milestones did not come easy, with operations hampered from the start by "heavy resistance from some groups in the market."

They said delays in project implementation resulted in foregone revenues that could have prevented losses.

"We will continue to support

BANKERS/B5

You're home. Finally.

Palmridge
EST. TOMAS, BATANGAS

House & Lot
P11,990/mo.
1st year based on 10.5% Interest at
20 years Bank Financing

Call us!
(02) 809-8508
loc. 406

WALNUT house model

LTS No. 74160-R4A-05
Swimming Pool • Gazebo • Tree Park • Children's Playground
Basketball court • Multi-purpose Hall

HOW TO GET THERE: From the South Superhighway, exit at Calamba, Take JP Laurel Highway to Tanauan, Batangas, then turn left to Blue Palm Estate.

Palmridge is a community of Blue Palm Estate.

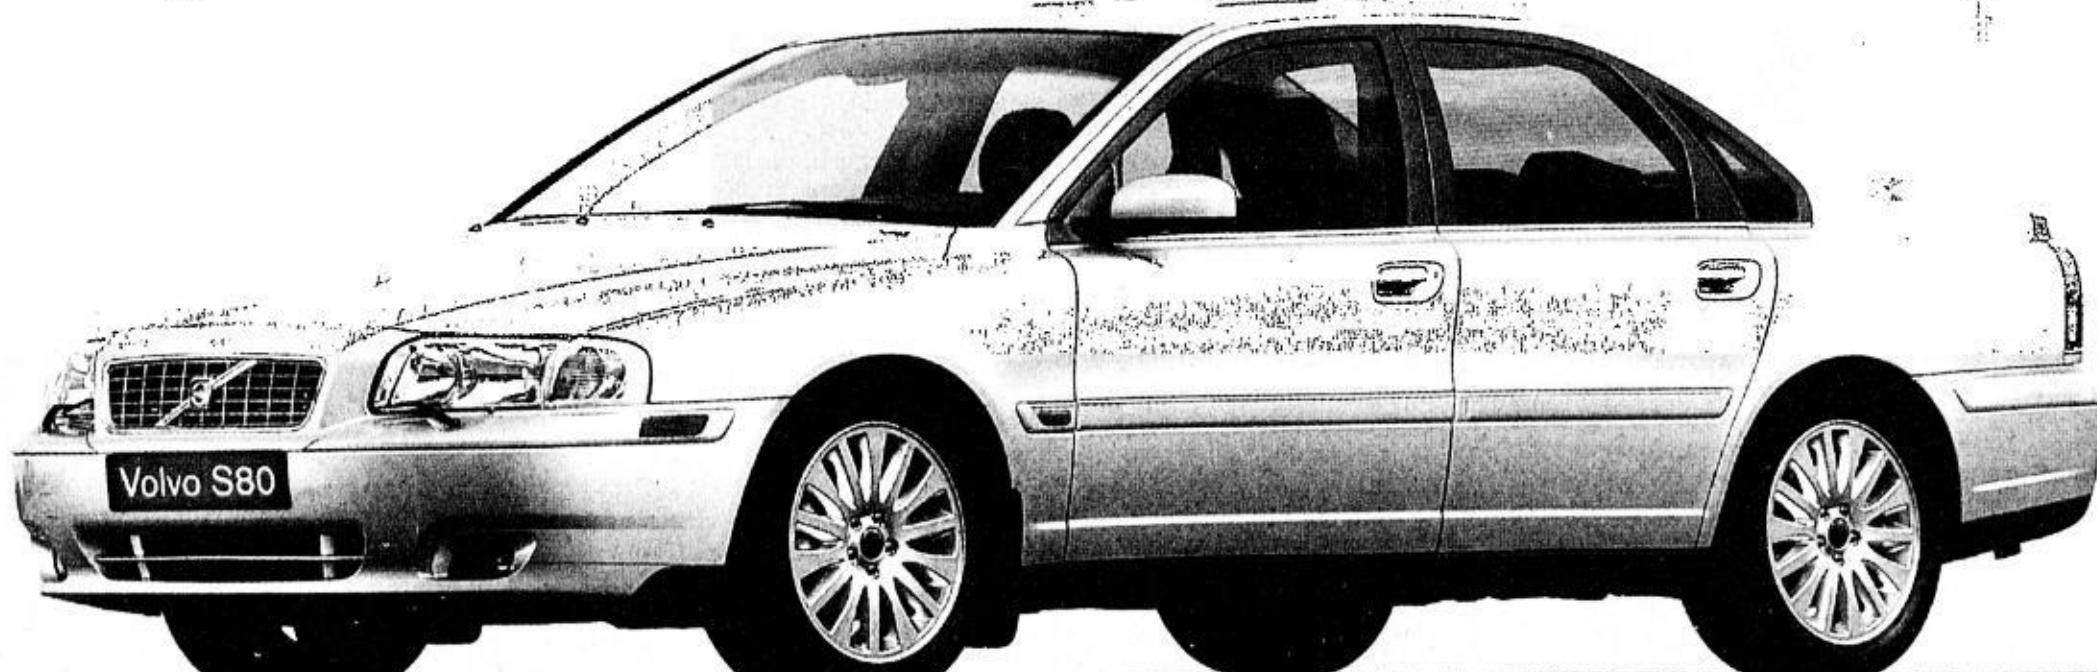

FUTURA CLASSIC
The Value-Homes Division of FILINVEST LAND, INC.
www.filinvestland.com

CATCH VOLVO CARS ON DISPLAY AT ROCKWELL AND VIRRA MALL ON
MAY 13 & 14, 2006

VOLVO
S80

LUXURY AT YOUR OWN TERMS

A New Dimension To Own Your Volvo

Drive Home A Volvo For As Low As 10% Downpayment of P 29,246.65* monthly amortization

WITH OUR LATEST VOLVO FINANCING PACKAGES* BUILT TO MATCH YOUR NEEDS, THE THRILL OF DRIVING YOUR VERY OWN VOLVO S80 IS NOW MORE THAN EVER - WELL WITHIN YOUR REACH. TAKE YOUR PICK FROM EITHER A LOW DOWNPAYMENT OR A LOW MONTHLY AMORTIZATION - FOR AS LOW AS 10% DOWN PAYMENT OR A MONTHLY AMORTIZATION OF P29,246.65*. YOU CAN OWN THE EXHILARATING VOLVO EXPERIENCE THAT YOU TRULY DESERVE. WE CAN ALSO HELP YOU CUSTOMIZE A PAYMENT TERM THAT SUITS YOU BEST. BECAUSE AT VOLVO, WE THINK OF EVERYTHING YOU WANT AND NEED - YOUR DESIRE FOR SUPERIOR DRIVING REFINEMENT, YOUR NEED FOR LUXURY AND ELEGANCE OF INTUITIVE TECHNOLOGY, POWER AND SAFETY.

COMMAND LUXURY THAT YOU DESERVE. DRIVE TO OUR SHOWROOMS NOW AND FIND OUT HOW OWNING YOUR VOLVO HAS BECOME JUST AS EASY AS WANTING ONE.

Volvo. for life

VOLVO MAKATI 2272 CHINO ROCES AVENUE (FORMERLY PASONG TAMO EXT.), MAKATI CITY • 757-1019, 893-6621 TO 22, 26 TO 27 • makatisales@volvophilippines.com VOLVO ORTIGAS 88 ADB AVENUE ORTIGAS CENTER, PASIG CITY • 837-0414 TO 15 • ortigas-sales@volvophilippines.com VOLVO CEBU A.S. FORTUNA ST., BANILAD MANDAUE CITY 6014 CEBU • (032) 346-3322

Ayala Corp Q1 net profit up 23%

Property arm's income flat at P1.175B from P1.16B a year ago

AYALA CORP., THE COUNTRY'S largest conglomerate, yesterday announced that its first quarter net profit went up 23 percent, with strong growth in most of its business lines, particularly telcos and water.

In a statement Ayala Corp. chair Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala said that the company would be able to sustain the momentum throughout the year, "supported by the positive trends in the broader macro-economic environment."

Ayala, the country's oldest business group with a market value of around P157.896 billion ($3.06 billion), said its net income reached P3.1 billion ($60 million) in January to March from P2.5 billion a year ago.

Analysts polled by Reuters Estimates expect Ayala Corp. to post an average of P6.2 billion in net profit for the whole year, down 24 percent from 2005 when it enjoyed gains from the IPO of Manila Water and asset sales by property subsidiary Ayala Land.

Also, Ayala Land Inc. (ALI) reported its net income in the first quarter was almost flat at P1.175 billion from the P1.16 billion of the previous year, when it acquired net gains of P608 million from the sale of the MRT-3 light rail project.

In March last year the company sold its interests in Astoria Investment Ventures Inc. (AVI), the holding company for its investment in the MRT-3 project.

"Given robust first quarter sales, we are on track to launch new projects," according to ALI president Jaime Ayala.

Riding on the market upturn, Ayala Land posted revenues of P5.46 billion in the first quarter of 2006.

The bulk of Ayala Land's revenues came from its residential development business, which accounted for 43 percent of earnings, followed by shopping centers with 18 percent, and hotels with 9 percent.

Collectively, support businesses that include construction, property management and wastewater contributed 19 percent to consolidated revenues.

Sales volume of Ayala Land's residential development business grew 31 percent to 894 units in the first quarter. Revenues from residential developments climbed 28 percent to P2.35 billion.

The most impressive revenue growth was registered by Community Innovations at 67 percent to P630 million, following the construction of "Two Serendra" and three towers of "The Columns" on Ayala Avenue.

Ayala Corp. also controls the country's second largest lender Bank of the Philippines Islands, and the second biggest phone firm Globe Telecom Inc. It has interests in electronics, car dealerships and information technology.

Shares of Ayala Corp. rose 12.7 percent in the first quarter, outperforming the main stock index's 4.8-percent gain. With reports from Elizabeth L. Sanchez, Reuters

RIZAL'S GAIN

From left, Spanish Embassy official Jose Miguel Cortez, Manila Water president Antonio T. Aquino, Marivic Aquino of Grupo Seta, and Oscar I. Garcia of the Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System hold a ceremonial toast after signing an agreement that will provide Manila Water with a P18-million water supply feasibility study grant for the province of Rizal.

PSE net down to P54M in 1st quarter

By Elizabeth L. Sanchez

THE PHILIPPINE STOCK EXCHANGE (PSE) yesterday reported that its net income fell 25 percent to P54.1 million in the first quarter, from P72.2 million in the same period last year due to higher expenses.

In its financial report, the PSE said operating expenses swelled 22.2 percent to P54.07 million during the January to March period, from P44.2 million last year due to higher occupancy costs, membership development costs from payments for golf activities and higher office expenses.

Compensation and other related staff expenses accounted for 33 percent of total operating expenses, while the rest were from occupancy costs and depreciation.

Although the PSE did not duplicate its record growth in net earnings last year, its first quarter operating revenues slightly grew by 1.3 percent to P111.16 million, from P109.7 million in the same period last year.

PSE's 100-percent owned unit, the Securities Clearing Corp. of the Philippines (SCCP) posted higher service fees after it raised clearing fees by a fraction.

SCCP is a clearing and settlement agency for trades executed in the PSE.

Despite higher service fees, the PSE however registered lower listing fees from initial public offerings.

Only one firm—First Gen Corp. of the Lopez Group—has so far braved a public listing this year. In 2005, two IPOs were conducted.

Membership fees decreased by almost P1 million mainly due to lower transaction fees resulting from lower trading volumes, as compared with last year's average turnover volume.

NTT 2005 profit dips 30% on falling mobile revenue

TOKYO—PROFIT AT NIPPON Telegraph and Telephone plunged 30 percent for the fiscal year that ended on March 31, Japan's top telecommunications company yesterday said.

NTT officials said a sharp drop in revenue from fixed-line telephones and lower prices in mobile services had crimped earnings.

Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corp.'s group net profit totaled 498.7 billion yen ($4.5 billion) in fiscal 2005, down from 710.2 billion yen the previous fiscal year.

Fiscal year sales for the Tokyo-based company, which offers fixed-line, mobile and broadband services, totaled 10.74 trillion yen ($96.8 billion), down 0.6 percent from 10.81 trillion yen a year earlier.

Gains that NTT scored in revenue from Internet data transmission were not enough to offset its lagging fixed-line business.

Although NTT's mobile carrier unit, NTT DoCoMo still dominates the Japanese market, prices have been dropping because of intensifying competition.

The Tokyo-based former government monopoly expects 500 billion yen ($4.5 billion) profit on 10.8 trillion yen ($97.4 billion) sales for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007. AP

WB flooded with fund requests for ethanol jobs

WASHINGTON—THE WORLD Bank's private sector arm is being deluged with funding requests for ethanol projects around the globe as crude oil prices trade near record highs, an International Finance Corp. official said.

"We've been flooded with requests from lots of countries," IFC's Marcelo Lessa on Thursday said from a cane-ethanol mill in Brazil's Sao Paulo state. "There's some requests from Latin America, we've had several from Africa, and one or two in East Asia."

In the past three years, the IFC has invested $65 million in one ethanol plant in India and another one in Brazil.

Now three more Brazil plant investments, valued at between $35 million to $50 million each for the IFC, are in line for approval as is another $20 million investment in Peru, he added.

"In other countries, the issue of ethanol really accelerated in the second semester of last year, so we have received many proposals," the agribusiness expert said.

Since November, sugar cane project funding requests—largely in the feasibility stage—have come in from the Philippines, Mali, Guatemala, Honduras, Colombia, Saint Kitts & Nevis, Mozambique, Tanzania, Egypt and Turkey.

He said inquiries have increased since US President George W. Bush last week called on the US Congress to reconsider tariffs on imports of ethanol, as crude oil prices traded near the mid-$70s per barrel.

"We'll turn several (plans) down because we believe ethanol production has to be competitive with costs [in one country], otherwise you might be hurting that country economically," Lessa said.

Ethanol, an alcohol most often made from grains and sugar cane, is blended with gasoline to reduce tailpipe emissions in cars and trucks. Reuters

In Asia, share markets tumble

SINGAPORE—ASIAN SHARE markets tumbled on Friday as a falling dollar hit exporters such as Toyota, and investors fretted that high oil and commodity prices would dent consumer spending and corporate profits.

The dollar slumped to an eight-month low against the yen and hit one-year lows against the euro and British pound, pummeled by expectations of a pause in Federal Reserve interest rate increases and widening US deficits.

Japan's Nikkei average fell to its lowest close in seven weeks. The slide followed a sharp sell-off in US stocks, which suffered their biggest one-day decline in nearly four months amid fears that rampant oil and metals prices would stoke inflation.

"A fall in US stocks fanned a sell-off here," said Teruhisa Ishikawa, manager at Mizuho Investors Securities' investment information department. "That added to worries over the dollar/yen rate and higher oil prices."

Gold edged down after striking a 26-year high on Thursday, and oil dipped back below $73 a barrel, although it was still not far from its record above $75 reached last month.

In London, financial bookmakers expected the FTSE 100 index to open flat after sinking 41 points on Thursday.

Tokyo's Nikkei slumped 1.5 percent in a downturn analysts said was accelerated by foreign investors' selling. It was its fourth straight day in negative territory—the longest losing streak in more than six months.

MSCI's broadest index of non-Japan Asian shares was 0.9 percent lower by 0610 GMT.

Seoul's benchmark index fell 1.3 percent, Australia's S&P ASX 200 fell 0.7 percent and Taiwan's benchmark index lost 1.1 percent. Hong Kong's Hang Seng lost 1.3 percent in the morning session.

The yen has surged more than 7 percent over the past month, prompting Japanese officials to step up warnings on Friday that such strength could hurt the economy's recovery from deflation.

Finance Minister Sadakazu Tanigaki said that big currency swings could have adverse effects on corporate profitability.

A weak US currency tends to weigh on the shares of Asian exporters because it makes them less competitive in the United States, a key market, and reduces the value of their dollar-denominated earnings.

In Tokyo, Toyota Motor Corp. fell 2.6 percent and fellow car maker Honda Motor Co. Ltd., which makes around 80 percent of its sales overseas, lost 1.6 percent.

Technology and consumer electronics exporters also suffered, with Sony Corp. down 2.2 percent, Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. Ltd., the maker of Panasonic goods, falling 2.4 percent and NEC Corp., which posted an 84 percent drop in annual profit on Thursday, losing 4.9 percent.

In Seoul, Hyundai Motor Co. fell 0.8 percent and Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd. lost 1.2 percent.

Gold traded around $717 an ounce, after hitting $726 an ounce on Thursday, with traders keen to lock in profits after gains of around 8 percent this week.

NYMEX crude for June delivery was down 58 cents, or around 0.8 percent, at $72.74 a barrel, after jumping more than $1 in the previous session on concern over US gasoline supplies and new threats against foreign oil workers in Nigeria. Reuters

PHILIPPINE STOCK EXCHANGE

(As of May 12, 2006)

STOCKS	OPEN	HIGH	LOW	CLOSE	VOLUME
Asiatrust Dev. Bank Inc.	7.2	7.2	7.1	7.1	43,000
Banco de Oro Univ. Bank	37.5	37.5	37	37.5	169,500
Bank of the Phil. Islands	69.5	70	68	68	1,708,000
China Everbright Bank	90.5	90.5	90	90	600
Chime Savings Bank	20.25	20.25	20.25	20.25	5,710,000
Export and Ind. Bank A	0.46	0.46	0.45	0.46	205,500
Equitable PCI Bank Inc.	71.5	72	71	72	12,200
International Exch. Bank	39.5	40	39.5	39.5	567,200
Metropolitan Bank & Trust	43.5	44.5	42	42.5	33,000
Philippine National Bank	37.5	37.5	37	37.5	10,000
Phl. Savings Bank	39	39.5	38	39.5	105,000
Rizal Comm. Banking Corp.	19	19.25	18.75	18.75	1,000,000
Security Bank Corp.	58	58	57	57	12,000
Union Bank of the Phil.	47.5	47.5	47	47	12,000
OTHER FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS
Bankard Inc.	0.76	0.76	0.76	0.76	130,000
First Abacus Financial	0.5	0.5	0.5	0.5	100,000
First Metro Invest. Corp.	32	32	32	32	10,000
Manila Financial Corp.	4000	4000	3900	3900	720
PCI Leasing & Fin. Inc.	1.04	1.04	1	1	285,000
Phil. Stock Exchange Inc.	210	210	210	210	500
Sun Life Financial Inc.	2140	2140	2130	2130	550
Vantage Corp.	1.28	1.28	1.2	1.24	7,910,000
INDUSTRIAL, ENERGY, POWER & WATER
First Gen Corp.	51	51	49.5	51	634,100
First Phil Hldgs Corp.	51.5	52	51	51	808,300
Manila Electric Co. A	14.5	14.5	14.25	14.5	94,500
Manila Electric Co. B	21.5	22	21.5	22	1,456,000
Manila Water Co. Inc.	7.8	7.8	7.7	7.7	3,221,000
Petron Corp.	4.9	4.9	4.75	4.85	7,974,000
East Asia Power Res. Corp.	0.235	0.25	0.23	0.25	1,870,000
Trans-Asia Oil and Energy	1.16	1.18	1.12	1.14	907,000
FOOD, BEVERAGE & TOBACCO
Alaska Milk Corp.	3	3	3	3.4	4,000
CADP Green Corp.	3	3	3	3.2	30,000
Ginebra San Miguel Inc.	25	25	23.75	24.25	231,500
Julian Foods Corp.	38.5	38.5	37	37.5	489,600
Pancake House Inc.	4.05	4.05	4.05	4.05	35,000
RFM Corp.	0.77	0.77	0.75	0.75	130,000
Roxas Holdings Inc.	3.5	3.55	3.35	3.35	2,799,000
Swift Food Inc.	0.24	0.24	0.24	0.24	200,000
San Miguel Corp. A	.63	.64	.62.5	.64	97,000
San Miguel Corp. B	.62	.82.5	.82	.82.5	90,700
Universal Robina Corp.	23.5	23.5	23.5	23.5	964,200

SCIENCE / HEALTH

Text us your feedback: Inquirer health name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart)

'Ampalaya' gaining worldwide acceptance

By Charles E. Buban

THINK OF THIS wrinkly green vegetable with a distinctive bitter taste as nature's way of bringing hope to the more than 171 million diabetics worldwide.

Ampalaya (bitter gourd), according to Lito Abelarde, president of the Chamber of Herbal Industries of the Philippines Inc., has a long history of use not only as a food but also as a hypoglycemic agent (one that lowers blood glucose levels).

"It is only now that modern science is beginning to investigate the plant's many medicinal uses," he said.

Beneficial to business

Abelarde said this development would benefit the country's slowly growing ampalaya-based food supplements business.

"Taking supplements or eating ampalaya is gaining significant acceptance not only here but elsewhere in the world," said Abelardo.

Abelardo.

Next week, Frank Murray, an American health and nutrition book author, will be in the country to promote his latest book "Ampalaya: Nature's Remedy for Type 1 and Type 2 Diabetes."

Murray traveled to the Philippines in 2005 to research on ampalaya and how it helped diabetics. Abelarde said the book contains case studies from the Philippines, Europe and the United States.

Abelarde believes the appeal of ampalaya is being aided by a market that has considered alternative medicine as a hope for the desperate or as a necessity when drug prices keep rising.

"More and more people are looking for an alternative or a complementary method of addressing diseases, including diabetes, because they want something less invasive and gives no or little side effect," said Abelarde.

He said Murray's findings could convince more scientists and researchers to take ampalaya more seriously and help shed light on the vegetable's medicinal properties that until now have not yet been scientifically verified.

Abelarde said that so far, scientists have accumulated "sufficient evidence" that the unripe fruit and seeds of the ampalaya possess hypoglycemic potency, improve glucose tolerance and enhance the effects of insulin and hypoglycemic drugs.

The receptor that binds

DISCOVER

Massie
Santos Ballon

LAST OCTOBER, THE NOBEL Prize for Physiology or Medicine went to two Australian doctors—Barry Marshall and J. Robin Warren—for discovering the bacterium Helicobacter pylori and its role in gastritis and peptic ulcer disease. It was bestowed more than two decades after the researchers first hypothesized that bacteria, rather than physical factors such as stress, were to blame for ulcers.

While attempting to prove his theory to skeptics, Marshall, who went on to found a lab in Australia dedicated to H. pylori research, once actually swallowed a culture of the bacterium. He developed gastritis, and, more importantly, recovered after the bacteria were eradicated.

Since Marshall and Warren's discovery, many researchers have concentrated on finding and understanding the hows, whys and wheres associated with H. pylori. Researchers estimate that up to half of the world's population could be infected with the bacteria, some from childhood, although not all get sick from it.

It is known to cause chronic inflammation of the stomach lining, and the location of the inflammation can make other sections of the stomach more susceptible to duodenal and gastric ulcers. It has also been associated with an increased risk of stomach cancer.

For their study, Peek et al. infected wild type and Dafl knockout mice with H. pylori. Then they measured the bacterial amounts bound to the host cells and found that greater amounts of H. pylori were bound to the gastric lining cells when DAF was present compared to when DAF was removed.

A second experiment demonstrated that the quantities of other toxicogenic strains such as E. coli were not affected by the presence or absence of DAF, thus proving that the DAF-related response was specifically related to H. pylori.

The pharmaceutical implications of this finding could be significant. Current ulcer treatments involve taking a number of medications over several days. This could be reduced now that the new data suggest that blocking DAF's interaction with the bacteria would lead to reduced stomach lining inflammations. With fewer inflammatory episodes, disease like ulcers and stomach cancers might be treated or prevented.

The 8th paragraph of last week's column should have read: In this year's January issue of the American Journal of Pathology, Osterhaus et al. further note that the "HSN1 virus infection causes systemic disease and spreads by potentially novel routes without and between mammalian hosts."

Effective weight reduction

By Rafael R. Castillo, MD

THE BIG PARADOX IN DEVELOPING countries like ours is that we see a lot of starving and undernourished people, but we have an equal number of overweight individuals.

Overweight people generally get tired more easily than those who are not because of the extra baggage of fats they carry. Being 25 lbs overweight is like carrying a 2-year-old child all day.

It is not only tiring but the extra stress on the heart and circulatory system can have disastrous consequences.

Thus, weight reduction has become big business in many countries. We see the proliferation of weight-reducing clinics run by unscrupulous healthcare professionals who prescribe an overdose of weight-reducing pills, unmindful of the long-term consequences to their patients.

Newspapers and magazines carry all sorts of advice on slimming that at times conflict with each other.

Spot a phony

Experts agree that the best way to maintain weight loss is to follow a healthy lifestyle consisting of the right diet and exercise. Any weight-reducing "expert" who advises you that you can eat anything you want and exercise just when you want to is certainly a phony.

Weight reduction is a challenge, but if one has a strong will to lose weight, it shouldn't be a big problem. A regimen that promises a weight loss of 50 pounds in one month is not medically sound and is likely to cause more harm than good. An ideal weight-reducing program makes you lose weight gradually, but consistently.

Weight loss of one to two pounds a week is just about ideal. If you lose weight any faster than this, you will lose muscle, too.

How do you know if you're overweight? If you have a waist circumference more than 32 inches (for women) and more than 36 inches (for men), chances are that you have some excess poundage to lose.

Body mass index

Doctors and dieticians usually compute for body mass index (BMI), which is obtained by measuring the weight in kilograms and the height in meters. BMI is weight divided by height squared. Filipinos and Asians should have a BMI of 22-23. If your BMI is more than 25, you are already overweight.

Every weight-reducing diet requires that the amount of calories eaten should be less than the amount of calories used up. The total amount of food, especially fatty food should be cut down, and daily activity and exercise should be increased.

A reducing diet should not make you starve. You just have to be conscious of what you eat. Small frequent feedings will quell the hunger pangs and prevent binge eating.

Meals and snacks must be low-fat, and preferably high in fiber.

Throw away your frying pan, and try grilling, baking, poaching, boiling or microwaving food instead.

Buy lean cuts of red meat and limit portion sizes to 4 to 6 oz.

Roast poultry or meat on a rack to drain the fat. Remove the skin from poultry before cooking. Avoid whole-cream milk. Eat low-fat yoghurt instead of cream, cottage cheese instead of regular cheese, and low-fat spreads instead of butter.

Make sure you have 5-6 servings of fruits and vegetables daily. Have fruits for snack. Limit but don't extremely cut down on carbohydrates. A cup of rice, a potato, or two slices of bread are good energy sources. Fill your plate with fish, lean meat and vegetables, not fatty protein foods. Drink 10-12 glasses of water daily.

Weight reduction is not a one-size-fits-all regimen, and should thus be individualized. A diet that works for some people may not work for others. You have to find the program that best suits you.

But whatever approach you try, the key to long-term success is a slow steady weight loss. Weight experts will tell you that the most successful diets are usually the ones that make small permanent changes to your normal eating habits.

Fad diets may in the short term promote weight loss, but after a few weeks they become dull and unacceptable, causing old eating habits to return.

Free board review from doctors' group

By Tessa R. Salazar

A TOTAL 450 MEDICAL GRADUATES from various medical schools and hospitals will gather on May 27 for a half-day board review and career training seminar.

Unlike other organized medical board reviews, the lectures, the Medicine BlueBook and even the snacks in this seminar will be for free.

The expenses will be shouldered by the nonprofit group Movement of Idealistic and Nationalistic Doctors (MIND) and their supporters.

Dr. Willie T. Ong, MIND president, said lecture topics include how to pass the board exams, how to get ahead in medicine, how to decide one's area of specialization and techniques in starting a practice.

Dr. Enrico Banzuela, author of the Philippine Medical Board Reviewer, will conduct the review.

Dr. Jose Sabili, president of the Philippine Medical Association, will give an inspirational talk and hold an open forum with participants. Doctors June Rosales of the Ilo-Ilo Doctors Hospital and Philip Cruz of the UP-PGH will give inspirational talks.

MIND, which seeks to inspire fresh graduates and medical students to find their niche in the Philippines, can be reached at the website <http://mind.pinoy.md>.

ASK THE DENTIST

Paul R. De Castro, DMD

Another cleaning?

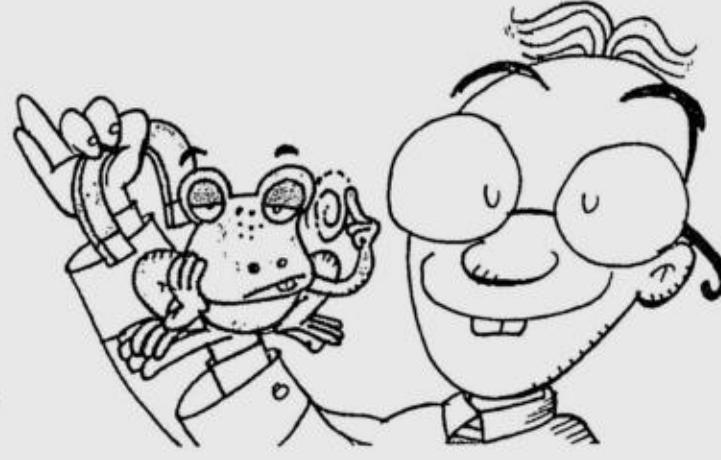

I JUST HAD MY TEETH CLEANED, but my dentist said I needed another cleaning soon. Shouldn't I get a cleaning only after every six months?—Nonoy R.

The interval varies from patient to patient. Some need their teeth cleaned more often than others, depending on the amount of tartar produced. Some might be diagnosed with moderate or severe gum problems so the interval is shortened.

It's possible that you produce more tartar than normal or maybe you skipped going to the dentist every six months and now have to catch up with more cleaning sessions.

E-mail your questions at denatalqs@yahoo.com.

Weird Nobels, real math

EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT THE Nobel prizes, but what about the Ig Nobels? These awards started in 1991 when science magazine editor Marc Abrahams began recognizing scientific work that "cannot or should not" be reproduced. With around 5,000 nominations yearly, the Ig Nobels are awarded in medicine, physics, chemistry, biology and peace, with secrecy perhaps as great as that in Stockholm.

The first winner was Prof. Bernard Vonnegut who in 1975 studied chicken plucking as a measure of tornado wind speed.

Other Ig Nobels studied the effect of music on suicide, necrophilia in the mallard duck, the use of magnets to raise up frogs, the psychological defense of farting, and for peace, Japanese inventor Daisuke Inoue, for his karaoke invention (which makes people "learn to tolerate each other").

Winners are informed before hand and are given a chance to turn down the prize, but surprisingly, few do so. The ceremonies are held at Harvard, with the audience peppering the stage with paper planes. Real Nobel prize winners present the awards to their Ig counterparts. I thank my colleague, Dr. Norman Quimpo, for sending me an article on the Ig Nobels, which can be found at <http://english.aljazeera.net/NR/exeres/59BA7BD9-5ABA-43CC-B0AD-711264D5486F.htm>.

EUREKA!

Queena N.
Lee-Chua

longer studying at home. Fourth, children are not reading enough books. Fifth, teachers have been criticized for lack of quality.

Sound familiar? The Japanese government has been working overtime to make sure that such declines are reversed.

Understanding statistics

Knowing math can save lives. For instance, suppose a depressed patient read that the chances were 70 percent that she would respond to a certain antidepressant. So 70 percent of the time, the patient would feel better, right?

Not really. A better understanding of the figures would mean that if 10 people with depression were prescribed the drug, then seven would be expected to get better. But the statistics came from a large sample, and did not necessarily apply to individuals. Thus, the patient would either improve with the treatment or not, notwithstanding the statistics she heard about.

Confused? Harvard statistician Dr. Judith Singer put it this way:

"The number of possible outcomes—in her case either responding or not responding to an antidepressant—has nothing to do with the actual probability of either outcome happening."

"For example, either a woman is pregnant or not. She can't be a little pregnant. But that doesn't mean that she has a 50 percent probability of being pregnant. A woman who takes a fertility pill may stand a much higher chance of actually getting pregnant than if she goes without it."

To help children understand math better, I recommend this interactive dictionary website www.teachers.ash.org.au/jeather/math/dictionary.html.

E-mail the author at blessbook@yahoo.com.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

B7

Surf stages Mother's Day concert fit for queens

SURF HIGHLIGHTS THE FESTIVE month of May with a precedent-setting grand tribute to mothers on May 13 for the culmination of its Mother's Day campaign. The first ever Reyna de Mayo Concert stages a larger than life experience of crowning mothers as Reyna ng Gintong Sandali.

Last March, Surf launched Nay Ur D Best: Parangal sa mga Reyna ng Gintong Sandali calling on families, most especially the kids to honor their mothers as Reyna ng Gintong Sandali. The Mother's Day campaign was brought to life in Homeboy, where real life gintong sandali stories were featured on the show and magnified through a raffle promo giving away family vacation packages and a house and lot.

On the eve of Mother's Day, Surf is set to transform the CCP grounds fronting Roxas Boulevard with regal trappings of a golden concert and coronation night. Surf Reyna de Mayo is poised to render this year's biggest and most heartfelt celebration in honor of moms.

"Mothers are extremely close to the heart of Surf. The unparalleled care and love of a mom deserves no less than a grand tribute which here family can experience together. That's why Surf brings to her the first ever Reyna de Mayo Gintong Harana Concert," said Darlene Chiong, marketing manager for Unilever home care.

The star-studded concert will be hosted by Boy Abunda and Tintin Bersola-Babao. To set the tone of the tribute concert, the program shall open with the St. Vincent Academy Pangkat Makata and an onstage parade of several celebrity and non-celebrity mothers deemed as Queens of Golden Moments, mirroring the Filipino tradition of parading queens in Flores de Mayo.

Lending this event a bit of glamour and entertainment are equally admirable celebrity moms such as Donna Cruz, Yayo Aguila-Martinez, Maricel Morales and Dawn Zulueta. Surf moms shall be serenaded by top balladeers Dingdong Avanzado, Luke Mejares and Ariel Rivera as well as popular bands like Cueshe and Rivermaya.

The much awaited grand raffle draw for the furnished Camella Homes house and lot worth P2 million will also be the highlight of the evening. "This would be one golden moment for a very lucky mother," said Stephanie Lim, assistant brand manager for Surf. "It brings great joy to us to help realize a dream of many mothers. A lucky mom can now be a queen in her new home. Also watch out for a heartwarming finale led by the Surf twins and Lumen that brings together mothers from many walks of life and crowning them mga Reyna ng Gintong Sandali!"

Witness a beautiful orchestration of gratitude to mothers with Surf Reyna de Mayo Gintong Harana Concert. Hope to see you all on May 13, 6 p.m. at the CCP Grounds, Roxas Boulevard. Because Surf believes that "Nay Ur D Best" - you deserve a golden tribute.

Fra Lippo Lippi concert

CATCH THE PHILIPPINE TOUR OF FRA LIppo Lippi's lead vocal Per Sorensen and fall in love all over again. Fra Lippo Lippi is originally a duo composed of Sorensen and Runi Kristofferson. Sorensen is the voice you'll hear on all Fra Lippo Lippi hits. He will have his concerts at the Araneta Coliseum on May 13, 8 p.m.; Lahug Pacific Grand Ballroom, Waterfront Hotel, Cebu City, on May 15, 8 p.m.; Central Bank Auditorium, Davao City, on May 17, 8 p.m. and The Atrium, Limketkai Mall, Cagayan de Oro City, May 20, 8 p.m. In the concerts, Sorensen will perform Fra Lippo Lippi's chart toppers as well as some new compositions. Get your tickets for the Araneta concert at Ticketnet found at all SM branches.

Philfoodex Buyers Night

THE PHILIPPINE FOOD PROCESSORS AND EXPORTERS Organization Inc (Philfoodex) will sponsor a Buyers' Night on May 13, 7 p.m. at The Skyline restaurant, Mezzanine area, World Trade Center, Pasay City exclusively for its members. This is in connection with the May 12-14, International Food exhibition Philippines (Ifex), also at the World Trade Center in Pasay City. The buyers' night is pursuant to Philfoodex's objective to assist its members in aspiring for global competitiveness and excellence. For more information, members may call Isabel or Norman at the Philfoodex Secretariat at (632)634-3304 or (632)634-3466.

LSQC '82 Homecoming

LOURDES SCHOOL OF QUEZON CITY (LSQC) HIGH School Batch '82 launched their silver anniversary campaign during turnover ceremonies that capped the annual alumni homecoming held recently at the LSQC Grade School grounds in Sta. Mesa Heights, Quezon City. Batch '82 president George Escarraga called on all alumni to support the socio-civic events and programs lined-up during their anniversary year that will culminate in the February 2007 homecoming celebration dubbed "Rewind: Blast From The Past." For more details on these upcoming events, please log on to www.lsqc82.org.

UP Film Institute workshop

THE UP FILM INSTITUTE, in cooperation with Kodak and Sony Phils is launching its first Cinematography for Digital Filmmaking Workshop on May 29 to June 3. The first-of-its-kind workshop specifically designed for indie filmmakers to focus on the basic principles of cinematography as applied and practiced in digital filmmaking. The resource person for the 6-day workshop will be director of photography Louie Quirino, cinematographer and digital colorist for a number of recent digital features and a graduate of the Los Angeles Film School. Interested parties may call 926-3640, 926-2722 or e-mail bjorki71@yahoo.com for registration.

UP sorority gears for gold

THE UP PHI DELTA ALPHA SORORITY IS GEARING up for its Grand Golden Anniversary celebration in 2007. Alumnae and resident members are organizing regular gatherings and batch visits to drum up the excitement of the grand event. Vicki Paguirigan-Evaretta (Batch '65) hosted the first meeting of the organizing committee attended by the new set of officers and alumnae sisters. For inquiries, please contact present LC Karen Pagsolangan at 0917-8565616 or ofc. no. 633-5336; Ay 98-99 LC Claire Algarame at 0917-8228638; or e-mail upphideltaalpha@yahoo.com.

Crisp training programs

THOMSON COURSE TECHNOLOGY WITH CRISP Learning offer 40 modular group training courses on 150 business and professional programs. Courseware includes scripted leader's guide, videos, powerpoint slides, overhead masters, exercise handouts, answer key and course assessment. Ideal for in-house training. For particulars call 911-1978 or e-mail feltawp@info.com.ph. Distributed by Pisces Publishing Inc.

Republic of the Philippines
SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM
East Avenue, Diliman, Quezon City

Tel. Nos. (632) 920-6401 • (632) 920-6446
E-mail: sssesm@info.com.ph • Website: http://www.sss.gov.ph

INVITATION TO BID

The Social Security System is inviting offers to purchase by way of sealed bids the following properties:

ITEM NO.	LOCATION OF PROPERTY	DESCRIPTION	SELLING PRICE
ANTIPOLY CITY
1.	Lot 41 Block 2 Shooting Star Street, Antipolo Hills, Bo. San Luis, Antipolo City	124 sq m. TCT No. R-16700 w/ 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteriorated Bungalow	P297,100.00
2.	Lot 12 Block 20 Ilang, Ilang Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	150 sq m. TCT No. R-29327 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	356,700.00
3.	Lot 20 Block 1 Magnolia Street, Antipolo Hills Subdivision, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. R-35170 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	427,100.00
4.	Lot 4 Block 8 Narcissus Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. R-28507 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	374,400.00
5.	Lot 24 Block 5 Avocado Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. R-35172 2 BR & 1 T&B poor condition Bungalow	302,700.00
6.	Lot 23, Block 12, Klm Street, Piedra Blanca Subdivision, San Isidro, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT 249212 w/ unfinished bungalow	249,500.00
7.	Lot 8 Block 6 Magnolia Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. R-35169 2 BR & 1 T&B poorly Maintained Bungalow	292,900.00
8.	Lot 17 Block 8, Dama De Noche Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. B-28506 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	207,900.00
9.	Lot 5 Block 9 Kalachuchi Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	150 sq m. TCT No. R-28319 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	344,800.00
10.	Lot 6 Block 1 Maguary Road, Our Lady of Fatima Village, San Isidro, Antipolo City	216 sq m. TCT No. R-29322 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteniorated Bungalow	611,300.00
11.	Lot 27 Block 10 Dama De Noche Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. 30329 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	448,300.00
12.	Lot 23 Block 24 Azucena Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. 28508 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteniorated Bungalow	302,300.00
13.	Lot 3 Block 20 Jasmin Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	150 sq m. TCT No. R-35171 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	347,000.00
14.	Lot 37 Block 2 Shooting Star Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	129 sq m. TCT No. R-29326 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	364,500.00
15.	Lot 3 Block 22 Nelia Avenue, Antipolo Hills Subdivision, Antipolo City	238 sq m. TCT No. R-29328 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	640,200.00
16.	Lot 6 Block 12 Rosal Street, Antipolo Hills Subdivision, Antipolo City	120 sq m. TCT No. R-18405 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	348,700.00
17.	# 37 Lot 32 Block 2 Phase 5 Hazelton Street, Vista Verde Country Homes, Mayamot, Antipolo City	190 sq m. TCT No. R-35168 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	890,300.00
18.	Lot 17, Block 20, Jasmin Street, Antipolo Hills, San Luis, Antipolo City	150 sq m. TCT No. R-15489 w/ 2BR & 1 T&B Deteriorated Bungalow	320,000.00
19.	Lot 23 Block 57 Altis Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	123 sq m. TCT No. R-29331 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteniorated Bungalow	273,100.00
20.	Lot 5 Block 2 Amapola Street, Antipolo Hills, Antipolo City	172 sq m. TCT No. R-28505 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteriorated Bungalow	408,100.00
21.	Lot 10 Block 10 Harrison Drive Cor. Ms. Kinley Street, Broadway, Pines, Antipolo City	118 sq m. TCT No. R-20186 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	673,200.00
22.	lot 3 Block 27 Street Homes Subdivision, San Luis Antipolo City	100 sq m. TCT No. R-29321 3 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	608,000.00
23.	Lot 12 Block 13, San Felipe, Subd., Muntinlupa, Bulacan	264 sq m. TCT No. T-127038 Lot only	580,800.00
24.	Lot 7 Block 13, St. Lorraine Subdivision, Tabang, Gungtung, Bulacan	205 sq m. TCT No. T-122220 cannibalized bungalow	612,000.00
25.	Lot 8 Block 5 No. 256 Jasmin Street, Liliw, Murciauyan Bulacan	180 sq m. TCT No. 386046 2 BR & 1 T&B poorly Maintained Bungalow	612,800.00
26.	Lot 2 Block 2 221 Pinecone Street, Pineville Subdivision, Liliw, Murciauyan, Bulacan	206 sq m. TCT No. 386045(m) 2 BR & 1 T&B poorly Maintained Bungalow	846,600.00
27.	I-2076-H Tagalon Street, Bo. Parada, Sta. Maria, Bulacan	600 sq m. TCT No. T-309740 (M) Abandoned & cannibalized bungalow	B16,900.00
CALOOCAN CITY
28.	Lot 14 Block 72 Suriguan Street, Amparo Subdivision, Caloocan City	400 sq m. TCT No. C-369782 2 BR & 1 T&B Deteriorated Bungalow	750,800.00
29.	Lot 8 Block 17 Rose Street, Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Caloocan City	88 sq m. TCT No. C-370437 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	300,800.00
30.	Lot 35 Block 3 Villa Magdalena III, Camarin Road, Caloocan City	84 sq m. TCT No. C-375319 no BR & no T&B Bungalow	611,200.00
31.	Lot 22 Block 3 Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Novales, Caloocan City	60 sq m. TCT No. C-372700 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	424,200.00
BULACAN
32.	Lot 26-A # 022 Anshew Street, Amparo Subdivision, Novalesches, Caloocan City	237 sq m. TCT No. C-375755 Deteriorated Residential Bungalow	456,800.00
33.	Lot 5 Block 5 Sampaguita Street, Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Caloocan City	91 sq m. TCT No. C-378412 2BR & 1 T&B Deteriorated Bungalow	362,000.00
34.	Lot 14 Block 18 Rose Street, Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Caloocan City	86 sq m. TCT No. C-378891 2BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	377,300.00
35.	Lot 5 Block 3 Lucky Homes, Deparo, Novalesches, Caloocan City	150 sq m. TCT No. C-373552 3 BR & 2 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	709,200.00
36.	Lot 5, Block 11, Sagrado Village, Deparo, Caloocan City	100 sq m. TCT No. C-362245 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	462,300.00
37.	Lot 12 Block 17 Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Novalesches, Caloocan City	86 sq m. TCT No. 374297 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	434,300.00
38.	Lot 10 Block 15 St. Rose Street, Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Novalesches, Caloocan City	86 sq m. TCT No. C-374346 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow	433,800.00
39.	Lot 900-M-2-D, Sunflower Street, Capitol Parkhomes, Novalesches, Caloocan City	100 sq m. TCT # C-378782 Abandoned	274,200.00
40.	Lot 4 Block 3 Villa Magdalena III, Camarin, Novalesches, Caloocan City	86 sq m. TCT No. C-378411 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	451,700.00
QUEZON CITY
41.	Lot # 594-T-5-L-10 # 13 Molave Drive I, Damong Malit, Novalesches, Q.C.	400 sq m. TCT No. 299930 7 BR & 2 T&B Deteriorated 2 Unit Split-level Bungalow	1,116,000.00
42.	Lot 15 Block 3 Saint James Village, Timogeros, Muntinlupa City	181 sq m. TCT No. M-32581 (Shanties)	362,000.00
43.	Lot 1-D-1 # 213 Interior M, Sison Street, Campsie, Muntinlupa City	299 sq m. TCT No. M-32582 No House	598,000.00
44.	Lot 21 Block 1-C Diamond Park, Viclona Homes Subd, Tunasan, Muntinlupa City	300 sq m. TCT No. 177412 2BR and 1T&B poorly maintained	929,000.00
45.	L272-B-7-A Interior San Guillermo Street, Putatan, Muntinlupa City	255 sq m. TCT 7945 abandoned/cannibalized bungalow	346,400.00
46.	Lot 29 Phase 6-A Pearl Heights, Victoria Homes, Tunasan, Muntinlupa City	154 sq m. TCT # R-15724 2BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	545,700.00
47.	Lot 2 Block 5-H Jade Heights, Victoria Homes Subdivision, Tunasan, Muntinlupa City	270 sq m. TCT No. 15323 2 BR & 1 T&B Fairly Maintained Bungalow	764,800.00
48.	Lot 1 Block 8-A Pearl Heights, Victoria Homes, Tunasan, Muntinlupa City	150 sq m. TCT No. 15438 2 BR & 1 T&B Poorly Maintained Bungalow</

calagyan@inquirer.net.ph
897-8000 local 238

Aries Espinoza, Editor

Where to Stop Where to GO

A weekly directory of the country's best establishments

ASTORIA
Serviced Apartment Suites
Astoria Plaza
15 J. Escrivia Drive, Ortigas Business District, Pasig City 1600
Tel. 687-1111 Fax 910-0370
Email: sales@astoriaplaza.com

Camp John Hay Manor
Loakan Road, Baguio City
Tel. (074) 446-0231 to 50

City Garden Suites

1158A Mabini St., Ermita, Manila
Tel. 536-1451 Fax 524-4844
Email: cityreservations@citygardenhotels.com

CSB HOTEL

The Choice of Style & Elegance
Areval Ave., cor. Estrada St., Malate, Manila
Tel. (02) 400-3333 Fax 400-7401

Dusit Hotel Nikko

Dusit Hotel Nikko
Ayala Center, 1223 Makati City Phil.
Tel. 867-3333 Email: dusitmn@dusit.com
http://manila.dusit.com

GARDEN

Garden Plaza Hotel & Suites
1030 Belen St., Paco, Manila
Tel. (632) 522-4835/Fax (632) 522-4840

Grand Regal Hotel Davao

J. Laurel St., Lanang, Davao City
Tel. (628) 235-0888/(382) 234-3858

INTERCONTINENTAL

Intercontinental Manila
1 Ayala Avenue, Makati City
Tel. 815-9711
www.intercontinental.com

Macau Island Resort

Cebu, Philippines
Punta Engano Road, Lapu Lapu Cebu
Tel. (632) 231-0288/Fax (632) 231-1686

MANILA PAVILION

Manila Pavilion Hotel
UN Avenue, Ermita, Manila 1000
Tel. (632) 526-1212 Fax (632) 526-5100
www.manilapavilion.com.ph

Oakwood

Oakwood Premier Ayala Center
6th Floor, Glorietta 4, Ayala Center
Makati City, Metro Manila
Tel. (632) 729-8888 loc. 8101 Fax: (632) 728-0000 / echa@oakwood.com.ph www.oakwood.com

Royal Mandaya Hotel

J. Palma Gil St., Davao City
Tel. (082) 225-8888/Fax (082) 225-1888

SUBIC

Subic International Hotel
Subic Bay, Free Port Zone, Olongapo City
Manila: 243-2222/F: 243-0852
http://www.subichotel.com

SUMMER PLACE HOTEL

Summer Place Hotel
Km. 280 Marcos Highway, Baguio City
Tel. (074) 446-0560, 446-5100-01
www.SummerPlaceBaguio.com

TAI VISTA HOTELS

Managed by Fuego Hotels & Properties
Km. 60 Aguinaldo Highway, Tagaytay City
Tel. (092) 221-0888/Fax (082) 225-0111
Email: taivista@fueghotels.com

THE MARCO POLO

CM Recto St., Davao City 8000
Tel. (082) 221-0888/Fax (082) 225-0111
www.marcopolo hotels.com

WATERFRONT HOTEL

Waterfront Hotel Lahug
1 Salinas Drive, Lahug Cebu City
Tel. (6332) 232-6888/Fax (6332) 232-6880
www.waterfronthotels.net

WATERFRONT

Waterfront Hotel Mactan
1 Airport Road, Lapu Lapu City, 6015
Tel. (632) 340-4888/Fax (632) 340-5693
www.waterfronthotels.net

Regent Hotel

The Regent Hotel
Elias Angeles St., Naga City
Tel. (6354) 4722626/Fax (6354) 4722525

'A Day for Moms' at Dusit Hotel

MOTHER'S DAY IS TRULY "A DAY FOR moms" at Dusit Hotel Nikko with its sumptuous food offerings specially prepared by its Asian specialty restaurants to celebrate this important occasion.

May 13 and 14, is a special day for all mothers at The Café. A special buffet spread is created to delight the special ladies of our lives on Mother's Day and is priced at only P950++ per person. Benjarong Royal Thai Restaurant treat mommies with its Mother's Day set menu specially created by its Thai chef and is priced at only P880++ per person. For a taste of authentic Japanese cuisine, Benkay celebrates Mother's Day and offers a special set menu with a myriad of Japanese dishes consisting of seven items that includes chef Tomiyama's very own Japanese sweets. Avail of this sumptuous fare for only P1,300++ per person. At Thien Duong Vietnamese Cuisine, try chef Nguyen's two set menus specially created for Mother's Day and is priced at P800++ per person only.

Diners availing of the special buffet of The Café or the set menu offerings of Benjarong, Thien Duong, and Benkay oh May 13 and 14, awards mommies with a "Mom's Essentials" kit. The perfect gift to the best moms, it contains fabulous beauty and wellness products from Lancome, Rustan's Essences, Belo Medical Group, gift vouchers for a free personalized make-up consultation from Lancome, Mommy Academy gift certificates from Big & Small Co., Maxibear and FOOD magazine.

For inquiries and dining reservations, call 867-3333.

Ancient healing practices with Bellevue Spa Club's Hilot Massage

A PRACTICE HANDED DOWN FROM MANY generations, the hilot is an effective healing ritual addressing both the physical and spiritual aspects. This traditional treatment is now available for everyone to enjoy at The Bellevue Hotel's Spa Club. Open daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., the Spa Club also offers 24-hour in-room massage services. A combination of Eastern and Western treatments can be availed from highly-trained therapists. Modern facilities, expert trainers and experienced stylists can also be found at the gym and salon to complete your transformation.

Experience the fun, frolic and food of the Filipino fiesta with The Bellevue Hotel's Lucban Fiesta Buffet this May 26 to 28. The dining Mecca of the Alabang area takes you to the land of kipings, longganisa and espasol with a buffet spread which features most-loved dishes of this locale and all-time Filipino favorites. Enjoy the fiesta frenzy at The Bellevue! For inquiries, call 771-8181.

Treats for mom at Waterfront

THIS SUNDAY, WATERFRONT CEBU CITY Hotel & Casino (WCCHC) honors the most important woman in our lives -- mom. On May 14, celebrate Mother's Day with the whole family with a Holy Mass to be held at the Hotel's Celebes Room, 10:45 a.m. More treats await mom at the Waterfront. Lavish mom with a gastronomic feast at Uno with the Mother's Day Buffet Special. Lunch and dinner buffet at P750 per person plus a special token for mom to bring home. Tribute mamma with a culinary trip at the Hotel's signature Italian restaurant, La Gondola where romantic lunch and dinner set menus also await.

Mother's Day happens only once a year. There's no occasion more special than this to celebrate, show mom how great she is or just simply to thank her.

For inquiries and reservations, you may call (032) 232-6888 loc. 8200 or 8201 or Manila Sales and Reservations Office at (02) 687-0888. You can also visit the website at www.waterfronthotels.net.

Sunday champagne lunch at Paseo Uno

MANDARIN ORIENTALS

Asian-inspired chic, all-day dining restaurant Paseo Uno with its theatre of open kitchens and sensational buffets, has created a gustatory trademark among the metropolis' stylish set when it opened three years ago and introduced a trendsetting dining concept.

Beginning May 21 and every Sunday thereafter, another grand dining experience awaits Paseo Uno diners and habitués. A glass or free-flowing serving of Moet et Chandon Brut Imperial is priced at P1,499++, single serving; and at P1,999++, free-flowing. Children's buffet (5 to 12 years old) is priced at P650++, inclusive of free-flowing soft drinks or chilled juices.

On Fridays, the restaurant's day's freshest bounty from the sea in a variety of gastronomic offerings from its award-winning culinary team.

Paseo Uno is open from 5 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., breakfast; 12 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., lunch; 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., snack; and 6 p.m. to 12 a.m., dinner. For reservations and enquiries, call Paseo Uno at 750 8888 extension 2411 / 2412.

Mom's free at Seasons at The Manila Pavilion Hotel

IT'S MOTHER'S DAY! TREAT your mom out this 14th of May to Manila Pavilion Hotel's newly opened coffee shop, Seasons.

Seasons honors all mothers on this special day by preparing a lunch and dinner buffet fit for the "Queen of our Hearts". Choose among an array of international recipes prepared with the same tender loving care and cooked to perfection right before your very eyes.

Buffet is priced at P850++ per person. And as a special treat, mom dining with 3 more guests eats free.

For inquiries and reservations, please call Manila Pavilion Hotel at (02) 526-1212 extension 2318.

DAVAO TOURISM SUPPORTS WOFEX 2006

World Food Expo 2006 (Wofex), the 6th International Exposition on Worldwide Food & Beverages slated on August 2 to 5, at the World Trade Center, Manila, Philippines goes full blast in its roadshow campaign in the Visayas down Mindanao regions.

Being the biggest food exhibition in the country today, Wofex is tagged as the ultimate food show experience with over 700 exhibitors and an expected trade visitors of over 45,000 in its 4-day run. Organized by Premier Events Plus Group Inc (PEPGroup), this year's WOFEX promises to bring in new technologies, new products and services from here and abroad. Wofex 2006 is supported by the Davao Tourism Association (Data), the organization responsible for all tourism activities of the region with hotels, restaurants, resorts, clubs and similar establishments under their umbrella. In photo during the sealing of the agreement in Davao City, from left, Art Boncato (president of Data), Joel Pascual, president of PEPGroup. For more information on Wofex, call 929-793, 436-4209, 435-4790, 920-8136, or e-mail info@PEPGroup., or log on to www.wofex.com.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER

CLASSIFIEDS

BI

PORO POINT MANAGEMENT CORPORATION
A Subsidiary of Bases Conversion Development Authority

INVITATION TO APPLY FOR ELIGIBILITY AND TO BID

The PORO POINT MANAGEMENT CORPORATION (PPMC), through its Bids and Awards Committee (BAC), invites suppliers to apply for eligibility and to bid for the hereunder project:

Name of Project: PROCUREMENT OF MATERIALS FOR THE AIRPORT PERIMETER FENCING PROJECT
Location: SAN FERNANDO AIRPORT, CANAOAY, SAN FERNANDO CITY, LA UNION
Brief Description: TO SUPPLY, DELIVER MATERIALS FOR THE SAN FERNANDO AIRPORT FENCE
Approved Budget: For the Contract (ABC): P 2,602,868.80
Contract Duration: Thirty (30) Calendar Days
Delivery Period: Thirty (30) Calendar Days

Prospective bidders should have undertaken a similar contract within the last five (5) years with an amount of at least 50% of the above ABC. The Eligibility Check/Screening as well as the Preliminary Examination of Bids shall use non-discretionary "pass/fail" criteria. Post-qualification of the lowest calculated bid shall be conducted.

All particulars relative to Eligibility Statement and Screening, Bid Security, Performance Security, Pre-Bidding Conference(s), Evaluation of Bids, Post-Qualification and Award of Contract shall be governed by the pertinent provisions of R.A. 9184 and its Implementing Rules and Regulations (IRR).

The complete schedule of activities is listed, as follows:

Activities	Schedule
1. Issuance of Bid Documents	May 19-22, 2006
2. Pre-bid Conference/Site Inspection	May 23, 2006
3. Opening of Bids	June 5, 2006; 9:00 a.m.
4. Bid Evaluation	June 5, 2006
5. Post-qualification	June 6 - 7, 2006
6. Notice of Award	June 15, 2006

Bid Documents will be available only to prospective bidders upon payment of a non-refundable amount of One thousand pesos (P1,000.00) to the PPMC Cashier.

PPMC assumes no responsibility whatsoever to compensate or indemnify bidders for any expenses incurred in the preparation and submission of the bid.

Approved by:
(Sgd.) ATTY. ANTHONY C. MANGUIAT
Chairman, Bids and Awards Committee
Vice President & CEO

(PDI-May 6 & 13, 2006)

TransCo
Republic of the Philippines
National Transmission Corporation

Section I.Invitation to Apply for Eligibility and to Bid*Supply and Delivery of Various Information and Communication Technology Equipment

(Reference No.: PB060425-EA0072)

1. The National Transmission Corporation, Head Office Region (TRANSCO-HO) through the CY2006 Corporate Budget approved by the TRANSCO Board, intends to apply the sum of PHP 7,785,000.00 being the Total Approved Budget for the Contract (ABC) to payments under the contract for the Supply and Delivery of Various Information and Communication Technology Equipment. Bids received in excess of the ABC shall be automatically rejected at opening.
2. The TRANSCO-HO now invites Bids from Eligible Bidders for Various ICTs. Delivery of the GOODS is required within thirty (30) calendar days from receipt of approved Purchase Order. The description of an eligible Bidder is contained in Section II of the Bidding Documents, ITB.
3. Bidding will be conducted through open competitive bidding procedures using non-discretionary pass/fail criteria as specified in the Implementing Rules and Regulations Part A (IRR-A) of Republic Act 9184 (R.A. 9184), otherwise known as the "Government Procurement Reform Act," and is restricted to Filipino citizens/sole proprietorships, organizations with at least sixty percent (60%) interest or outstanding capital stock belonging to citizens of the Philippines, and to citizens or organizations of a country the laws or regulations of which grant similar rights or privileges to Filipino citizens, pursuant to Republic Act 5183 (R.A. 5183) and subject to Commonwealth Act 138 (C.A. 138). Only Bids from Bidders who pass the eligibility check will be opened. The process for the eligibility check is described in Section II of the Bidding Documents, ITB. The bidder with the Lowest Calculated Bid (LCB) shall advance to the post-qualification stage in order to finally determine responsiveness of the bid to technical and financial requirements of the project. The contract shall then be awarded to the Lowest Calculated and Responsive Bidder (LCRB) who was determined as such during the post-qualification procedure.
4. A complete set of Bidding Documents may be purchased by interested Bidders, starting May 15, 2006 to June 5, 2006 from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. at the address below and upon payment of a non-refundable fee in the amount of One Thousand Pesos (PHP 1,000.00). The method of payment will be CASH. The Bidding Documents shall be received personally by the prospective Bidder or his authorized representative.
5. The TRANSCO-HO will hold a Pre-Bid Conference open to all interested parties on May 22, 2006 at 3:00 P.M. at same address below. Requests for clarifications on the bid documents should be submitted before the Pre-Bid Conference.
6. Bids and eligibility requirements must be delivered to the address below on or before 10:00 A.M. of June 6, 2006. All Bids must be accompanied by a Bid security in any of the following form and amount:

Form of Security	Amount
1. Cash, certified check, cashier's check manager's check, bank draft or Irrevocable letter of credit	1% of ABC
2. Bank guaranteed	1.5% of ABC
3. Surety bond	2.5% of ABC
4. Foreign government guarantee	100% of ABC or an equivalent amount in a freely convertible currency. Late bids shall not be accepted.

7. Bid opening shall be on June 6, 2006 / 10:00 A.M. at the Admin Conference Rm. same address below. Bids will be opened in the presence of the Bidders' representatives who choose to attend at the address below.

8. The National Transmission Corporation reserves the right to accept or reject any Bid, to annul the bidding process, and to reject all Bids at any time prior to contract award, without thereby incurring any liability to the affected Bidder or Bidders.

National Transmission Corporation, Head Office Region

Mr. Armando N. Ochoa, BAC Chairman
MMD Office, G/F TransCo Main Bldg.
Power Center, Quezon Ave., corner BIR Road
Diliman, Quezon City
Tel. No. (632) 9812237 / Fax No. (632) 9228432 • 9213479
Website: www.transco.ph

(Sgd.) ARMANDO N. OCHOA
Chairman, Bids and Awards Committee

(PDI - May 13, 2006)

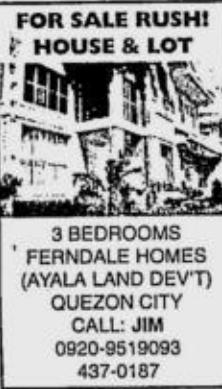

WE BUY
at HIGH PRICE
ROLEX
HIS & HER Watch Center
GoldCrest Bldg.
Glorietta-2
5646593 5897041
0917-8473744

BUY*SELL*PAWN
WATCHES
JEWELRY

HIGHEST APPRAISAL
8040484/8342886

REBUSTILLO - RITO REUNION

THE FAMILY OF SOCORRO REMPISS VDA DE REBUSTILLO WILL HOST THIS year's Rebustillo - Rito Clan whole day reunion on Saturday, May 13, 2006 at Lola Coring's residence, 157 Ilao Sur, Oas, Albay. Family members are requested to contact Marie Lynn Reyeg (0917 7627282); Ma. Socorro S. Jungoy (02) 8129166 and Romeo 'Jhun' Rebustillo (0919 5552632).

FOR SALE RUSH!
HOUSE & LOT
3 BEDROOMS
(AYALA LAND DEV'T)
QUEZON CITY
CALL: JIM
0920-9519093
437-0187

Shimron Energy Company
Leader Israeli manufacturer of ELECTRIC INSTANT WATER HEATERS

is looking for:

sole importer and business partner

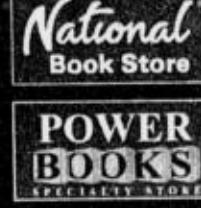

Contact: Mr. Ofir Mor, Marketing Manager

Shimron11@bezeqint.net

www.hoters.co.il

Available at all:

WANTED CIVIL ENGINEER

Min. of 4 yrs. Working Exp. (Construction)
Bring Resumé, Transcript of Record to:
DNA ENGINEERING & CONSTRUCTION
998 Josefina III St., Sampaloc, Manila
Tel. Nos. 712-6360/740-8030/743-9171

Republic of the Philippines
BATANGAS STATE UNIVERSITY
Rizal St., Batangas City

EXTENDED NOTICE OF SEARCH AND CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

The Board of Regents of the Batangas State University formally and publicly announces that the Search for Presidency of the BATANGAS STATE UNIVERSITY is now open. Interested applicants and/or nominees are invited to send their formal applications to the Search Committee chaired by Mr. Richard Albert I. Onsomed.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- Must be a Filipino citizen;
- Preferably a holder of a doctoral degree;
- Preferably 35 to 60 years old;
- Must be morally upright;
- With recognized leadership in his/her profession in the academic or industry;
- With at least five (5) years of managerial/administrative experience.

In addition to the above-mentioned qualifications, the applicants should make a full disclosure of all administrative, criminal, and/or civil cases filed in any court in the Philippines against him/her and are required to submit the following clearances:

- National Bureau of Investigation
- Sandiganbayan
- Civil Service Commission and/or Certificate of No Pending Administrative Case issued by the Administrative Officer of present employer
- Previous Employer
- Not convicted in any administrative or criminal cases

Formal application addressed to the Search Committee should be accompanied with:

- Detailed CV and certified supporting documents
- Proposed Vision, Mission and Thrusts of the University
- Results of neuro-psychiatric examination conducted by any government physician or any accredited health institution
- Medical Certificate from a government physician

Interested applicants and/or those nominated for the position are requested to submit four (4) sets of their formal application and certified supporting documents on or before May 31, 2006 to:

MARLON N. FABRICANTE
Executive Assistant IV
Office of Commissioner S. M. OCAMPO, JR.
CHED, 5/F, DAP Bldg., San Miguel Ave.,
Ortigas Center, Pasig City
Tel. No. (02) 636-1690
Telefax No. (02) 636-1693
(PDI - May 13, 14 & 15, 2006)

BATANGAS STATE UNIVERSITY
c/o MS. ROSE MAGSINO
Batangas State University
Rizal St., Batangas City
Tel. No. (043) 723-0339

OBITUARIESOur Dearly Beloved
TERESA PIA ROQUE RISKIN

Peacefully joined our LORD & her husband
JACK RISKIN
on May 11, 2006 at the age of 42.

Her children NATHANIEL, ZACHARY & NAOMI; parents ROMEO ROQUE & TERESITA DACUDAO ROQUE; sisters & spouses MICHELLE & JAY MANZO, EMILY ROQUE, CAROL & DEL MAGHIRANG; mother-in-law BEVERLY GOLDBERG & sister in law CINDY RISKIN; other friends & relatives request the pious readers to pray for the eternal repose of her soul.

The remains lie in state at the Loyola Memorial Chapel, Guadalupe, Makati.

Details for the interment will be announced later.

Mark Brian Palou

February 25, 1953 – May 11, 2006

His loving wife Gigi; daughters, Lisette & Margie; brothers & sisters Hecky & Bernice Syquia, Ricky & Joy Palou, Arthur & Lea Palou, Paul & Sandra Schwartzbaum, Boopie & Val Eraña, Raffy & Rose Policarpio, nephews & nieces, relatives and friends request you to join in celebrating Mark's coming home to the Lord.

His remains are at the Sanctuario de San Antonio, Capilla de San Francisco, Forbes Park, Makati City.

The funeral mass will be held on Sunday, May 14, 2006 at 2 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, donations to the Bantay Bata Foundation or the Bantay Kalikasan Foundation will be greatly appreciated.

WE DESIGN
OBITUARY
FOR FREE.

Erlinda Bacagon Cruz, M.D.
Joined her Creator
on May 9, 2006.

Her children Aquilina, Drs. Federico & Sonia, Drs. Ofelia & Felix Antonio, Drs. Erlinda & Roberto Climaco; grandchildren Carmina, F. Gregorio (†), Dr. Kariktan, Christiaan, John, Jamie Lynn, F. Matthew, A. Alexandra Cruz, Von & Michael Antonio request the pious reader to pray for her eternal rest. She lies in state at the residence of Dr. & Mrs. Federico Cruz at 8 Milan St., San Francisco Village, Taytay, Rizal.

Interment at the Taytay Catholic Cemetery will follow the 8:00 a.m. Mass on May 14, 2006.

CARMEN MARINO PEREZ wish to sincerely thank everyone who showed their love and affection for Mameng through their presence, prayer, thoughts and flowers.

Message of Thanks
We, the family of the late

More Classified Ads on pages A6 & B7

"...absent from the body to be present with the Lord."
2 Corinthians 5:8

BUSINESS

BIR directs offices to shore up collection

By Michelle V. Remo

THE BUREAU OF INTERNAL Revenue has directed its regional offices to implement all tax-audit schemes available, such as surveillance of suspected tax cheats, to meet its P675.35 billion target for the year.

The directive came amid the BIR's struggle to meet its revenue collection targets.

As of April 29, the revenue agency was still about P10 billion short of its P79-billion target for the month, putting at risk the government's ability to reduce its budget deficit this year.

BIR Commissioner Jose Mario Buñag said in a statement that he has instructed the revenue agency's regional directors to implement programs like "industry benchmarking," "tax mapping," third-party information gathering, and even surveillance of possible tax evaders to shore up revenue collections.

Under the benchmarking system, the BIR will come up with a benchmark on the average income of firms in an industry.

Taxpayers who declare an income lower than the benchmark would become candidates for tighter auditing.

"If the taxpayer refuses to rectify their tax payment, the same may be classified as priority for surveillance and full blast audit," Buñag said in the statement.

Surveillance would include evaluation of a firm's inventory and day-to-day operations.

Tax mapping, meanwhile, is a program where revenue personnel are sent to check on the tax compliance of business establishments.

The level of tax compliance is determined through proper issuance of receipts and keeping of books of accounts.

The BIR likewise uses third-party information, such as payments made by clients, to determine the accuracy of income declared by taxpayers subjected to audit.

Being the national government's biggest source of revenue, the BIR is hard pressed to meet its revenue collection target to bring down the budget deficit to P125 billion this year.

The deficit stood at P146.8 billion last year.

The BIR is even more pressured to meet its target by the government's decision to spend more for pump-priming activities.

Under the initiative, the government intends to maximize the entire national budget and spend more on infrastructure to boost the economy.

Fiscal authorities said the pump-priming initiative, particularly through implementing infrastructure development projects, would mean government spending would be heavier in the first months of the year to take advantage of the dry season.

Some analysts have expressed concern on the frontloading of expenditures, saying this threatens the government's ability to meet its fiscal targets.

Software firms urged to be more inventive

By Abigail L. Ho

THE LOCAL SOFTWARE INDUSTRY SHOULD step up efforts to come up with more innovative products to more effectively compete with its Asian neighbors in the international market.

Philippine Software Industry Association (PSIA) president Fermin Taruc said the Philippines had long positioned itself in the international software market as a low-cost software provider.

"But the emergence of China and Vietnam necessitates building more sustainable competitive advantages, including quality and domain expertise," he said.

Domain expertise, in particular, could be developed by encouraging private sector multinational firms to set up software innovation centers in the country to help local software companies come up with better wares, he said.

He added that support from the government was also very important.

Another way for local software firms to become more competitive was to focus on sectors where international demand was huge, such as mobile and gaming applications, he said.

"There's a huge demand for such applications in Japan, Europe and the US," he said.

Right now, he said around 75 percent of software revenue came from services, with actual products contributing only 25 percent.

"We want to increase that by 25 percent by developing more innovative products," he said.

Although hard-pressed to further boost the quality of local software and come out with more new products, he said there was little or even no pressure at all on local software firms to become certified as they mostly targeted smaller clients abroad.

First Gen prods gov't on Calaca

EVEN AFTER HAVING GONE THROUGH TWO failed biddings for the 600-megawatt (MW) Calaca coal-fired power plant, First Gen Corp. remains interested in the asset and would want to get into discussions with the Power Sector Assets and Liabilities Management Corp. (PSALM) regarding its acquisition.

In an interview with reporters, First Gen vice chair and chief executive Peter Garrucho said the independent power producer had already made its intentions known to PSALM in a letter.

But he said the government agency, which had been tasked to privatize the National Power Corp.'s assets, would have to decide whether it would go into negotiations with parties interested in the asset, not necessarily just First Gen.

Asked whether it was possible for First Gen to form a partnership with DMCI Holdings Inc., the only other bidder for the Calaca plant, he said it was still too early to tell.

However, he admitted that DMCI could play a vital role in Calaca as it was a coal supplier.

"But, of course, there may be other potential partners that can bring some other things to the table. Although we are willing to do it alone, and we can do it alone," he said.

He related that First Gen had the funds to acquire the plant even without a partner, as well as the technology to run the plant alone.

Also, he said the IPP had already identified which of its people would be assigned to the plant if ever the acquisition pushes through.

"We even have people who have already worked there. We're familiar with the asset," he said.

Asked whether First Gen would be willing to raise its bid to meet PSALM's $288-million reserve price for the generation facility, he did not give a categorical answer, saying only that he believed the company's bid of $176.6 million was quite reasonable.

He explained that should First Gen succeed in acquiring the plant, it would have to spend a "considerable amount" to rehabilitate the plant, to ensure that there would not be any environmental concerns, particularly from the facility's host community. Abigail L. Ho

Tick.Tock.Tick.Tock.

For most of us life's really short. Unless you live in the new Playa Calatagan.

Just two and a half hours drive from Manila, Playa Calatagan is the country's first tourism estate designed around a beach community. Exclusive seaside residences. Hotels. Retail stores. And a two kilometer stretch of pristine white sand beach guarded by a historic lighthouse. All these in a little town of Old World charm and laid back ambiance. With so much to see and do, every moment seems to go on forever.

PLAYA CALATAGAN SALES OFFICE

TELEPHONES
(632) 850-0594
(632) 807-7896

FAX (632) 842-0039

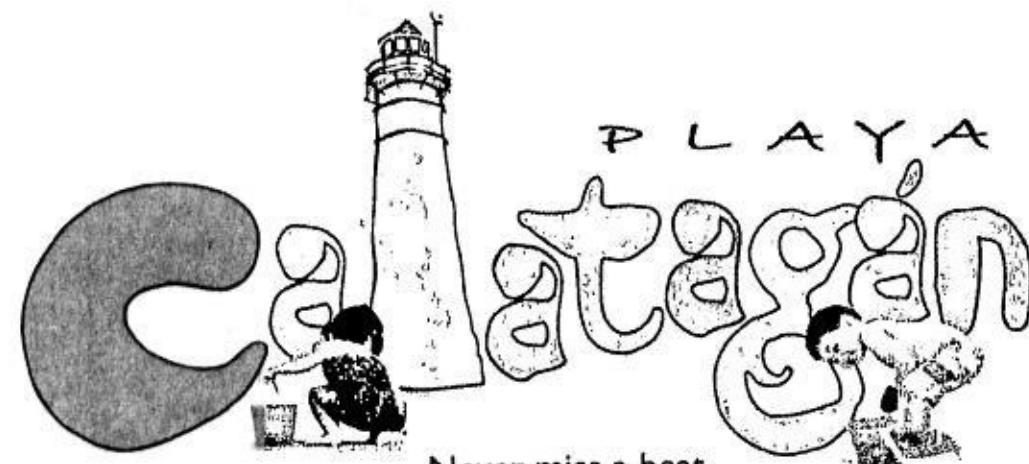

Call or text (0920) 9549688

www.landcopacific.com

Lifestyle communities created by:

LANDCO PACIFIC
CORPORATION

HILURB License to Sell No. 14205-RMA-05-12

PROPERTY

Green architecture and visual pollution

WE'VE ALL HEARD WHAT IS AIR pollution, water pollution, soil pollution, noise pollution, electropollution and industrial pollution. And now we have visual pollution. Is there such a thing?

Visual pollution or visual blight refers to those elements of the landscape that the people find unattractive. These elements that clutter our surroundings may include excessive advertising billboards, stoplights, street signs, dangling telephone and power lines, utility posts, street furniture, graffiti, weeds, garbage, badly maintained buildings and derelict vehicles along the side of the road.

What is dangerous about visual pollution is its subtle way of making people indifferent to its negative effects. For example, the features of landscapes in many of our communities are getting to be identical and generic no matter what part of the country you visit, fast-food stores, roadside commercial establishments, etc. The unique character of our cities, towns and barrios, which evolved through its history and culture, is slowly disappearing, all because we have allowed visual pollution to dominate and damage our environment.

Other effects

Visual pollution can also refer to visibility issues such as when a distant scenic view is blocked by an unattractive element in the landscape.

Graffiti, spray-painted names and messages are a form of urban visual blight. This type of vandalism and its eradication in cities and towns can cost a lot of taxpayers' money. We can see this in the cleaning program of the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority (MMDA) as it tries to cover up graffiti all over the city with decorative painted murals. One may not agree with the art form but it's definitely better than the graffiti we see everywhere.

Visual pollution also affects the tourism industry. Tourists, both local and foreign, avoid unattractive places. They associate such places as unsafe and unhygienic. Establishments in these areas naturally will have very few patrons.

Visual pollution, just like the clutter and disorder in our homes, can also cause stress. Add to this the hectic pace and pressures of modern life in our crowded cities and you develop stressful citizens.

How other countries cope

The Philippines is not alone in this predicament. Many countries now are advocating and fighting visual pollution on many fronts and many of them are waging an effective war.

For instance, Beijing has approved new regulations to eliminate illegal outdoor advertising. The new regulation also asks government organizations to submit their advertisements for approval. Illegal ads are demolished if they are not given permits. Companies and persons who refuse to comply are fined up to US$1,200. Work has also started on the demolition of old billboards.

Beijing has also set up rules establishing specific sites where billboards can be placed. Outdoor signs are forbidden near the Tian'anmen Square and other important government buildings.

The new regulation also forbids billboards and other ads at interchanges and overpasses.

In Albuquerque, New Mexico, they have an ordinance that limits the size of signs through a formula that considers the size of the lots, the amount of frontage on the street and the size of the building. Allowable sizes for signs range from one square foot in residential areas to a maximum of 706 square feet. The height of the sign is limited to 26 feet or the height of the average utility pole. Sign size allotments are given to the property owner rather than to individual businesses.

When the ordinance was

GREEN ARCHITRENDS

Amado de Jesus

passed, all the sign owners were given five years to alter the size of the signs to conform with the law. When the provisions of the law were challenged by sign companies, the New Mexico court ruled that esthetics alone was enough reason for the regulation and that the ordinance did not violate the sign owners' constitutional rights. Since then most sign owners have complied with the ordinance.

In historic parts of the city, signs have been put up to conform with the architectural character of the structures. Stoplights and street lights have also been designed to complement the historic character of their settings. Utility poles have been removed in the downtown area and in newer areas utility lines have been laid underground.

In England, as in many parts of Europe, people agree that advertising can be done in various ways and business is not determined by the size and number of signs.

In the Czech Republic, due to the rapid increase in neon signs and illuminated advertising since the fall of communism, a law was enacted to curb another form of visual pollution, light pollution.

Light pollution is illumination from artificial light dispersed outside the areas it is supposed to brighten, especially if facing skyward. Opponents of light pollution claim that due to the proliferation of artificial outdoor lighting, it has become difficult to have clear night skies where one can see the stars.

Astronomers also complain that they need to use stronger instruments to view the Milky Way.

Astronomers will work with energy experts and the public to limit the amount of wasted light. This means billboards lit from above with lights pointing downward. Astronomers claim that excessive exposure to nighttime lighting causes nearsightedness, cancer, insomnia, immune-system damage and a reduction in production of the hormone melatonin.

What to do?

As seen from the experience of several countries, there are many strategies that can be used to combat visual pollution. A sensitive approach would be for planners to include the elimination of visual pollution in their design criteria. An example would be to bury utility lines in some specific areas, like parks and plazas. This would lead to more green and esthetically pleasing neighborhoods. Cell site towers can be designed to look like trees or cacti.

Another suggestion is for people who feel that some billboards pollute their neighborhood. They should let the advertisers know that they will not be buying their product as long as they continue to pollute the landscape. This is more effective than regulation, especially in this country, where we already have a lot of laws that are not followed.

Green architecture can address some of the problems of visual blight. Green buildings encourage the use of materials that last longer and are easy to maintain. They are also healthy buildings that promote the use of daylight and natural ventilation, elements that are discarded in favor of obstacles that prevent access to open and green spaces. Green architecture encourages the integration of lush vegetation as part of the overall onsite development of a property. This means no unnecessary structures such as ad signs to block the flow of ventilation.

For comments or inquiries, e-mail amadodejesus@gmail.com.

VISUAL pollution has caused cities and towns to look identical and generic no matter what part of the country you visit. The unique character of our cities and towns, which evolved through its history and culture, is slowly disappearing, all because we have allowed visual pollution to dominate and damage our environment.

TREELUGGER: THE DUNN FOUNDATION

MAY IBUBUGAN

- SA COVERAGE... Extends to over 25% more area than the leading brand
- SA FORMULATION... Superior formulation, does not drip easily
- SA KINTAB... Impressive high-gloss finish
- SA COLOR... Color uniformity from can to can
- SA SELECTION... Wider range of color to choose from

SA PRESYO...SULIT!

RJ SPRAY PAINT, MAY IBUBUGAN Available at Ace Hardware, SM Hardware Workshop, Home Depot / Do It Best, True Value, Wilson Builders Depot, City Hardware, NCCC and other selected hardware stores. For dealership particulars call, 372-9468

Join our Grand Open House this SUNDAY!

CHÂTEAUX DE PARIS

YOU'VE EARNED IT. A ROYAL ARRIVAL.

You have achieved stellar success over the years. Celebrate your continued success with the ultimate form of luxury: a stately home at South Forbes's newest prestige development ~ Châteaux de Paris.

A grand entrance gate ushers you into a splendid experience. Distinctly French "allées" - tree-lined streets - surround your private kingdom. A modern castle is what you'll call home. And the Grand Clubhouse is the perfect venue to entertain your gallery of guests.

Best of all, with your free membership to the world-class 18-Hole South Forbes Golf Club, you'll soon lay claim to the greens and more championship trophies!

JOIN THE ROSTER OF ROYALS FOR AS LOW AS P25,000 A MONTH!

FREE Membership to the 18-Hole South Forbes Golf Club

THE WHOLE WORLD IN ONE CITY

</

B2-2
BRITTANY'S PORTOFINO

Premier enclave south of Manila

GOOG FENCES, ROBERT Frost once wrote, make good neighbors. Too high a fence would wall people out. One too low, however, would deprive the homeowner of privacy. But at a height just right, it nurtures friendships as it does at Portofino.

A premiere development south of Manila by maverick real estate developer Brittany Corp., Portofino has created a unique district where a variety of enclaves come together as a true community of neighbors. Spanning over 300 hectares along the stretch of the Las Piñas-Cavite-Laguna-Muntinlupa Link Road, it is inspired by the Italian architecture and lifestyle—a way of living that is, in many ways, very Filipino as well.

"Just like the Italians, Filipinos are very sociable. We don't just live next to each other. We genuinely care about our neighbors. We are very friendly and we bring people into our homes and our lives. It is this very spirit that has moved us at Brittany Corp. to create a living space that nurtures this value," said Brittany president Jing Serrano.

Exclusive enclave

Just 30 minutes away from the central business district of Makati and only five minutes away from the commercial centers of Alabang, this is the exclusive enclave where the word neighborhood finds a whole new meaning. Clusters, rather than rows, of Italian-inspired homes are set against lush green gardens. Combining the grandeur of old Italy, the convivial spirit of the Filipino, and all the advantages of modern living at its highest standards, Brittany's Portofino has created a unique residential enclave that truly bestows upon its residents the sweetness of the high life.

"... Portofino was master-planned so uniquely. Everything about it is meant to foster social interaction without violating one's privacy. Within the beautifully crafted homes are courtyards or atriums where the family can gather. And rather than building rows of houses, the homes are situated in clusters to encourage contact among neighbors," Serrano stressed.

Various enclaves

The Portofino development includes various enclaves: Portofino Heights, Portofino South, Courtyards of Portofino I and II, Widelots of Portofino and The Masters Collection. The Italian-inspired architecture features sun-drenched colors, cobblestones, charming arches and a strong sense of openness that only comes with a thorough understanding of light and space.

And because good fences make good neighbors, walls separating one property from the next are set at just the right height to showcase the fine Italian architecture without encroaching on the resident's privacy. Where it is possible, trees and hedges replace concrete walls—not just for esthetic purposes but for environmental ones as well. In place of these thick walls are high-tech security services that ensure the safety of all residents 24 hours a day and seven days a week.

Masters Collection

Brittany's most recent offering, the Masters Collection, is a testament to the maverick developer's innovative spirit and its commitment to providing the highest standard of living possible. Aptly named after Italian masters of the arts, the Masters Collection includes six new model homes where every last element is crafted with the high life in mind.

As the first completed model home of the Masters Collection, the Michelangelo is best characterized by its unceasing attention to every minute feature. Michelangelo is a home that exudes grandeur and sophistication rather than flaunts it.

Rather than creating a separate

A STONE-CLAD cupola lends authentic Italian charm to the Raphael.

A RESPLENDENT dome welcomes visitors to the Courtyards of Portofino.

enclave for the Masters Collection, these homes are intended to be integrated within the entire Portofino development. The floor areas of the six model homes range from 350 sq m to 650 sq m. Lot sizes reach to as much as 1,000 sq m. For as long as the client has a Portofino lot within the required lot range, he can choose a home that is part of the Masters Collection.

Premium utilities

The entire Portofino development boasts of premium utilities for its residents. To ensure an unobstructed view of the landscape, cables for power and communication were buried underground. Perimeter fences and buffer trees line the boundary lots to ensure security apart from the 24-hour system that safeguards the entire community. Deep wells and water reservoirs ensure a round the clock water service. Garbage is collected every other day. Most of all, a professional property management team secures the community and sees to it that the high standards are maintained long after the last lot has been purchased.

Brittany (tel. nos. 850-2868 or 850-3084) and its properties remain as the investment of choice in real estate development today. More than just a safe investment, it has developed into a wise choice for homeowners with a vision for the future.

THE HOMEOWNERS DEVELOPMENT CORP. LED BY PRESIDENT Jaime I. Hernandez celebrates its 22nd year of building homes and communities for middle-income families this month. Founded by its late chair, former Rizal vice governor Jose C. Hernandez, it has embarked on subdivision development in Rizal towns such as Cainta and San Mateo, Antipolo City and Metro Manila cities like Quezon, Pasig and Caloocan cities.

To HDC's credit are 26 projects, the latest four being Birmingham Meadows in Rodriguez, Rizal; Birmingham Alberto and Birmingham Diamante in San Mateo, Rizal, and Birmingham Plains, General Trias, Cavite. HDC is a member of the Chamber of Real Estate and Builders Associations (Creba) and Subdivision and Housing Developers Association (SHDA).

The earlier projects were Birmingham Homes 1, 2 and 3, and Panorama Hills, Antipolo City; Birmingham Sunrise, Bankers Village, San Mateo; Birmingham Place 1 and 2, Cainta; Metrogreen Village, Novavalches, Quezon City; Metropolis North Subdivision, Kalookan City; Metrogreen Village, Don Bosco Tech College (as general contractor, builder and administrator), Pasay City.

Golden Mile Subdivision, Roosevelt Park, Midland Homes, Cainta; Bridgestone Park Phase 1 and 2; Northwest Village, Metropolis Village 1 and 2, and Metrogreen Village in Pasig City; Markwood Area, Grand Valley Subdivision (joint venture with HDC as landowners), Antipolo, Rizal.

Five models are available. These are Gloucester, 110-sq-m floor area on 120-sq-m lot, living and dining rooms, two toilets and bathrooms, three bedrooms, maid's room, balcony and carport lanai; Northampton, 74-sq-m area, 120-sq-m lot area, three bedrooms, two T&B and carport; Southampton, two bedrooms, two T&B.

Coventry and Dover townhouse units of 50-sq-m floor area, 55- to 63-sq-m lot, two bedrooms and bathrooms. All models are fitted with room and kitchen cabinets, imported tiles for floor and bathroom finishes, pre-painted long span roofing, painted steel casement windows, using steel bars, reinforced columns and beams and flooring for structural stability and finish. For inquiries, check www.hdc-realestate.com.

Newest 'Jewel' in the South

ONE OF THE NEWEST AND VERY INNOVATIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE south is Westgate Alabang, a commercial and lifestyle hub that is turning out to be the retail, dining and wellness destination in this part of the Metro.

In this unconventional recreation venue, one can find a mix of fine-dining restaurants, bars, fitness and wellness clinics, specialty stores, hypermarket, home depot, fashion shops, services outlets and automotive centers. An added attraction is the spacious walkway that can be an ideal venue for street parties, outdoor events and mini concerts.

Westgate Alabang is where you can find some of the posh nightspots and perfect gimmicks places like Koreana Restaurant, Zong, Congo Grille, Poquito Mas, Café Adriatico, Café Bretton, Lanai Red Lounge Bar, and UCC Coffee Café Terrace.

Westgate Alabang is located at Filinvest Corporate City, Alabang, Muntinlupa.

METROPOLITAN GROUNDBREAKING

The Metropolitan Towers, a project by Philtown Properties, recently held the groundbreaking ceremony near the Metropolitan Athletic Club (MAC) on Estrella St., Makati. It will have special Sky loft units, which are furnished suites and some with 20-foot full-view glasses. Present during the groundbreaking are, from left, Philtown SVP for operations Mon Bienviela, Jacob Ben-Moshé, Jess dela Fuente, Tina Perlquet, Carlos Syquia, Philtown president and COO Terry Coronel, architects Bong Recio and Meloy Casas, MAC President Francisco Buencamino, and Philtown SVP for sales and marketing Kit Vergara.

CONSTRUCTSCOPEUpscale condo for students, yuppies

BUILT JUST ACROSS DE LA SALLE UNIVERSITY AND NEAR THE College of St. Benilde and St. Scholastica's College, LizaLand Corp.'s newly developed Ivyhill Residences satisfies issues of accessibility and site convenience. It is within walking distance to the Vito Cruz LRT Station, and is just a short commute away from the PGH, Robinsons Place and SM City Manila.

A 15-story residential condominium with seven units per floor, the Ivyhill Residences offers spacious units that its residents can freely design according to their style and preference. Complete with amenities such as a multipurpose hall, a gym and aerobics room, a fully air-conditioned study hall, hi-speed elevators, modern fire protection systems, a 24-hour standby generator and ample water supply, Ivyhill's design is of a calculated fusion of ease, comfort, security and functionality.

Ivyhill Residences is exclusively marketed by Royale Homes Marketing Corp. (tel. nos. 723-4014, 726-4317 or 536-6750).

Economic multiplier effect

MANY REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS ARE EMBARKING ON TOWNSHOUSE development to meet the huge demand from the middle-end sector, creating an economic multiplier effect as income and revenues are pumped back into the economy, according to Benson Perlonia, president of Duraville Realty and Development Corp.

"The economy gets a big boost from the development of thousands of townhouse units in the country's urban areas as construction activities generate work and consumption opportunities, income and revenues," he says. DRDC is into full-blast development of three middle-end townhouse projects, namely Somerset Place in Manggahan, Pasig City; Meadowood Royale Townhomes off Sumulong Highway in Antipolo City; and Mary Cris Complex (MCC) Executive Homes in Imus, Cavite.

DRDC chair Orlando S. Bongat adds that housing data also have a significant bearing on financial markets, mortgage services and allied industries. "This is the impetus behind DRDC's home development program," he says.

A townhouse, Perlonia points out, is the most practical urban housing type for the middle-income sector including the overseas Filipino workers whose top investment priorities are home ownership and education.

The units at Somerset Place, Meadowood Royale Townhomes, and MCC Executive Homes are designed around minimalist living efficiency and subdued elegance. Somerset Place has three house models, each with three bedrooms, prefabricated kitchen counters, carports, pocket gardens, gates and perimeter fences.

A Meadowood Royale townhouse unit has three bedrooms, two toilets and baths, a carport, a laundry area, and a pocket garden, while MCC Executive Homes offers spacious single-level and two-level units with three bedrooms, one to two T&B, carports, pocket gardens and individual gates.

DRMI (tel. nos. 634-8801, 634-8802 and 634-8803) is the company's exclusive marketing arm. Brokers and sales agents are invited to enlist at DRMI's Duraville Academy for free training and business opportunity sessions.

22nd year of home building

THE HOMEOWNERS DEVELOPMENT CORP. LED BY PRESIDENT Jaime I. Hernandez celebrates its 22nd year of building homes and communities for middle-income families this month. Founded by its late chair, former Rizal vice governor Jose C. Hernandez, it has embarked on subdivision development in Rizal towns such as Cainta and San Mateo, Antipolo City and Metro Manila cities like Quezon, Pasig and Caloocan cities.

To HDC's credit are 26 projects, the latest four being Birmingham Meadows in Rodriguez, Rizal; Birmingham Alberto and Birmingham Diamante in San Mateo, Rizal, and Birmingham Plains, General Trias, Cavite. HDC is a member of the Chamber of Real Estate and Builders Associations (Creba) and Subdivision and Housing Developers Association (SHDA).

The earlier projects were Birmingham Homes 1, 2 and 3, and Panorama Hills, Antipolo City; Birmingham Sunrise, Bankers Village, San Mateo; Birmingham Place 1 and 2, Cainta; Metrogreen Village, Novavalches, Quezon City; Metropolis North Subdivision, Kalookan City; Metrogreen Village, Don Bosco Tech College (as general contractor, builder and administrator), Pasay City.

Golden Mile Subdivision, Roosevelt Park, Midland Homes, Cainta; Bridgestone Park Phase 1 and 2; Northwest Village, Metropolis Village 1 and 2, and Metrogreen Village in Pasig City; Markwood Area, Grand Valley Subdivision (joint venture with HDC as landowners), Antipolo, Rizal.

Five models are available. These are Gloucester, 110-sq-m floor area on 120-sq-m lot, living and dining rooms, two toilets and bathrooms, three bedrooms, maid's room, balcony and carport lanai; Northampton, 74-sq-m area, 120-sq-m lot area, three bedrooms, two T&B and carport; Southampton, two bedrooms, two T&B.

Coventry and Dover townhouse units of 50-sq-m floor area, 55- to 63-sq-m lot, two bedrooms and bathrooms. All models are fitted with room and kitchen cabinets, imported tiles for floor and bathroom finishes, pre-painted long span roofing, painted steel casement windows, using steel bars, reinforced columns and beams and flooring for structural stability and finish. For inquiries, check www.hdc-realestate.com.

Newest 'Jewel' in the South

ONE OF THE NEWEST AND VERY INNOVATIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE south is Westgate Alabang, a commercial and lifestyle hub that is turning out to be the retail, dining and wellness destination in this part of the Metro.

In this unconventional recreation venue, one can find a mix of fine-dining restaurants, bars, fitness and wellness clinics, specialty stores, hypermarket, home depot, fashion shops, services outlets and automotive centers. An added attraction is the spacious walkway that can be an ideal venue for street parties, outdoor events and mini concerts.

Westgate Alabang is where you can find some of the posh nightspots and perfect gimmicks places like Koreana Restaurant, Zong, Congo Grille, Poquito Mas, Café Adriatico, Café Bretton, Lanai Red Lounge Bar, and UCC Coffee Café Terrace.

Westgate Alabang is located at Filinvest Corporate City, Alabang, Muntinlupa.

METROPOLITAN GROUNDBREAKING

The Metropolitan Towers, a project by Philtown Properties, recently held the groundbreaking ceremony near the Metropolitan Athletic Club (MAC) on Estrella St., Makati. It will have special Sky loft units, which are furnished suites and some with 20-foot full-view glasses. Present during the groundbreaking are, from left, Philtown SVP for operations Mon Bienviela, Jacob Ben-Moshé, Jess dela Fuente, Tina Perlquet, Carlos Syquia, Philtown president and COO Terry Coronel, architects Bong Recio and Meloy Casas, MAC President Francisco Buencamino, and Philtown SVP for sales and marketing Kit Vergara.

CONSTRUCTSCOPEUpscale condo for students, yuppies

BUILT JUST ACROSS DE LA SALLE UNIVERSITY AND NEAR THE College of St. Benilde and St. Scholastica's College, LizaLand Corp.'s newly developed Ivyhill Residences satisfies issues of accessibility and site convenience. It is within walking distance to the Vito Cruz LRT Station, and is just a short commute away from the PGH, Robinsons Place and SM City Manila.

A 15-story residential condominium with seven units per floor, the Ivyhill Residences offers spacious units that its residents can freely design according to their style and preference. Complete with amenities such as a multipurpose hall, a gym and aerobics room, a fully air-conditioned study hall, hi-speed elevators, modern fire protection systems, a 24-hour standby generator and ample water supply, Ivyhill's design is of a calculated fusion of ease, comfort, security and functionality.

Ivyhill Residences is exclusively marketed by Royale Homes Marketing Corp. (tel. nos. 723-4014, 726-4317 or 536-6750).

Economic multiplier effect

MANY REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS ARE EMBARKING ON TOWNSHOUSE development to meet the huge demand from the middle-end sector, creating an economic multiplier effect as income and revenues are pumped back into the economy, according to Benson Perlonia, president of Duraville Realty and Development Corp.

"The economy gets a big boost from the development of thousands of townhouse units in the country's urban areas as construction activities generate work and consumption opportunities, income and revenues," he says. DRDC is into full-blast development of three middle-end townhouse projects, namely Somerset Place in Manggahan, Pasig City; Meadowood Royale Townhomes off Sumulong Highway in Antipolo City; and Mary Cris Complex (MCC) Executive Homes in Imus, Cavite.

DRDC chair Orlando S. Bongat adds that housing data also have a significant bearing on financial markets, mortgage services and allied industries. "This is the impetus behind DRDC's home development program," he says.

A townhouse, Perlonia points out, is the most practical urban housing type for the middle-income sector including the overseas Filipino workers whose top investment priorities are home ownership and education.

The units at Somerset Place, Meadowood Royale Townhomes, and MCC Executive Homes are designed around minimalist living efficiency and subdued elegance. Somerset Place has three house models, each with three bedrooms, prefabricated kitchen counters, carports, pocket gardens, gates and perimeter fences.

A Meadowood Royale townhouse unit has three bedrooms, two toilets and baths, a carport, a laundry area, and a pocket garden, while MCC Executive Homes offers spacious single-level and two-level units with three bedrooms, one to two T&B, carports, pocket gardens and individual gates.

DRMI (tel. nos. 634-8801, 634-8802 and 634-8803) is the company's exclusive marketing arm. Brokers and sales agents are invited to enlist at DRMI's Duraville Academy for free training and business opportunity sessions.

22nd year of home building

THE HOMEOWNERS DEVELOPMENT CORP. LED BY PRESIDENT Jaime I. Hernandez celebrates its 22nd year of building homes and communities for middle-income families this month. Founded by its late chair, former Rizal vice governor Jose C. Hernandez, it has embarked on subdivision development in Rizal towns such as Cainta and San Mateo, Antipolo City and Metro Manila cities like Quezon, Pasig and Caloocan cities.

To HDC's credit are 26 projects, the latest four being Birmingham Meadows in Rodriguez, Rizal; Birmingham Alberto and Birmingham Diamante in San Mateo, Rizal, and Birmingham Plains, General Trias, Cavite. HDC is a member of the Chamber of Real Estate and Builders Associations (Creba) and Subdivision and Housing Developers Association (SHDA).

The earlier projects were Birmingham Homes 1, 2 and 3, and Panorama Hills, Antipolo City; Birmingham Sunrise, Bankers Village, San Mateo; Birmingham Place 1 and 2, Cainta; Metrogreen Village, Novavalches, Quezon City; Metropolis North Subdivision, Kalookan City; Metrogreen Village, Don Bosco Tech College (as general contractor, builder and administrator), Pasay City.

Golden Mile Subdivision, Roosevelt Park, Midland Homes, Cainta; Bridgestone Park Phase 1 and 2; Northwest Village, Metropolis Village 1 and 2, and Metrogreen Village in Pasig City; Markwood Area, Grand Valley Subdivision (joint venture with HDC as landowners), Antipolo, Rizal.

Five models are available. These are Gloucester, 110-sq-m floor area on 120-sq-m lot, living and dining rooms,

PROPERTY

Take the big leap to The Next Big Thing

IF YOU'RE ONE OF THOSE PEOPLE WHO are fed up with the frenzied pace of life in the urban jungle, then you're probably ready to live in the suburbs where you can enjoy more time for yourself and your family and experience true rest and relaxation.

But before you take that big leap, it's good to note a few important details in choosing that perfect suburban sanctuary. For one, you would still want to have accessible shopping malls and be near not only in places of business but also educational and medical institutions that offer top-flight services.

Moving to a new home in the suburbs also entails a big investment. With dozens of real estate developers cropping up, it's best to choose a reliable developer who can provide you with the best value for your hard-earned money.

Suburban haven

For many city-to-suburb switchers, one real estate project that answers these very essential details is Ayala Westgrove Heights, a suburban haven in Silang, Cavite developed by Ayala

Land Premier. The best high-end residential community in the South and touted as "The Next Big Thing" after Ayala Alabang, Ayala Westgrove Heights is a fully integrated and master-planned community that promises a quiet suburban lifestyle while giving access to modern life's conveniences.

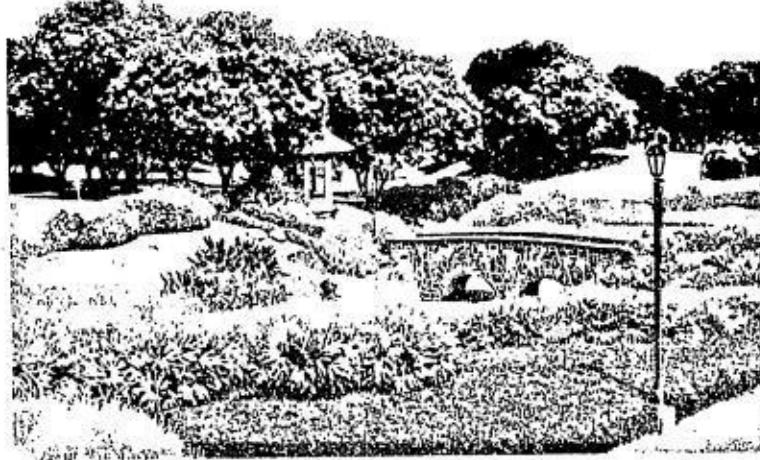

The first thing that would strike you as you enter Ayala Westgrove Heights is the gorgeous expanse of greenery. The development is built within a former mango orchard, and residents would literally enjoy breathing all that fresh air. The lush, gorgeous landscape, with its tall trees and wide open spaces offer an atmosphere of tranquility.

Attractions

A variety of environment-friendly attractions add to the charm of Ayala Westgrove Heights. Most of the open spaces in the village are actually preserved, and you would delight in taking in the beauty of nature from many different spots: the Central Park with its lagoons, fishing decks and gazebos; the mango orchard; and the Bird Sanctuary, which is home to over 90 species of birds.

Even from inside your home, you would certainly enjoy grand vistas. Ayala Westgrove Heights was designed to take advantage of the land's natural contours, giving varied yet gorgeous views of such natural wonders as the Laguna de Bay, Mount Makiling and Tagaytay.

While enjoying peace and quiet in this suburban haven, you're still not that far away from amenities that made living in the city convenient. Easily accessible from Ayala Westgrove Heights are top educational institutions such as St. Scholastica's College-Westgrove, De La Salle University-Canlubang and Don Bosco, business establishments like Ayala Land's Laguna Technopark and shopping areas such as the Westgrove Plaza and Rustan's.

But you don't have to go out of Ayala Westgrove Heights to have some rest and recreation, with three major clubhouses where residents can enjoy a host of amenities and activities—the only village to offer such a wide range of facilities.

At the village's clubhouse, you can go for a swim at the clubhouse's swimming pool or relax in the jacuzzi. There are tennis courts where you can get into a friendly game of doubles with the couple next door. The hubby can also play basketball with friends either in the indoor or outdoor courts. Meeting other residents is also not a problem, since there are always activities set up at the social hall for everyone's enjoyment.

Your kids are not left out of the fun, as Ayala Westgrove Heights also features the Kidsgrove Clubhouse, designed especially for the neighborhood children. With its junior-size basketball court, kiddie pool, indoor toddler room, and interactive wet and dry play areas, kids get to interact with other kids, have fun and make friends.

THE VILLAGE'S clubhouse has a swimming pool,
jacuzzi, tennis courts, basketball court and a social hall.

THE CENTRAL Park Lagoon is among the numerous environment-friendly attractions
at Ayala Westgrove Heights.

Nearing completion is a sports complex that features indoor badminton and tennis courts as well as other sports activities for residents' enjoyment.

The Ayala Security Force maintains the safety and security of the entire Ayala Westgrove Heights development. Careful maintenance of the village is handled in turn by Ayala Property Management Corp.

Trademark legacy

As an Ayala Land Premier development, Ayala Westgrove Heights is sure to provide residents true value for their investment. As the new name for the top-end developments of Ayala Land, Ayala Land Premier offers its residents security, ultimate comfort and privacy. It embodies Ayala Land's trademark legacy of enhancing the residents' quality of life with its portfolio of prime locations and trophy addresses.

Moving from the city to the suburbs can be an easy choice, if you choose the best haven that offers a peaceful community, the convenience and accessibility, and, most importantly, that precious time for your family. At Ayala Westgrove Heights (Tel. No. 728-7000), it's surely worth it to make that big leap to "The Next Big Thing."

Send resumes instantly

VISIT US AT
www.jobmarketonline.com

AYALA Westgrove Heights is a residential refuge amid lush greenery
and mango groves
filled with a wide variety of bird species.

THE SMART CHOICE IN LAMINATE & POLYCARBONATE

SONNENBLOCK®
SUPER POLYCARBONATE SHEET
For Skylight Roofing

POLIART®
BACTERIOSTATIC LAMINATES

e-laminati®
D'ECONOMICAL LAMINATES

ABC®
WHITE BOARD LAMINATES

Oscar®
DECORATIVE PANELS

Call for your FREE SAMPLE BROCHURE
MULTI-GLOBAL MARKETING
493-D Union Bldg., Shaw Blvd., Mandaluyong City

AYALA Westgrove Heights entrance gate

DANSALAN GARDENS

A haven and an inspiration

RIGHT SMACK IN THE CENTER OF two business districts—Makati and Ortigas Center—rises another of DMCI Homes' development projects combining the best of everything in terms of location, price and quality.

Dansalan Gardens in Mandaluyong City joins the company's roster of communities offering modern facilities and resort-type amenities in a lush garden setting. Condominium unit buyers looking for a residential haven happily end up finding inspiration as well in Dansalan Gardens whose available units, not surprisingly, were all snapped up in a short span of time.

Such overwhelming trust and excellence in DMCI Homes as a community builder has spurred the company to construct two more towers in the Mandaluyong development. "We expect similar fast turnover of units for these additional condo buildings," said Alfredo Austria, the firm's managing director. "We're hoping that our much improved facilities and highly efficient management of the property will count heavily toward the realization of this trend."

Refreshing break

A refreshing break from the usual cramped space and concrete jungle associated with urban living, Dansalan Gardens nestles on 8,000 square meters of prime land awash with gardens and breathing with vast open areas for recreation and meditation. This layout of unobstructed spaciousness carries over to the condo units with floor areas from 43 to 67 square meters.

Truly both a haven and an inspiration for the harried and hurried city dwellers, Dansalan Gardens has, among other cutting-edge structures typical in every DMCI Homes development, a fitness gym, yoga meditation area, business center, two swimming pools, a kiddie area, function

KOI pond inspires meditation.

SANCTUARY in the metropolis rooms, lounge area, billiard hall and koi ponds.

Premier consideration

Home hunters whose premier consideration is location will find much more than what they're looking for in the property. Not only does it lie close to the financial and commercial districts of Makati and Ortigas Center. It is also very accessible either via a private vehicle or the highly convenient and super fast Metro Manila Railway Transit (MRT), according to DMCI Homes marketing support manager Manny Arbus.

Access to modern convenience is also a distinguishing feature of the development. Once buyers move in, phone, cable and Internet connectivity will already be in place. Also, an efficient property management will take another worry off the homeowners—the upkeep of the facilities including quick unit repairs when required.

Living in Dansalan Gardens is actually living in a sanctuary in the middle of the metropolis, making acquisition of its condo units, priced from P1.6 million to P9 million per, a wise investment indeed. Those needing further information about the property may call 888-3333 or visit www.dmcihomes.com.

Aqua Guard®

Elastomeric Waterproofing Paint

THE #1 ELASTOMERIC PAINT IN THE PHILIPPINES!!!

BASED ON THE 2004 SHOPPERS CHOICE AWARD AS ELASTOMERIC PAINT NATIONAL LEVEL

Now available at Ortigas and Alabang Home Depots

22 standard colors (factory tint available upon request) in Sheen and Semi-Gloss

Outstanding flexibility & elongation!!!

From the maker of UNIVERSAL PAINT

AQUAGUARD

ELASTOMERIC WATERPROOFING PAINT

ELIMINATES CONCRETE SEEPAGE 100% WATERPROOF

Manufactured by

UNEQUALLED PERFORMANCEmacneill

architectural paints

ACRE COAT

Coats like no other, for that 100% waterproof finish. The perfect blend of strength and aesthetics.

MACNELL AQUASEAL

A new generation of waterproofing technology that provides protection from destructive effects of water seepage.

ACRE LAX

Combines the advantage of acrylic latex and emulsion latex.

ACRE CAST

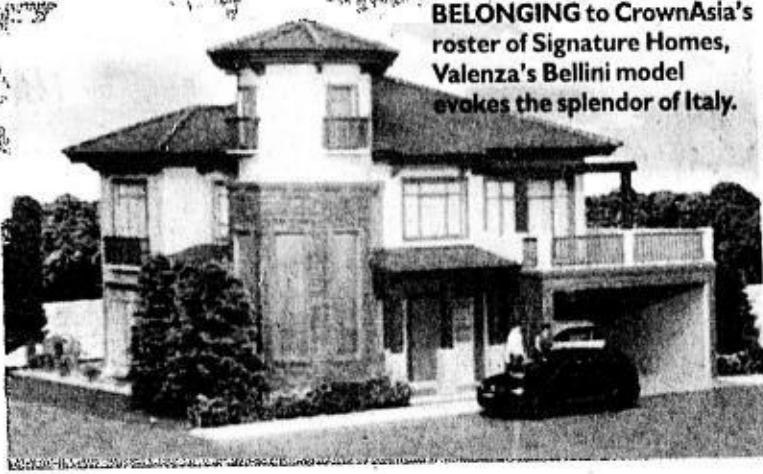

Specially formulated to provide ultimate surface protection. Washable texture.

ACRE MEL

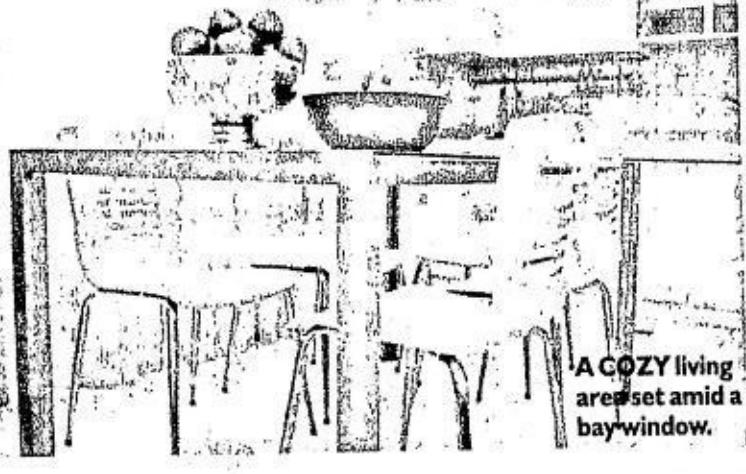

Provides excellent hiding power and easy brushing.

THE AMERICAN country inspiration of CottonWoods lend a warm and comfortable atmosphere.

BELONGING to CrownAsia's roster of Signature Homes, Valenza's Bellini model evokes the splendor of Italy.

A COZY living area set amid a bay window.

A distinct address at CrownAsia's Signature Homes

AS THE COUNTRY'S BIGGEST HOME-builder, CrownAsia understands how today's upwardly mobile urbanites know what they deserve and want out of life. An aspiration which does not end with just building a roof above your head, the creation of living spaces within master-planned enclaves serve as the foundation for the Signature

Homes of CrownAsia.

The Signature Homes of CrownAsia are meant to reflect the personality, lifestyle and taste of its future residents—giving distinct characteristics which turn them into stand outs. Since most of its residents are self-made, it is important for them that investments reap rewards, such valued possession is the Signature

Homes of CrownAsia, truly a home to call their own.

• Mille Luce. Meaning "a thousand lights" in Italian, Mille Luce is nestled on the greenest and highest peak of Antipolo, making it a "haven" between the stars and city lights. Residents can experience the height of living in sensible luxury with a selection of Italian-inspired model homes sited in the community's various clusters.

RICH tones complement the elaborate details found in the dining room.

• CottonWoods. Taking inspiration from American country-style homes, the 40-hectare CottonWoods community in Antipolo, Rizal boasts of a warm and comfortable ambiance. A number of CottonWoods residents are artists and families desiring a home with serene surroundings and unspoiled nature.

• Valenza. A retreat from the bustling metropolis while enjoying the comforts of the urban lifestyle, Valenza (meaning "value" in Italian) is a quaint residential community located in Sta. Rosa, Laguna. Italy's splendor is reflected with architectural accents and warm earth tones while complemented by the vista of Mt. Banahaw and Tagaytay Ridge.

• Ponticelli. Coined from the Italian words "ponti" (meaning bridge) and "celli" (meaning skies), Ponticelli on Daang Hari, Alabang is an enclave characterized by the impression of the beautiful, sloping terrain converging with the serene skies. As the new signature township of CrownAsia, practical style serves as the cornerstone of Ponticelli, while thorough master-planning creates an Italian-inspired township.

Property previews may be arranged by calling Crown South at 871-3882, 873-1614, and 873-8412; Crown North at 634-9001 to 02 or visit www.crownasia.com.ph on the Web.

Breathtaking.

Feel the lofty experience at The Metropolitan Sky Lofts.

These posh residences offer the ideal urban life both for families and professionals being proximate to the Makati and Ortigas business districts, schools and shopping centers. What's more, you even get playing rights at the exclusive Metropolitan Athletic Club when you avail of a Sky Loft unit. Call us at 890-5711 to 14, 830-0455 to 57, 0917-8536539 or e-mail us at sales@philtown.net if you wish to view The Metropolitan Sky Lofts model unit.

M metropolitan

PHILTON
Philtown Properties

Beyond condos, Landmarks.

Caribé of The Islands breaks ground

PROPERTY MAVERICK BRITTANY CORP. sustains the fast-paced development of Caribé, one of five enclaves currently rising at The Islands in Dasmarinas, Cavite, with the recent groundbreaking for Guadeloupe, the first of five model homes to be showcased in the enclave. The model home's groundbreaking comes just over a month after Caribé's launch, auguring the benefit of speedy turnover to residents.

The Islands, with lush tropical landscaping amid great spaces refreshed by breezes under wide skies, is a high-end, master-planned collection of enclaves creating residential "lifescapes" (a Brittany signature) inspired by some of the world's leading island resort destinations that speak of leisurely enjoyment. Joining its sister enclaves Ibiza, Island Park, Montego and Amalfi, Caribé is The Islands' latest offering, a 4.3-hectare enclave for a niche market of residents seeking a laid-back and luxurious "lifescape" after blazing successful careers in their chosen businesses or professions.

First in enclaves

Offering custom home sites (lots only) as well as home and lot packages, Caribé is a first in enclaves for such a market, because it exclusively offers single-story, sprawling home designs built around an open floor plan, influenced by those Caribbean-themed homes in fashionable Florida communities like Palm Beach. The architecture as well as exteriors and interiors create a sense of those Florida homes.

As with other Caribé home designs, Guadeloupe, with 208 sq m of floor space, is distinguished by a gabled facade, colorful, textured exterior walls framed by white moldings, shuttered windows and doors, an array of thoughtful details reminiscent of classic Florida homes. The open floor plan is highlighted by the "great room" which serves as the main function area for each home. A Caribé home is not complete without a wide veranda and a master's suite with a spacious walk-in closet and bathroom.

The Islands offer the amenities of Club Island, the country club which will offer leisure facilities in a beautiful, tropical ambiance, including a free-form pool with cabanas.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER

Editor Pam Pastor
Email: pam@inquirer.net
Creative Director Tim Yap

Lexi Schulze lost herself to Motherhood page E1

Tessa's Athena
turns one!
page C2

Raya Mananquil's Spanish sojourn page D1

Gino de la Paz explores Mother Philippines
page D4

PHOTOGRAPH BY VICTOR CONSUNI
Style: MAUREEN DISINI
BIGGON STYLE
MILKUP: BEM ABELEDA OF STYLE LAB
HELI: GERALD BELINO AND BRYAN BASS
COMPARED: MICHAELA LAGDA-MEO
WEARING: JENNI EPPERSON beach cover-up line by FOLDED & HUNG

OLYMPUS

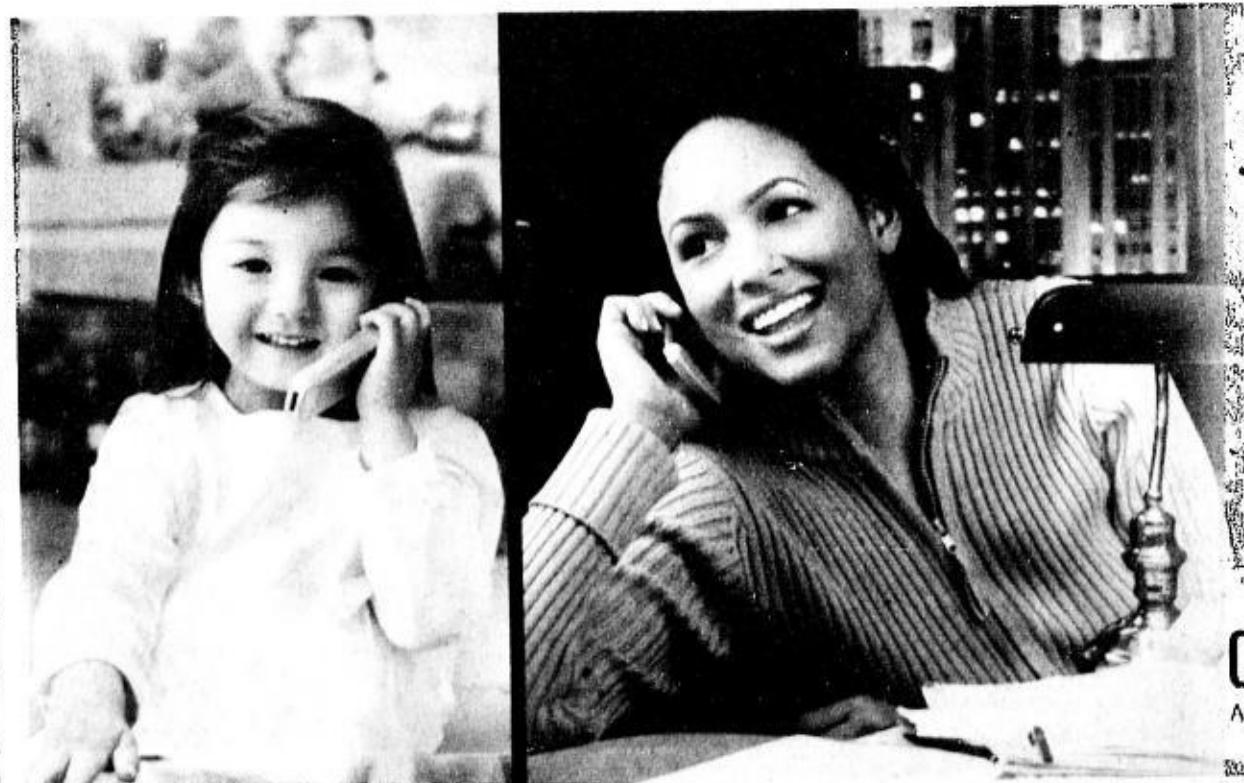

Deep into photography? The new Olympus μ-720. Take pictures under water at depths up to 10 feet without an extra case. Its rugged construction can even withstand accidental drops from heights up to 5 feet. Perfect for shooting at all risks.

OLYMPUS

2.5-inch HyperCrystal LCD • 3x Optical and 5x Digital Zoom • 24 Scene Modes • Waterproof* and Shockproof • BrightCapture Technology for better images in low-light conditions • With Free 256MB XD Card and Leather Case

* up to 10ft
 up to 5ft

Miles away from Mom?
This Mother's Day, surprise her with a SUN IDD Call.

10¢
/min

Call abroad for less than a local call.

A Permanent Service to all Sun subscribers. For postpaid, enroll through Sun Shops or call 200.
*Virtus local Sun calls to other networks. #Rates in US$ dollars.

SUN
CELLULAR
Everything important is Under the Sun

A SUPER! MOM'S DAY TO ALL YOU MOTHERS OUT THERE

Bollywood baby bash fer Athena's birthday number one

Photos by Willy Saw

WHAT KIND OF MOTHER would go all out and whip up a production worthy of a Bollywood epic, send out pre-party announcements aside from the actual invitations itself and hire cross-dressing belly dancers to gyrate around her fourth-born baby?

Even seasoned eventologists do not spend this much time and effort in staging a shindig. Then again, not all party planners are like Tessa Prieto-Valdes, our very own Sea Princess, whose Athena (a Super! baby) just turned one year old. (It's been a year! We at Super! are getting sentimental.)

In true Indian fashion, an elephant greeted the guests as they entered. It wasn't a real elephant, but a topiary version of one of Hinduism's most magestic mammals. Athena was wearing a belly bearing chiffon creation concocted by her god designer, Rajo Laurel (who else?). The rest of the Valdes family wore yards and yards of Bollywood finery, plus glitter, face paint and bindi.

I went to Max Talreja for my Prince of Jai-rich outfit (I didn't want to be Prince of Jai-poor), and he had with him an embroidered tunic that matched my Henri Calayag mauve tinted hair!

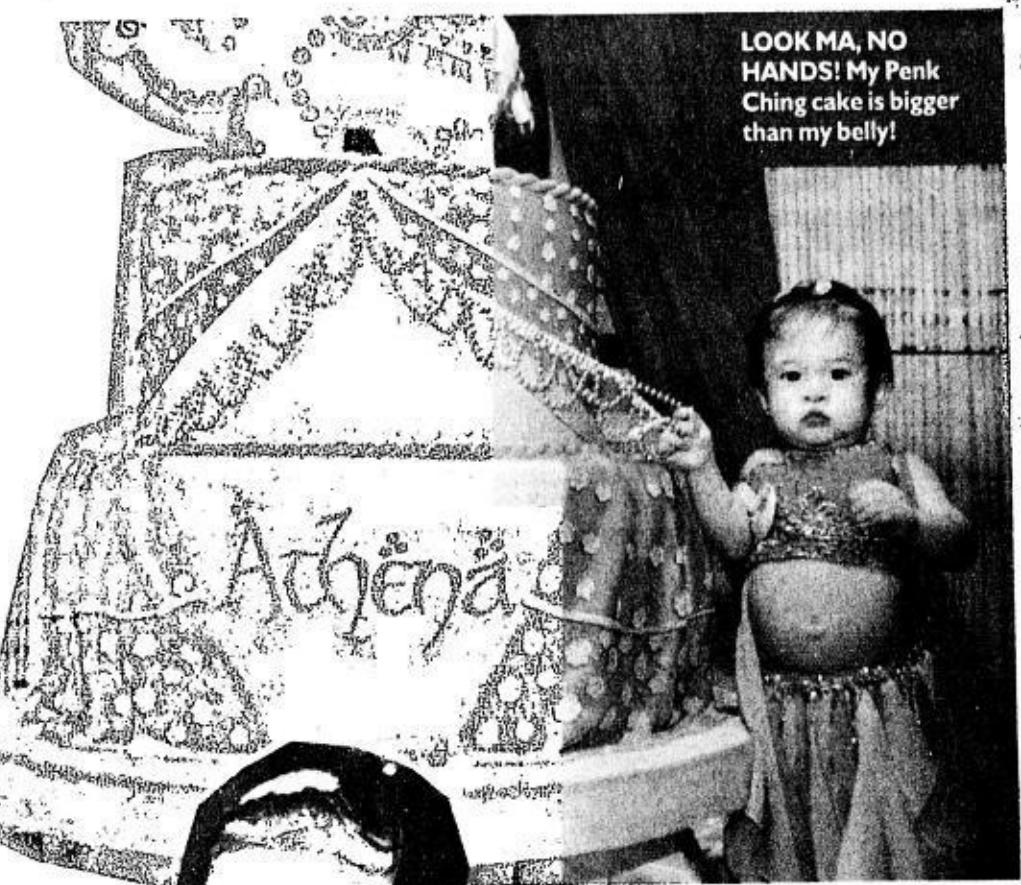

The beautiful kids

"Sobrang bait yan," Athena's yaya made me kwento while I cuddled my goddaughter in my arms. I looked around and spotted too many beautiful kids—they were all very much into the moment, wearing bright and colorful clothes and were well adjusted to adults. They were all dancing, even after the music had already stopped. I guess the orange juice was that good (I want some!). Or was it the chocolate fondue fountain?

The mothers gamely watched their kids partake of the fun and games, not to mention the tons of prizes that Tessa and Annika gave away. Dad Dennis and bro Tyrone smiled from ear to ear.

Watching the moms now made me realize how parenthood has changed. Whereas before, the mothers would be pushy and urge their kids to "join the games!"—these days, the young moms just sit quietly and let their rugrats play around freely. I guess it's because they're confident that they have raised their children well. Kudos to "Smart Parenting!"

I am very excited to see how these beautiful kids will grow. With what I saw that day, with Athena and her harem behaving with so much poise, grace and energy—I foresee myself chronicling their party lives in the next few years.

LOOK MA, NO HANDS! My Penk Ching cake is bigger than my belly!

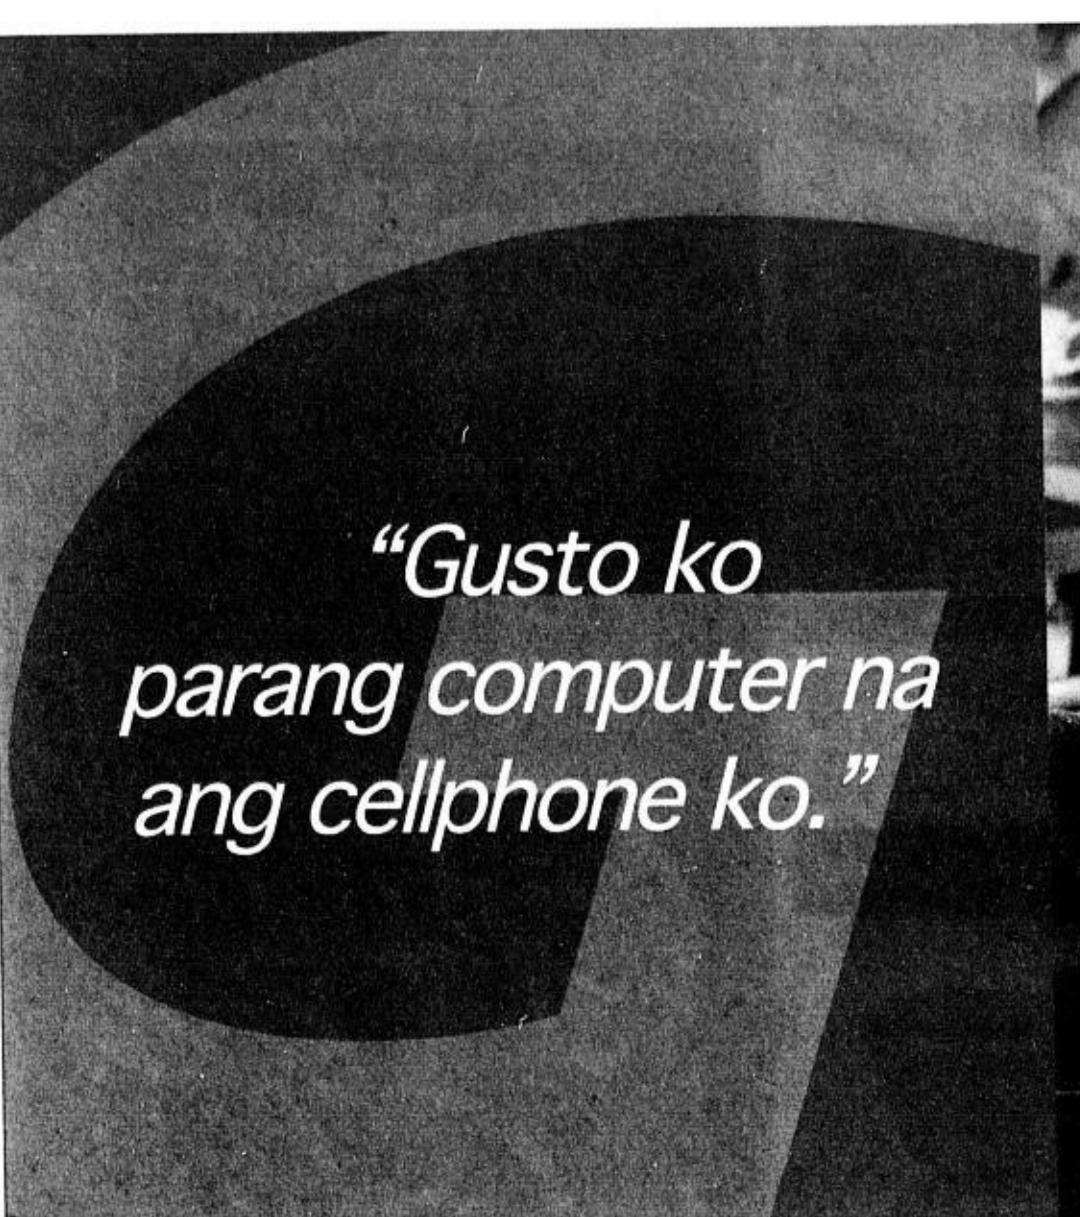

BINDIBOND: The maternal instincts of Marjorie, the mom of the month, and Dennis Valdes

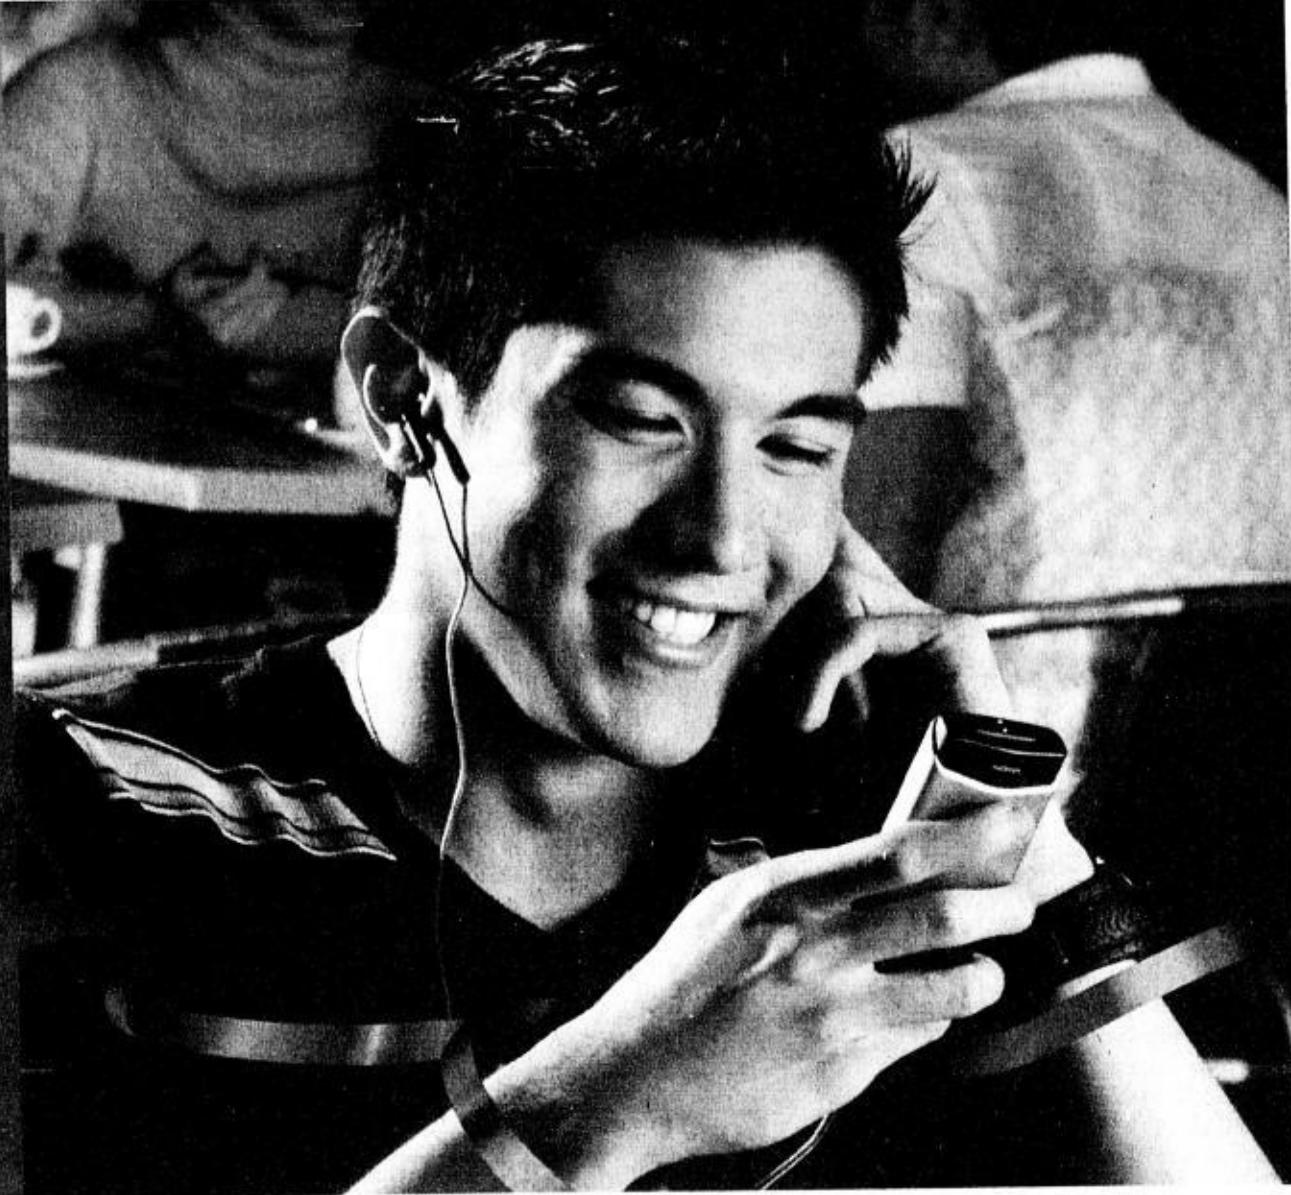

DENNIS AND ATHENA'S HAREM. These are the beautiful kids I'm talking about

MOTHER, ANG GANDA MO! Tessa, the gay icon, with her own harem.

*"Gusto ko
parang computer na
ang cellphone ko."*

Possible with

Globe 3G Mobile Broadband with HSDPA

Enjoy Video Call, Video Streaming and Internet Browsing*!

Get a FREE N70 now
with Globe's Flexible Deals:

Superior Content from a Superior Offer!

Get a FREE N70 unit when you

- Apply for a Plan 2500 or higher
- Are a current subscriber outside the lock-in period on Plan 2500 or higher
- Are a current subscriber outside the lock-in period who upgrades to a Plan 2500 or higher
- Are an existing Plan 2500 subscriber within the lock-in period (with at least 12 months tenure since last reward or date of activation). Offer is not applicable to subscribers on Plan 1800 or lower.

Broadband Browsing plus a Broader Connection! ****

Get 2 FREE N70 units when you

- Apply for a Plan 3500 with an extension plan 500 on the same date
- Are outside the lock-in period and currently a Plan 3500 subscriber with an extension plan 500
- Are outside the lock-in period, currently a Plan 3500 subscriber and will avail of an extension plan 500

High Speed from a Low Deal!

Get an N70 unit at 0% interest with 3, 6, 12 or 18 months term

- Open to new Prepaid subscribers and existing Postpaid subscribers
- Maximum of 2 phone kits per subscriber only *use of a data card is required for high-speed internet browsing

additional 24-month lock-in period will apply

 additional 24 months on top of current lock-in period will apply

* additional 48-month lock-in period will apply

Check out selected Globe Business Centers and Hubs today and get 3G services with flexible deals like no other!

For existing subscribers, call 211 or the Globe Hotline at 730-1000.

Promo extended from May 13 to 19, 2006

See flyers for more details.

NOKIA

pwede po, ang lakas mo sa Globe

Promo extended until May 19, 2006 as approved by DTI-NCR. Per DTI-NCR Permit No. 1086, Series of 2006.

AT THE INSTITUTO ESPANOL
MURALLAS DE AVILA, Katrina Asturias,
Raya Mananquil, Corey Wills, Director
Paloma Rutkowska, Assistant-Director
Karolina Losinska, Jose Luis Garcia
Karolina Losinska (skim), General Director of Studies and Programs, Tara Asturias and Alessandra Felix

THE FAIRIES, These three must-try. Katrina Asturias, Tara Asturias, Alessandra Felix and Marian Seva give it the thumbs-up.

KATRINA Asturias, Tara Asturias, Alessandra Felix, Marian Seva, Raya Mananquil and Corey Wills at the Roman aqueduct in Segovia.

SÍ, SPAIN!

because although the Spanish always ate fashionably late, my tummy was chronically grumbling. Breakfast was served at 11 a.m., lunch at 2:30 p.m. and dinner at 10 p.m. Deciding we all missed our Asian chow, we searched for a Chinese restaurant one night to satisfy our craving. Like most Chinese restaurants all around the world, this was also run by their own. As we eagerly ordered our choices of stir-fries and rice, the waitress stood and stared blankly at us. And at that moment I realized that she, along with the entire staff, spoke only Chinese and Spanish.

But of course, the girls and I enjoyed our excursions to Segovia, Salamanca, El Escorial and Madrid. In Segovia, we marveled at the beautiful construction of the Roman aqueduct. In Salamanca, the Baroque architecture of Plaza Mayor combined with modern bars and cafes located behind the arches was a fascinating contrast. The immense Royal Monastery of San Lorenzo in El Escorial is a palace, museum, library and monastery. Madrid, perhaps our most anticipated trip, did not disappoint—there were the artworks at the Museo del Prado which houses the collections of Goya, Velázquez, and Murillo to name a few, the formal royal residence of Palacio Royal and the Rastro, a weekend open-air market, and street performers in between.

Making our way to Puerta del Sol, we saw a familiar face. "That's Posh Spice!" I shrieked. With son Brooklyn on one arm, Victoria Beckham turned around, lowered her oversized Gucci sunglasses and glared right at me. It must have been 1998 since someone last called her by her Spice Girl pseudonym.

"It was great that I got to travel around Spain with people I didn't really know, make new friends and live in a Spanish environment," Alessandra said, who at 16 has always traveled with her family. Tara and Katrina, who both traveled abroad for the first time, gained lessons beyond those you can get from the classroom. While the 800-year colonization may be history, these four young girls got a taste of their independence in Spain.

Institute of Foreign Study offers language courses in Spain, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, and China as well as post-graduate courses in Australia and in the UK. For the young ones, ages 10-17 years old, IFS is currently accepting applications for the seacamp and astrocamp for 3 weeks in the USA. Check out their website www.ifsp.net or call 812-1187, 812-6229 for more information.

THE PLAZA Mayor
in Salamanca

SIDETRACKED at the Barcelona beach.
Raya Mananquil, Alessandra Felix, Katrina Asturias and Tara Asturias

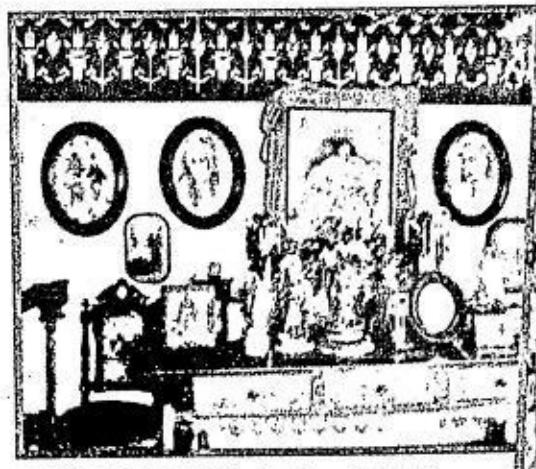

MI AMIGO mestizo, Marco Lobregat in Barcelona

FRONTIN'. The St. Catherine Church and its Byzantine architecture

DO NOT DISTURB. My room with a view at Maribago

SMELLS LIKE SEPIA. Cool period stuff inside the Balay na Tisa

Rural legends

From page D4

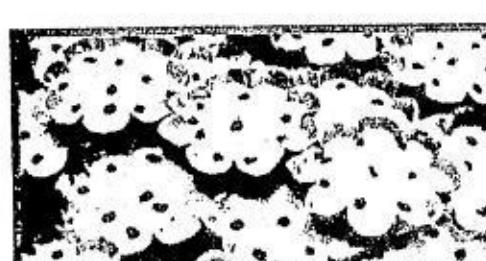

home is also called Balay na Tisa, referring to the clay roofing tiles that helped cool houses during that era. For a small donation, you can freely do a room-to-room romp and see how our ancestors lived without indoor plumbing, iPods, or WiFi. How vintage!

What would rural tourism in an ex-Spanish colony be without a few churches? Dating back to 1859, Carcar's St. Catherine Church was my next destination. Aside from its Byzantine influence, I also noticed faces of saints and angels beaming down from a distinctly Greco-Roman altar. (I must say that was a great respite from Manny Pacquiao's cross-eyed mug staring down from countless billboards in the city. But I digress.) While you're at it, take note of the church's architectural nuances and notice how the twin-bell towers mirror a minaret shape, oddly similar to the ones found in Muslim mosques.

Wow, Argao!

Established as a pueblo in 1608, the town of Argao has got to be one of the oldest in the province of Cebu. The name came from Sal-

TASTE TEST. Try the Torta de Argao and tell me what you think

YES, THEY'RE HERE, TOO. Koreanspotting at Sumilon Island

argao, a tree which grew abundantly along the coast back in the colonial days.

Within its geographic boundaries lies the Puerta Real, a coral stone barrier used for protection against Moro raids during the Spanish rule. And worth a peek, too, are the Casa Real and the 300-year-old Alex Kafé, for a taste of their interesting torta. I have my own opinion about this delicacy but I want you to try it for yourself and tell me what you really think. (Wink.)

For a taste of Argao's other attractions,

Linut-od and Butong. But if you really wanna dip your feet in the sea, try Lawis Beach in Poblacion. Now called the skim boarding capital of Cebu, it always has righteous waves whether its habagat or amihan.

Oh! Oslob

The name of this town was the result of not having an interpreter. A group of Spanish dudes came to Bolocboloc, Oslob's original name, and saw a local couple dipping their cooked bananas into a bowl of salt. The white folks asked for the name of the place and the brown folks, clueless in Español, answered "toslob-toslob," meaning "dipping," assuming they were being asked what they were doing. (At least they weren't taking a dump, right?) And why do they like doubling-doubling their words? Digression alert! The name stuck and it was shortened years later.

One of the most intriguing points in Oslob is the Immaculate Conception Parish Church, a 200-year-old Romanesque structure. Apart from being a house of worship, it also front-lined as a defense complex against the ancient marauders. Right near this church is a series of arches called the Cuartel, intended as a barracks for the Spanish troops. Unfinished since the Americans arrived in 1899, the coral stone walls still stand, perfect for pang-blog photo ops and whatnot.

All these places lead up to Sumilon Island, one of the best dive spots in the Visayas and the site of a centuries-old baluarte, or watchtower. Having played a huge role during the Christian-Muslim struggle of 1813, Sumilon and all its past treasures now earn column inches as a relaxing retreat. Ayos!

Tourism inventory

Meanwhile, back to community-based tourism. In a brilliant presentation, Mr. Samie Lim of the PCCI said that tourism is one of the golden lights in our economic horizon. We may have been overtaken by China in terms of manufacturing and by Thailand when it comes to agriculture, but WOW Philippines can still bring in the bling through tourism.

According to him, the five A's of successful tourism development are attitude, access, accommodations, attractions and advertising. Community support is also essential and the most acceptable and least disruptive guidelines should be employed. The constituents of Argao, for example, agreed that tourism in their town should create jobs and income for locals while emphasizing respect for native culture. They also want it to have minimal impact on their present way of life and maintain the existing level of environmental quality. Oha.

It sounds like a tall order but it can be done. Julie is totally optimistic about the endeavor. She adds that things like this tend to take off, especially when "the right people come together at the right time for the right reasons."

Know what? I really believe her.

For more information on the Turismo Rural Foundation, contact Julie Alegre-Vergara, c/o Maribago Bluewater Beach Resort, Mactan Island, Cebu. Tel. (032) 232 5411. Fax. (032) 492 0128. E-mail: bluwater@mozzcom.com.

To arrange an Argao Heritage Tour, visit www.argaotourism.com.

For reservations at Sumilon Bluewater Island Resort, contact the Manila office at tel. (632) 817-5751, telefax (632) 845-0680 or email bluwater@pworld.net.ph.

SUPER! SELECTIONS

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

D3

I just called to say I bling you!

Bling Ring can turn your momma's cell phone (and yours, too) into a Swarovski-studded masterpiece.

Want to know how some gadget geeks do it? Look no further than Bling Ring, the only company in the country that can turn anything from a mobile phone to a digital camera from a simple item to a Swarovski-studded masterpiece. Just for the record, it costs to pay, of course. As they say, "It's not about what's possible."

For more information, call 292-9222.

WESTGATE

FILINVEST, ALABANG

MOTORS IN MAY

"Passion for Speed"
Go Kart Racing by City Kart
May 12-21, 2006

For Inquiries: 8503516 Westgate Center, Filinvest Corporate City, Alabang, Muntinlupa City
E-mail: westgate@filinvestcorpcity.com

FILINVEST

To the world's greatest mom for 9 months of labor for 365 days of keeping me close to your heart for birthdays & holidays

we shared together for worrying everytime we're apart for all the headaches & sleepless nights
for telling me everything's alright
On this special day, you are the star
I'll show you just how loved you are My friend, my teacher, my strength, my mom...
for you, here's another 3-in-1!

Happy Mother's Day!

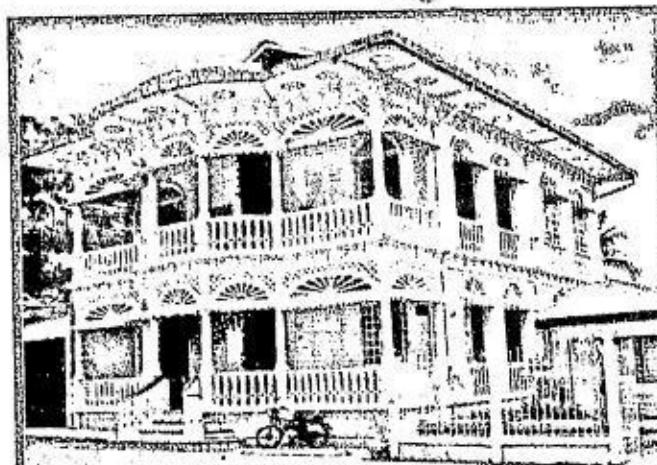

SELECTA

3-in-1

P310 Gallon

P170 Half Gallon

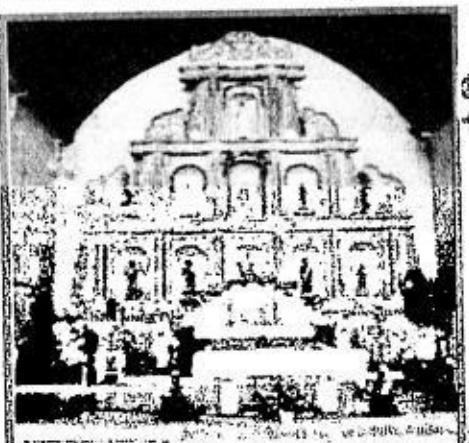

P 89 Tub

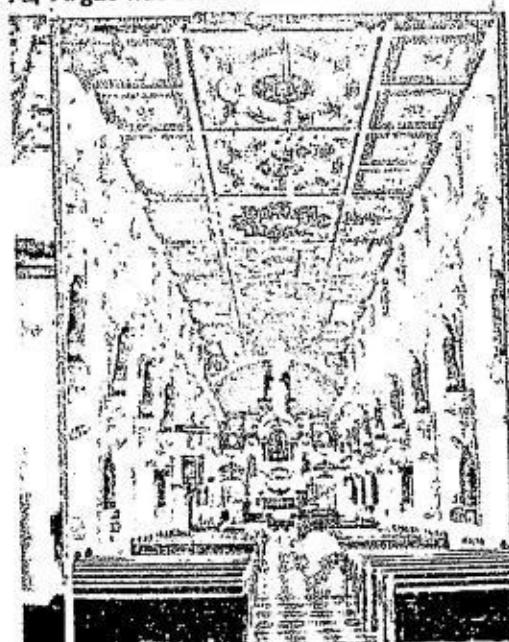

Mi BALAY, SU BALAY. A Spanish-Filipino heritage home in Carcar

BEYOND VINTAGE. Don Ramon Sarmiento's Manor in Carcar is straight out of the 1800's

OMG. The St. Michael Parish Church in Argao was constructed in 1734

CEILING FUN. Check out the awesome ceiling art at the St. Catherine Church in Carcar

Rural Legends

Age against the machine

Gino de la Paz

If there's more to Pinoy food than adobo and balut, I guess there's also more—tons more—to the Philippines than haiku-worthy coastlines and trademark swaying palms. Shift your gaze beyond the white-sand-and-crystal-water clichés and you'll be rewarded with a greater visual encyclopedia: remote heritage towns, Byzantine-style churches, and other scenes worthy of an Amorsolo painting.

At least that's how the peeps of Turismo Rural want you to think. Conceived as a fascinating long-term project by leisure management experts, Turismo Rural hopes to hype "the places which promise the authenticity of local culture and history" for both residents and foreign visitors. Very National Geographic, diba?

Leading the charge is Ms Julie Alegrado-Vergara, president and CEO of Almont Holdings Inc., a group of resorts and city hotels that's doing startlingly well in Cebu and Butuan. Rich in creative curiosity and entrepreneurial ingenuity, her plan is to makeover unused ancestral homes into graceful bed and breakfasts, collectively called Casa Rural. This mission draws the link between the old and the new, acting as a door to the world for countryside communities that may have been asleep for eons. Eureka much? Yup! Julie says that Turismo Rural is an eye-opener even for those who've lived in Cebu for decades.

With Turismo Rural, travelers can now discover new places in The 'Pinas aside from the beaches

And instead of fighting the globalist spirit of the times with a stubbornly localist view, why not merge the two? With backing from the provincial government of Cebu and the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PCCI), this group is initially using Cebu's southern coast in the experiment, applying the template to other Pinoy towns in the future.

Taking off from what Cebu Gov. Gwen Garcia (yes, a vowel less she would've been Gwen Garci) calls suroy suryo, Cebuano for leisurely wandering, my trusty camera and I bounced around the different spots, stopping occasionally to muse at The Cebu's mestizaje landscape.

'Suroy suryo' time! So it was bye-bye Maribago Bluewater Beach Resort (my temporary home base in Mactan), hello fascinating historical relics! My first stop was Don Ramon Sarmiento's Manor in Carcar. Built in the 1800's, this

RURAL/D2

KAFE KULTURE. The menu at Alex Kafe in Argao

A most special treat for the most special mom.

For a well-deserved break, take your mom to Glorietta and Greenbelt this Mother's Day. Pampering treats await her at participating salons and spas on May 13 and 14. Plus, the first 1,000 mothers to visit the Glorietta Customer Service Booth on these days will receive complimentary Max Factor cosmetics and Cilre Shine hair products. Only at Ayala Malls will a most special woman get the indulgence she deserves on her most special day.

Sponsored by: CITRE SHINE MAX FACTOR Photo taken at The Spa, Greenbelt

glorietta GREENBELT

www/ayalamalls.com.ph

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 2006

PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER

3

E-mail: super@inquirer.com.ph

Text us your feedback: Inquirer sup name/age/city/message to 2207 (Globe) or 283 (Smart)

pop culture . entertainment . recreation

Losing myself to Motherhood

By Lexi Schulze

I AM A WOMAN OF THE NEW millennium, and proud of it. I do not conform. I push the envelope. I am forward-thinking.

So when I got pregnant over a year ago, I never believed it when the women in my life told me: "Get ready to lose yourself. Motherhood will change you." Unsolicited advice from those who've been there and done it all. Although I appreciated their concern, I took their babble with a grain of salt.

My life will not change. I'm one of those people like Michelle Pfeiffer in One Fine Day who has all her balls in the air thanks to a superb juggling act. She's at the top of her game with a child in tow. The feminist movement afforded people like me the right to have a career and be the best mom I possibly can without losing myself.

From the frying pan into the family pyre

I never cared to fit any mold. I guess this is why it took me a while to actually succumb to the whole reality of marriage and the stereotype that came along with it. When I hit that proverbial fork (more like tong) in the road, it was either dive into wedded bliss or continue on the circular social path with no real direction.

Two weddings (this is a whole other article) and seven months later, I realized that my life was never meant to be cookie-cutter.

My married life was not that of a tender wife eagerly awaiting her husband's return home from work with a warm plate of food and a chilled glass of white wine to satisfy him. As a very pregnant (sperm met egg three weeks after our Catholic ceremony) editor in chief of a celebrity magazine, I would come home later than the man, plop onto the couch, eat my ultra-nutritious dinner (I was a very conscientious pregnant lady) prepared by our capable cook and doze off right after. In a way, I guess I had seven months of a very routine life.

LOSING/E3

NAIS MO BANG
MAG-SUBSCRIBE
NG INQUIRER?

CALL THE INQUIRER CUSTOMER SUBSCRIPTION HOTLINE

896-6000

L'ORÉAL COLOR TROPHY
2006
PHILIPPINES

Discover
THE RETRO-FUTURE LOOKS
OF 2006

TOTAL LOOK CATEGORY

LOURD RYAN RAMOS
EMPHASIS SALON ROCKWELL

LAWRENCE PALMA
LAWRENCE PALMA SALON

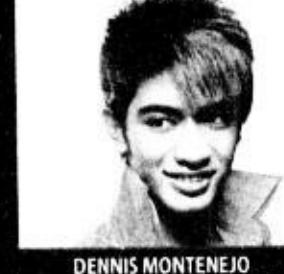

GILBERT REVILLOZA
DAVID'S SALON SM CITY BICUTAN

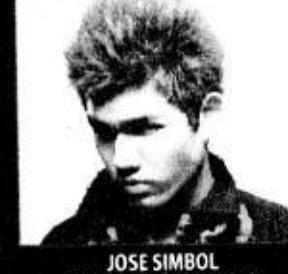

MEN'S BEST IMAGE CATEGORY

RICHARD PERELLO
ESSENSUALS TONI & GUY

DENNIS MONTENEJO
DAVID'S SALON MALOLOS

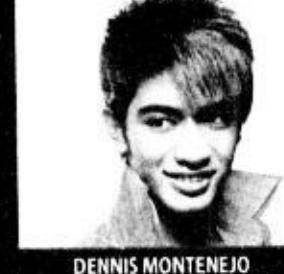

JOSE SIMBOL
EMPHASIS PENINSULA

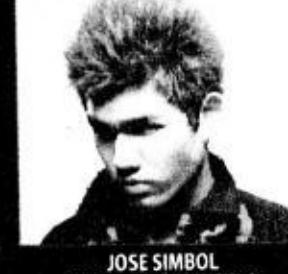

NEXT GENERATION CATEGORY

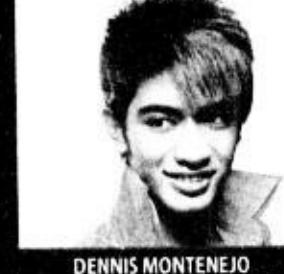

VON RONALD DEALCA
ANGELO FALCON III SHELL ALMANZA

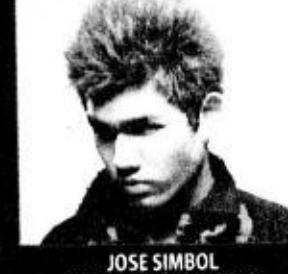

RUEL MATAYA
HAIRBYTES EASTWOOD

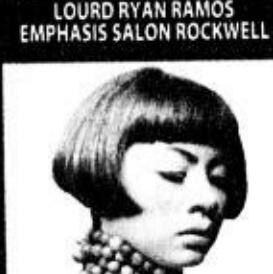

MELCHOR 'JR' BARTOLOME
ANGELO FALCON III RFC MALL MOLINO

FERDINAND PALLARCA
JESI MENDEZ ROBINSONS MANILA

KARINA MANTONILO
REGINE'S MAKATI

EDGAR CUETO
JESI MENDEZ ALABANG

LORGIO LEDESMA JR.
DAVID'S SALON SM MEGAMALL

EDGAR SORIANO
A/S SALON

ELPIDIO D. BATA JR.
FIX BENCH SALON SM BICUTAN

GLENN ROXAS
EMPHASIS SALON ROCKWELL

RICHARD BILALO JR.
PIANDRE SALON GREENBELT

PEPITO M. PACHECO
FIX BENCH GREENHILLS

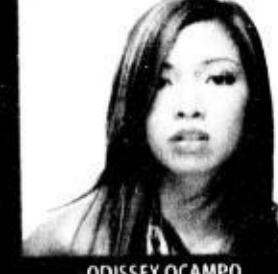

DINDO DACALDACLAL
LAVIVA SALON CEBU

RAFAEL MUSA JR.
FIX BENCH FESTIVAL MALL

MEIL LONGAKIT
EMPHASIS ROCKWELL

ODISSEY OCAMPANO
HAIR UK TIMOG

Vote for your favorite L'Oréal Color Trophy creation at www.clickthecity.com

Photo exhibit on May 9-14, 2006 at the Glorietta Mall, Makati City. Gala Night on May 15, 2006 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, Ortigas Center Pasig City.

CO-PRESENTED BY:

MEGA
The Philippines' Best Fashion Magazine

Also Sponsored By:

LANCOME

CANON
DIGITAL CAMERA

Chos 1.1m CROSSOVER

ClickTheCity.com

54

FOXTROT

BY BILL AMEND

A. LIPIN

BY JESS ABRERA

MARVIN

BY TOM ARMSTRONG

PUGAD BABOY

BY P.M. JUNIOR

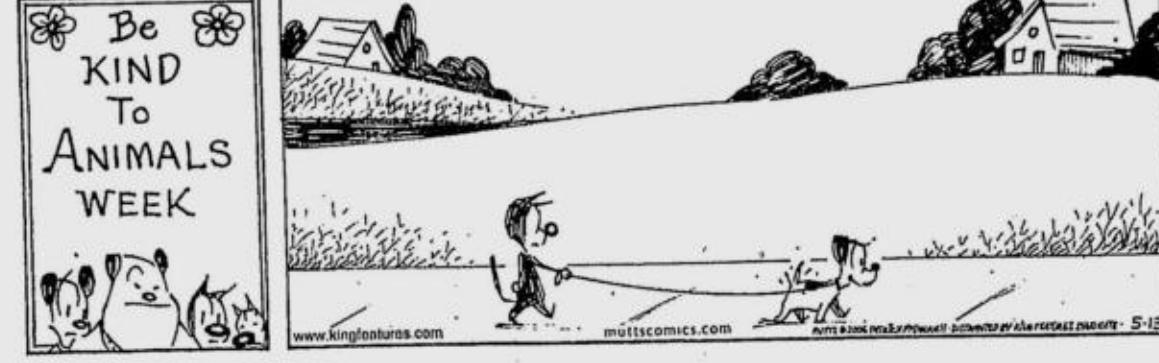

BABY BLUES

BY JERRY SCOTT

MUTTS

BY PATRICK McDONNELL

ATOMO AND WEBOY

BY LYRA GARCELLANO

DIVINE COMEDY

BY STEVEN PABALINAS

BY STEVEN PABALINAS

HOROSCOPE

BY FRANCIS DRAKE

YOU BORN TODAY: Whether you seek to or not, you influence others. You do this in business, in the arts, in your technique and in your personal life. You like to be active; you like to learn; and you need to travel. To others you appear playful and freedom-loving. Expect a fabulous year ahead. It could be one of the best years of your life!

Birthdate of: Harvey Keitel, actor; Beatrice Arthur, actress; Stevie Wonder, singer/composer.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): You're gung-ho to spend money today or to do a business deal. You're confident you can handle your finances to profit and please you. (You probably can.)

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): You're very energized today! You're keen to learn something new. You're also willing to research or dig deep for anything you want to know more about.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): This is the day to persuade VIPs, bosses and parents to agree with your plans (whatever they are). Strike while the iron is hot. You're a gifted speaker today.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): Your communication skills are fantastic today. You can convince, teach or sell anything to anyone! Don't hold back. You've got the Midas touch.

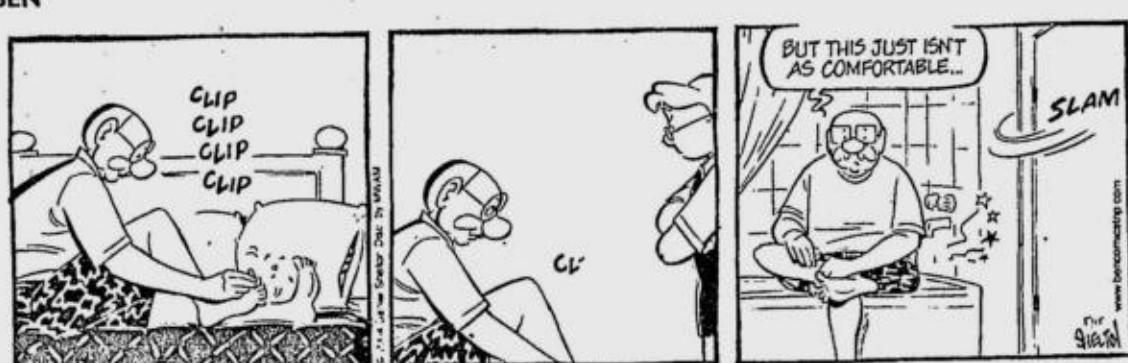

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Discussions with others are lively! Somebody might provoke you in some way. Alternatively, you might want to convince people of something. If so, you'll succeed!

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): This is a great day to study, travel or present your plans to others. You're enthusiastic about things, and you believe in your ideas. (A good idea always sells itself.)

BEN

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You stand to benefit from the wealth of others today. People might give you favors, gifts and goodies, or let you use what they own. Yay!

BEN

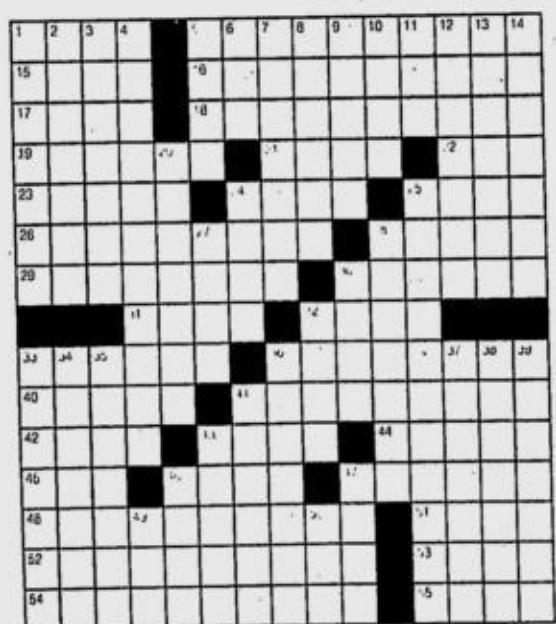

BY DANIEL SHELTON

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- 1 Heroin, to addicts
- 5 Occurs
- 15 "Drowning —"
- 16 Noble Italian musical style
- 17 Hebrew month
- 18 Comics' superhero group
- 19 Tell
- 21 Shooter's ammo
- 22 Turkish name in mini motor homes
- 24 Witty remark
- 25 Long ride?
- 26 Mr. Humperdinck
- 28 Nutty pie
- 29 Dinner enders
- 30 John Travolta musical
- 31 Tropical cuckoo
- 32 Spur on
- 33 Willowy
- 36 Cyrano de
- 40 Stacks
- 41 Mask
- 42 Commotions
- 43 Shoppe sign word
- 44 Original
- 45 Strike sharply
- 46 "Promised Land" author Abba
- 47 Revolve
- 48 Voters
- 51 Conscious selves
- 52 Wizard
- 53 Mailed
- 54 Some Manhattanites
- 55 Woods rooter?

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

ATLAS	WEBBS	AHA
DAISY	ELROY	LAB
DRESSES	DOWN	TGI
SFDATE	TEETHED
MENSCH	HONE
LISI	MYTH	OHE
OTIS	EATNOMEAT
SOCKS	SINTHEMOUTH
TAKEAVOTE	RAE
TOY	EDAM	ODE
TALC	ARABIA
INAHEAP	UNWELL
NO	SUITSTOATE
REIL	PRANKRINNA
AXE	YANNI	STATS

(C) 2005 Tribune Media Services, Inc.
All rights reserved.

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Friday's Puzzle Solved

By James E. Buell

Edgewater, FL

Spread the *love*Paolo R. Reyes
Janine Cuenca-Dario

IN THE WILD WORLD OF ELECTRONIC dance parties, few pack the punch the way party pioneer NBK does. They proudly hold up the trophy for successfully devirginizing our sexy, sunny archipelago with everyone from Van Dyk to Digweed, Sasha, Steve Lawler and Ferry Corsten. A brag-worthy feat that put the Philippines on every clubber's map; turning Manila into a pleasurable pit-stop for all sorts of globe-trekking spinlords.

Tonight, for up to six hours of rip-roaring fun, NBK spreads some summer love in their fantasmagoric monthly fiesta, "For the Love of House." From 10 p.m. onwards, DJ Manolet Dario and the NBK house heroes Antz Santiago, David Jacob (now based in Hong Kong), Jed Dario, Jon Naval, Marc Naval, Paolo Maralit, and Raji Mata cook up a skinny rumble at the newly-refurbished interiors of the Embassy Super Club (The Fort, Bonifacio Global City, Taguig, phone: 816-4195); which finally reopened last Tuesday after a month-long facelift.

Joining them at the decks is the UK-based, Brisbane-born turntablist, Kristian Hernandez (www.kristianhernandez.com), a two-time winner of the Australian DMC Championships. The trailblazing 27-year-old, who is one of the most sought after DJs in the land Down Under, is now making his mark in the hallowed haunts of metropolitan London.

In a 2003 interview with WorldDJ.com, a popular online clubbing magazine, Hernandez (otherwise known as Audio K) was asked to name his favorite gig of all time. His answer: "It was on a tropical island in the Philippines. They were celebrating their Holy Week and basically there were 2,000 people dancing in the water." Eat your heart out, Ibiza!

Other Super! 24/7 events:May 13, Saturday

Fra Lippo Lippi: Live at Araneta Coliseum; CircuitAsia's Players feat. DJ John DeAgo at Government; Drip, Sound, and Milagros Dancehall Collective at Mag:net Café Katipunan; Rivermaya at CCP; Project May-

hem at Conspiracy; Bituin Escalante at Onstage Greenbelt; Outerhope, Sun Valley Crew, The Late Isabel, Nyko Maca, and Playphonics at Saguijo; Pump Saturdays at Jill's; DJ Badboy Jeff at Temple; Soundsgood DJs at Embassy Cuisiné; DJs Bliss & Shorty at Prince of Jaipur; Massive Saturdays at Bed. (Update: URCC VIII will be held at the San Juan Coliseum on May 20 instead. Call 911-5555.)

May 14, Sunday

Paul Anka: Live at Araneta Coliseum; Sean Paul: Live in Cebu at Waterfront Cebu; Youth Night '06 w/ Mojofly at Sta. Cruz Makati; Ilonggo Culinary Festival at Mandarin Oriental Manila; Noon at Ngayon Photo Exhibit at Filipinas Heritage Library.

May 15, Monday

Jimmy Bondoc at the Breakfast Club; Paul Anka: Live at Araneta Coliseum; Monkeyspeak and Severo at Mag:net Café Ethan band at Temple; I Don't Like Mondays w/ DJ Rō at Gweilos Makati; Gary Granada at Conspiracy; Teresa Avila at The Tivoli; Dawn & Jessie at Merk's; Wine Buffet at The Lounge; Eastwind Jazz Trio at Captain's Bar; Folies de Mwah at Club Mwah

May 16, Tuesday

The relaunch of Panic! w/ DJ Alessandra Tinio at Zen; Monsterbot, Boy Elroy, Wild Mood, Swings and Death by Tampon at Saguijo; Nyko Maca at 70s Bistro; Ilonggo Culinary Festival at Mandarin Oriental Manila; Salsa Night w/ Salsa Filipinas at Mezzé; Cooky Chua at Conspiracy; Kickback Tuesdays at Manila DJ Club; Guarana at Café Havana Greenbelt; Acoustic Night at Temple; Spirit of '67 at Captain's Bar

May 17, Wednesday

Rivermaya at Café Lupe; Mojofly at Capone's; Nyko Maca at Mag:net Café Katipunan; Smooth Wednesdays w/ DJ Steve Mills at Absinth; Weekend Wednesdays w/ DJ Boyet Almazán at Strumm's; Spy, Alak Pa, Walijura, and Rinka at Saguijo; Discotech w/ DJ Papi Santos at Mezzé; DJs Karl Ty & Cao Ocampo at Embassy Cuisiné; Funkysouljah at Manila DJ Club; DJs Mars Miranda & Johnnyverse at Embassy Club; Willy Wanka's Music Factory w/ Joffy Cruz at Gweilos Makati; Hustle & Flow w/ DJ Crash at Temple; DJ Brit at Government; Noel Cabangon at Conspiracy; Acoustic Night at 6 Underground; Way Back Wednesdays at Bed; Julia Duncan at Merk's

May 18, Thursday

Akafellas at the Breakfast Club, BBC's HotButteredSoul w/ DJ Mike Constantino at Sake Lab; Radioactive Sago Project at The Fort Plaza; Savannah Lumen at the Entertainment Arts Studio's Concert Hall, Jupiter St., Makati; GottaHaveHouse! w/ DJs Mark Janes & Wendell Garcia at Capone's; G Lounge at Mezzé; Stonefree, Pupil, 6 Cycle Mind, Spongcola, Rugis, and Dicta License at Saguijo; Jam for the Rights of Children at Conspiracy; SPIT at Mag:Net Café; Fluxxer Whatever Thursdays at Manila DJ Club; Supahstar DJ Thursdaze at Bed; DJ Badboy Jeff at Temple; Acoustic Jive at Merk's

May 19, Friday

Music Jam w/ Kwan at G-Strip Parking Lot, Greenhills; Kitchie Nadal & Barbie Almalbis at Araneta Coliseum; Teardrop, Maryark, Kala, Angulo, Delinquentes, and Neruda at Saguijo; Radioactive Sago Project at Rockwell; Decadance w/ Boyet Almazán at Jill's; DJ Benjo Marquez at Mezzé; Bridge at Conspiracy; DJs Karl Ty & GP Reyes at Citrus; DJ Owens' Sun at Embassy Club; HouseBeats at Mati; MyHOUSE at M Café; DJ Marie Garcia at Embassy Cuisine; DJ Brit at Government; Jive Fridays at Temple; The Jerks at 70s Bistro; Gogo Fridays at Bed; Route 70 at Merk's; DJs Scratchmark & Shorty at Prince of Jaipur

Schedules may change without prior notice. For more information and a complete listing of events, text 24/7 through your mobile phone and send to 2949 (Globe) and 209 (Smart). Log on to mag24-7.com or pick up your free copy of 24/7 Nocturnal Navigator at bars and restaurants around the city. Submit your schedules before Wednesday to events@mag24-7.com and mag24_7@yahoo.com.

Losing myself to motherhood

From page E1

Wedded bliss? Not so much. It was very hard to focus on our couplehood when there was a third entity that filled my thoughts day in and day out. Was I eating right? Did I ingest too much pollution today to poison the child? Did I overexert myself physically? Would my baby feel my tears or hear my cries of frustration and self-doubt?

Without my knowing it, I was being consumed by motherhood. It became a top priority—heck, it became my life—without my stamp of admittance. I was still editing my magazine. I was still sharing a house with the man I chose to marry. I was still daughter-sister-friend-coworker. Juggled balls in the air.

I guess I was consumed because I wanted to go about motherhood the right way from the get-go. My quest for perfection spilled over to this new and exciting venture. And like any new "project," attention shifts.

Yet, with this unconscious yet highly obvious focus on my impending motherhood, I was still out to prove that I had not changed, that I was still the same strong-willed, passionate-about-life, go-getter who would stop at nothing to achieve the perfect balance of everything.

And no matter how determined I was to be a selfless mom, I wasn't going to be the sacrificial lamb.

I would not lose myself.

What to expect when you're deflecting (criticism) ...

This "New Age Mom" movement of mine took on a life of its own as not many of the elders in my tribe could understand why I put so much thought into the pregnancy. I avoided mercury-infested fish and stayed away from potential bacteria-carrying salad and soft cheese (much to my dismay—I am the ultimate cheese whore). I refused to ingest an ounce of caffeine even if the book told me it was all right to do so (why start the kid out in overdrive?). Alcohol was completely out of the question for me, even though a glass of wine was allowed as a de-stresser (Lord knows I have many a friend who took this rule and went to town with it...a glass of red became three, then seven....).

Personally, I felt that all these rules were there for a reason, and they needed to be followed. I got many an eye roll for being such a prissy pregger. "Why are you so picky? We ate everything when we were pregnant with you guys. You know, we even had shots of whiskey to relax us and cure colds back then! You can eat any fish you want, mercury-schmercury. And you're not going to tell me to stop smoking in front of you... all my kids are fine and I was a chimney when I was pregnant with them. You're such an Exagerada!"

Uh, maybe that's why my generation is so f*cked up, you mercury-taking, bacteria-swallowing, nicotine-infested, alcohol-swilling caffeine junkie! (Okay, those were extreme hormones talking at the time.) Seriously though, the older generation does not take into consideration the degenerative nature of the environment we are now faced with.

And what particularly killed me every time was when I was warned against reading too much about pregnancy. "Don't believe everything in those books that you read now... they just make you think too much." Could it be? Parental figures discouraging reading?! Of course I should take their word over the PhDs and MDs who have studied extensively—and continue to do so—to put all their qualitative research down in a book to help confuse all new mothers such like myself... shame on them!

Of course I read the damn book. I didn't even bother to go against the gradient by boycotting something as cliché as "What To Expect When You're Expecting." The book was just as much a Bible for me as it was to anyone who used it before me, and it will be such a comfort to those who will be pregnant after me. (And unless you're part marsupial and are carrying in a pouch, you'll have to trust me on this. The book will answer any standard question you may have the exact time you have it. Quite freaky.)

But as life loves to go off-tangent every so often to shake things up, there are truly some things you can't find answers to in any book. Thinking all was going smoothly just as the book was promising, I felt completely betrayed when I was told by my gynecologist during my seventh month visit that there was a major problem...

Premature emancipation

I think it's safe to assume that anyone after nine grueling months of carrying Pilates ball gets excited at the prospect of finally releasing the child from the womb. Apart from having your body back for yourself and yourself alone, you're appeased by the fact that you've done your part in nourishing that life who rented a space inside you.

I can assure you that I felt no such thing when I delivered my 28-week-old at a pound and a half. With over two months left in her lease, my daughter was ready to take on the world with guns blazing despite her fragile start.

Quite ironic that things went down this way. I was, in my mind, one of the healthiest pregnant women around. I was in control. I was militant, but maybe to a fault in hindsight. What did I do wrong? When did my body stop nourishing this child? How could it have happened to me... who seemed to have all her balls moving freely from one hand to the other in a juggling act so intricate the Cirque de Soleil would have been impressed?!

I must admit that there were pockets of scenarios with "I Told You So" in my head. I could almost imagine the elders chattering amongst themselves, "You see what happens? She was probably not getting enough nutrients with all the fish and cheese she was excluding from her diet! And maybe she was too stressed that she could've used a glass of wine to calm her down. I tell you, these kids today... they just don't listen."

Thank goodness I had no time to focus on the "What Ifs." I had a daughter in an incubator at the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit that needed me to be strong for her. I did not want her to feel me. Pain. Anger. Disappointment. Self-loathing. Extreme sadness. I had to pull it together for this life I swore to protect with everything I had.

I had to lose myself.

When the heart breaks, the ego will fall

So much for juggling all the balls in the air. Just like Michelle Pfeiffer in "One Fine Day," her balls ego came crashing down as she finally gave in and asked George Clooney for some help with her kid. And I wish I could say that the same SOS. was offered to me, but I needed something different. I needed to freeze frame and catch the one ball that mattered above all else: My child.

Although it's standard to have three months off with a caesarian section (all my Lamaze classes out the window... I was so arrogant to think I couldn't get through this without drugs!), it wouldn't cover the amount of time needed for my kind of recovery. Health-wise, I was a complete trooper—walking around and passing gas (a must after a C-sec), I had nurses coming in asking how the wind was blowing in the buttocks area) hours after the operation.

But I was far from healed. Apart from having to see my frail child who weighed less than two sticks of butter get poked and prodded for IV lines, blood transfusions and feeding tubes, I had the rest of my life waiting in the wings for me to pay it the slightest bit of attention.

In my semi-feminist mind, there was always this set equation for perfection: motherhood + career = the perfect woman, in equal amounts. I tried to satisfy this mathematical balance by going back to work a month before my leave was up. Since my child was stable and in the very capable of our neonatologist, residents and nurses (a bunch I will always be indebted to—they just don't know how much their work meant to me) day in and day out, I decided to give my sanity a boost by going to the office and getting back into the groove of things as I would soon bring my baby home... and everything in my life would finally be in place again.

I now know what an out-of-body experience feels like. I was physically in the office, but I was 100 percent back at the hospital in my mind and heart, holding my child's tiny hand through the incubator door while reading "The Cat in the Hat."

A month after that, I waved an official goodbye to my editorship and hello to the mothership.

I lost myself.

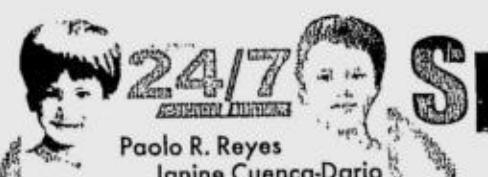

Postpartum impression

Not to say that I would've kept the job had things gone differently. Sure, my preemie needed extra attention when I brought her home... but only until she settled into the normalcy she was diagnosed to have anyway. A good 21 percent of births in the United States are of the premature kind, and the survival rate of anyone born over 28 weeks is a strong 80 percent (and girls vs boys fair even better as they develop faster physiologically... a medical fact, guys. Don't shoot the messenger.)

Even with a well baby in tow, I chose a path a never thought I would in a million feminist years: to drop my career for now and give myself time to perfect myself as mom to my beautiful child.

So I guess, in a sense, I have to give credit where it's partly due. The older women in my life were kind of right: you do lose yourself when you become a mom. But not because you have no choice, but because you want to.

And in this case, when you lose yourself... you really win.

24/7

Spread the

Paolo R. Reyes
Janine Cuenca-Dario

IN THE WILD WORLD OF ELECTRONIC dance parties, few pack the punch the way party pioneer, NBK does. They proudly hold up the trophy for successfully devirginizing our sexy, sunny archipelago with everyone from Van Dyk to Digweed, Sasha, Steve Lawler and Ferry Corsten. A brag-worthy feat that put the Philippines on every clubber's map; turning Manila into a pleasurable pit-stop for all sorts of globe-trekking spinlords.

Tonight, for up to six hours of rip-roaring fun, NBK spreads some summer love in their fantasmagoric monthly fiesta, "For the Love of House." From 10 p.m. onwards, DJ Manolet Dario and the NBK house heroes Antz Santiago, David Jacob (now based in Hong Kong), Jed Dario, Jon Naval, Marc Naval, Paolo Maralit, and Raji Mata cook up a skinny rumble at the newly-refurbished interiors of the Embassy Super Club (The Fort, Bonifacio Global City, Taguig, phone: 816-4195), which finally reopened last Tuesday after a month-long facelift.

Joining them at the decks is the UK-based, Brisbane-born turntablist, Kristian Hernandez (www.kristianhernandez.com), a two-time winner of the Australian DMC Championships. The trailblazing 27-year-old, who is one of the most sought after DJs in the land Down Under, is now making his mark in the hallowed haunts of metropolitan London.

In a 2003 interview with WorldDJ.com, a popular online clubbing magazine, Hernandez (otherwise known as Audio K) was asked to name his favorite gig of all time. His answer: "It was on a tropical island in the Philippines. They were celebrating their Holy Week and basically there were 2,000 people dancing in the water. Eat your heart out, Ibiza!"

Other Super! 24/7 events:

May 13, Saturday

Fra Lippo Lippi: Live at Araneta Coliseum; CircuitAsia's Players feat. DJ John DeAgo at Government; Drip, Sound, and Milagros Dancehall Collective at Mag:net Café Katipunan; Rivermaya at CCP; Project May-

hem at Conspiracy; Bituin Escalante at Onstage Greenbelt; Outerhope, Sun Valley Crew, The Late Isabel, Nyko Maca, and Playphonics at Saguijo; Pump Saturdays at Jill's; DJ Badboy Jeff at Temple; Soundsgood DJs at Embassy Cuisine; DJs Bliss & Shorty at Prince of Jaipur; Massive Saturdays at Bed. (Update: URCC VIII will be held at the San Juan Coliseum on May 20 instead. Call 911-5555.)

May 14, Sunday

Paul Anka: Live at Araneta Coliseum; Sean Paul: Live in Cebu at Waterfront Cebu; Youth Night '06 w/ Mojofly at Sta. Cruz Makati; Ilonggo Culinary Festival at Mandarin Oriental Manila; Noon at Ngayon Photo Exhibit at Filipinas Heritage Library

May 15, Monday

Jimmy Bondoc at the Breakfast Club; Paul Anka: Live at Araneta Coliseum; Monkeysprink and Seviro at Mag:net Café; Ethan band at Temple; I Don't Like Mondays w/ DJ RO at Gweilos Makati; Gary Granada at Conspiracy; Teresa Avila at The Tivoli; Dawn & Jessie at Merk's; Wine Buffet at The Lounge; Eastwind Jazz Trio at Captain's Bar; Follies de Mwah at Club Mwah

May 16, Tuesday

The relaunch of Panic! w/ DJ Alessandra Tinio at Zen; Monsterbot, Boy Elroy, Wild Mood, Swings and Death by Tampon at Saguijo; Nyko Maca at 70s Bistro; Ilonggo Culinary Festival at Mandarin Oriental Manila; Salsa Night w/ Salsa Filipinas at Mezze; Cooky Chua at Conspiracy; Kickback Tuesdays at Manila DJ Club; Guarana at Café Havana Greenbelt; Acoustic Night at Temple; Spirit of '67 at Captain's Bar

May 17, Wednesday

Rivermaya at Café Lupe; Mojofly at Capone's; Nyko Maca at Mag:net Café Katipunan; Smooth Wednesdays w/ DJ Steve Mills at Absinth; Weekend Wednesdays w/ DJ Boyet Almazan at Strumm's; Spy, Alak Pa, Wahijura, and Rinka at Saguijo; Discotech w/ DJ Papi Santos at Mezze; DJs Karl Ty & Cao Ocampo at Embassy Cuisines; Funkysouljah at Manila DJ Club; DJs Mars Miranda & Johnnyverse at Embassy Club; Willy Wanka's Music Factory w/ Joffy Cruz at Gweilos Makati; Hustle & Flow w/ DJ Crash at Temple; DJ Brit at Government; Noel Cabangon at Conspiracy; Acoustic Night at Underground; Way Back Wednesdays at Bed; Julia Duncan at Merk's

May 18, Thursday

Akafellas at the Breakfast Club, BBC's HotButteredSoul w/ DJ Mike Constantino at Sake Lab; Radioactive Sago Project at The Fort Plaza; Savannah Lumen at the Entertainment Arts Studio's Concert Hall, Jupiter St., Makati; GottaHaveHouse w/ DJs Mark Jenies & Wendell Garcia at Capone's; G Lounge at Mezzes Stonefree, Pupil, 6 Cycle Mind, Spongecola, Rugis, and Dicta License at Saguijo; "Jurn for the Rights of Children" at Conspiracy; SPIT at Mag:Net Café; Fluxxer Whatever Thursdays at Manila DJ Club; Supahstar DJ Thursdays at Bed; DJ Badboy Jeff at Temple; Acoustic Jive at Merk's

May 19, Friday

Music Jam w/ Kwan at G-Strip Parking Lot, Greenhills; Kirchie Nadal & Barbie Almalbis at Araneta Coliseum; Teardrop, Maryark, Kala, Angulo, Delinquentes, and Neruda at Saguijo; Radioactive Sago Project at Rockwell; Decadance w/ Boyet Almazan at Jill's; DJ Benjo Marquez at Mezze; Bridge at Conspiracy; DJs Karl Ty & GP Reyes at Citrus; DJ Owens Sun at Embassy Club; HouseBeats at Mati; MyHOUSE at M Café; DJ Marie Garcia at Embassy Cuisine; DJ Brit at Government; Jive Fridays at Temple; The Jerks at 70s Bistro; Gogo Fridays at Bed; Route 70 at Merk's; DJs Scratchmark & Shorty at Prince of Jaipur

Schedules may change without prior notice. For more information and a complete listing of events, text 24/7 through your mobile phone and send to 2949 (Globe) and 209 (Smart). Log on to mag24-7.com or pick up your free copy of 24/7 Nocturnal Navigator at bars and restaurants around the city. Submit your schedules before Wednesday to schedules@mag24-7.com and mag24_7@yahoo.com.

Losing myself to motherhood

From page E1

Wedded bliss? Not so much. It was very hard to focus on our couplehood when there was a third entity that filled my thoughts day in and day out. Was I eating right? Did I ingest too much pollution today to poison the child? Did I overexert myself physically? Would my baby feel my tears or hear my cries of frustration and self-doubt?

Without my knowing it, I was being consumed by motherhood. It became a top priority—heck, it became my life—without my stamp of admittance. I was still editing my magazine. I was still sharing a house with the man I chose to marry. I was still daughter-sister-friend-coworker. Juggled balls in the air.

I guess I was consumed because I wanted to go about motherhood the right way from the get-go. My quest for perfection spilled over to this new and exciting venture. And like any new "project," attention shifts.

Yet, with this unconscious yet highly obvious focus on my impending motherhood, I was still out to prove that I had not changed, that I was still the same strong-willed, passionate-about-life, go-getter who would stop at nothing to achieve the perfect balance of everything.

And no matter how determined I was to be a selfless mom, I wasn't going to be the sacrificial lamb.

I would not lose myself.

What to expect when you're deflecting (criticism) ...

This "New Age Mom" movement of mine took on a life of its own as not many of the elders in my tribe could understand why I put so much thought into the pregnancy. I avoided mercury-infested fish and stayed away from potential bacteria-carrying salad and soft cheese (much to my dismay—I am the ultimate cheese whore). I refused to ingest an ounce of caffeine even if the book told me it was all right to do so (why start the kid out in overdrive?). Alcohol was completely out of the question for me, even though a glass of wine was allowed as a de-stresser (Lord knows I have many a friend who took this rule and went to town with it...a glass of red became three, then seven....).

Personally, I felt that all these rules were there for a reason, and they needed to be followed. I got many an eye roll for being such a prissy preggie. "Why are you so picky? We ate everything when we were pregnant with you duvs. You know, we even had shots of whiskey to relax us and cure colds back then! You can eat any fish you want, mercury-schmercury. And you're not going to tell me to stop smoking in front of you... all my kids are fine and I was a chimp when I was pregnant with them. You're such an Exagerada!"

Uh, maybe that's why my generation is so f*cked up, you mercury-taking, bacteria-swallowing, nicotine-infested, alcohol-swilling caffeine junkie! (Okay, those were extreme hormones talking at the time.) Seriously though, the older generation does not take into consideration the degenerative nature of the environment we are now faced with.

And what particularly killed me every time was when I was warned against reading too much about pregnancy. "Don't believe everything in those books that you read now... they just make you think too much." Could it be? Parental figures discouraging reading?! Of course I should take their word over the PhDs and MDs who have studied extensively—and continue to do so—to put all their qualitative research down in a book to help confuse all new mothers such like myself... shame on them!

Of course I read the damn book. I didn't even bother to go against the gradient by boycotting something as cliché as "What To Expect When You're Expecting." The book was just as much a Bible for me as it was to anyone who used it before me, and it will be such a comfort to those who will be pregnant after me. (And unless you're part marsupial and are carrying in a pouch, you'll have to trust me on this. The book will answer any standard question you may have the exact time you have it. Quite freaky.)

But as life loves to go off-tangent every so often to shake things up, there are truly some things you can't find answers to in any book. Thinking all was going smoothly just as the book was promising, I felt completely betrayed when I was told by my gynecologist during my seventh month visit that there was a major problem...

Premature emancipation

I think it's safe to assume that anyone after nine grueling months of carrying Pilates ball gets excited at the prospect of finally releasing the child from the womb. Apart from having your body back for yourself and yourself alone, you're appeased by the fact that you've done your part in nourishing that life who rented a space inside you.

I can assure you that I felt no such thing when I delivered my 28-week-old at a pound and a half. With over two months left in her lease, my daughter was ready to take on the world with guns blazing despite her fragile start.

Quite ironic that things went down this way. I was, in my mind, one of the healthiest pregnant women around. I was in control. I was militant, but maybe to a fault in hindsight. What did I do wrong? When did my body stop nourishing this child? How could it have happened to me... who seemed to have all her balls moving freely from one hand to the other in a juggling act so intricate the Cirque de Soleil would have been impressed?

I must admit that there were pockets of scenarios with "I Told You So" in my head. I could almost imagine the elders chattering amongst themselves, "You see what happens? She was probably not getting enough nutrients with all the fish and cheese she was excluding from her diet! And maybe she was too stressed that she could've used a glass of wine to calm her down. I tell you, these kids today... they just don't listen."

Thank goodness I had no time to focus on the "What Ifs." I had a daughter in an incubator at the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit that needed me to be strong for her. I did not want her to feel me. Pain. Anger. Disappointment. Self-loathing. Extreme sadness. I had to pull it together for this life I swore to protect with everything I had.

I had to lose myself.

When the heart breaks, the ego will fall

So much for juggling all the balls in the air. Just like Michelle Pfeiffer in "One Fine Day," her balls ego came crashing down as she finally gave in and asked George Clooney for some help with her kid. And I wish I could say that the same SOS. was offered to me, but I needed something different. I needed to freeze frame and catch the one ball that mattered above all else: My child.

Although it's standard to have three months off with a caesarian section (all my Lamaze classes out the window... I was so arrogant to think I couldn't get through this without drugs!), it wouldn't cover the amount of time needed for my kind of recovery. Health-wise, I was a complete trooper—walking around and passing gas (a must after a C-sec, I had nurses coming in asking how the wind was blowing).

Although it's standard to have three months off with a caesarian section (all my Lamaze classes out the window... I was so arrogant to think I couldn't get through this without drugs!), it wouldn't cover the amount of time needed for my kind of recovery. Health-wise, I was a complete trooper—walking around and passing gas (a must after a C-sec, I had nurses coming in asking how the wind was blowing).

Not to say that I would've kept the job had things gone differently. Sure, my preemie needed extra attention when I brought her home... but only until she settled into the normalcy she was diagnosed to have anyway. A good 21 percent of births in the United States are of the premature kind, and the survival rate of anyone born over 28 weeks is a strong 80 percent (and girls vs boys fair even better as they develop faster physiologically... a medical fact, guys. Don't shoot the messenger.)

Even with a well baby in tow, I chose a path a never thought I would in a million feminist years: to drop my career for now and give myself time to perfect myself as mom to my beautiful child.

So I guess, in a sense, I have to give credit where it's partly due. The older women in my life were kind of right: you do lose yourself when you become a mom. But not because you have no choice, but because you want to.

And in this case, when you lose yourself... you really win.

Greenhills Shopping Center
Mayflower Festival
(May 12 to June 5)

Feast your eyes on an impressive display of flowers and greenery, created by popular exhibitors and vendors. Marvel at what's new in gardening and landscaping. Get inspirational ideas to beautify your home. Plus, be fascinated by over 1,500 stalls offering the hippest bags, clothes and accessories.

Truly, a cool shopping harvest awaits you at the bigger and better Greenhills Shopping Center.

Shop & Live!

GREENHILLS SHOPPING CENTER

www.greenhills.com.ph

now open

SM

DEPARTMENT STORE

CLARK

we've got it all for you!

get a chance to Win Weekly!

at stake

20

Nokia
N70 Cellphones

5

Winners Weekly

Every P500 single or accumulated receipt purchase entitles you to join.
Promo Period: May 12 - June 9, 2006

Per DTI-PGA Permit No. 060 Series of 2006

SMART
Simply Amazing!